Election Scenes in England.

Probably the stanchest Tory champion of staid, respectable England would admit that she is anything but staid and respectable at the hustings. As a rule, the polling-booths are scenes of disorder, while so frequently as almost to be a rule, they are scenes of violence. And even in the celebrated, mythical land of fair-play, the unsophisticated eye can but observe that a good deal of cheating goes on. Just now the English papers come to us crammed with election intelligence, and for aught we can see there is as much patriotic fervor in the bosom of John Bull, manifested in the same irregular exuberant way, as in the elections of New York. There is also sharp practice, and there is a good deal of what at other seasons we are led to consider a peculiarly American vice—public speaking. During this exceptional period, that majestic beast, the British Lion, may be said to be continually on his legs, either speaking or being spoken to. And mixed with the leonine much human nature contrives to show itself.

It is recorded that the city of London saw not a little second-rate cheating. The stale trick of manufacturing fallacious returns at different stages of the polling seems to have been the highest flight which Tory rascality was able to reach. Rigid American virtue receives with satisfaction the assurance of the Star that "this shabby and discreditable proceeding did no good to their cause, for, as the polling advanced, the Liberal majority rapidly increased." At Westminster the contest at one time bade fair to rival the historic interest of that celebrated canvass of the Duchess of Devonshire, "whose lips, more persuasive than those of Fox himself, carried the Westminister election against Palace and Treasury"—which is Macaulay's way of saying that the celebrated Georgiana kissed a butcher as the price of his vote for the great debater. We grieve to say we can find no mention of kisses in Mr. Mill's behalf, but—

"Some carriages occupied by fashionably-attired ladies, drove up to the doors of the committee room, and requested, not only to be provided with the latest particulars as to the state of the poll, but, finding that printed bills had been prepared containing the announcement up to twelve o'clock, they also requested that a number of the printed announcements should be posted on the most prominent parts of their carriages. Both requests the gentlemen of the committee in attendance most politely complied with, and the bill posted carriages, with their fair occupants, drove off amid the acclamations of an admiring crowd of spectators."

That is the nearest approach to romance this century can furnish.

The Right Hon. T. Milner Gibson's election partook a little of the nature of a farce. A Mr. Booth Mason tried earnestly but ineffectually to become a candidate, and unable to find a responsible person to nominate him, nominated himself.

"The Mayor again appealed to the meeting—'Had any gentleman any other candidate to propose?'

"There was no response.

"Mr. Booth Mason (indignantly—'Is there no other candidate?'

"A lusty voice from the further end of the room—'I beg leave to propose Booth Mason!'

"The Mayor—'Will you come forward?'

"Mr. Booth Mason—'It is not requisite.'

"Another lusty voice from the further end of the room seconded the nomination.

"The Mayor insisted on both proposer and seconder coming forward and addressing the assembly in proper form from the platform. Neither would consent. The Mayor then demanded their names. A person in the front ranks called out, 'Alfred Bardsley and Harry Crack.' Roars of laughter naturally followed. The Mayor appeared to be in a difficulty. Mr Booth Mason said he was proposed and seconded, and that was enough.

"The Mayor again inquired the names of the proposer and seconder.

"Some one said the proposer was Samuel Walker, of 'Oudam' road.

"The Mayor—There is no such name on the register.

"Samuel Walker (we presume it was) exclaimed in the pure Lancashire dialect, 'Then it ou't to be' [Loud laughter.]

"The Mayor ultimately ventured to declare the Right Hon. T. M. Gibson duly elected."

The English papers are certainly entitled to the credit of entire frankness in reporting. At Finsbury Mr. W Dennis tries to propose Mr. William Cox as a proper person to represent the borough, but the larger part of his harangue consisted of parenthetical interjections by the reporter. "[Great noise and cries of Stansfield.] [Interruptions, groans, cheers, and renewed cries of Stansfield.] [Awful dissonance all around.]" When Mr. Cox himself came to speak it was no better. Sir W. Phillips tried it, and, though he has a Sir to his name, is welcomed by uproar and hisses. Becoming historical, Sir W. reminds his constituents, "They have already had as representative a Grote, a Wakely and a Duncombe." [A voice, "We will never have a Phillips," followed by cheers and hisses, loud tumult, derisive cheers and uproar.]' And when the hands are called for, the unhappy Phillips with a handle to his name, gets not more than a score—New York Tribune.

European Tributes to American Curiosity

We have received many European things—exiles, paupers, workingmen, criminals, and princes. The irrepressible Barnum intends to secure for us also the curiosities of Europe. He is negotiating with an energetic and prominent American citizen, and with him will soon sail for Europe, to search after whatever is lovely and curious, and of good report, for the new museum. Mr Barnum made a princely offer to Bayard Taylor to execute this task, but Mr. Taylor cannot go until next summer. The following note from Mr. Taylor shows a hearty sympathy with Mr. Barnum for his recent misfortune:

CEDARCROFT, July 26.

My dear Mr. Barnum: The sympathy which I, in common with all of your friends, feel with you in your loss, seems almost to be superfluous in view of the buoyant energy you exhibit. I regret that I am not able to assist you in the way you desire, as my literary engagements will not permit me to visit Europe this year. If I go next summer, as is probable, I may be able to further some of your many plans. Meanwhile, I shall look over my own souvenirs of travel, and try to find some articles of public interest for your new collection. My relics are mostly of mere personal value, but I have some which the public might find interesting. I am sure you will get abundant help from all quarters, and so, wishing you every possible success, I am

Always, sincerely yours,
BAYARD TAYLOR.

The Labor of Writing—A Curious Calculation.

The Commercial Coll ge Monthly says:

"A rapid penman can write thirty words in a minute. To do this he must draw his quill through the space of one rod—sixteen and one-half feet. In forty minutes his pen travels a furlong; and five and one-third hours one mile.

"We make, on an average, sixteen curves or turns of the pen in writing each word. Writing thirty words in a minute, we must make four hundred and eighty—eight to each second; in an hour, twenty eight thousand eight hundred; in a day of only five hours, one hundred and forty-four thousand; in a year of three hundred days, forty-three million two hundred thousand.

"The man who made one million strokes with a pen in a month was not at all remarkable. Many men make four millions.

"Here we have in the aggregate a mark three hundred miles long, to be traced on paper by each writer in a year.

"In making each letter of the ordinary alphabet, we must make from three to seven strokes of the pen—on an average three and a half to four."

A soldier who was guilty of gross cowardice at the battle of the Wilderness was tried by court martial in New York for the offence, and sentenced to be shot. He was taken to Broome Street Barracks, but had not been there half an hour when he sent a polite note down to the officer below for a pass. Those in charge of the office failing to keep a correct account of their prisoners, gave the pass, and the result was, the fellow walked out and has not been seen since.

JEFF. DAVIS HAS BEEN CAUGHT.

The war is now about played out,
Great changes have been wrought,
Our gallant boys are coming home;
Jeff Davis has been caught.

Hurra! hurra! now hang your banners out,
Hurra! hurra! let all the people shout.

The way the rebel chief was caught
Is laughable indeed;
He tried to run in petticoats,
But he did not succeed
Hurra! hurra! hang all your banners out,
Jeff Davis has been caught, let every one now shout.

Our boys did think it very strange,
A woman should retreat
With a great bowie-knife in hand,
Pistil they saw his feet.
Hurra! hurra! our boys have got good sense;
Twixt gaiter shoes and stogy boots they know the difference.

Oh, crinoline, we think you fine,
For you would not conceal
Two firing rebel Presidents,
When he did show his heel.
Hurra! hurra! there's nothing half so fine
To show a foot and ankle oil, like well raised crinoline.

Your days are numbered now, old Jeff,
You surely cannot hope,
Or have a better end in view,
Than those of Captain Boyd.
Hurra! hurra! Jeff Davis has no show;
In settling up all his accounts, just keep hi crimes in view.

The boys who caught Jeff Davis,
We'll welcome one and all,
And treat them to a fine new suit
At ISAAC'S UNION HALL!
Hurra! hurra! fling the starry banner out,
Our gallant boys are coming home, let all the people shout.

DR. A. GIBSON,

Formerly of New York City, will pay one hundred dollars for the proof that he ever fails to cure the above-named diseases. He will pay the same sum for the proof that any other Physician in the United States treats the same diseases with equal success.

After many years of laborious study and experience Dr. Gibson is happy in being able to announce to the unfortunate, that he has perfected a system of treatment for

of the above, and also all contagious diseases of the Reproductive Organs, with all bad effects arising therefrom, including General

DEBILITY OR NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

He has succeeded in curing cases in this city, some of whom had expended hundreds of dollars with self-styled physicians, who profess to treat all private maladies with success, and without receiving the least particle of benefit.

Dr. Gibson does not boast that he is a member of some College in London or Paris, as perhaps some others do for the purpose of ensnaring the innocent, and who hold out great expectations, never to be realized. But what Dr. G. might boast of is this, that he is able to give entire satisfaction to those who possess confidence in his ability and integrity, and that he has perfected an American system of treatment which claims the attention of physicians of London or Paris, or any patent medicine, to equal for the radical cure of seminal weakness, and all disease or derangements of both sexes, which physicians shrink from serious or secret abuse.

Dr. Gibson also claims for his new treatment the following advantages over all other yet discovered—and first, the agents used are in no respect disagreeable; he does no relaxe to the dark ages, such as Mercury, or any other deleterious drug; secondly, no restriction in diet or business is required; thirdly, his treatment is positive and certain in all cases. He is also prepared to go into any public or private hospital in the United States, and demonstrate the immense superiority of his new treatment over any other now known to the world, in point of promptness, permanency, mildness, safety and convenience to the patient.

Dr. Gibson is permanently located in Cleveland, and has during the past five years performed many cures of diseases which had for years resisted all other modes of treatment. References can be given to individuals of the first respectability in Cleveland, Boston, New York and other cities, in regard to skill and integrity in all professional transactions.—Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, and all Chronic Diseases treated with superior success.

PRIVATE AFFAIRS,

IN WHICH

All Classes are Interested.

Farmers, Drovers, Merchants, Lumbermen, Mechanics, Miners, Bankers, the rich and the poor, should ask themselves if the slightest SYPHILITIC, or so-called PRIVATE DISEASE, taint is lingering in their SYSTEMS, if so, they should apply in person, if possible; if not possible in person, by letter, and receive by return mail a blank circular of questions, which will enable any one to know positively just how they stand.

To the intelligent reader it is not necessary to publish the names of the many complications and forms assumed by this terrible scourge, yet it may be advisable to mention as most prominent SYPHILIS PRIMARY, SYPHILIS SECONDARY, and SYPHILIS TERTIARY, the latter involving the bones in its deadly action.

Every one should know, also, that many of the most obstinate and worst ULCERATED THROATS proceed from this cause, and will, if not properly handled, ultimately result in loss of voice. Look to your true interest, and consult by letter, or apply at

UNITED STATES HOSPITAL

AND

Private Medical Dispensary,

130 Jefferson Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

Near the Michigan Exchange Hotel.

Where every form of SYPHILIS and all other diseases of the proscrative and urinary organs of both sexes are more successfully managed than at any other similar institution in this country. Every one should know that whilst the slightest constitutional contamination exists, marriage is impossible, for the good reason that where offspring ensues disease is nearly always entailed. This, therefore, is one of the worst impediments to matrimony.

YOUNG MEN,

Suffering mentally and bodily from certain early improper practices, will find this a Dispensary where there is no uncertainty about getting relief, but where every one of such cases are cured permanently. No books published by or issued from this institution by which the minds of the young are poisoned and they thereby ruined.

LADIES,

Married or single, requiring a Female Regulator, should enclose one dollar and three postage stamps, and by return mail they will receive, with full directions, the only reliable Female Regulator in use. This Regulator is fast becoming the favorite of ladies everywhere, simply because its action is mild and safe and can always be depended upon in removing obstructions from colds and any other cause.

All correspondence strictly confidential. Letters on consultation should contain one dollar and a postage stamp for answer. Office and rooms arranged that patients never see each other.

Consultation and services at the office, free to the poor, every Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 5 P. M. Office and Dispensary open from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., daily, except Sundays. All necessary surgical operations performed.
