Stoves, &c.

Star of the North.
The best Gas Consuming Stove in the World!

THIS is the most wonderful STOVE that has ever been made, and the only one that can keep a CONTINUOUS COMBUSTION of GASES, thereby producing a more remarkable FLAME from ANTHRACITE COAL.

By the peculiar arrangement of the apparatus, the oxygen of the atmosphere are distributed equally over the whole surface of the fire-pot in such a manner that each jet or flame, issuing from the conical perforated plate and air-chamber, shall meet in the center of the throat, giv ng to each flame the Gases to escape, unless mingled with the oxygen, which produces a continuous flame, and thereby a large increase of heat. This combustion makes it the most economical heating Stove in the World. Try it, and see if our statement is overruled.

The FLAME produced from these GASES makes one of the most CHEERFUL FIRES that can be imagined, and all from ANTHRACITE COAL.

The fire can be kept as through the whole season, and with very little care.

One year's trial has been made by the public, and the manufacturer are sustained in all they have ever claimed for this Stove.

ALLEGED IMPOSITION.—We have received a communication from a gentleman in Summit county in reference to a colored man who he says "is undoubtly a finished rogue." The one referred to, has been passing around claiming to be a fugitive from slavery, has traveled somewhat on the U. G. R. R. and received some aid from the Anti-Slavery community. While the man may be a finished rogue, our correspondent gives us no proof or instance of it, and we, therefore, decline publishing his article.—Let him give us reason to think as he does, and we will "pass him around."

METHODISM.—A work entitled "The History of the Religious Movement of the Eighteenth Century, called Methodism, considered in its different denominational forms, and its relations to British and American Protestantism, by Abel Stephens, L. L. D." has been laid on our table by Messrs. Ingham & Bragg.

The design of the compiler is to present, in four volumes, a complete history of Methodism—the first and present volume containing the history of the earliest times of the sect until the death of Whitfield. The second volume will complete the history of English Methodism, while the third and fourth will be devoted to the history of the Methodist Episcopal Church, bringing the matter down to the year 1839.

All the principal events and persons connected with the denomination are treated of in the book, and the Ecclesiastical Economy, the Doctrines, the Psalmody and Literature of Methodism are noticed and discussed.

It will be a valuable book for reference and for its biographical sketches. This volume is embellished with a fine profile likeness of John Wesley, the Father of Methodism.

Carlton & Porter, New York, are the publishers.

NUMBERING HOUSES.—The passage and enforcement of the ordinance for numbering houses and business blocks, offices, stores &c., is a move in the right direction. Mr. J. B. Wilbur, appointed by the City Council a short time since to number the buildings correctly on all the various streets in town, is accomplishing this good work thoroughly, and we think from the manner in which he proceeds there will be no necessity of this business having to be done again, so long as the numbered tenements stand. Not only are buildings, but all the intervening vacant lots numbered; consequently whenever built upon, the proper number can be learned by examining the the diagram of all the streets and alleys, drafted expressly to show the location of building lots. The expenses to each individual are very trifling in comparison to the benefit of having their places of business or residence accurately numbered. In many instances we have known two and even three Nos. of the same kind in one street, thus putting people to much inconvenience in going to the wrong places. There can be no doubt but when this uniform system of numbering is fully carried out, and completed in all parts of the city, it will meet with general approbation.—Then let us have the streets named at each corner for the especial benefit of strangers and citizens.

SAD ACCIDENT TO CAPT. T. W. TAYLOR.—We are pained to announce a serious accident to Capt. Thomas W. Taylor, of the brig Black Hawk, which has just reached Lake Erie, on her way from Liverpool, Eng and, to this city, with a cargo of pig iron and salt. The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser says that as the brig was about entering the outlet of the Welland Canal, at Port Colborne, C. W., a seaman on board named Marcellus Rollins, belonging to the town of Rockland, Maine, got one of his legs entangled in the hawser used in bringing the vessel up, and had it severed from the body below the knee. Capt. Taylor, seeing his danger, like a true sailor, rushed to his relief, and becoming also entangled, lost one of his legs in the same way.

With characteristic generosity, Capt. Harlison, of the tug Underwriter, placed his vessel, &c., at the disposal of the unfortunates, and after procuring temporary surgical aid, took them on board and brought them to Buffalo, where they were placed in the hands of Dr. Hamilton, at the Hospital, who performed amputation in both cases, below the knee. They are doing well.

This is a sad ending to a successful voyage for Capt Taylor, who has shown himself the star master of the Lake and Liverpool fleet in this voyage, and is deserving of great credit for the seamanship and skill displayed on the voyage out and back.—Herald last evening.

NEPTUNE HALL,
DAYTON, Sept. 20, 1858.

At a called meeting of the Neptune Fire Co., the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we return our thanks to Mr. James Hill, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of Cleveland, for the liberal arrangements which he made in providing us with comfortable quarters; and to the Firemen of the Forest City generally, for attentions bestowed on us during our visit.

Resolved, That we shall ever hold in grateful remembrance the generous hospitality extended to us by the members of "Hope Engine Company, No. 8," of Cleveland, and we sincerely trust that the friendly feeling and good fellowship established between us, may long be cherished by both Companies.

Resolved, That our thanks are due the Sandusky Fire Department for courteous attentions paid us while in their city on our way to and from Cleveland.

Resolved, That to the proprietor of the American House, Cleveland, Mr. A. P. Winslow, for the politeness and hospitality shown us, while at his hotel, we feel under many obligations.—We speak from experience when we say that better accommodations cannot be found elsewhere, and we recommend all traveling parties to give him a call.

On motion, the above resolutions were ordered to be published in our city papers, and copies sent to parties herein named.

The Happy Old Preachers

The fifty-seventh session of the Ohio Conference at Mariatta, brought together quite a number of the Fathers of the Methodist Church in the West, and their Love-feast on Sunday morning was "a gracious season." A correspondent of the Christian Advocate has gathered up some of the fragments of religious experience related, which give an inkling of the toils, trials and triumphs of the humble and faithful followers of the Cross. We quote:

Father David Lewis remarked: "It has been sixty years since God converted my soul, and fifty years since I commenced preaching the Gospel. Brethren, I am happy in God to-day; bless his holy name! But never did I need more the prayers and sympathies of the Church than I now do. Pray for me."

Father Jacob Young said:—"I should be a very ungrateful man, if I did not say something for Christ. On the 17th of February, 1802, I hung a pair of saddle-bags on my left arm, and started for my first circuit. I have traveled much, labored hard, and had many trials. But trials never discouraged me. I am now winding up gloriously. Never happier in all my life than I am this day. Never saw a more glorious morning than this." On Monday night, just before the appointments were read, he said: "Brethren, I have now attended my fifty-seventh annual conference. Through a kind Providence, I have never missed one since I started. I have attended nine sessions of the General Conference. But, brethren, I do expect that when you assemble in Columbus, next year, I will be in glory. I never felt that I was so near the heavenly glory as I do to-night. If you read of my death in the Advocate, do not shed tears. I want you all to pray for me; and now, before I sit down, I say, brethren, farewell!"

Rev. Joseph M. Trimble remarked: "Thirty-one years ago this month,

"Jesus sought me when a stranger,
Wandering from the fold of God."

While a student at Athens, I came to Marietta. Brother Swormstedt was preacher in charge; and, somehow or other, he found me out, and had me to preach. That was my only visit to Marietta, except at the conference in 1834 and now. I have been thirty years in the conference; and if faithful, I hope to meet in heaven that man of God who took me into the Church—Rev. Henry S. Fernandes."

Rev. John Stewart: "I have been," said this veteran of the cross, "nearly forty-two years in the ministry. But I now view the time of my discharge as very near. Yet all is well."

Brother Alanson Fleming spoke of hard toil, severe trials, and great exposure, in the early days of his itinerancy, in Michigan territory, when some epidemic was raging, and great distress prevailing. "But," said he, "I bless God he did not let me labor for naught. True, I have but little of this world. It matters not; I have a rich treasure in heaven. Glory to God! I feel this morning that all is well."

Brothe Poe said he had been for thirty-three years a Methodist preacher. His first circuit was five hundred miles around; and his first district took in more territory than the present North Ohio conference. "Twenty-five years ago," said he, "I came to Marietta circuit. I came with great depression; for I was not the man they wanted; but they had to take me. I did the very best I could, and the Lord blessed me, and blessed others, too, and we had a good year. I have always thought that any place was better than I deserved. I hope to die at my post."

Rev. Nathaniel Westerman was permitted in early life to sit under the ministry of Benson, Clarke, Newton, Bunting, and other great and good men, of the British Wesleyan Church. He paid an ardent tribute to the memory of his mother, who always kept up family prayer in his father's absence. Once, when his father was out upon the perilous deep, he saw his mother kneeling erect, at the family altar, and fervently praying for his father's safety. This produced his first awakening. Said he, "Thirty-one years ago, in old Baltimore, I was converted to God. I thought it was perfect liberty. Thank God! it has sustained me till now. O, the richness, the sweetness, the fulness of this fountain!"

Professor Merrick said: "Though I do not sustain a pastoral relation now, yet I did one year; and that year was here in Marietta. That was the richest year of my life. I don't wonder that my brethren say that they love this work. How could they do otherwise, when they have such a treasure of love in the hearts of the people!"

Brother Gaddis testified: "I am never ashamed to stand up for Jesus. Fourteen years ago I met brother Greenbury R. Jones here. He was taken sick during conference. I bade him farewell, never to see him again on earth. He died and was buried here; but his memory is precious." Brother Gaddis paid a beautiful tribute to his pious mother, who prayed successfully at home for him, while he was seeking religion at camp meeting. When he started for his first circuit, she took a list of the appointments, with the day and hour, remarking, "Remember, Maxwell, when you are trying to preach, that your mother is praying for you."

Brother Dustin remarked: "In 1831 I came to this place to attend school—an irreligious, wicked boy. In 1833 I was converted, in this county, and thank God for the joy I felt the hour I first believed. I see present, this morning, my first class-leader, Brother Jennings.—Here they recommended me for license to preach; and here they recommended me to the Ohio conference, twenty-two years ago." He spoke in thrilling tones of his love for the Methodist Church, of his attachment to his brethren in the ministry, and of his hope of heaven.

Rev. John F. Wright said: "I can report that I have been forty-five years on my way to heaven. Here I might raise a stone of gratitude, and say, Hitherto the Lord hath helped me. I feel that I am born of God, and bound for glory. It matters but little where I fall, so I die in sight of heaven." Again he said: "I have but little to say of myself. I magnify the name of Christ. I was born in North Carolina, and born again in August, 1812; joined the itinerancy in 1815, in old Virginia, and was transferred to Ohio in 1821. The first Ohio conference I ever attended was here in Marietta, thirty-six years ago. I now want to say, I am a sinner saved by grace. Though the conference was divided in 1852, yet I feel perfectly at home, and can hardly realize but that I am in my own conference.

Brother Hand referred to his having taken eighty-five members into full connection here, about a year ago. Many of them he had seen present, consecrating themselves anew to God. This made his heart rejoice. Brother Hand is in feeble health. "The strong men bow themselves" under the weight of years and excessive labor.

Doctor Frazer remarked: "May we, as the representatives of Christ, never misrepresent him! It has been thirty-three years since I first became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and thirty years since I became a minister. Last year was one of sore trial, but of the richest and deepest religious experience I ever knew."

Rev. A. G. Byers said: "Two years ago I had to move sixty miles, in wagons, over very rough roads. We had an afflicted child that my wife and I carried, alternately, in our arms, all that distance. It seemed a little hard. Our second Sabbath's work in our new field was to bury that little loved one in the silent grave.—We have often visited its resting-place, and shed our tears of sorrow; but now we must remove again. We will plant some flowers to bloom over its grave, and then go forth to preach Jesus and the resurrection."

Brothers Joy, Taylor, Adams, Anderson, Martin and others spoke in much the same delightful strain. The speaking was characterized by "simplicity and godly sincerity." It was appropriate and spiritual. It was a time of thrilling interest, and deep feeling pervaded the entire assembly. They sung at one time, with happy effect—

"I stay in the Cross of Christ,
My Savior and my love;
I count this earthly world but dross,
To meet my Lord above.
It has no charms to win my heart,
No joy, no bliss for me;
I cannot feel its beauties now,
I see but Christ my."

Occasionally in the language of Rev. F. S. De Hass, "the loud amens would bounce like red-hot fire-balls from heart to heart." It was a good time, a hallowed place, and will long be remembered.

"And if our fellowship below
In Jesus be so sweet,
What hights of nature shall we know,
When round his throne we meet."

IMPROVEMENT IN DENTISTRY,
PATENTED BY M. L. WRIGHT, M. D.,
D. POLLOCK, M. L. WRIGHT,
AUGUST 11, 1857,
ARE MANUFACTURING
Partial Sets, Half Sets and Whole Sets
OF PORCELAIN TEETH.

SUPERIORITY OF THEIR METHOD of producing Artificial Teeth over any other known method:

1st. SIMPLICITY.—One piece chemically united in all its parts, and of the same quality of material.

2d. SOLIDITY.—That compels nature to adopt herself to the model of her own construction. Thus adaptation once attained—perfect and stability ever after.

3d. PURITY.—The entire Plate and Teeth are impervious to the action of any known chemical agent; hence in cleanliness of health, good against the corrosive and deleterious secretions of the mouth common to gold plate work, and other amalgamations.

4th. COLOR.—Bright, lively, and a good imitation of nature.

N. B.—Any method of producing so and Artificial Teeth heretofore united to our patents, that will not pass the ordeal I have depicted, is a contradiction of fact.

PATRONAGE.—Since April, 1856, we have inserted Five Hundred and Seven Cases. Of this number, eighty-six cases have taken the place of Gold Plate work. In the last number, witnesses all have given their testimony to the superiority, and as with all other cases where our terms have been complied with. In no case where teeth have been paid for have there been any dissatisfaction.

TERMS.—According to the nature of the case, and given after examination.

PAYMENT.—Upon the receipt of the order, or on delivery. Persons with Gold Plate can apply their plate in part payment.

GUARANTY.—Satisfaction, provided the terms of payment and Special Instructions here is complied with.—Persons wanting information, reference will be given to those in constant use of our work.

We prefer to apply partial sets soon after the extracting of the natural teeth—one week is just enough to intervene between the extraction and the application.

To our patrons and those who may desire to become such, we will say that our arrangements are such, that we can and will apply an entire double set of teeth fitted, satisfactorily within two days after the arrival of the patient.

TO THE DENTAL PROFESSION.

Those of our patrons who prefer to make the entire set, we will make arrangements with you, by which impressions may be taken of your patients' cases, in articulating, models, &c., accurately and forwarded to us by Express, and without delay returned fitted with reasonable accuracy to the fitting and articulating model. We will also make Block Work to order on reasonable terms.

Testimonials and References, are to be seen with much interest for the last two years, above we have inserted Artificial Teeth, and believe statements of this Circular correct.

T. GARLICK.

I have investigated with care, for the last two years, the above method of making and applying Artificial Teeth in the Laboratory of Dr. Wright, and cheerfully use, and can say with confidence, that the Teeth are of a superior style, and entirely successful when made under his observation. The superiority of this kind of Dental work over gold or silver plate, cannot be questioned, and the state ment in Dr. Wright's Circular of the superiority of his work has taken the place of gold plate, is true. Much of this work on gold plate had been furnished by the most eminent Dentists of this city. I am well convinced with the success of Porcelain work in the hands of others than Dr. Wright.

N. B.—Having learned that persons claiming to do this work, in their many cases claimed to be agents for the same, we will say that up to this date we have no agents in the U. S.
