LAWS OF OHIO.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

No. 56.] AN ACT

To establish the Independent Treasury of the State of Ohio.

Section. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That the rooms assigned in the Executive State, in the Capitol at Columbus, together with the safes, vaults, and other proper and necessary means for the security and safe keeping of the public money therein belonging, shall constitute and be the treasury of the state of Ohio, and the treasurer of state shall be required to use the treasury so constituted as the sole place for the deposit and safe keeping of the money of the state; and the money in the treasury shall not be drawn or paid out except in the manner hereinafter provided, and pursuant to appropriations made by law.

Sec. 2. That it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county in this state, to provide without delay, if the same has not been already done, a suitable room or rooms, with fire proof vaults or safes, and all other necessary means for the security and safe keeping of the public moneys in the county, and the same shall constitute the treasury of the county; and the public money paid into the county treasury, whether it belong to the county, state or township, shall be kept by the county treasurer, in the treasury of the county, and shall not be drawn or paid out except in the manner provided by law.

Sec. 3. That the state treasurer and each county treasurer, shall be required to keep safely in his treasury, without loaning, using or depositing in banks, or elsewhere, all the public money paid into the treasury of the state or county, whether in specie or otherwise, at any time placed in his possession and custody, till the same is ordered by the proper department or officer of the state government to be transferred or paid out according to law, and when such orders for the transfer or payment are received, faithfully and promptly to make the same as directed, and also to do and perform all other duties as a fiscal agent of the state, which may be assigned him by this act, or any other law of this state, or by any other rule or regulation of the treasury made in conformity to law.

Sec. 4. For the purpose of securing a more full and perfect system of accountability among the officers of the fiscal department of the state, there shall be created a comptroller of the treasury, whose term of office shall be three years, and it shall be his duty to make diligent inquiry after all claims and accounts of every description in favor of the state, and require prompt payment of the same; and to cause the payment of any such claim so adjudicated, to place the proper vouchers to collect it, under the charge of the attorney general of the state, and he shall perform such other duties and receive such compensation, as shall be prescribed by the law.

Sec. 5. Every payment of money into the state treasury shall be made on the draft of the comptroller, drawn in favor of the state treasurer, upon the person or persons making such payment into the state treasury, and such payment shall discharge the liability of [to] the state, unless it be made on the draft of the comptroller, as aforesaid. And it shall be the duty of the comptroller, to preserve a duplicate copy of every such draft, and to keep an accurate record of its number, amount, date and name of the person on upon whom drawn, designating the fund to which it is to be, and to report the aggregate amount of all such drafts to the auditor of state at the close of every week, designating the appropriate fund to be charged to such fund. The auditor of state shall keep an accurate record of every such weekly report of the comptroller, and charge the amount thereof, especially to each account kept in the auditor's office, of receipts and disbursements of the state treasurer.

Sec. 6. No money shall be drawn or paid out of the state treasury, or transferred from the state treasury to any other treasury, or to any other fund, for use or disbursement, except it be on the warrant of the auditor of state drawn upon the state treasurer, countersigned by the comptroller, on the treasurer for the payment of any money, unless the same shall have been appointed by law, for the purpose for which it is required to be paid. It shall be the duty of the auditor of state to preserve a duplicate copy of every such warrant and also to keep an accurate record of the number, amount and date of every such warrant, and the name of the person in whose favor drawn, specifying the fund from which payable, and to report the aggregate amounts thereof to the comptroller, at the close of every week, showing the specific amount belonging to each fund. It shall be the duty of the treasurer of state to keep accurate records of the number, amount, and date of every draft of the comptroller, in favor of the treasurer of state, and to whom payable, as well as of every warrant of the auditor of state on the treasurer, presented and paid, and his books shall at all times show the exact amount of every payment into, and every payment out of the treasury, and the exact condition of every fund.

Sec. 7. The auditor of state and comptroller shall, at the close of every three months, or oftener if they see fit, after computing and adjusting their respective accounts, and comparing or settling the accounts of the treasurer of state with the auditor the same, and the warrants of the auditor against the same, and the treasurer of state, and ascertain the precise condition of the state treasury upon the books and also, by actual inspection, ascertain the actual amount of money remaining in the treasury, together with all other property, bonds, securities, claims, assets and effects, which should be on the custody and possession of the treasurer, and report the result of such settlement and examination to the governor.

Sec. 8. All payments of money into the county treasury of every description, excepting the separate of taxes charged on the duplicate, and made before the return by the auditor of the delinquent list for unpaid tax, shall be paid to the county treasurer, on the draft of the county auditor, in favor of the treasurer, and the county auditor shall preserve a duplicate copy of every such draft, and the auditor and treasurer shall each keep an accurate record of the number, date and amount of every such draft, specifying the respective funds in favor of which they are given; provided, however, that in case of a payment or transfer of money from the state treasury to the county treasury, the same shall be made on the warrant of the auditor of state, and of the draft of the county auditor, and in which case the state auditor shall transmit a duplicate copy of such warrant to the county auditor to be by him properly entered and recorded by him keep of the number, date, fund and amount thereof.

Sec. 9. No money shall be removed into, or paid out of the county treasury, or transferred to any other fund, except upon the order of the county auditor, excepting that the money paid over by the county treasurer to the state treasurer shall be on the draft of the auditor of state, and the receipt of the treasurer of state, for the amount of the receipts to the comptroller at Columbus, and the comptroller shall, at the close of each month, or at such time as shall be determined upon by the auditor of state and comptroller, transfer or state entry exponitly draw a draft in favor of the state treasurer, for the aggregate amount received by such officer, in the month, for the public use, which he will be entitled to discharge the liability to the state, until the said receipts shall be so deposited with the county or state auditor, as the case may be.

Sec. 10. Every treasurer in the counties or public works of the state, and every register or receiver of any school land office, and every other collector or receiver of revenue of the state or other fund, shall, on the first Monday of every month, or oftener if required, pay over to the treasurer of state, or to the county treasurer, as the comptroller shall direct, all moneys by him collected or received since making the last payment.

Sec. 11. An inspection and thorough examination shall be had of the state treasury, whenever demand so every; by a committee of the general assembly, or either branch thereof, which may be raised for the purpose, or by a committee of persons not members of the general assembly appointed by a resolution of the general assembly. And it shall be the duty of the governor, whenever the law shall be in conflict the public interests require, to appoint some competent and trustworthy accountant, of the highest ability and skill, who in manner in with the secretary of state, shall immediately, without previous notice to or consent of the general assembly or either branch thereof, shall proceed to make thorough and complete examination of all the books, vouchers, accounts, records, reports, notes, securities, claims, assets and effects, which should be on the custody and possession of the treasurer, and report the result of such settlement and examination to the governor.

Sec. 12. On and after the 4th day of July, 1858, all payments of every description, excepting the separate of taxes charged on the duplicate, and made before the return by the auditor of state and comptroller of the treasury, all vouchers for such expenditures or other claims, shall be presented to the general assembly or either branch thereof, or by the committee of the general assembly, authorized to compel the attendance of witnesses, and for persons and papers, and punish for contempt in the same manner as courts of law. If on return by the money and vouchers, such claim or demand shall be found to be required by the accounts of the state and comptroller of the treasury, as well as the accounts, books and papers in the office of the treasurer of state, copy but such of the other property, bonds, securities, claims, assets, and effects belonging to the state, and which should be in the custody and possession of the treasurer of state, the said inspector and accountant of state shall certify the same over their official signatures, in writing, to triplicate one of which certificates shall be recorded in the books of the treasury, and one shall be transmitted to the auditor of state, and the other shall be delivered to the person or in the case where office, or be recorded and filed therein; and the accountant so appointed for performing the duties herein required, shall be paid by the governor, out of the contingent fund, for his services, such compensation, not exceeding at the rate of five dollars per day, together with his necessarily travelling expenses, if any there be, to be certified by the governor, and report the same and every certificate, as herein provided, shall also contain a statement of the exact amount of money so found and counted in the treasury, and the exact amount so found to be in said treasury fund, together with a schedule of all the other property of the state, as aforesaid.

Sec. 13. An inspection and thorough examination of all the books, vouchers, accounts, reports, bonds, securities, claims, assets and effects, which should be in the custody and possession of the treasurer of state, shall be made by the county auditor and county commissioners thereof, as often as once in every three months in the year, and it is hereby made a part of the official duties of the judge of probate of each county, as often as once in every six months, or oftener if the said judge shall deem it necessary, without notice to any other person or agent in writing, under the seal of said court, a competent and trusty accountant, who shall forthwith, without previous notice or intimation to the county treasurer, of such intended inspection and examination, enter the county treasury and proceed immediately to count the money therein, and inspect and examine the books, receipts and vouchers thereof; and if on counting and inspecting the same, there shall be found the full sum in money required by the accounts of the auditor, and the accounts and books and legal vouchers of the treasurer, together with all other property, bonds, securities, claims, assets and effects which should be in the custody and possession of the treasurer, he said inspector shall certify the same in writing in triplicate, one copy of which certificate shall be recorded in the books of the treasury, and filed by the treasurer in his office, and one copy shall be recorded and filed in the auditor of the county and one other copy thereof shall be duly returned to the said probate court, and be entered of record therein. And the accountant so appointed for performing the duties herein required, shall be paid at the rate of five dollars per day for the time necessary to the performance of the same out of the county treasury, on a warrant drawn by the county auditor, and countersigned by the certificate of said court, particularly specifying the duty performed. And every certificate as herein provided, shall also contain a statement of the exact amount of money so found in said county treasury, and the exact amount so found to be in said county fund, together with all property, bonds, securities and effects as aforesaid.

Sec. 14. On and after the 4th day of July, 1858, all payments from the state treasury of twenty dollars and under, and after the 4th day of July, 1858, all payments of fifty dollars and under, and after the 4th day of July, 1860, all payments of one hundred dollars and under, and after the 4th day of July, 1862, all payments of two hundred dollars and under; and after the 4th day of July, 1862, all payments of three hundred dollars and under, and after the 4th day of July, 1864, all payments of five hundred dollars and under, and after the 4th day of July, 1865, all payments of one thousand dollars and under, shall be made by the county auditor, shall be made in specie. All payments made from the state treasury shall be held to be made by the treasurer of state.

Sec. 15. On and after the 4th day of July, 1858, all payments out of every county treasury of five dollars and under, and after the 4th day of July, 1859, all payments of ten dollars and under, after the 4th day of July, 1860, all payments of twenty dollars and under; after the 4th day of July, 1861, all payments of thirty dollars and under; after the 4th day of July, 1862, all payments of fifty dollars and under; after the 4th day of July, 1863, all payments of one hundred dollars and under; and after the 4th day of July, 1864, all payments of two hundred dollars and under; and after the 4th day of July, 1865, all payments whatever, shall be made in specie.

Sec. 16. That any officer or other person charged with the collection, receipt, safe keeping, transfer or disbursement of the public money, or any part thereof, belonging to the state or any county, or township, or school district, or village in this state, shall convert to his own use, or to the use of any other person or persons, body corporate, or society or party whatever, in any way whatever, or shall use by way of investment in any form whatever, of any loan, property, bond or merchandise, or in any other manner or form whatever, or shall loan with or without interest any money, or any other property, belonging to the state, or any county, or township, or school district, or village, or shall deposit with any company, corporation or individual, any portion of the public money, or any other funds, property, bonds, securities, assets or effects, any kind, received, or held by him for safe keeping, transfer or disbursement, or in any a fiscal way or manner, or for any other purpose whatever, shall be deemed and held in law to be an embezzlement of so much of the money or other property so appropriated, or shall be the course of such, over and, found, he shall be paid out as aforesaid; which is hereby declared to be a high crime and misdemeanor, and upon prosecution, trial by and conviction and conviction thereof, he or any person of this state having competent jurisdiction, such officer or person or persons shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary, and kept at hard labor for a term of not less than one year, nor more than three years, according to the magnitude of the embezzlement paid, and to a fine equal to double the amount of money or other property so embezzled and converted, which fine shall operate as a judgment at law on all to the estate of the party so convicted and sentenced, and shall be enforced to collection by execution or other process, to be issued on the order of the party or parties whose money or other funds, property, bonds or securities, or note or effects of any kind so abstracted, are been so embezzled. And in all cases, such fine so operating as a judgment, shall only be released or entered as a credit by the party in interest as aforesaid. Any failure or refusal to pay over or to produce, the public money or any part thereof, by any officer or other person, under this act, charged with the collection, receipt, transfer, disbursement or safe keeping of the public money, or any part thereof, whether belonging to the state, or to any county or township, or organized city, or incorporated village, or any other public money whatever; or any failure to account to, or to make settlement with, any proper and legal authority, of the officer or accounter of such officer or person, shall be held a taken as prima facie evidence of such embezzlement. And upon the trial of any such officer or person, for embezzling public money under the provisions of this act, it shall be sufficient evidence for the purpose of showing a balance against such officer or person, to produce a transcript from the books of the auditor of state, or comptroller of the treasury, or the auditor of the county, or the records of the commissioners of the county; and the removal of any such officer or person, whether in or out of office, to pay any draft order or warrant which may be drawn upon him, by the proper authority, for any public money in his hands, whether in what capacity the same may have been received or may be held by him—or any refusal, by any person, or public officer, charged with the duty of the safe keeping of any public money or securities promptly, on the legal requirement of any authorized officer of the state or county, shall be taken as the true of any indictment against such officer or person, for embezzlement, as prima facie evidence of such embezzlement.

Sec. 16. If the treasurer of state, or any county treasurer, shall pay out any public money in any other manner than is provided in sections 12 and 14 of this act, every such treasurer upon conviction thereof before any court having cognizance of the same shall forfeit and pay for every such offense, a fine not less than twenty nor more than five hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court trying the same.

Sec. 17. This act shall take effect on and after the first day of July, 1858.
