THE DAILY APPEAL.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 18, 1857.

MISSING.—One or two numbers of the WEEKLY APPEAL are missing from our office. We will be obliged to those who have them, if they will return them to us.

☞ We are indebted to the officers of the steamer Southerner for late Louisville papers.

☞ Mr. LANDRUM, clerk of the steamer H. D. Newcomb, has placed us under obligations for a package of late New Orleans papers.

☞ Mr. WM. MORIN, agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, returned from his Northern trip on Thursday.

☞ Col. LOCKRIDGE, of Nicaragua fame, was in the city yesterday. We learn he is on his way to New Orleans.

☞ The Hal-on Club, we learn, will meet to-night at Odd Fellows' Hall. We understand there fancy fellows expect to have a grand time of it. We have no objection.

☞ Mr. WM. STEWART, of The Adams Express Company, has our thanks for New York, Philadelphia and Augusta papers, furnished us last evening, in advance of the mail.

☞ One of the attaches of the APPEAL OFFICE returns his thanks to Mrs. B. A. SPEADMAN, near Germantown, for a basket of large ripe plums.

☞ Major LOGWOOD has associated with him in the practice of the Law, Mr. KILPATRICK. Any business entrusted to their care will receive prompt attention. See their card in another column.

GOOD CROPS IN ALABAMA.—A friend who returned yesterday, from a trip to North Alabama, informs us that the corn crop there is very promising, and the cotton, although small, looks well. We have received the same account from other sources.

SENATOR A. G. BROWN, OF MISSISSIPPI.—This distinguished Democrat will address his fellow-citizens of Marshall county, at Holly Springs, on Monday next. There he visits the Eastern counties of the First Congressional District.

FATAL DISEASE IN MISSISSIPPI.—We learn from a private letter received yesterday, that the flux is prevailing to an alarming extent in the vicinity of Water Valley, Yallobusha county. There have been several deaths from it, and some persons affected with it with little hope of recovery.

SUICIDE OF A SLAVE.—A slave belonging to Mr. ESKEW, of Alabama, but employed in a blacksmith shop on the corner of Winchester street and Market Square, committed suicide yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock in the shop, by first cutting his throat with a razor, and afterwards hanging himself with a chain. The negro had been complaining of bad health for several days, but he did not seem to be in a desponding state. He was a very valuable negro, being an excellent workman.

CATOOSA SPRINGS, GA.—We learn that the crowds of visitors that usually visit this popular watering place are commencing to congregate there. It is one of the most quiet and delightful places in the South, and is of easy access for visitors. At one time last season there were 600 or 700 persons at the Catoosa. The accommodations were ample for all. Wish we could be at the watering places nearer home, we must bespeak for these Springs the attention and patronage of our citizens who wish to while away some of these hot summer days.

RIVER, WEATHER, &c.—The river commenced falling yesterday morning, and at dark last evening was receding slowly. Latest advices from St. Louis report the river at that point falling fast. The weather yesterday was clear and oppressively warm. We learn that the steamer Alice, which left this port for the Upper Mississippi early in the week, is hard aground near New Madrid, with little prospect of getting off. The Belfast arrived yesterday morning from Cairo, took on a large number of passengers and considerable freight, and departed for New Orleans at six o'clock last evening.

TENNESSEE FLOUR.—If there was ever any necessity (which only bequeathed) for going beyond the limits of Tennessee to obtain our supplies of flour, it is fast ceasing to exist. Our home mills are beginning to turn out as good an article of flour as can be produced at St. Louis or any other city which may have set up claims to a monopoly in this respect. We are fast learning all the arts for treating wheat so as to produce the prettiest and best article. It will not be long before we will be exporters.

A few days since, Mr. THOS. S. JACKSON, of Galloway, Fayette county, did us the kindness to send us a sample of a half barrel of flour manufactured at his mills, under his supervision. It is purely a Tennessee production (land and all) and is certainly equal to the best up river brands. This superior article is constantly kept for sale in this city by Messrs. TOPP & GOWEN, agents.

FOREIGN DRUGGERS.—We are pained to announce the accidental drowning of a son of Mr. A. S. HANCOCK, merchant of this city, which sad event occurred about five o'clock last evening, while the lad was bathing in the Mississippi river, below the foot of Beal street. It seems that in company with three or four comrades he repaired to the river, at a spot designated by a rock, from which he made a dive into the water, and never arose. His companions gave the alarm, and soon a large number of persons assembled, who endeavored to recover the body by diving and the use of grappling-irons, but up to eight o'clock last night the body had not been found. The parents of the deceased is John HANCOCK, and he was between twelve and thirteen years of age. The family have the sympathies of the entire community in their affliction. At the foot of Beal street there is a very strong eddy, and it was feared his body had been carried off. We trust such will not prove the fact, and that his body will be recovered by his relatives and friends to-day, if not found during last night.

Bank of West Tennessee.

For the Memphis Appeal.

MEMPHIS, EDITORS: The amount of discourtesy, prejudice and jealousy manifested by some of the other Banks of this city, and corporate companies, against this Bank, is truly wonderful. Some of these over-squeamish concerns, who have less credit at home and abroad than she has, are crying her down and refusing to take her money on deposit. We have recently traveled as far North as Boston, and we passed currently and at par for steamboat and railroad fare, hotel bills, for dry goods, &c., the paper of this Bank. It was taken of us in New York and Boston at par, for any and everything, and without a question. But, forsooth, when we arrive at Memphis, and have our dollars of the same sort left, and want to use our passage on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, we are told, "We don't take that money."

We would say to some of these sickly institutions, who are so very tenacious, "Physician, heal thyself."

JUSTICE.

☞ We publish, by request, the following statement of facts made by the Clerk of the Common Law Court, which gave rise, it seems, to the article that appeared recently in the Bulletin, entitled "Hang Young," and exonerating the injured party. Will the Bulletin be the justice to copy it?

"I called on for a statement of the facts as to the testimony before the Common Law Court in the case which is reported in Style and Equity, under the head of 'Hard Times,' I will state that the evidence according to my recollection, substantially as follows:

"Plaintiff contracted to keep the defendant's piano in tune for the sum of five dollars per annum. The plaintiff toned the piano, and received five dollars. He afterwards went to Europe, and during his absence the piano got out of tune. On his return he tuned it a second time, and preferred his bill against the defendant for five dollars, which the defendant refused to pay. The question was tried before Hume F. Hill, Esq., and resulted in favor of the defendant. From this judgment the plaintiff appealed to Court. The jury were not able to agree upon a verdict, and a mistrial was entered in the case."

MARCUS J. WRIGHT, Clerk.

Memphis, June 16, 1857.

DEATH OF MRS. GEN. ZOLLICOFFER.—The community was shocked yesterday morning by the announcement of the death of the wife of our representative in Congress, Gen. F. K. Zollicoffer. Her illness was very brief, and the sad news of her death was the first intimation of it received by many of her most intimate friends.

Gen. Zollicoffer is absent from the city at this writing, attending his appointments in Montgomery and Stewart, though he will probably reach home this morning. The severity of the sudden and heavy bereavement can only be appreciated by the disconsolate husband and his now motherless children. Words of sympathy, however fitly spoken, will fall unheeded upon the grief oppressed heart. Yet we may not be restrained from expressing for this bereaved family, so unexpectedly plunged into the midst of an overwhelming sorrow, on behalf of our whole community, for we feel that we can speak with propriety, the deep-felt and most unfeigned sympathy.—Nashville Banner.

UNION OF THE NORTH AND SOUTH—COURTSHIP BY LETTER.—A marriage has just come to our ears, the circumstances connected with which are somewhat novel, and which, in this extremely matter-of-fact world, we deem worthy of record, says a Cincinnati paper:

Dr. G., a widower, of Nashville, a dentist, was aware that there existed in New Hampshire a young lady by the name of Miss H. He had heard that she was beautiful, and blessed with three qualifications which would make his home a happy one, and supply the place of a mother to his little ones, and he to him all that a helpmate should be. He knew the lady to be respectably connected, having in years passed formed the acquaintance of some of her immediate relatives.

His business was such that it precluded the possibility of his visiting the Granite State, and so he resolved to write to Miss H., acquaint her with his wishes, prospects, etc., and thus commence a correspondence which, in the end, he hoped might secure to him a worthy partner in the path through life. He wrote his first letter; it received a favorable answer; others followed in quick succession, and a proposition was made on Dr. G.'s part that they should meet in this city, and that here the marriage ceremony should take place. Miss H. consented, and on last Tuesday morning both the parties met in this city, at very nearly the same hour, Dr. G. arriving by water, and Miss H. by railroad. According to agreement, they both stopped at the Burnett House, and in a few hours after their arrival, the gallant Doctor sought the presence of Miss H., introduced himself, was pleased with the appearance of his bride that was to be—had no reason to suppose that she was not likewise favorably impressed with his personal qualities—sought out a friend of the firm of J. S. & Co., who was dispatched for the Rev. Dr. F., and in a few hours the twain was made "flesh of one flesh, and bone of one bone," and the day they were comparative strangers saw the wedded pair journeying towards their future home in the city of Nashville.

A MOTHER'S LOVE.—Among the note-worthy incidents of the Montreal disaster, says the Troy (N. Y.) Budget, was the saving of her two children by Mrs. Bloomfield, whose husband is the agent of the Grand Trunk Company at Toronto. She held to a rope with one hand, keeping the head of one child above the water with the other, and holding the other up by fastening her teeth in its dress. So heavy was the load that two of her teeth gave way and were lost, yet she still persisted her hold. At last a boat came towards her, and men were screaming all around her to be taken on board. She could not scream but a man seeing her situation, brought the boat to her, telling them she needed kid men. Then her strength gave way at the prospect of relief and safety, and she sank near drowning ere she could be lifted into the boat. She is a slight delicate woman in appearance, and one wonders how she was able to endure so much.

INTERESTING TO BILL HOLDERS.—The cashier of the Herkimer County (N. Y.) Bank having received yesterday some mutilated bills, on the ground that the names of both the cashier and president were torn off, though the Register's name and the comptroller's stamp were still visible, an appeal was taken to the comptroller, who decided that if the bank must redeem the bills as long as the register's name and stamp were on them.

MELANCHOLY CASUALTY.—On Monday afternoon week, about four o'clock, a sail boat containing eight persons was upset on Roncoverte R. R. lake three of the party were drowned. Their names were Mr. Leslie, of the firm of G. P. Putnam & Co., booksellers; Mr. Porter, of Lane & Porter, Canal street, New York, and Miss Balmer, a niece of Mr. Leslie. The rest of the party were rescued.

☞ At a meeting of the Board of Trustees last Monday, Rev. W. D. Brown, A. B., was elected principal of the Female Department of Jackson College. Alex. Gen. G. J. Pillow was elected President of the Board, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Rev. J. O. Church, D. D.—a position he has filled with ability since the re-organization of the College in 1840.—Columbia Herald.

☞ Capt. ED. BOOKER, clerk of the Belfast, has our thanks for a late St. Louis paper.

NEW YORK DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, JULY 8, 1857.—It can be truthfully stated of trade in the importation. Though the importations have been less than last year at the same period, a larger proportion has been put into the hands of those empowered to buy and sell for home trade. The course of the weather has not favored the trade, which has for little demand in the middle and Western States. About the middle of the month is the usual period for buyers from distant marts to make their appearance, and one preparation will be made for them. It may therefore be expected that the trade in generally the first in order of time; then the South and Southwest; and last the North and Eastern States.

A few buyers are already here looking round, but they are few in number. As a general rule, they are cautious, as never and under have too practically met the difficulties which have befallen them. In no country are more of the business transactions of a speculative character than in this country. Yet in no country are the results of speculation so well understood, and so generally avoided. As never and under have too practically met the difficulties which have befallen them. In no country are more of the business transactions of a speculative character than in this country. Yet in no country are the results of speculation so well understood, and so generally avoided. We observe that more raw silks and manufactures of silks are being exported from Italy. The increased importation of raw silk has injured the manufacturing interest of Lyons. A small reduction in the price of raw silk will be felt in Lyons, in consequence of the increased supply in market.

Prices for the staple cotton goods have not been yet reduced. In consequence of the reduced importation of foreign goods, there is a better supply and assortment of them.

A remarkable feature in the trade is the consumption of the home manufacture. It is evident that the home manufacturing establishments are manifest even to the most unbiased of judges. The crops are most excellent.

The New York papers present a full summary, by months, of the foreign trade at the port of New York, for the first half of the current year, as compared with the trade of the same period last year. Nine-tenths of the trade of the country is done at this port. The import list, though showing the largest aggregate entry of foreign goods ever made in a single 7 months year at New York, by $21,612,000, presents a decrease of $2,000,000 as compared with the same period last year, by $14,000,000, so that the difference left over to pay for the goods, is equal to $24,000,000. The Export list shows a small increase in domestic produce over last year, ($36 being the heaviest ever known) and an increase in the export of specie, though of this about five millions ratio was in foreign specie reexported.

The gross earnings of the Michigan Southern road were $184,000 as against $197,950 same month last year, the decrease arising from the Ohio road diverted $43,323 in the month of June, against $48,788 same month last year.
