DAILY LEADER.

YALE.

Presentation Week.—The Wooden Spoon.—Preparation for Commencement.

Last week was "Presentation week" at Yale—the week of Wooden Spoon Presentations and class-day. We extract from the New York Commercial Advertiser the following pleasant description of the Wooden Spoon exercises:

NATURE OF THE EXHIBITION.

If you could look at the audience at the moment that the programmes are scattered through the Hall—if you could see with what eager eyes they glance over the pages until they reach these magic words,

SPOON ADDRESSES.

Presentation...Lewis Lampman, Corresche's, N. Y.
Reception.....Chas. F. Brown, Newburg, N. Y.

you might begin to see the cause and the character of the display. Out of one hundred and five men there has been found one so popular, because of his gentle bearing, his manly character, his versatile talents, that his classmates have come to him with an evidence of their regard and esteem; and to bestow this evidence with fitting ceremony, they have appointed nine from among themselves—the recipient being one—to carry out their wishes.

For nearly or quite ten years this has been the custom at Yale, growing out of a mere joke at first, of giving a huge wooden spoon to the greatest eater, in the days when students were starved in "commons," coming down through years of disapproval and dishonor and disgrace to the present time, when it commands the admiration and esteem of all lovers of true student life the world over.

Now this "spoon man"—more or less popular or well known, according to circumstances not to be named here—is himself the centre of a deal of admiration; the remaining eight have their bright particular stars; and the spoon itself has attained such a celebrity that we soon find whence comes all this beauty and splendor and magnificence.

As far as the fame of old Yale reaches, so far may we look for visitors to the Spoon ceremonies; and place no limit of State or nation bounds that, we will set no limit upon our expectations. Therefore, we gaze without surprise upon the fair Saxon beauty from New Jersey; the accomplished belle from New York; the aristocratic Quakeress from Philadelphia; the sweet scholar from Massachusetts; the haughty Creole from the Indies; the proud exclusive from Florida; the light-hearted Western girl; and a thousand beside, rivaling each other, and defying the world to present another such congregation of bright eyes and warm hearts, with all the paraphernalia that water-tails, gauze and crinoline can complete.

THE EXERCISES.

The occasion did not afford much opportunity for the display of fine elocution, of course; but notwithstanding all this, the goodness of both voice and manner in the "Philosophical" orator, Mr. Garretson, was worthy of the especial admiration that it received. What he said would hardly do to repeat here, as the sole aim of his speech was—as annually—to utter words of vast body, but little in mind, to no purpose beyond that of the mystification of his hearers.

The colloquies were more than usually satisfactory, particularly that by A. C. Walworth, denominated "Freshman Year," in which one of the nine—we are ignorant which—personates a young lady, sister or sweetheart of the Freshman, with such exquisite grace that we should certainly have lost our heart had we not known the falsity.

The young lady, however, was not exclusively noticed, for the trials of the Freshman were particularly well rendered in the matter of his father's giving him an outfit for college expenses in full faith in the annual catalogue, but more particularly, the audience were at once astounded and delighted at beholding a fac simile of the college face—that illustrious institution—upon the stage, thronged with musical students.

The representation of the face was so perfect, that we heard a young lady as she passed the genuine establishment on the way from the hall, express a great deal of admiration "that we had not taken in Music Hall this evening!"

In regard to the colloquy, "Electra," we cannot but suggest to theatrical manager and the profession in general the very great improvement in the noble art of murder. Orestes appeared upon the stage, armed with a veneerable umbrella. With one lunge he slew Augustus, with another his sister Electra—personated by the tallest of the nine, in amusing burlesque; and finally, touching a broken rib of the ancient parachute to his own heart, he consummated the tragedy.

The New York Times has the following in regard to class-day:

The reading of the class histories commenced under the elms at two o'clock. The historians are H. A. Brown, M. G. Hyde and C. H. Smith, who were as entertaining and witty as usual. Afterward the ivy was planted by the Library wall, to flourish when many of the members are gone. The ivy song was written by H. A. Brown, to the air of "St. Oisil." We append the first and last verses:

Now, as the shadows fall
Around this sacred shrine
Beneath the gray old wall
We plant our little vine.

Soft voices of the past
Chime, sweet as vesper bell;
The night is falling fast;
Dear Brothers, farewell.

The class of 1866 entered college after the beginning of the war, and, on this account is smaller than preceding classes. They entered 112 and graduated 98. The class of 1863 numbered 110 and of 1863, numbered 122.

A movement is on foot to give a grand banquet at the ensuing commencement to all the "boys of Yale," graduates or otherwise, who have served in the war. Committees have been appointed to make due preparation therefor, and to invite the guests. In the fall of 1863, Yale had furnished 208 graduates to the army, including 4 Generals, 14 Colonels, 4 Lieutenant-Colonels, 8 Majors, 35 Captains, 36 Lieutenants, 22 Surgeons and Assistants, and 21 Chaplains. The number since then has been greatly increased, and the full reports will be presented at Commencement.

A Case Ready for Him.

Colonel King has been appointed High Constable of Massachusetts. He is on his way home, if not already here. The first news that will meet him is that his house was robbed yesterday, during the celebration at Roxbury. It may be that the thieves had a grim humor in perpetrating the crime. At any rate the Colonel will have an opportunity to test his fitness for his new office by trying his skill in catching and bringing to justice the purloiners of his property. His well known abilities will be sharpened by considerations for private interest as well as a regard for the public good.—Boston Transcript.

MEDICAL SUCCESS EXTRAORDINARY.
100 DOLLARS PREMIUM!
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

—AND—
IMPOTENCY CURED,
AFTER ALL OTHER TREATMENT FAILS.
DR. A. GIBSON,
Formerly of New York City, will pay one hundred dollars for the proof that he ever fails to cure the above-named disease. He will pay the above sum for the proof that any other physician in the United States treats the same diseases with equal success.

After many years of laborious study and experience Dr. Gibson is happy in being able to announce to the unfortunate, that he has perfected a system of treatment for

of the above, and also all contagious diseases of the Reproductive Organs, with all bad effects arising therefrom, including General

DEBILITY OR NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

He has succeeded in curing cases in this city, some of whom had expended hundreds of dollars with self-styled physicians, who profess to treat all the above maladies with success, and without receiving the least particle of benefit.

Dr. Gibson does not boast that he is a member of such College in London or Paris, as perhaps some others do for the purpose of ensnaring the innocent, and who hold out great expectations, but never realized. But what Dr. G. might boast of is this, that he is able to give entire satisfaction to those who repose confidence in his skill and attention, and that he has perfected an American system of treatment which challenges any Physician of London or Paris, or any patent medicine, to equal for transitical cure of seminal weakness, or all diseases or disorders, both mental and physical, arising from sexual or social abuse.

Dr. Gibson also claims for his new treatment the following advantages over all other yet discovered—and, first, the agents used are in no respect disreputable; he uses no relics of the dark ages, such as Mercury, or any other deleterious drug; secondly, no restriction in diet or business is required; thirdly, his treatment is positive and certain in effect. He stands prepared to go into any public or private hospital in the United States, and demonstrate the immense superiority of his new treatment over any others now known to the world, in point of promptness, mildness, safety and convenience to the patient.

Dr. Gibson is permanently located in Cleveland, and has during the past five years performed many cures of disease which had for years resisted all other treatment. Consultation free, and strictly sacred to individuals of the first respectability in Cleveland, Boston, New York and other cities, in regard to skill and integrity in his profession. Impotency, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, and all Chronic Diseases treated with superior success.

Reimbursement to any part of the country on receipt of ten dollars.

To the Intelligent reader it is not necessary to publish the names of the many complications and forms assumed by this terrible scourge, yet it may be advisable to mention a most prominent Stricture, PRIVATE, SYPHILITIC SECRECY, and GONORRHŒA TREATMENT, the latter involving the bones in its deathly pallor.

Every one should know, also, that many of the most obstinate and worst forms THAT TRUMPS PROCEED FROM THE CONTACT and will, if not promptly handled, ultimately result in loss of voice. Look to your throats, ears, and consult by letter, or apply at
