DAILY LEADER

Sketches from a Saratoga Ball-Room.

During "the season" the columns of the New York papers have been filled with gossipy, Jenkinsish correspondence from Saratoga, Cape May, Newport, and the other famous watering places. Perhaps we owe an apology to our readers for not having given them an earlier sample of these letters. If so, we make the amende by the following graphic bit of description, from the columns of the New York Tribune:

NOTES ON DANCING.

I am bound to consider it one of the incongruities of such amusements that one is expected to perform a difficult operation when encumbered with the most glaring impediments. When ladies need their greatest agility and dexterity in motion, they are required to carry a long, sweeping train of dress skirts which nobody is expected to tread on; a bouquet in one hand, a fan and handkerchief in the other, beside programmes and what not, at the same time to have free use of both for the necessary posturing and embracing of the dance. Most of the gentlemen, I am sure, felt ill at ease in starched cravats, tight kids, new patent-leather boots, and a costume they wore but seldom. That our ladies were able to perform gracefully and continuously the difficult and delicate task, beside attending to the thousand and one other attractions, such as conversation, jeux millers of exposition, intrigue, &c., is the highest compliment to their tact and mental faculties, indicating what prodigies they might become if started in the right direction.

REVELATIONS OF A BALL-ROOM.

The impressions of an inexperienced person upon being ushered into such a whirling, buzzing, odorous crush room, may be imagined but cannot be recorded. Seized by my fair escort I felt a wild hollowy screech of fiddles, harps and drums, and in a moment was swaying to and fro with some five hundred others; now backing, now advancing to a young chit opposite, and now again clasping hands and twirling and whirling about, now in curves and then in straight lines, a march, a bow, a swing, and so on for twenty minutes, when, with reeling brain, I was relieved to find myself seated near a window, with my companionable little body looking on at the flitting and gliding about in changing and interplexing circles. To her I was indebted for some curious information on dancing and dancers. Dancing is figuratively called the poetry of motion, but nobody, I imagine, concludes that it is the only motion which has poetry about it. But there are those who move through it as if they knew it was a prosy task, while others they say, live, dream and dote upon dancing, and whose Heaven is peopled with partners and waltzes, cotillions and mazurkas. The coup d'oeil, as I remember, was oppressively grand, glittering and immodest. I began to reflect upon the sweet, rosy and untainted girls of my boyhood, with all their rural grace and proportions—a stifling sense of mingled perfumes and exhalations greeted my senses, and I found myself musing upon the grove, the violets and lilies.

HABITUES OF "THE HOP."

In the midst of the magical scene of vanity and worldliness moved the Prince of Fashionable Humbug, Leland, with the air of Mephistopheles at the feast, smiling and knitting his brows as if conscious that his empire was more secure and more tributary than the throned monarch of China. Gen. Blair, and one or two other less noted Major Generals, were receiving the continuous salutations, not, I suspect, without some undeveloped purpose. There were demure old bachelors, with wigs dressed to a hair, heavy set old husbands and fathers, who patronize the scene for a while, and then set in forthe night at faro; looking mothers on at their progeny, ready to improve each favorable conjunction, and to act upon a significant hint; others who mingled in the motion to try to cheat themselves and the spectators into the belief that they were still young; widows, whose restless fans said as plainly as language could: "I have got him," or "Won't you come?" maidens fair, that might at a slight distance transfix one's gaze into a stare, but that they vanish in the throng,

"A moment white, then lost forever."

Artful little tricksters decked out in borrowed plumes; poor and faded beauties, who are pinching their minds and bodies for vital sustenance, that they may creep into the well-dressed crowd, never suspecting that their best sartorial triumph is a disgraceful defeat.

THE UNDISTINGUISHABLE HERD.

After these come trooping a long train of unnoticeable and vulgarly over-dressed people. The voluptuous strains start up again. There rushes in a delicious whirl across the room, hand in hand outstretched, and fast clasped in either's arms, the young French couple, Mlle. Passementine and her favorite dancing master. She looks as if this were the supremest moment in life, and as if her bliss needed nothing to make it perfect. Her father is a wine merchant in the city, and is said to have sold more wine, twice over, than he imported.

Next comes the bold-looking and robust Mrs. Cleopatra Minque, who exults in a magnificent bust and shoulders. She is a fine form and is very elaborately dressed. Who would imagine that she was forty-one this month?

"Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale
Her infinite variety,"

on the arm of a well-known railroad conductor from a lake city. Both are married, and both are flirting without the knowledge of their respective families, while the petition for divorce has not yet been filed from either.

Here is Miss Lily White, with her blanched face and neck, in magnificent pink moire silk, and low neck. There is Miss Montrejambes, with an exquisitely filled silk embroidered stocking. Miss Hebe Poitrine, whose lips, naturally beautiful, are tinctured with carmation. Also Miss Mimosa Pamper, who, wrapping the heavy lace scarf about her exposed charms, seats herself at the window, hoping to "argh the cold" and the heart of young Whipspur at the same time. Mrs. Charlotte Broker dances a quadrille with young Werter, the magazine contributor. Col. R. Crawley waltzes with the wife of Capt. George Holdpost, who was killed before Petersburg ever so long ago. Mr. Toots, lo, king furtively at Miss Edith Brownfront. Also Miss Giraffe, with the horns of hair and bust of the same, whose mother took in washing twenty-five years ago, but who now looks as if the only exertion she could maintain was the divine polka.

Davy Crockett's Autograph.

The Springfield News says Mr. J. M. Spinning, of that city, has handed it a genuine autograph of the Hon. Davy Crockett, renowned the world over for his eccentricities. When Mr. Spinning was a boy, Mr. Crockett visited Springfield and had a good social time with the elder Spinning. During this time he wrote out a toast, the manuscript of which is in the possession of the News, which reads as follows:

Here is wishing the bones of Kings and Tyrants may answer in hell in place of Gridirons to roast the souls of Toreys on.

DAVID CROCKETT.

On the opposite side is another of Mr. Crockett's toasts, in the handwriting of Mr. spinning, which is as follows:

Here is a pair of cobweb pantaloons and a porcupine saddle and a hard trotting horse to Henry Clay's foes, wishing when they light down in our land their toes may be cut off. Then we will know them by their tracts. DAVID CROCKETT.

The doctors specially devoted to the care of cholera patients at Alexandria, Egypt, have tried a curious experiment, the object of which is to ascertain whether that disease is caused by a peculiar state of the outward air, as has been supposed. They sent up two balloons, one from a village as yet untainted by the epidemic, and the other from Alexandria. A quarter of fresh beef was suspended to each balloon, which was allowed to float a certain time in the air. On making these balloons descend, the meat which had floated over Alexandria was completely putrified, whereas that which had been suspended over the healthy village was perfectly fresh. The quarters of beef had been cut off the same animal. The authority for this statement is L'Opinion Nationale. It records an important fact, worthy of serious attention.

JEFF. DAVIS HAS BEEN CAUGHT.

The war is now about played out,
Great changes have been wrought,
Our gallant boys are coming home;
Jeff Davis has been caught.
Huzza! huzza! now hang your banners out,
Huzza! huzza! let all the people shout.

The way the rebel chief was caught
Is laughable indeed;
He tried to run in petticoats,
But he did not succeed.
Huzza! huzza! hang all your banners out,
Jeff Davis has been caught, let every one now shout.

Our boys did think it very strange,
A woman should retreat
With a great bowie-knife in hand,
Until they saw his feet.
Huzza! huzza! our boys have got good sense;
Twixt galter shoes and stogy boots they know the difference.

Oh, crinoline, we think you fine,
For you would not conceal
Top-lying rebel President,
When he did show his heel.
Huzza! huzza! there's nothing half so fine
To show a foot and ankle off, like a well raised crinoline.

Your days are numbered now, old Jeff,
You surely cannot hope,
Or have a better end in view,
Than the end of a stout rope.
Huzza! huzza! your days are numbered, so
In settling up all his accounts, just keep his crimes in view.

The boys who caught Jeff Davis,
We'll welcome one and all,
And treat them to a fine new suit
At ISAAC'S UNION HALL!
Huzza! huzza! fling the starry banner out,
Our gallant boys are coming home, let all the people shout.

IMPOTENCY CURED,

AFTER ALL OTHER TREATMENT FAILS.

DR. A. GIBSON,

Formerly of New York City, will pay one hundred dollars for the proof that he ever fails to cure the above-named diseases. He will pay the same sum for the proof that any other Physician in the United States treats the same diseases with equal success.

After many years of laborious study and experience Dr. Gibson is happy in being able to announce to the unfortunate, that he has perfected a system of treatment for

of the above, and also all contagious diseases of the Reproductive Organs, with all bad effects arising therefrom, including General has succeeded in curing cases in this city, some of whom had expended hundreds of dollars with self-styled physicians, who profess to treat all private maladies with success, and without receiving the least particle of benefit.

DEBILITY OR NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Dr. Gibson does not boast that he is a member of some College in London or Paris, as perhaps some others do for the purpose of ensnaring the innocent, and who hold out great expectations, never to be realized. But what Dr. G. might boast of is this, that he is able to give entire satisfaction to those who repose confidence in his skill and integrity, and that he has perfected an American system of treatment which challenges any Physician of London or Paris, or any patent medicine, to equal for the radical cure of seminal weakness, and all diseases or derangements, both mental and physical, arising from sexual or secret abuse.

Dr. Gibson also claims for his new treatment the following advantages over all other yet discovered:—and, first, the agents used are in no respect disagreeable; he uses no relics of the dark ages, such as Mercury, or any other deleterious drug; secondly, no restriction in diet or business is required; thirdly, his treatment is positive and certain in all cases. He stands prepared to go into any public or private hospital in the United States, and demonstrate the immense superiority of his new treatment over any other now known to the world, in point of promptness, permanency, mildness, safety and convenience to the patient.

Dr. Gibson is permanently located in Cleveland, and has during the past five years performed many cures of diseases which had for years resisted all other modes of treatment. Reference can be given to individuals of the first respectability in Cleveland, Boston, New York and other cities, in regard to skill and integrity in all professional transactions.—Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, and all Chronic Diseases treated with superior success.

PRIVATE AFFAIRS,

IN WHICH

All Classes are Interested.

Farmers, Drovers, Merchants, Lumbermen, Mechanics, Miners, Bankers, the rich and the poor, should ask themselves if the slightest Stricture, or so-called PRIVATE DISEASE, taint is lingering in their SYSTEMS, if so, they should apply in person, if possible; if not possible in person, by letter, and receive by return mail a blank circular of questions, which will enable any one to know positively just how they stand.

To the intelligent reader it is not necessary to publish the names of the many complications and forms assumed by this terrible scourge, yet it may be advisable to mention as most prominent SYPHILIS PRIMARY, SYPHILIS SECONDARY, and SYPHILIS TERTIARY, the latter involving the bones in its deadly sellons.

Every one should know, also, that many of the most obstinate and worst UNCLASSED DISEASES proceed from this cause, and will, if not properly handled, ultimately result in loss of voice. Look to your true interest, and consult by letter, or apply at

No books published by nor issued from this institution by which the minds of the young are poisoned and they thereby ruined.

LADIES,

Married or single, requiring a Female Regulator, should enclose one dollar and three postage stamps, and by return mail they will receive, with full directions, the only reliable Female Regulator in use. This Regulator is fast becoming the favorite of ladies everywhere, simply because its action is mild and safe and can always be depended upon in removing obstructions from colds and any other cause.

All correspondence strictly confidential. Letters on consultation shou'd contain one dollar and a postage stamp for answer. Office and rooms arranged that patients never see each other.
