Cuyahoga Historical Society.

By the call of the Trustees, it will be seen that a meeting of the Vice Presidents and Township Committees will be held at the Court House on Saturday, the 18th of September, to adopt a Constitution and make arrangements for a Pioneer Celebration. All persons who feel an interest in the Society—and who does not?—are invited to attend.

We trust there will be due promptness on the part of the officers in coming up to the work and perfecting an efficient organization. The ball has been started, and it should not be suffered to stop. The old settlers and their descendants can do much for the Society, and they should do it while the day lasts. The presence of such at the meeting is much desired. Committees in several of the Townships have prepared brief sketches of the early settlement and progress of their Township, and they have been read with unusual interest. Fill up the Court House on the 18th, and let us have a Pioneer Celebration in due time at which old times will be lived over and re-enjoyed by the Cuyahogas. We have all the elements necessary for a grand Pioneer Festival, and we trust they will be brought out, combined, electrified, and made jubilant.

The 21st Congressional District.

We regret to see by the last Carroll County Free Press, that a few of the ardent friends of Gen. ECKLEY have announced him as an independent candidate for Congress in the 21st District. This we are confident is doing great injustice to Gen. E. whose labors in the cause of Republicanism have secured him an enviable reputation throughout the State; and we have the assurance from those most intimately acquainted with his present views and feelings, that he will at once disavow all sympathy with the independent movement, and that he will support the nominee of the Republican party with all the zeal and efficiency which have hitherto characterized his efforts in behalf of Republican men and measures. Gen. ECKLEY is too good a man to give countenance to any arrangement by which the common enemy will be advantaged, and too sound a Republican to refuse submission to the will of the majority of his party, as expressed in the re-nomination of JOHN A. BINGHAM by a popular vote of more than four to one over all competitors.

Historical Society.

The Vice Presidents and Committees of the Townships of the Historical Society of the County, are requested to meet at the Court House, on the Public Square, in the city of Cleveland, on Saturday, the 18th day of September inst., at 11 o'clock A. M., to adopt a Constitution, and make arrangements for a Pioneer Celebration. All persons who feel interested in the Society, are requested to attend.

FACTS ABOUT GRAIN.—The New York Evening Post of the 3d says:—"It is a remarkable fact, worthy of note, that there is not at this time a single bushel of grain on shipboard for either Liverpool, Glasgow or London, nor a single barrel of flour, with the exception of a lot of 1,200 bbls. on board ship to clear for London on Saturday; and so far as we have been able to learn, there is not a single bushel of grain in process of shipment to either port, nor a barrel of flour, nor any provisions, (excepting 500 bbls. lard,) unless private engagements have been made this morning."

KILLED BY A ROCKET.—During the Atlantic Telegraph jubilee at Galesburg, Illinois, on the 1st, a rocket discharged horizontally through accident, struck an elderly lady, and killed her instantly. Rockets are dangerous playthings at best.

A FAIR HIT.—In his speech at Ottawa, Douglas boasted that he would visit Lincoln down to Egypt, and "bring him to his milk."—This dignified phrase has furnished the Republicans of Illinois with an excellent point. Douglas was recently on his way to fulfil an appointment to speak, and according to a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, was greeted at each stopping place with "silent cheers" and "the most deafening silence." At Clinton, a flag was hung out, inscribed with these words: "Old Abe 'comes in' on the 4th of March; the Douglas calf can have the milk then."

The Washington Union is assailing Judge Douglas for his heretical opinions in regard to the Dred Scott decision. In reply to Mr. Lincoln at Freeport, Judge Douglas said: "In my opinion, the people of a Territory can by lawful means exclude slavery before it comes in as a State." The Union quotes the opinion of Judge Taney that they have no such right. It says that Douglas "backs out from the doctrine of the Nebraska Kansas bill, abandons the Cincinnati platform, and repudiates the Dred Scott decision, and that he does so by reasserting the edious squatter sovereignty doctrine in its most radical and obnoxious form."

SEVERE FIRE AT FULTON CITY, ILL.—A fire at Fulton City occurred on Thursday morning, which destroyed some $75,000 worth of property. It burned two hours, destroying Caswell's block, the National Hotel, and several other buildings, comprising in all some twenty stores.

NEW PAPER.—The first number of the New York Tribune Mercantile Advertiser has made its appearance. It is published monthly and sent free to country merchants throughout the land, its expenses being paid by the advertising. It is to be devoted entirely to the interests of merchants.

☞The fine, large brick dwelling house of Ara Sprague, situated in the village of Huron, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. We did not ascertain the amount of loss, nor whether there was any insurance upon the building.—Sandusky Reg.

Tenth of September Celebration—Letter from Quintus F. Atkins.

The venerable and respected writer of the following interesting letter was an early and true frontier man, and rendered the country faithful and efficient service during the War of 1812. Mr. ATKINS was among the first Pioneers into the Lake wilderness, and was among the most active in subduing it and its savage beasts and men. He has favored the public with many valuable reminiscences of the early times and the noble men and women of those times, and we trust our old friend will continue the narrative begun in the Leader.

All will regret that the infirmities of age will prevent Lieut. ATKINS from participating in the Celebration of the Tenth. His presence and familiarity with the locality of the stirring events at Put-in-Bay and Gibralter, would add much to the interest of the occasion. His name is intimately associated with PERRY and his compatriots, and will be duly honored by the assembled multitude of "the patriotic sons of most noble sires."

To the Editor of the Cleveland Leader:

RESPECTED FRIEND:—In looking over your paper, I see that a grand celebration of Commodore O. H. Perry's victory over Commodore Barclay, and of the capture of the whole British fleet on Lake Erie, on the 10th of September, 1813, is to be held at Put-in-Bay Island on Friday, of the ensuing week. Nothing can be more appropriate than to set before our countrymen the gallant acts of the heroes of that hard contested action, the result of which gave to the inhabitants of Northern Ohio instant and long desired relief from the domination of our enemies; and to the United States the ultimate control of their portion of our noble inland seas. Were I well enough to do so, I should most certainly be present at the celebration, but my bodily infirmities will not allow of it.

When Gen. Harrison went east to Buffalo with his troops not required for garrison duty at Detroit, Sandusky, Malden, etc., he placed me in command of the party at Put-in-Bay, directing me to send forward to Detroit all those left sick on the Island at the time the army crossed to Canada, retaining some fifty men under my command, which I was ordered to quarter for the winter on board of the Prize Ships Detroit and Queen Charlotte; dividing them equally between the two ships. At that time there might have been three hundred men on the Island, all of whom I sent to Detroit, in vessels and boats passing to that post, except fifty-two (52) which were stationed on board the ships as directed.

At this time, midshipman J. B. Montgomery, (a grandson of Gen. Montgomery, who fell at Quebec in the war of our Revolution,) had charge of the Queen Charlotte, with one sailor by the name of —— Brown, and another midshipman by the name of —— Adams, from Rhode Island, had charge of the Detroit, assisted by Thomas, a colored gunner from the same State—known throughout the fleet by the name of "Long Tom." The two midshipmen were young men, Montgomery was 16 or 17, and Adams some two or three years older. These young were officers, with the two sailors I have mentioned, were the only individuals in any way connected with the Navy at the time I took my command on board.

On Christmas day, 1813, Lieut. —— Parket landed on the southeast shore of the Island, having under his command Sailing Master Stephen S. Champlin, cousin of Commodore Perry's, and Master Mate Robert S. Tatem, Assistant Surgeon Eastman, and eighteen sailors. But not to make my reminiscences too long for your Daily, I will state that the men under my command cleared off the Island now known as Gibraltar, on which we built a block house 16 feet square on the lower story and 20 in the upper story, floored with hewn timber for the support of some six feet of wall made of hewn timber, furnished with loop-holes for musketry and four port-holes, (one on each side) for small four and six pounders taken from the prize ships, mounted on ships carriages, with truck-wheels.

I say again that nothing but infirmities of body would keep me from mingling with "the patriotic sons of most noble sires," that will make the Gibralter of the lakes ring with so many shouts, songs, speeches, musical instruments, and the deafening boom of cannon well served. I should like to be there to console with Dr. Eastman for the scurvy trick the sailors played him by sinking a tameless shirtless man, picked up on the south shore of "Middle Bass," killed in the action of the 10th. Whether a Briton or an American no one could tell except by a 36th, stand of grape made fast to one end of a rope, while the other clasped the neck of the seemingly petrified man, whose body had no where yielded to corruption. The humane Doctor took him across from "Middle Bass" to the shadow of Gibralter, meaning to either boil or cut off the flesh, and make a skeleton of the bones. Who can blame him for so doing? I should like to talk with Post Captains Champlin and Montgomery, and with any and all others who took a part in the Naval action of the 10th of September, 1813, however humble their names may now stand on the roll of Fame. A fair day and a large gathering on the forty fifth anniversary of "Perry's Victory," is the wish of an old man now in his 77th year.

Signed by
Q. F. ATKINS,
Dis. 1st Lieut. in 19th Reg. U. S. Infantry.

GENEVA, Ashtabula Co., Ohio,
September 4, 1858.

P. S.—I left Put-in-Bay in the month of June, 1814, and took the soldiers placed under my command by Gen. Harrison in October, 1813, to the Army at Detroit. There is not a man now living to well acquainted with the measures adopted for the safe keeping of the prize ships Detroit and Queen Charlotte as I am, or who took a more active part in getting up those defences. may go on with my narrative, if desirable. Q. F. A.

☞The Trustees of the Lake Erie Female Seminary have very fortunately secured the services of C. S. Martindale, Esq., of Cleveland, as an Associate Agent, with Rev Mr. Hawkes, for that Institution. Mr. Martindale was formerly the Managing Agent of the Cleveland Female Seminary, and is a gentleman most admirably fitted for such work. Mr. M. at an early day removes his residence to Painesville.—While congratulating the Trustees upon the possession of so efficient an agent, we would also congratulate our townsmen upon the accession of a very estimable citizen. The Seminary building is being pushed ahead with all dispatch and we trust we shall have the pleasure on an early day of announcing the opening of the School.—Painesville Tel.

COL. BENTON ON THE LITTLE GIANT.—Col. Benton, in conversing with a friend many months since, gave the following summary view of the prospects of Mr. Douglas:

"The Little Giant," said he, "is in too great a hurry to be a great man. He forgets that giants don't wear seven-league boots, now-a-days, and that the first office in an elective government cannot be taken by storm. His ambition is much beyond his ability, for although a fluent speaker, his ideas don't bear the proper proportion to his words, and though he runs fast he carries little weight. He thinks he can bestride this continent with one foot on the shores of the Atlantic, the other on the Pacific. But he can't do it—he can't do it, sir. His legs are too short."

☞Fred. Douglas has recently been delivering a political speech. In the course of it he made the following allusion to his pale brother, Stephen A.:—"Once I thought he was about to make the name respectable, but now I despair him, and must do the best I can for myself."

Utah Election—Salt Lake City Matters.

The Great Salt Lake City correspondent of the Tribune writes August 5th, as follows:

The election passed off last Monday very quietly, although a vote was cast more than twice as large as at any previous election in the Territory. Stimulated by the formation of a ticket by the Gentiles, the bishops and church dignitaries busied themselves in every ward on Saturday and Sunday in distributing tickets to their parishioners. The polls were at the Council House. The voters entered one door and passed out at another, depositing their ballots on the way upon a table where they were numbered by a clerk and each number was recorded opposite the name of the elector. The Representatives elected to the Legislative Assembly are Orson Hyde, John Taylor, Daniel Spencer, A. P. Rockwood, Hosea Stout, James W. Cummings, Jesse C. Little, Joseph A. Young, H. B. Clawson, Wm. H. Hooper, E. D. Woolley, Alexander McRae and S. W. Richards, all zealous Mormons. The average vote for them was 1,016; that for the Gentile list was 37, just about the entire strength of the Gentiles in town. The Governor did not vote. If I can judge by the appearance and speech of the electors as they presented themselves at the polls, and by the representations of persons long resident in the city, more than half the vote was cast by unnaturalized foreigners.

A Gentile representative has been elected from Green River county, where Fort Bridger is situated.

In his letter of August 6th he says:

Everything is stagnant in the city except the stores of the Gentile merchants, which are thronged from sunrise till dark with crowds of people anxious to supply themselves with the necessaries of life, of which they have been deprived more than a year. The prices demanded and paid for goods are just about as extravagant as those which the Mormons set upon their home-produce, and, indeed, the cost of living here is nearly equal to what it was in California at the hight of the gold fever. A great part of the profits accrue to the Church, which owns all the stores but one; that the Gentiles occupy. It has affixed monstrous rents to them, which, of course, the merchants pay, but they place a proportionably higher price on all their goods and as they have the monopoly of the market, the charge falls in the end upon those who can least afford to bear it—the working people of the Territory. A store close in my neighborhood, which the Church bought three years ago for only $600, is rented by Brigham Young to Messrs Radford & Cabot for $2,000 per annum. But it is impossible for prices to remain permanently at their present level, for during the Autumn the Territory will be flooded with the goods of Eastern merchants who have entered during the present year incessantly into this Salt Lake trade. Many of them cannot escape heavy losses.

Labor on the Temple has not been renewed, and the foundations of that building remain covered with dirt; neither has any attempt been made to refurnish the public workshops within the Temple square, which were dismantled and unroofed at the time of the emigration to Provo. There have been no meetings in the Tabernacle, and the order for the discontinuance of public religious services has been extended throughout the whole Territory. It is now more than a month since, among a population of 50,000 souls, there has been a public religious gathering, of any description.

There are parties in the city who are making large purchases of oxen from the merchants as their trains arrive from the East. They propose to send these cattle to California, and the first drove, containing 1,000 head, started yesterday. Twelve or fifteen families embraced the opportunity to escape from the Territory under the escort of the herders. The principal person engaged in this speculation is Mr. Sath'l B. Harbin, formerly of Tennessee, to whom a transfer has recently been made of all Col. Kinney's title to lands in Central America.

Quarantine Grounds declared in a state of Insurrection!

PROCLAMATION OF GOV. KING.

By the following Proclamation issued by Gov. King, which we received by Telegraph 1st evening, it will be seen that energetic measures are being taken to enforce law and order at Staten Island.

ALBANY, Sept. 7—2 P. M.

PROCLAMATION BY JNO. A. KING, GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK:

The deliberate and wanton destruction on the night of the 1st and 2d of September, by a large mob of armed men, of the buildings, dwellings and hospitals at the Quarantine Station, in the county of Richmond, the property of the people of this State, the cruel and inhuman dragging forth of the sick and disabled patients from the hospitals, respecte always, even in war, their barbarous exposure without shelter throughout an inclement night, the general concurrence in and approval of these vile acts by the people of the county of Richmond, and especially by those who reside in the neighborhood of the Quarantine ground, the undisguised and determined manner in which all these outrages were committed, evincing a total disregard and contempt of the laws and all the obligations and duties as citizens of a State and men, all combined, present in my judgment a case which, standing alone in its enormity and violence, appeals directly to the chief magistrate of State, whose duty is to see that the laws are faithfully executed, to assert and maintain the dignity of the State, and of the authority of these laws so contemptuously and barbarously defied and trodden under foot. Know, therefore, acting upon the high responsibility of my office, and desirous to vindicate the supremacy of the law, I DECLARE these acts of arson and outrage as crimes of the highest infamy, and for the purpose of bringing the people of the county of Richmond to a just sense of the enormity of these crimes which they have permitted to be perpetrated without any attempt to interfere or punish the evil known actors in these terrible scenes of violence, hurlaing and bloodshed, and to guard against the threats which are yet made, that the ships lying at Quarantine shall be fired and the buildings for the accomodation of the sick who are now housed, as well as for those who may arrive from infected Southern ports, be destroyed as soon as erected for the security of the cities of New York and Brooklyn from contagion and pestilence. I hereby this proclamation and call upon all the civil authorities of the county of Richmond and upon each and all of its inhabitants, instantly and zealously to co-operate in restoring the outraged peace and order of the Island and bringing to condign punishment the well known bold and principal actors and abetters of these acts of arson and murder, and I declare that by reason of the acts and proceedings herein referred to, and the refusal of the Sheriff of the Co. of Richmond, (who I hereby notified that threats had been made to destroy the public property at the quarantine, to take any steps to prevent the consummation of these threats and that the absolute necessity for an adequate force to protect the buildings to be erected for the sick on the very site where they stood, until provision shall be made by law for their removal to some other place, and to release the large police force withdrawn from the general service of the city of New York and Brooklyn, and now stationed at quarantine—that the Co. of Richmond is in a state of insurrection, and in order to assist in preserving and to protect the property of the State and lives of the sick—that a military force of sufficient strength shall be detailed and stationed at the quarantine until the returning sense of the people of Richmond Co. to their duties and obligations as peaceful citizens, shall render its presence unnecessary, or until the Legislature shall otherwise direct.

In witness whereof I have hereunto affixed my name and the private seal of the State, this the 7th day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1858.

(Signed) JOHN A. KING.

O.V MANHOOD,
AND ITS PREMATURE DECLINE.
Just Published, Gratis, the 20th Thousand:
A FEW WORDS ON THE RAdical Treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhœa or Loss of Seminal Power, Involuntary Seminal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impediments to Marriage generally. By R. DE LANEY, M. D.
The important fact that the many alarming complaints growing in the supposed sole solitude of youth, may be easily removed without medicine, is in this small treatise clearly demonstrated, and the entirely new and highly successful means, so adopted by the author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.
