We have been more than busy the past week, printing the court calendar and attending to an unusual rush of local job work, so that the Herald is necessarily a trifle late in going to press. But the fact that business is good make up for the hardship of having to put in overtime.

The Camp Fire Girls held a special meeting in the Basement of the M. E. Church last Tuesday Evening. The one thing of interest was a fine Demonstration on what to do in emergency cases, Ruth Berry acting as the sick patient for the occasion. The Camp Fire Girls greatly appreciate this favor and spent a very profitable and pleasant evening. Several of the Mothers were present and enjoyed the demonstration as much as the girls. At the next meeting several of the girls are to become Fire Makers.

A severe attack of bronchitis has had the upper hand of H. E. Sankers the past week, making it impossible for him to speak above a whisper most of the time but, hoping to stop, the tables have turned and Harry is now recovering.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new building for the Turner County Bank and the Lytle construction Co. expects to have the same ready for occupancy next month. Understand that the bank expects to expend something like $12,000 on building and fixtures which will give them something pretty nice for a city of this size. But then after all nothing is too good for Hurley—the business is here, lots of good people and with a few more up to date buildings it will be the best town of its size in the state.
