The subscriber having purchased and refitted the building situated on Sandusky street, near Delaware Run, known as the "OLENTANGY IRON WORKS," will be happy to see and wait upon his old customers and all persons wishing articles in his line. He has on hand a larger and finer assortment of

CARRIAGES AND BUGGIES

than has ever been offered for sale in Delaware. The undersigned would inform his friends and customers, to whom he is so much indebted for their liberal patronage, that he is sparing no pains or expense, in order that he may furnish work in his line, of a style and quality, equal to any made in the Western country, (or Eastern either). He has made arrangements by which he receives the drafts of all new styles of Carriages and Buggies, as fast as they are introduced in the Philadelphia and Cincinnati, and keeps experienced workmen at all the different branches of his business. He can with confidence say, that he has not a job on hand, neither will he have, which is not of

THE LATEST STYLE.

Finally he would say he turns his back to no man any where. Having the disposition, ability, and ability, he will please you if you but give him a call.

FURNITURE.

A. A. WELCH would call attention to the large and select stock of superior

He has also received a supply of the celebrated Dodge & Co's. Patent Spring Bedstead, an article that will repay a careful examination, as they are the very best spring-bottom bedsteds manufactured. Please call and see.

UNDERTAKING.

He is prepared to respond promptly to all calls in this line—will manufacture to order Coffins of any desired style—and constantly keeps on hand a supply of the justly celebrated

Patent Metallic Burial Cases,

The superiority of this description of casement for the remains of deceased friends is universally acknowledged where they have been used—being air-tight, they are especially well designed for keeping a corpse in warm weather or for an unusual length of time, as well as preventing the air from the encroachments of water &c. after interment. "True it is, the body so deposited is nothing but dust, and it is a wise and holy law of nature, that to dust it shall return; but still how much more consolatory to know that surviving friends is the reflection, that this body shall be permitted to pass again into, and form a part of its native element by the aid of time and natural causes alone, instead of being immersed in water and exposed to the depredations of insects; by which the remains are consumed before their ordinary and natural decay; or how satisfactory it would be to feel assured, that it remained in the earth where it has been placed, without disturbance from the knife of the dissector, or any other human agency?"

A HEARSE, accompanied by a careful driver, will at all times be procurable for funeral occasions.
