THE DAILY APPEAL.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 29, 1857.

$20 REWARD.

The first and second bound volumes of the WEEKLY APPEAL are missing from our office. They are the only bound volumes of this paper now extant. We will give the above reward for their discovery and delivery at our office, or we will give ten dollars for either of the volumes.

☞ All persons having books belonging to the APPEAL Library, are requested to return them, and all persons are requested not to ask for the loan of books hereafter, as no such request can be complied with.

☞ Mr. ED. BOOKER, of the fine steamer Belfast, will please accept our thanks for late favors.

☞ During the storm on Monday evening last, a tree was blown down which fell on the Fair Grounds near Dr. BAGBY'S. All the damage done will soon be repaired.

☞ See the advertisement of the old and popular Drug establishment of H. F. FARNSWORTH & Co. All the articles sold by them are fresh and under full guaranty.

☞ The Rev. Mr. MACPHERSON will fill the pulpit of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, during the absence of the Rev. A. M. BEVAN, its excellent pastor.

☞ A revival of religion is now going on at Asbury Chapel in this city. The meeting has been in progress since Sunday last, and continues with prospects of future good. Divine services are held every night.

☞ The first Annual Catalogue of the "Young Ladies' Collegiate Institute," Forest Hill, Tennessee, has been received. We notice that at the close of the present session, there were one hundred and one students in attendance.

HEALTH OF MEMPHIS.—One of our oldest practitioners said to us yesterday, that during a residence of a number of years, he had never known the general health of the city to be better than at present. There are but few cases of disease of any kind, and they readily yield to medical treatment.

TOM AVERY AT MEMPHIS.—To-night, at Odd-Fellows Hall, TOM AVERY meets his competitor for Congressional honors. Go out to hear him, and to see how this little David of Democracy with his pebble and his sling can slay the Captain of the Know-Nothing battalions. Let us give him such a welcome as shall show our appreciation of him as a man and as the standard-bearer of the all conquering Democracy.

☞ The crops almost everywhere throughout the country promise a glorious harvest. From Pennsylvania we have accounts of a probable fine yield of wheat. In Ohio, the harvest, it is said, will be very heavy, and in Virginia far better than was expected. In Iowa and Illinois the crops of all kinds are growing luxuriantly, and the prospects of the farmers were never better.

DUE LAW.—It is difficult to estimate the value of a faithful dog. The ordinance of the city for killing dogs went into operation day before yesterday. We do not know what its precise character is, as so many and various enactments have been made upon the subject. But we can at least advise all persons owning valuable dogs to keep them within their inclosures, until the blood-thirsty season has passed away.

☞ We regret to learn that the wind, day before yesterday, blew down the plank enclosure of the Fair Ground. Every foot of plank, with the exception of the Judges' stand, was leveled with the ground. This will not, we presume, interfere with the progress of the work, or the Fair to come off in October. The managers and contractors will only have to redouble their energies, which, we have no doubt, they will do.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Our large Daily enables us to display in fine style the favors of our advertising friends. In anticipation of the coming business season, which, from present appearances, promises to be unusually prosperous, we should be pleased to make contracts for advertisements. When carried through our various editions, they will be extensively read in Tennessee, Mississippi, North Alabama and Arkansas, where our circulation is believed to exceed any other paper.

DUEL.—We understand that Hon. H. S. Bennet left home this week to invite the editor of the Vicksburg Whig across the line. Cause—an article which appeared in the Whig of the 10th, reflecting somewhat severely on the Honorable gentleman.—Coffeeville Intelligencer, July 25.

We observe in the Vicksburg Whig of the 25th inst., the correspondence between Col. N. HOWARD (the mutual friend of the parties) and the editor of the Vicksburg Whig, from which it appears that the difficulty has been satisfactorily adjusted without the shedding of blood.

GIVING UP THE GHOST.—In their great extremity the Know-Nothings have pressed JOHN TIMOTHY TRZEVANT into the field. He is not only writing in the Enquirer over his own signature, but appointments have actually been made for him to address the people of this region of the State. It has often been remarked that he could by his wonderful powers as an orator disperse a crowd sooner than the reading of the riot act. The announcement, therefore, that he has entered the arena, will be regarded as a voluntary advertisement of impending defeat. He lost the power to injure the Democratic party when he left it for his Know-Nothing idols.

THE NEW THEATRE.—Mr. CRISP, of the New Orleans "Gaiety," has leased the new Theatre, having executed all the necessary papers to entitle him to it. The report, therefore, that any other person is negotiating for it, is without foundation. It may not be amiss here to say that the building is rapidly progressing. The walls will be completed in eight or ten days.

We also learn the scene-painter and stage-carpenter, have commenced their work, so that there can be no doubt that the building will be ready for Mr. CRISP'S Company by the first of October. We learn that it is his intention to open it with a splendid Opera Troupe.

RECEPTION OF MR. STEPHENS.—Our Know-Nothing friends, with the aid of a band of music and some of their flash speakers, offered Mr. STEPHENS, their candidate for Congress, a reception last night. He was escorted from the depot to Court Square, where he was addressed by Gen. HAYNES. He replied, we learn, in a brief and appropriate address. The crowd, (not too large to be accommodated on Court Square,) then clamored for more speaking. Dr. HOLLAND and Gen. FRAZIER responded in their usual style. The latter was still addressing the crowd when we left to make this brief and imperfect sketch.

These honors are appropriate enough; at least they are harmless. So far from complaining of them, we think they are due to the service which Mr. STEPHENS is rendering his party. The honor the Democracy intend to pay TOM AVERY will be those of substantial success; a triumph at the polls, which will make him a Representative in Congress, not before but after the election. And will not his heels of ardent friends in Memphis help us to do it?

INTERESTING SURGICAL OPERATION.—Last Saturday, at the "Philadelphia College of Medicine," Dr. William S. Halsey, Professor of Surgery in that institution, during the clinique, removed nearly the whole of the nose of a lady, on account of a cancerous tumor which occupied nearly the whole of that important organ. After cutting off the diseased part, he dissected up a piece of the skin of the proper size and shape from the forehead, and transplanted it in the place from which the nose was taken, thus forming an entire new nose. Having been etherized, the patient was unconscious of the operation. We understand that the lady is from the lower part of the city and that the operation is likely to prove successful. Such is one of the accomplishments of modern surgery.—Philadelphia Journal.

A TREE CONSURED BY SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION.—A singular occurrence took place a few days ago, at Chesterfield, Virginia. In a field adjoining a large meadow, smoke was seen issuing from the decayed part of a beautiful tree, as we have learned, and immediately afterwards, flames were observable, although it was noonday. With great difficulty they were subdued. In a short time afterwards, the body of another tree in the same field was discovered to be on fire, and defied every exertion that was made to save it; the flames encircled the whole body, until the tree broke off about six feet up. From what cause the fire originated, remains a mystery.—South Side Democrat.

GEN. WALKER.—The Mobile Register announces the arrival of Gen. Walker in that city on Tuesday last, and says he was waited upon at the Battle House, where he took up his quarters, by a large number of influential citizens. At their request he was to address the citizens last evening on the general subject of Nicaraguan affairs. The Tribune understands that Gen. Walker will remain in Mobile two or three days, and then proceed onward as far north as Richmond, Va., stopping at the principal places on the route.—N. O. Picayune, July 22.

☞ The New York Tribune estimates the capital belonging to New York, and employed in the African slave trade, at $3,000,000, and the annual profit at $17,000,000.

Port of Memphis.

River Matters.

The river at this point continues to recede slowly. There were but few business transactions at the wharf, as there were only two arrivals and two departures. There are several boats at the wharf, but they have laid up, on account of freights being so scarce. The weather is quite changeable, and somewhat difficult to keep note of.

The fine steamer Belfast, from New Orleans, took moorings at the foot of Monroe street landing, and after discharging a lot of India bagging, lime, groceries, &c., left for Cairo. She will return to-morrow evening, bound for the Crescent City. She is an excellent passenger-boat, and a berth on her down the river would be very pleasant. Messrs. Lavalliette, Shirley & Co., are her agents, No. 57 Front Row.

The fleet packet Editor left for St. Louis with a good lot of freight and passengers.

The new steamer Rodolph is the next packet due from St. Louis.

The fleet packet Winchester may be looked for at the wharf to-morrow evening.

The fine steamer T. C. Twitchell is the next boat due from New Orleans. She will be here this morning en route for St. Louis. Messrs. Davis, Williams & Co. are her agents, No. 3 Howard's Row.

The Kate Frisbie, ever punctual to the hour, will be in port this evening from Napoleon. She has become so popular in this trade that she always come in crowded with passengers.

We clip the following from the Paducah Herald of the 23d:

"Tuesday evening the weather became quite cool, and a bracing atmosphere prevailed yesterday. Were it not for these occasional respites from the heat of summer, we should inevitably 'dry up.'

"The river has not changed materially at the head of the falls for two or three days. In the canal there are scant four and a-half feet water, and on the falls two feet.

"In the canal near to Cincinnati, the water is getting quite low, with not over five feet two inches on the falls.

"Along the lower Ohio the water is falling fast, the J. W. Cheesman, the last arrival, reporting less than six feet water in the river. She arrived from St. Louis last evening, and reports the Empire City on the head of Cottonwood, laid up, and laid out."

To the Editors of the Appeal:

Hearing it rumored that the steamer Northerner is going to St. Louis, I take this method of stating she will run to LOUISVILLE as long as the water in the Ohio permits, which will be at least three or four weeks, and, quite likely, all the summer. Yours, truly,

JAS. F. SMITH.

The Disaster at the Flume House.

Correspondence of the New York Times.]

FLUME HOUSE, FRANCONIA MOUNTAINS, Monday, July 20, 1857.

A mournful calamity happened on Saturday afternoon at the "Flume House," in the White Mountains. The steam-saw mill was struck by lightning about five o'clock, killing outright Mr. Blanden, the clerk, and Mr. W. H. Smith, of Boston, the latter having just arrived. Others were injured, among whom, and most seriously, was Mr. Tyler, the proprietor of the house. The fluid passed from the flag-staff to the bell-wires, which it followed through the immense building from room to room, melting the wires, tearing away the casings of the windows, breaking the wall and delivering its way out of the building in many different places. In the parlor it leaped from the walls to the gilt picture frames, and after tarnishing them sped its fearful path of death and sorrow. Not a bell-wire can be used.

Had the house been crowded, as it often is, the destruction of life must have been immense. As it was, the escape of those who were struck down is almost miraculous. A boy belonging to the house was standing with the clerk, within the desk or counter, and although very much hurt, escaped with his life. Two brothers Kellogg, sitting with their backs towards the building, were felled, the fluid passing from a nail in the building, burning a hole in the coat of one of them, and following his watch-chain, partially melted it. Their sister was literally burned. Mrs. Hatch was thrown to the floor in the upper hall, having just crossed the threshold of her room, in which the fluid passed from the bell-wire to the bedstead, snapping off one of the legs and tearing up the floor. Rev. Mr. Romyn was struck down to the floor in unconsciousness while conversing with Mr. Smith, who was killed at his side.

Thus within twelve feet five were prostrated and two instantly killed. A sudder Saturday evening and Sabbath have perhaps never been passed at that place—the afternoon and night of the Sabbath being a season of terror, as the dark thunder-clouds gathered anew and lightnings burst forth again.

This is a novel feature in the history of the White Mountain public homes. Because of the peaks near by no danger was ever apprehended. Perhaps years again will pass before another such calamity shall befall the visitors there. God spare the repetition of such scenes as were witnessed there, as two young, happy wives were in the twinkling of an eye made weeping widows, one alone, amidst strangers, distant from her home and friends.

CROPS IN IRELAND.—The Irish journals North, South, East, and even from the far West of Ireland, unite in the highest terms of the farmers' prospects. Agriculturists are unanimous in stating that the crops never bore a more encouraging appearance in any season within memory.

MARRIED,

On the evening of July 25th, at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. J. W. Knott, Mr. T. B. McEWEN to Miss ANNIE M. OWEN, all of this city.

[Accompanying the above announcement, there came a beautiful supply of "good cheer" to editor and make-up table. Be it so, Mr. McEwen, and your partner, who, though deprived of much of the pleasures of this life himself by the demands of his vocation, is ever ready to rejoice feelingly at the happiness of others. And, as he laid him down upon his lonely couch last night, he forgot not in his silent prayer to Heaven, to ask that the wedded life of the happy pair, who were so kindly in their remembrance of him, might be a season of sunshine and bliss, without a shade to darken the pathway of their bright career. So mote it be.]

THE numerous parties who have purchased from us RICH'S SAFES, made by Jenkins & Marble, are particularly interested in every result testing their fire proof qualities. We therefore invite every purchaser, and the public generally, to an inspection of Mr. S. Middleton' Safe as taken from the ruins of his store, consumed Thursday morning, June 18.

Although the books and other valuables were removed from the Safe previous to its abandonment to the burning building yet the two inner doors of the Safe were unharmed and perfect condition of the interior, as satisfactorily establishes its superior Fire-Proof qualities as though the books had been allowed to remain.

The Safe referred to may be seen at the sale rooms, in rear of our store, Nos. 12 and 14 Front Row, at the "Memphis City Mills."
