☞ Persons leaving Memphis for the summer months, can have the DAILY APPEAL forwarded to any office in the United States, for any required time, by calling at our Counting Room and leaving their address.

☞ Copies of the SUNDAY APPEAL can be had at our counting-room this morning until 9 o'clock.

☞ Rev. PETER HOWELL, the Wandering Missionary, will preach at Court Square today, and 11 o'clock A. M., and at 8 P. M.

☞ Mr. SCUDDER, of the fine steamer Falls City, will accept our thanks for late up river dates.

☞ Mr. WM. STAWART, of the Adams Express Company, has our thanks for late New York, Philadelphia and Atlanta papers, in advance of the mail.

☞ Our obliging friend, WM. D. GILMORE, Esq., Route Agent on the Mississippi river, will please accept our thanks for late St. Louis papers.

☞ As the dog-days approach the Eagle and Enquirer grows desperate. It says that ANDREW JOHNSON is a "dirty dog." We suggest that the editor be snuggled lest he may bite some one.

SASH, DOOR AND BLIND MANUFACTORY. Attention is invited to the advertisement of Mr. J. W. JAMES in to-day's paper. Work turned out from his manufactory will not be inferior to any in the city. Give him a call on Vance street.

☞ We have in our possession a letter written from Bloomington, Kansas, addressed to Mrs. ANNIE O'CONNER, announcing the murder of her husband. The letter can be had by calling on us.

☞ We had the pleasure yesterday of a visit from our old friend, Col. FELIX LABAUVE, of Hernando. He looks as well as usual and twice as natural, since our political skies have got so bright.

DOG LAW.—Citizens will remember that to-morrow, the 27th of July, the dog law will go into force, and all dogs found running at large, without a muzzle and collar on, will be dispatched to another country.

☞ W. A. MCEWEN, Esq., recently an assistant editor of this paper, departed last night on the steamer Southerner for Philadelphia, where he contemplates spending the summer. Mr. MCEWEN is an able writer and a genial gentleman, and we trust that he may meet with that success which he merits. He contemplates returning to this city in the fall.

A NEW CANDIDATE FOR PUBLIC FAVOR.—We invite attention to the card of Dr. BAILEY, of South Carolina, but more recently of Oglethorpe county, Ga., where he established a high reputation for skill and success in his profession. His medical brethren should and will receive him kindly, while the public will accord to him the same confidence which he received in the Atlantic States.

☞ We are pleased to learn that our friend N. B. SANDERS, Esq., has received the appointment from the Postmaster-General of Route Agent on the Mississippi Central Railroad, from Grand Junction to Oxford, Miss. No better appointment could have been made, and we shall hereafter look for regularity and promptness in the mail facilities of the country on this route.

KNOW-NOTHING SPASMS.—The address of the Shelby County Democracy is still producing its wonderful and saving effects. Yesterday one of our city cotemporaries had nine spasms or fits over it. Now that the Know-Nothings have gone into fits regularly, there is some hope of their recovery. What a wonderfully curative quality is there in Democracy properly administered!

CHICKASAW BLUFF.—This company held a meeting night before last, at which the following officers were elected:

Captain—JOSEPH R. WILLIAMS.
1st. Lieutenant—CHARLES CARROLL.
2d. Lieutenant—J. T. KENNON.
3d Lieutenant—E. C. KIRK.
Ensign—W. S. PATTERSON.
Orderly Sergeant—T. L. SEEGOR.
Secretary—THOMAS F. PITTMAN.
Treasurer—D. M. DUBOSE.

MEMPHIS DRY DOCK AND BOAT BUILDING YARD.—It gives us pleasure to learn that Mr. W. B. WEST, of Charleston, has been in the city for several days past engaged in the effort to direct the attention of our capitalists to the establishment of a Dry Dock and Boat Building Yard in Memphis. Such an establishment has been long needed in our city, and it is matter of real astonishment that attention has not been before called to the subject. That such an establishment is absolutely needed for the accommodation of our packets especially, but of the boating interest on the Mississippi generally, cannot be questioned. It is equally clear upon reflection and examination, that the Dry Dock and Boat Building business will pay as much as any other investment that can be made here. Persons familiar with it inform us that when properly conducted, it will yield fifty per cent. Half this amount, however, ought to put it at a premium, when it is considered that in adding to individual profit, so much is contributed to the general weal.

Mr. WEST comes to our city with the most unquestionable testimonials of character and qualification in his profession, and we think it but ordinary civility that our leading citizens should extend to him all the necessary facilities in bringing his enterprise before the public. He is stopping at the Worsham House, where he will be pleased to give his plans to any who feel disposed to embark in the project.

GOV. MADDIN'S DEATH—SINGULAR PRESENTIMENT.—It is generally known that a daughter of Gov. Maddin passed the 4th of July in the family of an acquaintance in this city. She formed one of a circle of friends, including ladies and gentlemen, at the house during the day. While all the others were in cheerful spirits, it was observed in the forenoon that Miss M. appeared to be depressed in mind. So obvious was this to her companions, that it was made the subject of remark, when she said her mind was unaccountably impressed with the fear that a signal calamity had overtaken some members of her family. Early in the afternoon, the news of the death of Gov Marcy reached this city, and it was known to gentlemen composing the party in which Miss M. was some time before it was communicated to her. While the gentlemen were in a room by themselves, discussing the manner of conveying to the daughter the sad intelligence, and before she could by any means have received the least information of the event, she suddenly threw her handkerchief over her face, and, evidently in deep grief, retired alone up-stairs.—Troy Whig, 13th.

SUICIDES IN PARIS.—Among the four thousand five hundred and ninety-five suicides in Paris, recorded during these ten years, three thousand two hundred and fifteen were males, and one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six females—a fact which all the defenders of the dignity of woman are recommended to make a note of and cite, should they ever encounter a "perfect wretch" prejudiced enough to assert that women are not as highly gifted as men with the valuable qualities of reason and common sense.

DEPARTURE OF THE UTAH EXPEDITION.—The chief part of the force destined for Utah has left Fort Leavenworth on its way across the plains. It consists of two regiments of infantry, and the artillery force attached to the expedition. The regiment of dragoons is detained by the authority of Gov. Walker, to save the rearing leaders of the Lawrence insubordination into quiet. It will shortly be released from this service, and join the main army. The expedition is well appointed, and the troops in good health.—St. Louis News.

☞ The sensitive actor who could not sil in the same room with a tea-urn on account of its hissing, has justly been killed by a "burst of applause."

☞ "I am afraid of lightning," muttered a great coward during a storm.

"Well, you may be," sighed a despairing lover, "when your heart is steel."

☞ A lady fixed the following letters to the bottom of her flour barrel, and asked her husband to read them: OICURMT.

Port of Memphis.

Arrivals and Departures.

SATURDAY, July 23.

Mars, New Orleans to St. Louis.
Falls City, St. Louis to New Orleans.
Judah Toupo, St. Louis to New Orleans.
Southerner, Memphis to St. Louis.

River Matters.

The river at this point is receding slowly; it has not yet reached low-water mark, by about six feet, but from reports from the upper rivers we may reasonably think that it will not be long before it will reach that point. Business transactions were very small, as there were but few departures or arrivals.

The weather was very warm in the forenoon—thermometer ranging at 10 A. M. to about 92, but in the afternoon clouds made their appearance and we had several showers which were very cooling.

The fine and well known steamer Northerner will be in port to-night, from Louisville. She will depart to-morrow at her usual hour, 4 P. M., for the above port. We learn from her agent that Capt. Smith intends running her between this place and St. Louis after this trip. She is a boat that has won a high reputation with the traveling community, between this point and Louisville. She has the best of accommodations and as attentive officers as ever trod the deck of a boat. Remember that Mr. Archer will be at her desk to book all passengers for Louisville.

The fine steamer Southerner left our port last evening after the arrival of the cars. She had a good list of passengers, among whom we saw several of our old citizens.

The steamer Woodford, from New Orleans to Louisville, will be here to-day. Persons going North could not procure a better boat.

The Fanny Bullitt was due last night, but had not arrived up to a late hour.

The elegant and fine steamer Belfast is due here this evening from the Crescent City, en route for Cairo, connecting with the Illinois Central Railroad. Persons going East will find this a good opportunity. Messrs. Lavalette, Shirley & Co. are her agents, No. 57 Front Row.

The fleet packet Editor will be here to-morrow from St. Louis, and return on Tuesday evening.

The steamer Hickman, from Cincinnati, is over due.

We copy the following from the St. Louis Leader, of July 23d:

The rivers have not undergone anything of a change since our last report. The Ohio is low, with four feet six inches by the marks mark at Pittsburgh. The Upper Mississippi is falling rapidly, and the Illinois river is also declining. Business about the landing continues tolerably brisk, and the weather is bracing and healthy.

MORTUARY REPORT.—The following is the list of interments for the week ending Saturday, July 25, 1857:

YOUNG AMERICA BENT ON MATRIMONY—OVER "FOURTEEN."—The following appears as a veritable local item in the Detroit Free Press:

A couple of young sprouts of American blood, made their appearance yesterday before Justice Purdy, and requested to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The appearance of the applicants excited some suspicion in their ages, judging from their looks, were about twelve for the lady, and fourteen for the gentleman. They set their ears up to the full mark, however, and claimed a right to demand the performance of the ceremony, the young man twirling a ten-spot around his finger with much nonchalance, as a sort of tacit inducement to the court to proceed without further useless questions. Upon being asked whether they were willing to take their oaths that they were of the necessary ages, they signified assent with much alacrity, and the young lady holding up her hand, the oath was duly administered by "over fourteen." The same performance was about being demanded of the young gentleman, when in walked the paternal ancestors of the two young hopefuls, and a general disconcertion of their plans followed. They were about being led off by the ear to their mammas, when Justice Purdy requested the young lady to explain how she cared to take the oath she had just taken, and which she knew must be false. Nothing disconcerted, she stood stowy, and unlocking a little gaiter, drew out a piece of paper on which was written the word "fourteen." On the strength of this she had sworn that she was "over fourteen." That young lady ought to be made a wife as soon as possible.

HOW FASHIONS CHANGE.—The Philadelphia Bulletin gives the following from a paper published in that city in 1828, which it thus prefaces:

The ladies will be interested in one of the changes of fashion in dress, of which we are reminded by the papers before us. Those were the days of narrow skirts and large bonnets, as these are the days of wide skirts and small bonnets; and the dress of 1828 was as full of squibs about bonnets as the press of 1856 and 1857 has been of squibs about hoops. For instance, an English paper is credited with the following account of the fashionable dress of a large bonnet: A lady was walking on a cliff at Margate with a child, when her bonnet flew into the sea; the lady starting to save it, fell, dragging her insant with her into the ocean; fortunately she and her child fell into the middle of the bonnet, when the lady using her parasol by way of a scull, paddled merrily ashore to the great admiration of the spectators. In another number of the Bulletin, of 1828, occurs the following:

LADIES' BONNETS.—A correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce humbly requests the ladies to adopt a church-going bonnet, whose modest size shall enable men of ordinary height, who may happen to sit behind them, to see as well as hear the preacher. He says: "I stand in my shoes within a line of six feet high, and yet I do assure you that in church, where every seat is elevated above the preceding one, I am greatly annoyed by the towering and outspreading masses of sable, velvet and satin in the pew before me; many a time have I stretched my neck or di-pressed my neck to accomodate it to the loopholes which presented themselves between some of the wide mill wings or of opinion gallant sails of an opaque bonnet; but when just as I had attained a clear, though a minute view of the clergyman, an unaccountable bob of the head would throw the ringing out of trim, and me entirely out of sight of the subject. There is another disadvantage in the new mode of ladies' hats—only about two of them can descend the aisle together, three or four can but occupy a seat which formerly held six comfortably, unless pains are taken to bend the brims of their bonnets up to their neighbor's ears, and in this case one of those bobs of the head, which I have described, makes a great commotion of feathers and a vast derangement of satin."

Appetite and Strength Restored.

WILLIAM YOUNG, of South Pittsburgh, says: "After having suffered severely for several days with a most distressing attack of Diarrhœa, I purchased a bottle of BERNAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS. It gradually checked the disease, and restored my bowels to perfect order. Before I had finished the bottle, I found my appetite and strength returning. I believe it worthy of the character you give it, and shall recommend it as such."
