PRICES.

BEEVES.—These are sold by the head at a price equal to the value per lb of the estimated weight of the Beef in the quarters. The Hide and Tallow, or "fifth quarter," is not counted.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18, 1858.

BEEVES.

We note sales of 55 head of cattle to-day, at prices varying from $2.25 to $3 per 100 lbs, live weight, which is equal to $6,50 and $8 for beef by the quarter. Nine head of cattle held over.

COWS AND CALVES.

One cow and calf, not sold.

SHEEP.

There were some thirty-six at the market to-day. A portion of these were sold at $3 per head.

REMARKS.

There was some competition at the yards to-day among buyers, and but few cattle sold at the highest rates. Beeves should be sold in this market at prices that will admit of a good margin for profit to dealers, as they have to make some allowance for waste and unsaleable meat during the heat of summer.
