☞ Copies of the SUNDAY APPEAL can be had at our counting-room this morning until 9 o'clock.

EXTRAORDINARY OATS.—Col. WM. STRONG has sent us a sample of oats, grown by him, measuring six feet and seven inches in length, and challenges the world to beat it.

☞ Our young friend, W. W. HODGE, of the firm of DAVIS, HODGE & WILLIAMS, leaves this morning on the cars for Mississippi on a business tour. We take great pleasure in commending him to the good people of that State.

☞ At a meeting of the Memphis Fire Association, held at the hall of Independent Fire Company No. 1, on Friday evening, Mr. W. A. MCEWEN resigned the office of Secretary, and Captain MCADAM was elected to fill the vacancy.

☞ Memphis is now infested with curs. The dog-days are near at hand, and we think the authorities of the city should have recourse to such expedients as would prevent anything pertaining to hydrophobia appearing in our midst.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE YOUNG MEN'S LITERARY ASSOCIATION.—A resolution was adopted at the meeting on Tuesday night that we would attend the lecture to be delivered by the YOUNG MEN by Rev. R. C. GRUNDY, D. D., at the second Presbyterian Church, on Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

A full attendance is requested.

C. JOHNSON, Sec'y pro tem.

☞ As we understand it, the "Independent Grays" composed principally of mechanics, are without a Captain. We suggest the name of MILTON A. HAYNES, Esq., a gentleman well known in this community—one who did service in Mexico—as a proper person to be named in connection with other candidates for that high office. He understands all that pertains to the "drill," and we think, if elected, will reflect credit upon the Company. The Company knows no outside influence has prompted us in making this suggestion, and we are satisfied that whether or no, Mr. HAYNES is elected chief officer, such a Captain will be selected, as will reflect credit upon the "Independent Grays."

☞ The News endeavors to make political capital out of a notice which we wrote on Thursday, referring to the "Independent Grays." That paper (if it is considered the exponent of the views of the Know-Nothing party) must be hard pushed for a paragraph to benefit its party when it picks up such a little thing, as we have referred to. There is an old adage, that drowning men grasp at straws, and we think it is peculiarly applicable to that paper at present. The columns of the News evidence no desire to discuss political questions in a legitimate manner, and we fain have come to the conclusion that its editors trust to elect the candidates of the Know-Nothing party by having recourse to expedients not heretofore known in political vocabulary. We may err in our opinion; when convinced of that error we stand ready to make the correction.

INDEPENDENT GRAYS.—On Friday morning we published a lengthy notice of this military company, inserting what we thought was the purport of Mr. SAFFARRANS' speech, on the occasion of the Committee waiting upon him, to inform him of his election as Captain of the "Independent Grays." When that speech was written out, three promis' members of the company were present, and acquiesced in all we had written. An inference has been deduced (so we learn) from our article, that Mr. SAFFARRANS disappointed when the election took place. We did not wish to convey such impression, and the fact that we published the names of the committee appointed to wait upon and inform him of his election to the office of Captain, is the best commentary that we can make, by way of reply to a card which appeared yesterday morning over the signature of Mr. SAFFARRANS.

In conversation with Mr. SAFFARRANS, on Friday, he stated to us that business arrangements and affairs of a private nature placed him in a peculiar position, and he was sorry the publication had been made. We stated to him that had we for a moment supposed that anything which we had written, and published, would wound the feelings of any one, we would not have indited a line. With this, he seemed to be satisfied, and with the remark that he hoped no further publication would be made, he agreeing to say nothing more on the subject, we thought the matter had rested. We found a card in the Bulletin and Appeal, yesterday morning, from Mr. SAFFARRANS, stating that he had not accepted the office of Captain of the "Independent Grays." It is now left to the Committee and himself, the military being a party to it, to determine the propriety of acknowledging we wrote out the speech to which exception has been taken, and we think that Mr. SAFFARRANS himself did or will acknowledge that he could not have made a better one, on such an occasion. We are sorry that the understanding which we thought existed between Mr. SAFFARRANS and us was not perfected sufficiently to prevent the publication which he made yesterday. In a conversation of some twenty minutes, we supposed there was an understanding, and of such a nature (as private matters were referred to,) that no further reference to the subject would be necessary on the part of any one. It seems we were mistaken.

Acknowledging our error in writing out a good speech for a gentleman whom we thought (and still think) takes an interest in military matters, we leave the subject under consideration to the "Independent Grays" and the public, to reflect upon.

P. S. Since inditing the foregoing, we are satisfied Col. SAFFARRANS did not (explicitly) accept the office of Captain of the "Independent Grays." His acceptance of the office was implied, as the communication annexed, attests.

Independent Grays.—We, the undersigned, appointed a Committee to wait upon Mr. JOHN L. SAFFARRANS, and inform him of his election to the office of Captain, say,

In compliance with the motion made, which selected us as a Committee, we waited upon Mr. SAFFARRANS and informed him that he was elected Captain of the Independent Grays. He asked who were the other officers selected. We replied to his query, naming the gentlemen, when he stated to us that he would like to have the appointment of the non-commissioned officers. He then remarked that we must now go to work and not let the thing fall through.

Conversations which had previously transpired between Mr. Saffarrans and members of the company, with what we have stated above, led us to believe that he accepted the office of Captain, and we were astonished yesterday morning when we found his card in two of the city papers declining the office.

In this connection we wish to state to the public that such conversation had previously transpired between Mr. Saffarrans and members of the "Independent Grays" that led the whole company to believe he would accept the office of Captain if tendered him. Private conversations are uninteresting to the public and we will not report them; but the whole committee unite in saying from what they heard and knew, that Mr. Saffarrans, if elected Captain, would accept the office, and with such knowledge and belief the company unanimously elected him Captain.

Regretting that we have to appear before the public in a card of this nature, we appeal to the good sense of the community whether we are right. Respectfully,

J. GENETTE, Ch'm.
D. N. KENDALL,
JOHN T. POWERS.

[One of the committee could not be found last evening, but we are authorized to state he would have signed this card. In this connection we will state that the whole company sanction the action of the committee.] C.

Port of Memphis.

River Matters.

The river continues to recede. Yesterday morning the weather was pleasant—in the afternoon it commenced raining, and at present writing it is raining. Business is dull at the landing. Latest reports from Nashville state there are only twenty-eight inches of water on Harpeth Shoals, and the Cumberland river still falling.

The fine steamer Editor, commanded by Capt. Brady, will arrive to-morrow afternoon from St. Louis, and depart on her return trip on Tuesday evening.

The fine and fleet steamer Belfast, on route for Cairo, will arrive to-morrow from New Orleans. Capt. WRAY is in command, and Capt. Ed. Booker purser. Passengers could not travel on a boat with more obliging officers.

The fleet Kate Frisbie will be at the landing at four o'clock this afternoon. She will depart at two o'clock to-morrow evening on her return trip.

The fleet packet Northerner, ever punctual, will be found at our landing to-morrow morning. We have written so much concerning this popular packet that on the present occasion we do not know how to express ourselves in a becoming manner. Suffice for the occasion, Capt. Smith is in command, and he has for clerks Messrs. Archer and Mulligan.

☞ In our notice of the Wharfboat Hotel, yesterday, the name of Mr. WURZBACH appeared as proprietor; it should have been Mr. HORBACH, who is the gentlemanly proprietor of the hotel in question.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The Grand Jury brought in a true bill against RICHARD DEACON for larceny, also two bills of indictment against SILAS GEORGE for larceny and receiving stolen goods.

The jury in the case of LEVY STORZA, charged with the murder of Mr. AARON B. STARKS, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree late last evening.

The counsel engaged in this case for the State, were Attorney General SALE, and Mr. DUBOSE. For the defense, Messrs. HAYNES, CARR and KEITH appeared.

Vote of Thanks.

MEMPHIS, July 3, 1857.

At a meeting of Independent Fire Company No. 1, held at their Hall, the following preamble and resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted and ordered to be printed:

WHEREAS, this Company has received from Mr. Charles Potter a donation of one hundred dollars for services rendered by us at the fire on the 18th of June; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we tender to Mr. Potter a vote of thanks for his generous donation, and that the best wishes of this Company are with him for his prosperity.

Resolved, That we elect Mr. Potter an Honorary member of this Company for his liberality, and that he be furnished with a certificate of membership, handsomely framed.

Resolved, That these proceedings be spread upon the minutes, and the Secretary be requested to furnish Mr. Potter a copy of the same.

The New Theatre.

From the Morning Bulletin of Yesterday.]

In reply to the communication of "A Patron," published in your paper of the 7th inst., and for information of Stockholders and all others interested in the new Memphis Theatre, with the aid of Mr. Winters, the draftsman, I furnish the following description, and information:

The new Theatre building is sixty feet wide by one hundred and fifty feet deep; three full stories high in front; to contain three tiers of seats in the auditorium. The front elevation is to be a very appropriate and pure style of Italian architecture—stucco finish, with Roman cement. The front entrance will be eleven feet wide, beautifully ornamented—and extending thirty feet deep with eight feet elevation to the Theatre rooms. The Theatre will seat about 1,800 persons, and with the temporary seats to be used in the wide aisles in case of a full house, 2,000. The audience room will be about sixty by sixty-five feet; the stage forty-five feet deep; the house to be warmed by furnaces in the basement, and appropriately lighted with gas; the interior to be ornamented with frescoe paintings; the galleries to be supported by iron columns, ornamented with wreaths. The foot of the walls are five feet wide, and the walls are to be twenty-two inches thick to the top, making the building substantial beyond all question.

At the front entrance, and on each side, opposite the middle of the audience-room, and in the rear of the stage, there will be self-adjusting double doors, six feet wide, that will open either way by a slight pressure, and wide aisles leading from all parts of the auditory to these doors, so as to furnish ample scape-ways in case of fire. There are streets and alleys all around the building, and a good supply of ventilating windows, and a large ventilator in the dome, over the parquette. The galleries will be reached by wide stairways outside of the theatre room below.

The Directors expect to have the Theatre ready for use by the 1st of October next. Mr. Reid, architect; Chas. Jones brick builder, and John L. Saffarrans & Co. wood builders. Wm. H. Crisp is leasee, who will superintend the stage, scene, and ornamental work. J. WICKERSHAM, President.

CHURCH STRUCK BY LIGHTNING—HOOPS MELTED!—Sabbath before last a violent thunder-storm passed over New Jersey. At Jamesburg, about half past 3 o'clock, the Sabbath school of the Presbyterian Church was holding its meeting in the afternoon, when the fluid struck the building. It entered the roof, making only a small hole, and descended by the chandelier to the centre of the church, where it exploded. Quite a number of adults, as well as children, were prostrated by it, and their clothes burnt. Yet no fatal results followed, although some hours, and even days, followed before perfect restoration took place. But the remarkable feature of it remains to be told, and this is given by a clergyman who received it from one present. It is stated that the ladies who wore brass hoops in their dresses, were uninjured, but the hoops themselves were melted! The electric fluid was thus diffused, and perhaps lives saved by this novel species of conductor.—N. Y. Evangelist.

☞ A very amusing incident took place at the public speaking in Hickman on Tuesday last. The editor of the Times, the Know-Nothing paper, published an account of the speeches, and how Grimes had used Burnett up some three hours before the speaking commenced! Unfortunately for him, Burnett got a copy of the paper, and was cruel enough to read it to his audience.—Paducah Herald.

OBITUARY.

Died, in Memphis Tenn., on the night of the 8th of July, 1857, CHARLES H. FOOTE, in the 26th year of his age.

Thus early fell one of the most gifted of his kind. He was born at Huntsville, Alabama, and remained there until he went to Yale College, where he graduated in 1855. Having studied law in Memphis, he had gone to Arkansas to practice his profession.

Few men were equally endowed by nature. Added to a brilliant and original fancy, he possessed strong and ready powers of perception and a most remarkable memory. Up to the day of his death, he could repeat from memory whole pages of the classics and text-books which he studied at College. With a handsome, and prepossessing person, always semi-manly, frank, polite, scientific and companionable, he was extremely popular, and never failed to challenge the respect of all who met him, and the warm, earnest friendship of all who got to know him. But he was human, and the other man, he had his frailties. If he erred, it was fatal only to himself. It proceeded from those generous, confiding, genial, social qualities of his heart, which, while they are the most ennobling attributes of our nature, sometimes betray us into the most dangerous snares. Had he been more selfish, he had been more secure. He is gone, and his career is ended. A nobler spirit never lived.

"Reduced by Dyspepsia to a mere Skeleton."

CURED BY "BEERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS."

Mr. A. Matchett, a trader, probably as well known as any man in Western Pennsylvania, states as follows: "I met with a farmer in Armstrong county who was reduced by Dyspepsia to a mere skeleton; I persuaded him to buy a bottle of Beerhave's Holland Bitters, believing it would cure him. Meeting him some months after, what was my astonishment at finding him a hale, hearty man; he told me he now weighed 200 pounds, and this wonderful change had been produced by Beerhave's Holland Bitters, to which he attributed solely his restoration."
