The town board should see that the protruding nails in the sidewalks are driving home. They are a nuisance and are liable to ruin shoes and dresses.

"Joe" Emerson, well known to many of the older settlers of this county as one of the characters of Yankton in early times, died at Sioux Falls last week.

If Gus Kroll appears to be putting on more style, or acting a little more important than usual this week, it is all on account of that 11-pound girl which arrived at his house Tuesday evening.

There are several old plows in the street at the corner of Park Boulevard and Dakota street which should be taken care of by the town officers if the owner does not care enough for them to remove them.
No meeting of the school board was held Tuesday, presumably because a majority of the members thereof had more important business which required their attention. The meeting was adjourned by the clerk to Saturday, May 3.

A Sioux Falls telegram to the Sioux City Journal says that the survey of the Midland Pacific road will run several miles north of Salem. As Pettigrew is president of the road and a heavy owner of Salem real estate we predict that the road will strike Salem.
A postal card received from O. C. Stuart announces that he is busy at his desk at the U. S. land office at Chamberlain. We don't list to lose Mr. Stuart from Turner county even temporarily, but believe the officers in the land office made a wise selection when he was selected as one of the clerks.

We are informed that the county commissioners called on "Rex" (Geo. W. Bailey) to substantiate the various charges which he has been making through the columns of the New Era in regard to actions of members of the county board and certain road supervisors, and that his only answer was that he had been told so-and-so by somebody. The road receipt incident was said to have occurred about twelve years ago.

Emiel Branch met with an accident yesterday which may place him on the retired list for a number of days. He was in the beiry of the Presbyterian church, and thinking that the easiest way down was by the bell-rope he started by that route. In some manner the knot at the end of the rope on the bell wheel untied and gave him a fall of about 16 feet. He struck on his feet, but in such a manner as to severely strain the cords in his left foot.

The postoffice has got settled in its new quarters, but, as yet, there has been no increase in the amount and number of remittances received from delinquent subscribers, to compensate the editor of this paper for the additional travel necessary to reach said office.

Wheatland Eagle—Lives there a man with soul so dead, who never unto himself has said, "I'll pay before I go to bed the debt I owe the printer?" Yes, there are some we know full well, who never such a tale could tell, but they, we fear, will go to—well, the place where there is no winter.

D. W. Fairchild called in Saturday and requested the editor of the Herald to smoke to the health of his youngest daughter, who made her first demands for food and clothing on the day previous, Friday, April 4th. The editor smoked, and wished the young lady all the joy possible in this life.

Canton Advocate: Chas. H. Goddard, B. A., L. L. B., attorney and counselor at law, of Hurley, S. D., was in the city Tuesday on legal business. His business card reads, "we meet at Philippi," but that wasn't where we met; we met in The Advocate office, and found Mr. Goddard an agreeable gentleman, and one whom we shall always be glad to meet.

Next Wednesday is the time set by the commissioner of school and public lands for leasing said lands, and a lively time may be expected. There are in Turner county some sections which should yield a handsome revenue to the school fund. In the vicinity of Hurley there are several good hay sections which will doubtless bring good prices. There are also some sections in the county upon which considerable breaking has been done, and where crops have been raised for several years. Those who had the use of these lands, without even having taxes to pay should now be willing to contribute liberally to the support of the public schools, and the farmers living adjacent to these lands, and who have been paying taxes for the benefit of these squatters, should see that the lands bring all the rent that they are worth.

Notice to Teachers.
The April meeting of the Hurley township teachers will be held Saturday, April 19, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Longmont Ledger—Mrs. Jas. Andrew, after an absence of a little more than three weeks, returned to Longmont last Friday. She had a nice visit with her two sisters in South Dakota, whom she had not seen in 27 years. But she does not seem to think the climate of South Dakota quite equal to northern Colorado.
