Observes Twenty-Ninth Anniversary of Arrival

DR. W. H. HAVILAND.

Although trans-continental railroad travel today is sometimes delayed an hour or so by forest fires or washouts, the service is regular when contrasted with the service 29 years ago, when Dr. W. H. Haviland of Butte, first came to this city. The doctor last Monday combined his celebration of Labor day with the observance of his 29th anniversary as a resident of Butte.

"It was exactly 29 years ago last Monday that I first struck Butte," said the doctor, who was in a reminiscent mood. "Butte then was a live town, but it did not compare with its metropolitan aspect of today.

"I remember my arrival well. I came in on the Great Northern railroad, thus missing the delights of 'ball whacking' across country, but railroad travel then was just a shade faster than the travel by team. My train was several days late, having stopped at various points throughout the Dakotas and in the Montana badlands for various causes, each of which gave the tired passengers opportunity to walk about the prairies and pick wild flowers.

"When I reached Butte, I sent my baggage up town by team and walked. What is now the Finlen hotel was then the McDermott hotel, and the present Butte hotel was called the St. Nicholas. It was at the latter place that I stopped, locked the camp over and decided to stay.

For a number of years Dr. Haviland was in general and hospital practice, but for the last 19 years has devoted himself exclusively to office practice. The doctor admits that he once dabbled in politics and served for four years as state senator from this county.

CONFERENCE APPROVED.

(Special United Press Wire.)

Washington, Sept. 4.—The senate and house labor committees unanimously approved in joint session, President Wilson's calling of the industrial "round table" conference in an effort to adjust critical conditions.

NO EFFICIENCY HERE

New York.—The state conservation commission reports that out of a total of 2,656,410 horsepower that is capable of development in water courses wholly within this state, only 697,110 horsepower has been utilized. The wasted power, it is stated, would light and heat every home in this state and turn every wheel in industry.

While these untold millions of dollars of wealth are being wasted many editors, politicians and captains of industry attract attention with their demand for cheap labor and longer hours.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF MEAT INDUSTRY

(Special United Press Wire.)

Washington, Sept. 4.—Declaring that the steadily rising cost of living is a "serious menace," the American National Livestock association market committee has addressed a letter to President Wilson, outlining the following program for relief:

The placing of 200,000,000 acres of public grazing land under federal control, to increase meat production;

Prompt completion of the department of agriculture's survey, covering the cost of meat production from the farm to the consumer;

Enactment of legislation, looking to federal control of the meat industry, similar to that proposed in the Kenyon-Kendrick bills which are now pending.

GEORGIA WOMEN PUT OVER THEIR CANDIDATES

(Special United Press Wire.)

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 4.—Incomplete returns indicate that Atlanta women who are voting in the municipal primaries for the first time, have nominated all of their candidates by overwhelming majorities.

LARGE BRITISH FORCES SENT INTO TIPPERARY

(Special United Press Wire.)

Dublin, Sept. 4.—Large military forces have arrived in Tipperary district, following further evidences of differences between residents and the British authorities. A constabulary sergeant was shot in the head and a constable was wounded Tuesday night.

"OLE" HANSON

was the plaint heard on all sides during a visit to the district Saturday.

Home owners who were interviewed all agreed that the colony was being terrorized by the boys in the Hanson family, who are said to run at large, hurl vile invectives at the residents and their children, and then take refuge behind the fact that their father is Ole Hanson.

"I cannot allow my small daughter to play on the beach unless I am with her for protection," said one mother. "The other mothers here are the same. We are all being made miserable by the presence of the Hanson family, but we can do nothing."

This woman, like the others interviewed, pleaded earnestly that her name be omitted from any interviews published.

"Hanson is a big man and my husband is only a worker. If Hanson knew I talked with a reporter he would force my husband out of his job."

All agreed that a petition for the removal of the Hanson family had been earnestly discussed by the residents, but that it had never materialized into fact for fear that Hanson seek revenge on the signers.

Children of the home owners are subject to constant bullying by the Hanson boys, it is claimed. Little girls come home in tears as the result of the oaths and filthy language said to have been hurled at them by the young Hansons.

Friday evening a teamster who is buying his little home near the beach is declared to have remonstrated with one of the Hanson boys, who is said to have insulted the man's wife. Hanson heard of the affair and immediately called the police to suppress such "Bolshevism." A motorcycle officer was on the way within a few minutes and he and Hanson visited the teamster's cottage where the ex-mayor, while standing under the protection of the policeman, is alleged to have used threatening language toward the home owner and to have indulged in violent abuse.

Cottagers declare that a deputy sheriff at Bothell recently seized the ponies belonging to the Hanson boys as the result of their actions and that Hanson announced at once that he, Ole, would see to it that the officer lost his job as the result of such insolence.

STREET CAR MEN GAIN

Clinton, Ia.—A division of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Men has been organized in this city.
