POLICE COURT, JUNE 23.—J. Burke was arrested on Tuesday for petit larceny in stealing ten dollars in money from Pat Garvey. His case was held open till the 25th. Wm. Salmon, for drunkenness, was discharged. These were the only cases before the Court.

BREVITIES.—The Court of Common Pleas for the trial of criminal cases, will begin a session tomorrow morning, Judge FOOTE presiding. The Grand Jury, which met on Thursday morning, returned indictments against Bridget McQuade for grand larceny, and Charles Penwell and John Donnelly for robbery.——The Council on Tuesday evening adjourned at half-past nine o'clock; the first time at so early an hour, we believe, in a twelvemonth.——Why do not the Managers of the Water Works have the gate of the reservoir kept open until 8 o'clock P. M. for the benefit of citizens and strangers? Passing along there on Tuesday evening we saw at least a dozen persons who were desirous of a view from its summit.——About 11 o'clock on Tuesday night, some thrifty gentleman deliberately led two horses into the Public Square enclosure, and taking their halters off, turned them loose to graze upon the grass. They were taken away before daylight yesterday morning.——A lady living up town, the other day complained to her ice man that he did not leave ice at her door until three o'clock in the afternoon. "Why, Madam," was the reply, "I have been traveling toward your house ever since three o'clock this morning." Hot weather had considerably increased the number of his customers that day.——Don't forget that T. L. WILCOX'S Benefit comes off at the Theater to-night. A splendid bill is offered, and as the beneficiary is a worthy gentleman, we hope he may have no cause to complain of a want of liberality on the part of his friends.——Lent's Circus will exhibit on the vacant lot in the rear of the American House.——The propeller Northern Light sailed for Superior last night. The steamer City of Cleveland will clear this evening.——The body of the boy James Kelley, who was drowned on Monday evening, was found yesterday morning.——Mr. Thayer on Tuesday evening reported an amendment to the ordinance empowering Benajah Backer and others to construct a railroad track in certain streets in Cleveland, omitting Euclid street, and including Union and Spring streets. He stated that the people of Euclid street were generally opposed to the project.——Pursuant to agreement, the general Committee of Arrangements for the Fourth met last evening at the Weddell House, and decided on having the programme of proceedings published in the papers of this city, and in all other journals in this part of the State. Major General Mariner and Staff of Akron, and Brigadier General E. B. Tyler and Staff, of Ravenna, have accepted invitations to be present.

(COMMUNICATED.)

THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.—We made a visit to the Industrial School a few days since, which is under the care and management of R. WATERTON, Esq., as Superintendent. We think the city has made a wise choice in placing such a man at the head of the school; he being so well qualified for that position. He moves around among the children with the greatest familiarity, and though they come to him with ragged clothes and dirty faces, he or his daughters will take them up, and have them washed and dressed in a becoming manner—Such attention, bestowed upon these neglected and destitute children, is truly praiseworthy. Much credit is due to the Misses WATERTON, daughters of the Superintendent, for their unceasing labors to clean up and reform this class of children. None are turned away by them, but all are freely received and kindly treated. A good dinner is served up daily to the children.

But not the least interesting thing, to us, in this School, was the industrial part of it. A visit to the Brush Room repaid us by its lively appearance of young boys engaged in making brushes. They appeared to work as handily as old workmen. This branch of the business is going to be greatly enlarged in the employment of the boys by the Cleveland Brush Company, who pay to each boy what he may earn—the proceeds of his labor to be applied for the benefit of the School.

Another branch of business with which we were much pleased, is the picking of oakum; some fifteen or twenty boys are employed in this work, and one of the Trustees of the Institution has kindly volunteered to take charge of this department.—We here found very young boys engaged, ranging in age from four to ten years, and some of the younger boys doing their work much the best.

It may not be thought by many that these boys, picked up in the streets and taken from our Police Court, would like to work,—but the fact is that they like to work, and prefer it to play. Some of the boys at recess work instead of going out to play.

We should not forget the sewing department under charge of Miss MINNIE WATERTON, in which are employed some twenty or thirty girls, who make garments for the destitute.

The Educational Department is under the charge of Miss TILLIE WATERTON, who, we venture to say, cannot be excelled in the faculties of governing the children and teaching them to be kind and obedient.

Our city should be proud of this Institution, and support and protect it. May it long continue to do good. H.

P. S.—On taking our departure, the Superintendent remarked, in speaking of the love of industry manifested by the boys, that the mother of one of them, in passing the School on her way home from market, stopped in, and observing her son at work, remarked that at home he would not as much as bring her a pail of water, or a basket of chips; but here he worked steadily and willingly. This goes to show the good control the Superintendent and Teachers exercise over these children—governing them by the power of kindness and love. H.

UNION FOUNDRY—GEO. S. GARDNER & CO., CLEVELAND.—Geo. S. Gardner, A. Hazen and A. M. Hazen, are the gentlemen doing business on West street, Cleveland, Ohio, under the firm and style of G. S. Gardner & Co. As it is but a short time since they were citizens of Ravenna, it is a pleasure to note their business prosperity in their new location. During the past few months they have been turning out from seventy-five to one hundred and fifty tons of castings per week, and have had in their employ from fifty to a hundred hands, and a portion of the time have carried on two Foundries. Nearly all the castings for the agricultural implements manufactured in Cleveland are from this establishment, while their customers are located on all the lines of railroad centering at Cleveland. The secret of their success is the prompt and honorable manner in which they execute all orders entrusted to them, their reasonable terms, and excellent facilities for doing every possible kind of work in their line. They furnish all kinds of Castings upon the shortest notice, and are always ready for a large contract or a small job.—Such men and enterprise constitute the backbone of a business community, and we consider Cleveland fortunate that these gentlemen have selected it for the location of their Works.—Ravenna Democrat.

THE MATTER OF THE REVENUE CUTTERS AT SANDUSKY.—The difficulty between the officials in charge of the revenue cutters at this port, and the Deputy U. S. Marshal, has been adjusted—at least for the present. The Collector, Gen. Patterson, telegraphed to the Department for instructions, whether he should allow or resist the service of process; and received an answer directing him to make no resistance to the Marshal, but to make application immediately to the U. S. District Attorney, to procure the release of the cutters. Accordingly the Marshal was placed in peaceable possession, and immediately placed the cutters in charge of Captain Mitchell, the officer in command. The work of outfitting and preparation for service will proceed as if no levy had been made; and it is confidently expected that the difficulty between the government and the creditors holding liens against the cutters will be speedily adjusted.—Sandusky Register.

MORNING LEADER.

WARREN CORRESPONDENCE.

The Fugitive and the Sequel—The Grand Jury—Liquor Indictments—Other Indictments—The Murder Trial—Conductor Newham.

WARREN, June 22, 1858.

EDITOR DAILY LEADER:—The slave case has had a singular termination. Ben Scott undertook to turn the castigation he received into money by representing himself as a runaway, but recently escaped from a cruel owner, and for a confirmation of his story exhibited the wounds upon his person. By this means he succeeded in raising quite a sum of money from the benevolent disposed people in the North part of our county, but unfortunately for the success of his speculation he came across the path of Mr. Charles Brown, of Bloomfield, who knew him, and the result was that he was arrested as an imposter, and sent to Jail for obtaining money under false pretense. The Grand Jury were in session when he was brought to the Jail, but concluded not to indict him and thus ended his experience as a Fugitive.

Nothing further has been heard respecting the Missouri Fugitive; nor is it known whether his pursuers succeeded in securing him.

The Grand Jury of our county has been very active and thorough in the investigations made by them, which is fully shown in the number of Bills of Indictment returned. The regular Grand Jury was empanneled on Monday and was discharged on Thursday evening. They returned 19 true bills for selling intoxicating liquor, 2 for keeping Tavern without License, two for Grand Larceny, one for petit Larceny, and one for Nuisance, besides ignoring several Bills on Assault and Battery cases. The most of the liquor indictments are against the Grocery men of this town. They have made a clean sweep of it here. When this jury commenced work there were only three or four Licensed Tavern keepers in the county, but finding that it was intended to pay some attention to the charge of the Court, and to save the costs and fines which would result from a prosecution, most of the Tavern keepers came in and obtained License; but the Judge required that the applicants should show that they had not been selling Liquor. In one case where the witness stated the applicant sold Liquor the License was denied; but the case was continued with admonition to make a clean record before the next term, on which case a License would be granted. The Liquor seller of Bristol whose grocery was sacked by the spirited temperance women of that town a few days ago, was among the number of the indicted persons. He will probably find it unprofitable business to deal out poison to the husbands and brothers of those women, and, taking counsel of economy, may desist from it.

On Thursday night two prisoners were brought in under an arrest, and upon a charge of breaking into the store house of Thomas M. Abell, of Mecca, some time ago, and robbing it of a large amount of goods; and on Friday the Prosecutor moved for a special Grand Jury, which was ordered, and this jury returned true bills of indictment against Alvin Tidd, Albert Tidd, and Thomas Crawford for burglary and grand larceny. This jury also indicted Edward Welch for selling liquor.

We have had six days of service from the two Grand Juries, and there is no doubt that a vast deal of good will be done by the promptness and efficiency with which they have acted. They are entitled to the gratitude of every good citizen. Already a favorable change has taken place in the town. Drunkenness and rioting have almost wholly ceased, and peace and good order are now pretty well observed.

I understand that John Crowell Esq., of your city, who was here Friday and Saturday, has been retained by several of the liquor men of the town to make their defence.

John Rooker was tried upon an indictment for grand larceny for stealing $35 in money, and was convicted of stealing $30. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $10,00 and costs, and be imprisoned thirty days upon bread and water. Peter Sellinger was indicted for stealing $5,12 in money, and was convicted and fined $10, and sent to jail 20 days.

The murder trial of the State vs. Thomas MaWhinney, has taken place and resulted in a complete acquital of the prisoner. The jury was tried and sworn on Thursday morning, and the trial concluded at 10 o'clock on Saturday, and in a short time the jury came back into court with a verdict of Not Guilty.

The testimony was very nearly the same as in the case of Robert, tried at the last term.—There was some testimony against this boy which could not have been against Robert and some in Robert's case which did not apply to Thomas; but on the whole the weight of testimony was much the same. The defense relied with much force upon the fact that the body was found without marks of violence upon it, and hence the presumption was in favor of accidental drowning. The prosecution did not meet the point fully, while the court (Judge Potter) gave a clear and lucid charge to the jury covering the whole case including this point, and the result of acquittal followed without difficulty. Some still insist that the boys are guilty, but public sentiment is very fast changing into a conviction that they are probably innocent. This will eventually result in an attempt to procure the pardon of the one convicted at last term.

The prosecution was conducted by Mr. Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, assisted by Messrs Hutchins and Cox, specially assigned for that purpose; and the defense was conducted by Messrs. G. M. Tuttle and J. F. Asper.

The Grand Jury returned the Jail a nuisance, declaring it to be illy ventilated and lighted, damp and unwholsome, and a place unfit to stable our horses and cattle. Nearly every Grand Jury for fifteen years has done the same thing, but yet our Commissioners will make no move towards building a new one.

In the case of Judson, one of the Directors informs me that the Superintendent of the Railroad has fully investigated the matter and has come to the conclusion that Conductor Newham was not censurable and the Company will not discharge him. They excuse the Conductor on the ground that he was deceived by the man's stepping off from the track after he was seen, and walking some distance beside it, and then stepping on again when too late to stop. They say that from this fact the Conductor had the right to suppose that the man had notice of the approach of the train; but it turns out that the man was probably governed in that action by the condition of the path, and had no notice of the approach of the train.

JUNIUS, Jr.

A Magistrate Half a Century Ago.

David Hudson, Esq., the first settler of the town in this county which bears his name, was the first Justice of the Peace in Hudson. The following entries from his docket will perhaps entertain some of our readers.

Proceeded to try the case and fined said Bishop one dollar, and adjudged to pay the cost, which is Two Dollars and seven cents.—Akron Beacon.

☞ Charles Francis Adams is spoken of as a candidate for Congress in the District now represented by Mr. Damrell, whom ill health obliges him to decline being a candidate for re-election.

Encroachments of Lake Erie.

Mr. HENRY LOVEJOY in a communication to the Buffalo Express thus speaks of the encroachments of the Lake at Buffalo and vicinity:

In the year 1811 the shore of Lake Erie, from the head of what is now Black Rock Harbor, to the point opposite the first toll gate on the turnpike, was much further south and west than it now is. At that time one dense forest covered the entire shore between these two points. From a little above the present Light House Pier, for a mile or more up, one continuous arbour of trees on the height of the beach, connected by the native grape vine, formed in summer a cool and delightful retreat, and by holding the sands of the beach in their native position, formed a barrier which the storms of the lake never passed. From a little below the mouth of the Buffalo Creek down, the same arbour of trees and vines, if anything more picturesque and inviting, continued to near the foot of York street, relieved by several sand hills more than 40 feet high, covered with large trees and shrubbery, which entirely shut out the back lands, which were swampy, from view. From the cutting away of the trees, the construction of the light house pier, or the obstructions in the river (or, as I think, by a higher level of the lake) an entire change has taken place. From the foot of Erie to the foot of Jersey street, about 100 acres has been lost, and the sand hills long since have been entirely swept away. About 15 acres of land have accumulated in and at the head of Black Rock Harbor since its construction. From the light house pier up to the South Channel, (so called) above 20 acres has been lost, and that mostly from lots 46, 48, 48 and 50. From the South Channel up about 2 miles about 120 acres has been lost, or a little more than half the land between the lake and the turnpike, making about 240 acres loss within what is now the city limits.

RAILROAD PROJECT.—We learn from a reliable source that the Grand Trunk Railroad have projected and already commenced work upon a branch of their great line to connect London, Canada, and the village of Sault St. Mary and the Ship Canal. It really looks as though a large portion of the travel and commerce of the Great West would in future pass through Canada and find an outlet to foreign ports by the mouth of the St. Lawrence. Or is this the grand courier of the Northern Pacific Railroad to be exclusively in range of the British Possessions, and to be constructed while we are wrangling about preliminaries.—Detroit Tribune.

IMPROVEMENT IN DENTISTRY, PATENTED BY M. L. WRIGHT, M. D.
D. POLLOCK, M. L. WRIGHT,
AUGUST 11, 1857.
ARE MANUFACTURING
Partial Sets, Half Sets and Whole Sets OF PORCELAIN TEETH.

SUPERIORITY OF THEIR METHod of producing Artificial Teeth over any other known method:
1st. IMPLICITY.—One piece chemically united in all its parts, and of the same quality of material.
2d. SOLIDITY.—That compact material to adapt herself to the most delicate impressions. This adaptation cannot be attained—rapture and utility ever after.
3d. PURITY.—The entire Plate and Teeth are impervious to the taint of any known mineral agent, hence no discolor or health, proof against the effects of the acid secretions of the mouth common to gold plate work, and other known methods.
4th. COLOR.—Bright, lively, and a good imitation of life.
N. B.—Any method of producing sets of Artificial Teeth scientifically united in one piece, that will not pass the ordeal of this diagram, is a counterfeit and fraud upon the public.
PATRONAGE.—Since April, 1856, we have inserted Five Hundred and Twelve Cases. Of this number, equity-sixty are worn upon the principle of Gold Plate work. In the last seven cases we have given their location to its superiority, and so will all other cases where our terms have been complied with. In no case where teeth have been made to fit have there been any dissatisfaction.
TERMS.—According to the nature of the case, and given after examination.
PAYMENT.—Upon the receipt of the order, or on delivery. Persons with Gold Plate can spare their plate in part payment.
GUARANTY.—Satisfaction; provided the terms of payment and special instructions have been complied with.—Persons wanting information, reference will be given to those in constant use of our work.
We prefer to supply partial sets soon after the extraction of the natural teeth, now we are long enough to insure a fair trial of the extraction and the application.
To our patrons, and those who desire to become such, we will say that our mechanics are now prepared to make two sets and will supply an entire double set of teeth fitted, satisfactorily within twenty-four hours after the arrival of the patient.
TO THE DENTAL PROFESSION.
Those of you favorable to this enterprise, we will on arrangements with you, to have impressions to be taken of your patients' cases, on attaching models, &c., &c., and forwarded to us by Express, and without delay returned filled with reasonable accuracy to the fitting and attaching model. We will also make Block Work to order on reasonable terms.

Testimonials and References.

I have observed with much interest for the last two years, above method of producing Artificial Teeth, and believe statements of this Circular correct.
T. GARLICK.

I have investigated with care, for the last three years the above method of making and supplying Artificial Teeth in the Laboratory of Dr. Wright, and also in use, and can say with confidence that he plays with the best known one, and entirely successful where made under his observation. The superiority of this kind of Dental work over gold or any kind of metal plate, cannot be questioned, and the statements in Dr. Wright's Circular of the number of cases where his work has taken the place of gold plate, is true. Much of this work on gold plate had been furnished by the best Dentists in the country. I am not conversant with the success of Porcelain work in the hands of others than Dr. Wright.

N. B.—Having learned that persons claiming to do this work, and in many cases claiming to be our agents for the same, we will say that up to this date we have no agent in the U. S. A., who have any right from the above patentee, or such claim, and in those cases, it is either an infringement or an imposition—if an imposition, let it work its own cure; if an infringement, we will in due time attend to that.
