THE NEW TARIFF BILL.

A Report That It Provides for Radical Reductions.

HEAVY CUTS IN GLASS AND IRON.

The Tax on Whisky and Other Distillery Products Likely to be Largely Increased. The Income Tax Proposition Meeting with Increased Favor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—In spite of all the talk that is being indulged in by some of the Democrats of the house about a conservative and moderate tariff bill, the measure which is now almost completed is radical, some of the cuts in duties being extremely heavy. The average percentage of reduction which will be shown by the bill will not be indicative of the cuts made, for the reason that a great many things on which there are more or less heavy duties now will be put on the free list, and will not figure in the estimate of averages.

It will be some time yet before the full bill is given out, but some of the features of it have become known from time to time. There are a number of other items on the free list besides wool, coal, iron ore, pig tin, lumber, salt and silver lead ore. Some of the heaviest cuts made where items are not on the free list are in the glass and iron schedules, and the textiles not in the cotton schedule. The shoe and leather and cotton schedules are cut very little.

In flax and woolen textiles, wearing apparel and blankets, and carpets and the like, the cut is very heavy. The duties on glass throughout the schedule are cut about in the middle. Steel rails are reduced to 25 per cent. ad valorem. There will probably be nothing in the iron schedule running above 30 per cent., and the average will probably fall below 25. The ad valorem system is adopted almost entirely in the bill.

The question of sugar has not yet been settled, and there is a strong disposition in response to the needs of the treasury to put a small duty on that article. Those or four members of the committee are earnestly opposed to any tax, and others are in doubt, so that question is unsettled.

The tobacco, beer and whisky schedules are also expected to be considered in full committee and there now appears little doubt there will be a material increase in the tax on whisky and other distillery outputs. The proposition for an increase of 35 cents a gallon on whisky is now being informally discussed and some members of the committee even mention an increase as high as 60 cents a gallon.

The full Democratic membership of the ways and means committee met this morning in general conference, and it is expected the meeting will have the effect of clearing up the uncertainty that has existed for some time with reference to several of the important schedules of the new tariff bill. The members of the committee who have been favoring the provision for an income tax feel confident that the result of the series of conferences just begun will prove that the majority of the committee favors such a plan.

A Family Starving.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.—The family of Gottfried Wolf, living on Preble street, is suffering from starvation. They had eaten nothing for four days when discovered yesterday. The members of the family, five of whom are children, are in a terrible condition because of the lack of proper nourishment. Their bodies have broken out in sores and their sufferings have been awful. A nursing babe is one of the worst sufferers. Wolf has been unable to secure employment for a long time. The family is now being provided for.

Heppenheimer Will Refuse to Vacate.

TRENTON, Nov. 16.—General W. S. Heppenheimer, the controller, announced that he will not give up his office to the man elected by the Republican joint meeting, because, under the decision of Justice Depue, the last legislature is not a legal body, the court having decided that the assembly must be elected by counties. He does this, he says, not to obstruct the Republicans, but to get the matter tested in the court of last resort.

Mrs. Maybrick Dying.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Rev. John Ingraham, of this city, rector of Grace church, has received a letter from Baroness Caroline von Roques in which she stated that she has learned that her daughter, Mrs. Florence Maybrick, is dying in Woking prison, England. The baroness speaks hopefully of securing her daughter's liberty. The baroness expects to bring her to America on her release.

Powder Mill Demolished by an Explosion.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 16.—While repairing a wheel in one of the Crescent Powder company's mills, three miles south of here, George Irvin accidentally struck a grain of powder with the lead hammer he was using. The building was demolished by the explosion that followed. Irvin was blown several hundred feet away, and will hardly recover from his injuries.

The Vote of Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 15.—Full election returns in Kansas show that the Republicans made decided gains over 1891. Of the 680 officers elected the Republicans got 459, a gain of 53 over 1891; the Populists got 161, a loss of 15; the Democrats got 24, a loss of 34, and there were 2 ties. The Republicans had a clear majority of about 9,000.

Jersey's Big Republican Plurality.

TRENTON, Nov. 15.—The Republican plurality on election day, as compiled from the reports of the county boards of canvassers, shows 23,622, the largest ever known in the political history of the state. Last year the Democratic assembly plurality was 1,625. Cleveland received 14,974 and Governor Werts 7,695.

Again the Lone Highwayman.

UKIAH, O. T., Nov. 16.—The overland stage was robbed at 1 o'clock in the morning, five miles west of Ukiah, by a lone highwayman. The amount of treasure aboard is impossible to ascertain. The passengers were plundered.

A Balaklava Hero in Distress.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—Sergeant John Levick, one of the three survivors of the famous 600 who made the charge at Balaklava, is in the city in a destitute condition and is dying of consumption.

To Withdraw the Austrian Franchise Bill.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A dispatch to The Chronicle from Vienna says: "Prince Windisch-Graetz, the new prime minister, will withdraw the franchise bill at the first sitting of the reichsrath."

Official Vote of Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—The official returns of the late election in Pennsylvania have all been received, and show that Jackson, Republican, has defeated Osburn, Democrat, for state treasurer, by 195,195, while the plurality for Fell, for supreme judge, is 193,881.

Philadelphia's Collector Removed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The president removed from office Thomas V. Cooper, collector of customs for the port of Philadelphia. Mr. John R. Read, formerly United States district attorney at Philadelphia, is to succeed Mr. Cooper.

The Girl Bandit Convicted.

KOKOMO, Ind., Nov. 16.—Miss Viola Deltrich, 20 years old, who last September led a band of young outlaws that in the night time waylaid six prominent citizens, was convicted and sent to the female prison for one year.

An Airship for Brazil.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Nov. 16.—It is reported here that Dr. Arthur De Bassett, the inventor of the famous De Bassett airship, will commence at once the construction of an aerial boat for the Brazilian authorities.

Death of a Prominent Virginian.

RICHMOND, Nov. 16.—Hon. James McDonald, who for nearly half a century has been a conspicuous figure in public affairs, as editor, secretary of the commonwealth and adjutant general, died yesterday.

Many friends hope to see him return restored to former health.

Sat Down Upon.

Judge Storm, of the Monroe-Carbon Courts, and Judge Smith, of the Lackawanna Courts, were defeated last Tuesday for re-election.

Both were appointed by the Governor against the protest of the better element among the Democrats of those districts.

But Pattison had a temporary advantage, which he used in a manner that did violence to public sentiment.

Now the people have had their turn, and the Governor's work is undone.—Easton Express.

THOMAS M. BALLIET.

The Well Known Educator and Lecturer at Rutland, Va.

Prof. Thomas M. Balliet, superintendent of the schools of Springfield, Mass., at a very large and distinguished gathering of teachers at Rutland, Va., spoke ably on the "Psychology of manul Training," and from his lecture we print this extract:

"I have been speaking of the brain only. The spinal cord also must be considered in education. Some writers have supposed that the spinal cord was endowed with a dim sort of consciousness, too, and they have spoken of the "soul of the spinal cord." This is more than doubtful, but it is certain that the cord cannot be ignored in studying educational problems. The spinal cord is made up of sensory and motor cell in the center and of conducting fibers in the outer portions. Many impressions on the senses go no farther than the cells in the spinalcord. They never reach the brain. You tickle the foot of a good-natured friend when he is asleep. He draws back the foot without waking up and without being conscious either of the tickling or the movement. The impression was carried from the skin along the sensory nerves to the sensory cells in the cord. From there the nerve energy traveled to the motor nerves to the muscles, causing them to contract. It never reached the brain. Such an act is called a reflex act. The spinal cord is the quire of reflex action. Many acts at first require conscious action of the brain, but later become habitual and unconscious. Such acts are relegated by the brain to the spinal cord. In this way the brain is relieved of much work. At first a child uses his brain in walking, later he can walk from habit and walks with the spinal cord. At first we spell with painful consciousness, later we spell the familiar words of our vocabulary with little or no consciousness. Children ought to be trained to write and spell with the spinal cord and to use all their brain power thinking the thought to be expressed. We do many things with the spinal cord to relieve the brain. We walk with the spinal cord, we write and spell with the cord, we knit and gossip with the spinal cord; we may sing and pray, not with our hearts, nor with our brains, but with the upper part of our spinal cord. This is, no doubt, the physiological basis of the wrong sort of ritualism. We tip our hats to each other, or lift them to the ladies, not with our brains, if we are well bred, but with our spinal cord; and we shake hands with our spinal cord, hence we speak of a "cordial welcome."

IN A FEW LINES.

Short Squibs in and Around Carbon County Picked Up for Our Readers.

George Rex, of Mauch Chunk, has been granted a pension.

John Hollenbach, of Lansford, is dead since last Thursday. He was aged 69 years. He served as a soldier in the late war and in the fatal battle at Spottsylvania had his right arm shot off. He was a member of Co. K. & P. V.

Frank Schwartz's new store building at East Mauch Chunk is 20 feet wide and has a depth of 140 feet, making a floor surface of 2800 square feet on one floor alone. The three floors give him 8400 square feet.

Mrs. A. V. Beininger, of Berlinsville, Lehigh county, visited Mrs. A. K. Miller at the Columbian House during last week.

Adam W. Sthare, of Mauch Chunk, died on Monday at the age of 52 years. Interment was made on Wednesday.

A correspondent says: Weatherly has 3000 people, seven churches and seven saloons. It don't mention the cranks and fogies or the number of grave yards.

The Old Court House Bell.

The bell which for many years hung in the old court house at Mauch Chunk and rang out its dreaded sounds to criminals called to stand trial before a jury of their peers will hereafter serve a more holy and peaceful purpose in calling to worship the good people of Long Run. The bell was purchased last Saturday from Contractor Herman Rehe, by Mr. George Enslan of Long Run, and will be placed in the belfry of the new and pretty church of the St. John's Lutheran congregation in that place.

The regular monthly meeting of town council was held on last Friday evening. All members were present but President Gabel, Joseph Inaman and W. S. Koch. M. O. Kuntz presided temporarily. The minutes of the previous meetings were read and approved.

An ordinance requiring numbering of business places and residences was approved. The same appears in another column.

These bills were approved and ordered paid: Watson & Davis, printing ordinances, $4.00; F. P. Lentz, oaths of office, $2.50; Lehigh Coal & Hardware Co., balance on bill, 98 cents.

The secretary reported the following receipts since last meeting: Board of Health, $1.75; hawkers license, $7.00; market collections, $44.37; quarterly licenses, $47.50.

A communication from Dr. O. W. Snyder was read. The doctor makes a proposition to open Seventh street from Alum south to his dwellings, to build a forty foot culvert 323 feet, with cobbled bottom, the walls to be two feet thick at bottom and eighteen inches at top and to cover the same with good flag stones. The price to be $150 and payment to be made on April 1, 1894. No action was taken.

A communication from Lehigh Lodge 292, B. of R. R. T., asking for the use of the third story in the hose house was read. The secretary was instructed to notify them that the room in question would not be finished for meeting purposes.

An adjoined meeting of council was held at the office of Secretary Bower on Wednesday evening. I. S. Koch and J. F. Moulthrop were absent. President Gabel was in the chair.

Mr. Steadman, of Mauch Chunk, was before council with a profile of the company farm which had been laid out into streets streets, &c. He wanted council to approve the same. This was not done. This committee was appointed to investigate fully and report at the next meeting: R. J. Kunta, J. F. Moulthrop and I. S. Koch.

The crossing over Iron street on the west side of Second is to be raised.

The Valley Company will be notified to raise their pavement from the Valley House to the Lehigh bridge.

Fred Schmidt's pavement must be repaired.

A communication was received from the Carbon County Improvement Co., in relation to the street lights. The burgess will ask to have a few lights placed on First street on the bracket system.

LIZARD CREEK VALLEY.

It is rumored that a young gentleman and a young lady of Bowmanstown will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony in the near future.

Mr. Monroe Sensinger and wife, of Lehigh county drove through the valley on Saturday and Sunday.

Quite a number of people attended the public sale of Mrs. Moses Hex at Andreas on Saturday last.

Mr. William Knappenberger and family moved to Nesquehoning on Monday.

The dwelling house of our industrious farmer Mr. James F. Peters is almost comfleted. Mr. Peter has got the boss house in the Valley.

Mr. J. D. Balliet made a business trip to Lehighton the other day.

Our friend Alfred Ginder is making considerable improvements at his dwelling house. Mr. Josiah Andreas has got the job to do the carpenter work.

The East Penn school board met on Saturday night and elected Charles A. Ginder as school director to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Albert Bowman.

Deputy State counsellor E. S. Heintzelman Jr. O. U. A. M., whose term of office expired at the last session of the State council was reappointed by State Councilor William T. Kurr, as deputy in and for the 163rd, district comprising councils Nos. 437, 440, & 632. Mr Heintzelman's reappointment was a surprise to him andcontrary to his will.

A squad of hunters from Bethlehem consisting of five men were through this section one day last week, they met a peddler in Henry German's woods a short distance below the house of Lewis Ginder they attacked, shoked and abused him and demanded his money. The cries of the peddler were heard by Lewis Ginder who arrived on the spot and assisted him to escape. The rascals should be arrested.

SCHOLARLY, DIGNIFIED CRAIG.

An Office That Should be Kept Above the Sordid Aims of Politicians.

The people of Monroe and Carbon counties are to be congratulated on electing Allen Craig to the bench of that judicial district. They decisively rebuked the great boss at Harrisburg, and the minor bosses at Mauch Chunk, who endeavored to foist upon them a cunning trickster for the one great office in the gift of the people that should be kept pure, and above the sordid aim of politicians.

On January 1st John B. Storm will leave the bench with less credit and honor than when he ascended it a few short months ago, and his place will be occupied by the scholarly and dignified Allen Craig, a worthy successor to the just and honorable Samuel S. Dreher.

The Journal's interest in this contest was not only because it desires the best man elected to the bench, and hence, necessarily, the selection of Mr. Craig, but because it felt that its constituency in Carbon county was being imposed upon and their confidence outraged by the political bosses. And the result of the election shows that it reflected the sentiments of its Carbon county friends and readers.—White Haven Journal.

MARONING.

Aaron Zimmerman's house is rapidly nearing completion.

Erwin and Martin Nothstein, of Egypt, Pa., spent a few days in the Valley last week.

A shooting match for turkeys was held at Normal Square last Saturday.

A. E. Noll and Alvin Yenser, of Bowmanstown, passed through the Valley, Sunday.

Game is very scarce this year and in consequence our sportsmen are not happy.

A. G. Musselman, a student in Muhlenberg College, Allentown, was at home last week.

The regular monthly meeting of our school board will be held at Pleasant Corner on Saturday.

A phonograph concert was given in Zimmerman's Hall, at New Mahoning, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings by Martin Luther Miller, of Weissport.

On Monday Dennis Nothstein moved his portable steam engine and saw mill to Rockport.

A New Great Work of Art.

The artist who painted a "Yard of Pansies" and a "Yard of Roses" has just produced a magnificent rival to these two lovely pictures. It is a floral panel picture called "An American Beauty," 20 inches high, and admirably seabted for upright narrow spaces. By an arrangement with the publishers, who are making, by the most perfect process, exquisite reproduction in oil colors of this great picture, undistinguishable from the original, we shall print a coupon in our issue of November 25th that will entitle all our readers to one of these superb creations, free. It is a great work of art, and we have pleasure in presenting such a valuable gift to our patrons. Do not fail to get a copy of this paper for the date mentioned.

ON THE RAILROAD

BRIEF MENTION OF A WEEK'S DOINGS ON THE RAIL.

Short Paragraphs That Will be of Interest to the Railroad Boys.

‡ George Strohm, a Valley brakeman, hit by the Coplay bridge last week, is up and around again.

‡ George Emmett, of Second street, who sustained a fracture of one of his legs in a collision at Packerton some weeks ago is getting along nicely.

‡ Work at Weatherly foundry is assuming its old time proportions prior to the Reading deal. All the moulders laid off at that time are gradually being reemployed.

‡ George Sandiser, of town, a Lehigh Valley brakeman, had his right hand caught between the bumpers of two cars at Mahoning siding on last Monday and sustained severe injury.

† Al O'Brien, of town, fireman on a Valley passenger engine for Engineer Will Holford run extra in the latter's place one day this week while Will was taking a well earned holiday. Messrs. Holford and O'Brien are two of Lehighton's most promising young men.

† Two Lehigh Valley freight trains collided at Bear Creek Junction, on the Wyoming division, on Saturday morning while one of the trains was pulling out of a siding. Richard Wagner, of West Pittston, conductor, jumped and sustained painful wounds about the head and hands.

‡ A general change has been made in the system of steam heating the cars in passenger service on the Lehigh Valley Rail Road. The system formerly in use was McElroy's. Since Saturday last the Sewell system is be used all along the line of the road. The officials believe the latter to be the safer and more efficient plan.

‡ The Lehigh Valley officials have received word to seek among their old employes for a man, 24 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing 170 pounds, good looking, a switchman by trade, who is wanted for assisting strikers in wrecking trains and cutting telegraph wires on the Chicago & Northwestern Road last June, at Harvard, Ill.

‡ From the time the Reading combination was established tickets of the New Jersey Central and Lehigh Valley R. R. between New York and Philadelphia and Easton and Scranton have been interchangeable round trip tickets on either road being good to return on the other. In a few days how ever this custom will be discontinue, and the two companies will return to the old system, neather company accepting the other's tickets on its trains beetwen the points stated.

‡ The Lehigh Navigation directors have declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent to stockholders on record on October 31. The half year has been the best the company has known in recent years. The profits from coal sales and the receipts from railroad were never as great. Over 200,000 was set aside for the sinking fund, an exceptionally forward. The net earnings for the year are said to be between 7 and 8 per cent.

† The right of a person paying for a seat in a railway train to have same furnished him is, it is well understood, subject to the demands made by a sudden and unusual influx of passengers, though all are occupied, as by some of the passengers sleeping on two seats and others being filled with baggage, a railway company will be liable, it has been decided, for its conductor's refusal and failure to furnish a passenger paying therefore with a seat upon proper application.
