Contracts Awarded.

The water committee on Thursday evening opened the bids for material for repair of the reservoir and made the following awards:

Two hundred barrels, more or less, Rosendale hydraulic cement company at $1.45 per barrel, delivered on cars.

Fifty thousand hard burnt brick, delivered at reservoir, to Pontz & Bro., at $7 per thousand.

Hauling sand, per ton, awarded to John Musser at 30 cents per ton.

No award for furnishing two hundred tons of river sand was made. The bids are as follows:

A. Hess & Co., Safe Harbor, $1.60 per ton delivered at railway siding, Lancaster; Israel Haulan, Marietta, $1.30; T. J. Clepper, Columbia, $1.40; John Waller, Marietta, $1.20; Schwebel & Deets, Lancaster, $1.20; A. J. Dunlap, Lancaster, $1.15; Walter Freyberger, Marietta, $1.10; George Hardneal, Columbia, $1.06; C. A. Schaffner, Marietta, 97c.; Thos. Schott, Marietta, 95c.

The lowest bidders failed to send security along with their bids and the committee therefore laid the matter over until the next meeting of the committee on Monday evening, directing the bidders to send with their security a sample of the sand.

The Lamp Committee.

At a meeting of the lamp committee held last evening it was agreed to recommend to councils that the contract for lighting the city with gas be awarded to the old company at the price bid by them, and that the lighting with gasoline be given to the present contractors, the Globe company, at a slightly reduced price.

The new gas company offer to light those city lamps along the line of their pipes that cannot be reached by the old gas company, at the same rate per lamp that is paid for gasoline. This proposition will probably be accepted.

A special meeting of councils has been called for Tuesday evening to consider the bids for lighting the city, and to award the contracts.

COLUMBIA.

A Young Men's Democratic Club Organizing.

Mr. Geo. Young presided and Geo. W. Schroeder was secretary of a meeting held at Wm. B. Given, esq.'s, office in Columbia last evening, to organize a young men's Democratic club.

F. P. D. Miller, Geo. W. Schroeder, H. C. Lichty, Geo. Tille and F. A. Bennett were appointed a committee on permanent organization, to report a president, three vice presidents (one from each ward), a secretary and assistant, and a treasurer.

Geo. P. Rathvon and Lewis Filbert were appoined to draft a constitution and by laws.

Jacob Sneath, H. S. Graybill, John Kline Smith and W. Hayes Grier, were appointed a committee to procure a room on the second floor of Detweiler's hall on Second street.

The meeting adjourned to Friday evening the 18th inst. at 8 o'clock.

The meeting was well attended. Those present showed by their actions that they meant business. A number of short but very interesting and appropriate speeches were made. All young Democrats are invited to be present at the next meeting of the club.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

D. C. Fleming Breaks His Thigh.

Last evening Mr. D. C. Fleming, proprietor of the Neffsville hotel, had his thigh bone broken, under rather peculiar circumstances. He had been in Lancaster on business, and on his way home stopped at Roseville. While standing near the carriage a dog ran against him and between his legs and Mr. Fleming, making a quick movement, had his left thigh bone broken completely off. Mr. Fleming is doubly unfortunate, as last winter he was thrown from a horse and sustained a serious compound fracture of the left thigh-bone, was confined to bed for many weeks, and was still lame from the effects of it. The fracture yesterday is an inch or two above the old one, and Mr. Fleming will be again laid up for weeks.

OBITUARY.

Death of the Old Accordion Player.

David Heiney, the eccentric old man who used to be seen almost daily on our streets playing an accordion, and who two or three weeks ago was adjudged a lunatic, died last evening at the residence of his son, in Martic township. He took sick almost immediately after being declared a lunatic, and gradually grew worse until he died. He was about 76 years old, and was a most devoted admirer of the fair sex, saluting all of them who came within sight or hearing with a blast from his accordion which he always carried with him.

The Lancaster Household Market.

Our city markets at the present time are a delight to the epicures and the housewife. Fruits, vegetables and dairy products are abundant, cheap and fresh. Our regular market quotations will be found on the first page of to-day's paper. Strawberries are the leading features of the market, selling from 10 to 18 cents, and they are of unexampled size, beauty and deliciousness. The "Monarchs of the West," "Cumberland" and "Albany" varieties are the favorites, and Sunday supplies of the beauties could be laid in this afternoon at six boxes for $1.

In the Seventh Ward.

Last evening Katie Gray and Ann Patterson, two colored girls, were arrested on Middle street for being disorderly. They were locked up and some time during the night they gave bail for a hearing before Alderman Donnelly of the Seventh ward on Monday.

Ellen Stewart, colored, was also disorderly. A warrant was issued by Alderman Donnelly for her arrest, but she locked herself in the house and was not taken at the time.

Death of a Nonogenarian.

"Mother" Gall, the oldest woman in Willow Street, being 91 years old, died at the residence of her grandson, John Gall, yesterday. She was the widow of "Fritter" Gall, who died five or six years ago at the age of nearly a hundred years, and who, until near the close of his life was a well-know tavern keeper in Willow Street. Mother Gall passed peacefully away, her death being apparently as painless as though she were falling asleep.

Home Again.

Alderman Spurrier, Capt. McMellen, Clayt. Myers, all of the Exchange, and some others who were at the Chicago bear garden, have returned home. They declare it the "biggest show on earth." The "curbstone" delegates have not yet returned.

Milton Relief Fund.

Mayor MacGonigle has received from F. B. Nagle, chief burgess of Milton, a postal card acknowledging the receipt of $155.25 the last installment of the Lancaster contribution to the relief of the sufferers by the late fire. The amount sent previously by Mayor MacGonigle was $2,900 which, with the last remittance, makes a total $3,055.25.

A Curious Turtle Egg.

We were shown to-day a curiosity in the shape of a turtle egg, taken from the body of a large turtle which was slaughtered at Harry Myers's saloon this morning. The egg is a curiosity in its construction, being two eggs in one, joined together at the ends by a blending of the shell.

Unmailable Matter.

There is in the rack at the postoffice letters addressed to the following named persons:

"Mr. Horace N. Biemensderfer, Lititz," no stamp.

"Mrs. Maty Herr, Safe Harbor," only a one cent stamp on it.

"Miss Dilla Shaffer, Mendota," held for better directions.

Alleged Thief Arrested.

James F. Tobin, who claims to be from Rhode Island, was arrested by Constables Eichholtz and McDevitt this afternoon. He is charged with being an accomplice of the man who robbed Dr. Boyd's office in June, 1878. Alderman Spurrier sent him to jail for a hearing.

Charles Sprecher's Funeral.

The body of Charles Sprecher, who died in Colorado a few days ago, arrived in town this afternoon at 3 o'clock and was interred at Woodward Hill cemetery.

Finger Mashed.

Isaac Quigley, an employee of the Penn iron company, had the second finger of one of his hands mashed yesterday by having it caught between the billet and the large shears used for cutting iron.

A Nice Wagon.

Norbeck & Miley, the South Duke street carriage manufacturers, have just finished a nobby little wagon for S. Clay Miller, liquor dealer. The body is shaped like a drag and in it are two seats the back one of which can be removed when the wagon is to be used for the delivery of goods. With this seat in, the wagon can be used for pleasure, and it will very comfortably seat four persons. The painting and ornamenting of the wagon was done by Eugene Norbeck, a nephew of one of the members of the firm. The body is black, with Mr. Miller's name in gold scrip letters on the side. On either side of the front seat is the monogram of Mr. Miller in gold, and on the rear is painted a barrel. The running gears are straw colored with a heavy green stripe and are tinted with blue, red and black. The wagon is very pretty and the design of it is original with this firm, which has a fine reputation for turning out good work.

K. of P. Picnic.

On Monday next the Lancaster Club, K. of P. will hold a grand picnic at Tell's Hain. Over two hundred ladies' invitations have been issued and an enjoyable affair is assured. Omnibusses will run from Centre Square every hour during the day and evening.

Excelsior Hall.

Eugene Bauer, for years past the accommodating bar tender at Knapp's saloon, has taken Sprenger's building, No. 127 East King street, known as Excelsior Hall, one of the largest, coolest, most pleasant and convenient places of the kind in the city, where he proposes to furnish his friends and the public with the best and coolest lager and bock beer in the market.

Nature's Sluice-way.

The Kidneys are nature's sluice way to wash out the debris of our constantly changing bodies. If they do not work properly the trouble is felt everywhere. Then be wise and as soon as you see signs of disorder get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it faithfully. It will clean the sluice-way of sand, gravel or slime and purify the whole system.

Woman's Wisdom.

"She insists that it is more importance, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill heath, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way."—Ed.

THIRD EDITION.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 5, 1880.

CHICAGO.

CONKLING'S DESPERATE BATTLE.

THE CONFLICT PROLONGED.

Grant Men Beaten Every Time.

But They Flinch Not.

WILL FIGHT IT OUT ON THAT LINE.

The "Enthusiasm" Last Night.

It is notable that the great "enthusiasm" of last night was aroused by Emory Storrs, the ex-attorney of the Chicago whisky ring, who made his eloquent plea for Grant to a gallery packed with heelers. It was a competition of lungs between the Blaine clacqueurs and the Grant rowdies and each tried to outhowl the other. Mr. Conkling was conspicuous in leading the chorus, first by waving his handkerchief and later by standing on his chair and waving the illuminated little banner placed to designate the seats of the New York delegation. Bob Ingersoll, seizing a lady's shawl, waved it frantically from the platform.

In the centre of the stage, just back of the chair, a fine looking lady with a flag in one hand and a parasol in the other swung them to and fro and repeated time and again: "Hurrah for Blaine!" She appeared to be in company with Governor Jewell, of Connecticut. Finally she obtained two flags, and, with one in each hand, continued her enthusiastic efforts as long as the uproar lasted.

When Storrs got in a shot at Hayes by saying that "the grand old soldier (Grant) is carrying forward the banner of the sluggards," the applause became deafening. It could not be controlled at all. Men tore the shields of the states from their fastenings, and Tennessee, Kentucky, Florida, Virginia, Illinois, Texas, Alabama, New York and Vermont, were waving their banners under the blazing chandeliers,

The Convention To-day.

CHICAGO, June 5, 11:11 a. m.—The delegates are steadily assembling—The galleries are filling rapidly, dispite heavy showers of rain and a sultry atmosphere, only partially relieved by occasional thunder. The usual rounds of applause were given to notable delegates as they entered the hall. Mr. Garfield especially was received with much enthusiasm probably because in some contingencies he is considered a possible winning dark horse in the presidential race.

The "Eloquent Prayer."

Rev. Baxter's opening prayer included the following: "God, thou Creator of all things, and Mighty Sustainer of all Thy creatures, we begin this day with thankful acknowledgment of Thy mercies. We commend unto Thy favor and grace the members of this convention. Rule, we pray Thee, in all their counsels, guide all their deliberations, and declare through their vote, for the wisest, for the truest, for the best man to lead this great party in the contest which awaits it. Forbid that the cry of passion should be louder here than the calm voice of duty; forbid that prejudice should warp judgment and compromise principles; nor permit personal preferences to impair or imperil the peace, the harmony, the enthusiasm, unity of purpose, of fidelity to trust of this convention.

"Bleeding Kansas."

The chair stated the question to be on the report of the committee on credentials, in the case of Kansas,

Conger briefly explained and sustained the majority report.

The convention agreed to limit the debate on Kansas to forty minutes.

Plumb (Kan.) replied on behalf the sitting members and sustaining the minority report.

Conkling, coming in while Plumb was speaking, stopped to salute him and was greeted with applause from the Grant sympathizers.

Houk (Tenn.) said he did not know which side of the pending question he was on and asked to be allowed to speak two minutes in order to ascertain his own position. [Laughter.]

The chair said the gentleman must be on one side or the other to entitle him to occupy any of the time allotted to this debate. [Renewed laughter.] Houk was allowed to proceed and said he would sustain the majority report because there was no minority report, but he did not want to be understood thereby as condemning the action of the congressional district in Kansas.

Bateman (Ohio) said he did not want to see the tactics of Tammany hall established and maintained in a Republican organization, to override the true sentiment of the people themselves, as Tammany in New York city overrode the solid Republicans north of Harlem bridge. Therefore he was for the majority report.

The Vote.

The question was then taken by a call of the states and the majority report in the Kansas case was sustained: Yeas, 476, nays, 184.

New York's Division.

It was noticeable that in the Kansas case, New York cast only 22 in the affirmative.

So the majority report, which admits four Grant men (with two votes) from Kansas, was adopted, the committee on credentials holding they were entitled to seats under the principle of district representation.

The Jewel Consistency.

The failure of the New York Grant men to vote is understood to be caused by a desire to have the majority report sustained, while their votes for it would be inconsistent with their vote in the Illinois cases.

It is manifest that the Grant leaders are using every exertion to compel the longest possible delay. They feel that the longer they can keep the convention in session the more chance they have to tire out the opposition and every possible roll call is demanded and other filibustering devices are resorted to.

West Virginia.

The next case taken up was the contest in the 3d district, West Virginia. The committee recommended the retention of sitting members, who are Blaine men.

Conger explained and supported the majority report.

Clayton (Ark.) moved to substitute the minority report for that of the majority. The minority report recommends the admission of the contestants.

Raum (Ills) insisted that the West Va., case stood precisely on all fours with the Illinois and Kansas cases, and as the contestants from Illinois and Kansas had been admitted, those from West Virginia should also be.

The Boot on the Other Leg.

Codman (Mass.) urged that the principle of district representation required the seating of the contestants in the West Virginia case in accordance with the minority report. He could not understand how the committee who reported in favor of the 18 contestants in Illinois could have voted against the contestants from Kansas.

Hogans (W. Va.) sustained the majority report, urging that these contestants failed to prove before the committee that they secured the votes of a majority of the delegates to the state convention from the congressional districts.

Conger stated that the committee were nearly equally divided on this case, and rather intimated that he was not himself clear in opinion as to the true merits of the case.

The contestants are Sherman men.

After considerable cross firing between different delegates, as to facts of purely local interest, Haymond (California) said that whichever way the convention should vote in this case that vote would sustain the principle of district representation. Each side here claims to be district representatives and the only controverted question is as to whether the sitting or contesting delegates were legally chosen representatives of the districts involved.

The vote was then taken by a call of states, upon substituting the minority for the majority report, at 1:42. The roll call resulted: Yeas, 417; nays, 330, on the 3d district, W. Va. So the motion to substitute the minority report was agreed to, and the convention voted viva voce to seat the contestants.

The Grant, Sherman and Edmunds men appeared to combine on this affirmative vote.

The next case of contest considered was that of Utah, and the debate upon it was ordered to be limited to thirty minutes.

Utah is now being considered. The platform committees reports that the report on rules will not occupy much time in their consideration, and after adjournment is had for dinner, there is a possibility of taking a ballot this evening.

The Significance of it.

The 330 votes for the negation of the West Virginia case are regarded by many as indicating that Blaine's strength in the convention is at least as great.

The Field Stronger than Blaine.

Special to the INTELLIGENCER.

CHICAGO, June 5—2 P. M.

The convention has just voted 417 to 330 to unseat contested Blaine delegates for Sherman men in West Virginia. It is the first test of Blaine's strength against the field—Grant and Sherman united against Blaine. McCLURE.

The Utah Case.

The minority report returns the sitting delegates who the majority of committee say were appointed according to the almost universal usage in Utah by Central Republican committee while the contestants were chosen by an unauthorized and irregular body.

Haywood (California) sustained the majority report and stated that the central committee met together without any authority and elected the two contestants. The committee on credentials was almost unanimous in favor of the sitting delegates.

Codman (Mass.) favored the contestants.

Another Score Against Blaine.

The minority report in favor of admitting the contestants form Utah in place of the sitting members has been adopted at 2:35 p. m.

Further Business.

The report of the committee on rules and order of business was taken up. The rules of the House of Representative were recommended. The report also recommends that when the vote of a state is cast for a candidate it cannot be changed except in case of numerical error, ten minutes to be allowed for the presentation of each candidate for president.

The Ballot.

At 3 o'clock the convention proceeded to discuss General Sharpe's motion to hear nominations and to ballot for president.

Sharpe's motion was rejected.

CONVENTION NOTES.

Episodes of the Struggle.

Troops of delegates could be found in and around the Palmer House all day ready to sell season tickets of admission, and they found a lively market at prices ranging from $10 to $20.

Old Madison Wells is there. "Whom are you for?" was asked of him, "Grant, Blaine or Sherman?" Wells winked and said: "Oh, I'm for all of 'em."

Bill Chandler, "the political tramp," who out-generaled Cameron, is a slight, boyish figure, in no particular noticeable, except for an apparent insignificance. He has thin, gray hair; a thin, gray beard; a thin, flat chest; thin legs and thin arms. His head is small, his eyes are small, and his nose is small. No woman would ever fall in love with him at first sight.

There has been great complaint about the
