EXCELSIOR SELF-FEEDING SHINGLE MACHINE,

For Cutting and Jointing Shingles!

THE ATTENTION OF THOSE INterested in the manufacture of shingles, and the public generally, is about to be ventilated by an examination of the merits of this improved machine. Let Cutting Shingles be full confidence that all who will take the trouble to witness its operation will be thoroughly convinced of its utility as well as its superiority over every other Shingle Machine heretofore in use. It is compact and on an entirely NEW PRINCIPLE, at once simple and compact, can be readily attached to steam, water or horse power or may be operated by hand. In fact, it is adapted to every contingency in the manufacture of shingles and putting them ready for use.

It requires only about ONE HORSE POWER to propel this machine with sufficient force to cut ONE SHINGLE PER SECOND, and any man of ordinary capacity can manage it with perfect ease, as there is no machinery about it requiring any mechanical skill whatever in its management or operation.

It has not with a ready sale wherever exhibited; its simplicity and practicability commends itself to every one, while the cost of a Machine is only $50—less by half than any other Shingle Machine in use.

This Machine may be seen in operation every afternoon at Bur. Lyle's Shingle Works, Merwin St., near Centre St. Bridge. We offer for this county is now for sale, and if it be without doubt, the most favorable opportunity for any one to engage in a paying enterprise that has been offered for a long time.

The Agent, JOHN G. TALBOT, can be seen at the above place, or at the Johnson House.
