VOL. I. CANTON, D. T., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1876. NO. 26.

Subscribe for the ADVOCATE, the only paper in the county.

REV. CONKLIN, of Lincoln Center was in town yesterday.

ABOUT time to have another dance don't it?

OUR friend Oscar Rea, has gone to Colerburg, Iowa to spend the winter.

"PLANTER" cigars at the Restaurant down town.

RUDOLPH'S is the place to buy clothing cheap.

Go and try those "Hayes" cigars at Fred Barrow's restaurant down town.

J. S. BENEDICT has just received a large stock of crockery.

OLE HELMERSON is building a nice residence in Beloit, Iowa.

HORNBACK has moved into town again and is occupying Mr. Torbert's house.

J. B. TORBERT has moved to Niobrara Neb.

TAKE your Poultry of all kinds to Fred Barrow's, Lower Canton, and get the Cash for them.

THE best surprise party had this season was at the residence of Mrs. Mark Bailey, Tuesday evening.

MISS BELLE TILLOTSON, has charge of the Lower Canton school. She has an attendance of about thirty pupils.

ORDERED and soon to arrive. Toilet sets, vases, Chromos, paper hangers, brackets and perfumery, at the city Drug Store.

WE recognize the favors of our friend J. B. Pattee and hope he will favor us with sketches of more of his travels.

By looking over the columns of the ADVOCATE, you will learn who is doing the business in Canton, the county seat of Lincoln county.

DID you ever see any white gun powder? Stacey has a receipt for making it; he says it only takes two-thirds as much of it for a charge, as of the black powder.

EXPECT we will see some of our business men coming out with big advertisements before long. Now is the accepted time.—We are willing to meet hard times and give you reasonable rates.

ACCIDENT.—Little Luella Wendt, while playing around an old cellar in the rear of Barrow's restaurant fell into it to-day and broke her arm just above the elbow. Drs. Clark and Hayes were called on to fix the broken limb.

WE would remind delinquent subscribers that we need all that is due us on subscription; the amounts are small but when taken together, they help to keep the ball rolling. We take almost anything in payment. It takes money to keep the paper running.

THE Mite Society in Beloit has been revived again; the last meeting was held at Mrs. A. B. Reynolds's, where a collection of nearly $4.00 was taken up for the benefit of their Sabbath School. The next meeting will be held at the residence of J. A. Carpenter, on Friday evening, Nov. 24th.

HOW many good locals are spoiled by the merest accident; and the newspaper is thereby swindled. For instance, last week a man was stung by a house, he lost his footing and slid down to the edge of the roof, when unluckily a nail caught him by the seat of his breechcloths and spoiled our local.

THE typhoid fever seems to be quite common over at LeVerno, our friends Mr. and Mrs. Brooks have both had a siege of it, but are so far beyond again now. Also Wm. Betseys of this place, who has been over there working was taken down with the fever before last; Joe Ingham who has been working with him, is now taking care of him. We hope to soon hear of his convalescing.

A shooting affray occurred at Sioux Falls, on Sunday last between Jack Van Kirk, a stage driver on the Sibley route, and Alonzo Corson, a returned Black Hiller, in which the former was deliberately and instantly killed. The particulars will be found in another column. We are sorry to hear this of 'Lon, as he used to be our old townsmen in days gone by, back in Wisconsin. It is certainly very unfortunate for him as well as the poor fellow whom he killed, as we learn his acts were rash and without sufficient cause.

MISS NONA MILLER was agreeably surprised on Friday evening last, by a large party of Canton's young folks coming to see her when she least expected them. All made themselves at home, and Miss Nona was soon in readiness for the reception of her company. While they indulging in pious and pleasant little games such as authors, dominos, cards, &c., Mrs. Linn and others favored them with various pieces of excellent instrumental music on the piano. When the candy was ready all joined in an old fashioned candy pull. One and all expressed themselves as never having a more enjoyable time.

"Old Charley," as well known here, has gone to Yankton to drive stage this winter. Dick Edwards takes his place on Howard's line, driving between here and Miller's. The first trip Dick made he had rather bad luck; while coming up from Miller's and with a lady in the coach, he had to cross a little ditch, and as the stage went down into the gutter, Dick braced up too firm in the boot and it pitched him out right square between the horses; they ran a few yards with him in that predicament, but luckily he checked them before any damage was done, except that his lady passenger was almost scared out of her wits.

THE Commissioners did not get the votes canvassed in time to give it to the public this week. The returns go to show that the Democrats and the straight ticket men traded votes in this county to the amount of about 100 votes, and consequently Turner and Valentine have lost that number by the trade; but some of the leaders say that everything is fair in war and politics. This move was thought necessary to elect Bailey, but he would undoubtedly have been elected without this trick.

The Turner county returns show that Kidder has 265 votes, Spink, 71, Bailey, 161, Valentine, 263, Rohr, 136, Dunham, 171, Leavitt, 121, and Falde 207.

It is really amusing to see how much comfort the Democrats get out of the late election returns. They can take more comfort from the smallest prospects of success of any party of the present day; and all of the old caricatures that have been laid away for years are being brought out for display to strengthen their dying hopes. Roosters seem to predominate in birds of all styles, colors, ages, sizes, and descriptions, adorn the front pages of most of the Democratic papers: When their disposition is such that they can draw any comfort or consolation out of the present political prospects, they must be a very happy people and would be as well pleased with one man as another.

THE Herald has a big rooster adorning one whole page almost of their sheet. Spink is the worst defeated man that ever lived in Dakota. Kidder is at least 4,000 ahead.—No other man ever received such a majority in this Territory. Bring out your Democratic birds, boys, but remember that you will have a large stock of poor property on hand; and may have some roosters to lead. Hayes will be the next President for $1,000.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.
Where are our temperance people, and what are they doing? Have they converted all of the whiskey guzzling community or have they given up in despair? We would advise them to persevere in their work; there is plenty for them to do and the work if well done, will be a living monument to their glory. One drunkard reformed is worth a lifetime labor.

We do not say that this is a better field of labor for a temperance organization than any other, but we do think that they can find plenty of work to do; and should they pursue a consistent course, there is no doubt but that their labors would have a more visible effect. Be faithful to your pledges under all circumstances. How many professed temperance men there are who frequent the saloon, not to drink, but to endorse the habit by their presence, and enter into hilarity with a drunken man. Some offer the tempting glass to their neighbor, to see them become intoxicated for their amusement. Some who have held honorable positions in the order, and have been conspicuous members, will take a drink on the sly, and are ever instrumental in procuring liquor for those who they know will drink and get drunk, neglect their families and abuse their friends; rid yourselves of such members, then you can go forth without being reproached by having such shoddy members. Then you may denounce drunkenness without being reminded that one of your members is no better. You may work by your influence; if one of your friends gets drunk, don't tell him that getting drunk once will not hurt him. If some of your esteemed citizens frequent the saloons and there help some poor worthless drunkard to squander his last dime, when he knows that he is taking the bread away from the drunkard's family, don't blaze it all over the country that he is such a nice fellow with such promising prospects, but on the contrary let them know that you are fully awake to their crimes against humanity; remembering at all times the poor starving children and the disconsolate wives that keep the midnight lamp burning for their husbands to come home, and in constant dread to see the come, not knowing what may have happened then; they may be in some drunken affray in which their life has been taken; and thus it is all through life that the fairest prospects bloom only to decay. The drunkard's wife wreaths her husband to forsake the glass, until all hope vanishes; her care-worn look, emaciated and haggard appearance is too suggestive of her troubles.—Life soon becomes burdensome and she welcomes any relief that will ease her aching heart.

Well, it is very easy to tell of the miseries of drunkenness, but how are you going to prevent it? The most effective way is for temperance people to practice just what they preach; in the first place to discontinue everything that savors of intemperance; employ temperance men to do your work; associate and identify your selves with such society, that your company will be sought after by those who want to be somebody, and want your good opinion; but if the other is just as popular there is no particular inducement for them to come to you; and if wine and strong drinks are fashionable in their circle you have deprived yourselves of a valuable associate by the toleration of drinking. If a candidate leaves $10 with the saloon keeper for the boys, he means to buy their votes and you cannot construe it in any other way. And where is the man but that if he thought of or looked at the matter in the proper light, would not spurn such an offer or bribe. Such things may look absurd but they are nevertheless true, and are the outgrowth of intemperance.

Look at the statistics of every state in the Union and see what they say. They say that one half of the inmates of the prisons, asylums and hospitals are from the cause of intemperance; and that one half of the taxes are consumed in paying such debts. No man or woman can condemn it in too severe terms. Let every taxpayer remember that one half of the taxes he pays is caused by intoxication.

DELIBERATE MURDER.
The following is the particulars concerning the shooting affray at Sioux Falls on Sunday morning last, as taken from the Sioux City Journal of the 14th inst:

SIoux FALLS, D. T., Nov. 12, 1876.

EDITOR JOURNAL: Jack Van Kirk, a stage driver on the Sibley route, was murdered here this morning by Alonzo Corson, a returned Black Hiller. The two had been drinking and quarreling all night in Tate's saloon. Just about daybreak, Van Kirk proceeded to Howard's stables and commenced hitching up his team to start for Sibley. While thus engaged Corson came up and renewed the quarrel, when Jack drove him off the premises with a pitchfork. Corson then went to the hotel, one block distant, borrowed a shot-gun, loaded it deliberately, and walked back with it on his shoulder to the stable, and shot Van Kirk on sight. The shot took effect in his throat and lung, and killed him instantly. But few people were stirring at the time, else the affair might have perhaps been prevented. Corson was arrested and brought before Justice Hawkins this forenoon. The prisoner waived examination and was committed to the care of the sheriff, John Callender, until the next term of court. As we have no jail here, Sheriff Callender started this morning for Yankton, to place him in safe keeping. It is fortunate for the prisoner that he was taken out of the county, as the feeling against him was getting to be strong for him.

Van Kirk is a single man, about 30 years of age, and has a mother living in Sibley, Iowa. He has been driving stage in this vicinity for the past two years, and was a genial, good-hearted fellow when not under the influence of liquor.

Corson is from Monroe, Wis., and has been stopping here for the past few weeks on his way back from the Black Hills. He is a single man and his parents live in Monroe, also a sister and cousin in this county who are deeply grieved by his rash act.
