THE DAILY APPEAL.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 1, 1857.

☞ To the clerk of the New Uncle Sam, we are indebted for late St. Louis papers.

☞ The steamer Northerner has obligingly furnished us with late papers.

☞ The Adams' Express Company is ever furnishing us with the latest intelligence, for which they have our thanks.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. JOHN BLOUNT, who fell from the balcony of a hotel in Holly Springs on Friday last, has since died from his wounds.

☞ The Editor, which arrived last night, brought us papers from St. Louis of the 29th ult. She returns this evening to that port.

☞ Our old friend, Mr. Q. K. UNDERWOOD, of the Helena Shield, paid us a visit yesterday, being en route for Nashville.

☞ HARDING'S Panorama of Odd Fellows' Hall attracts large audiences each evening. It is both interesting and amusing, and deserves the liberal patronage its receives.

☞ Our friend Mr. WM. RODGERS, Merchant Tailor, on Jefferson street, who has just returned from the East, has our thanks for late New York papers.

☞ W. W. HODGE, Esq., of the firm of DAVIS, WILLIAMS & Co., is very kind in furnishing us with late papers. We esteem him as a good friend unto the APPEAL.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION.—The funds of the above association will positively be loaned to-night at Esq. HORNE's office. No postponement on account of weather. All ye who want money hear this in mind.

☞ Messrs. J. B. SHARPE & Co., No. 23 Front Row, dealers in Virginia tobacco, cigars, &c., have favored us with a sample of their Rough and Ready tobacco, which is very superior in quality. We can recommend it to the quid fraternity.

NEW COTTON AT CHARLESTON.—The Courier, of the 28th instant, says that the first bale of new cotton which reached Charleston this season was received on the 27th instant from Lewisville, on the Columbia branch of the South Carolina Railroad.

☞ Our good friend, JOHN WILKERSON—whilom of this Democratic corporation—pounced upon us last night like a fresh as in the days of old "Lang Syne," when we twain plucked blackberries from a bush where we now write. Welcome!

☞ We call the attention of the readers of the APPEAL to the notice of Messrs. POPE & BROS., to be found in another column. We are persuaded that any one dealing with them will be satisfied with the cordial recommendation which we now give. Long may they wave.

☞ The revival at Asbury Chapel will be continued this evening and throughout the entire week. It was thought, by the ministry, to take some respite from their labor, but such was the interest manifested in the meetings, that they have determined to continue them.

☞ The Rev. A. M. BEVAN, of this city, received the degree of D. D., from the Cumberland Presbyterian College at Lebanon, at the late Commencement of that institution. Such honor is well deserved, and will be suitably borne by this able, eloquent and exemplary Divine.

☞ We take pleasure in calling the attention of the public, and our planting friends in particular, to the card of Messrs. GRAY & FARMER, who have formed a partnership in the Commission business. They are well known to the public as clever gentlemen and reliable business men.

CITY COUNCIL.—A regular meeting of this body will be held this evening at 7 o'clock. We are requested to state that the Improvement Committee are called to meet this morning at 8 o'clock, in the office of Messrs. Copeland, Edmonds & Co., on Front Row.

DISAPPEARED.—On Friday morning last, says our evening cotemporary, Wm. Jestes left his boarding house, in the upper part of the city, to go to his work—he being employed in a blacksmith shop—since which time he has not been seen or heard from by his wife, who is much distressed on account of his absence. Jestes is about six feet high, spare made, has black hair and eyes, dark side whiskers, a crooked finger on each hand, and is about 26 years of age. He had on when he left, white coat, pants and shirt, and a low crowned black hat; having with him, besides, a pair of blue cotton pants and a white shirt. He had been in the city with his wife about two weeks—coming from Napoleon, Ark. Any information as to his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his wife, Margaret Jestes, at Mrs. Polk's on Jackson street.

☞ Mr. H. F. CUMMINS, editor of the Paris Sentinel, is now stopping at the Worsham House, and will wait upon our leading merchants in the course of the next day or two, with the view of soliciting advertising for his journal, which has an extensive circulation in the northern counties of Tennessee. The Memphis and Ohio Railroad is now under contract to Paris, and when completed will bring a large addition of trade to Memphis from that rich region. Our merchants would consult their true interest by making know their business through the local journals and thus securing a trade for which St. Louis and Louisville are strongly competing, but which legitimately belongs here.

THE HERNANDO CAMP MEETING.—Several hundred of our citizens attended this meeting on Sunday last and were very much pleased with their visit. Preparations had been made by the citizens of the neighborhood to entertain the vast multitude that assembled, and had the number been as large again, they would have been provided for equally as well.

The missionary sermon at 11 o'clock was delivered by Rev. W. C. ROAS, Presiding Elder, and had the desired effect of raising contributions for the cause for eign missions. The afternoon sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. SPEER, which was listened to by an attentive audience. Altogether the visit to the Hernando Camp Ground will long be remembered by those of our citizens who were fortunate enough to attend. Long may the good people of DeSoto live and have camp meetings every year.

PAGRABLE HOMICIDE.—The particulars of a very tragic affair which occured on Sunday night, is thus recounted by the Evening News: We have heard nothing, after the most diligent inquiry, contrary to the facts here detailed: A man named SLIDER was shot last night, on Shelby street near Trezevant, by another named JAMES R. POLLOCK. The weapons used was a pistol, and the ball entered the stomach. There was an unsettled difficulty between the parties, the origin and progress of which has been related to us. It appears that they have both been paying court at the shrine of a young woman who resides on Poplar street, with whom POLLOCK had exchanged daguerreotypes and perhaps other tokens of reciprocal affection and confidence. But, as "the couse of true love never does run smooth," a misunderstanding of some sort arose between them, upon which POLLOCK demanded the return of his pictured semblances. The lady complied, though, at the time of giving him possession, she took occasion to express her opinion that he was "no part of a gentleman." POLLOCK replied that he could not strike a woman, but if any male friend would take her part he would resent the insult. SLIDER, who was present, remarked that he would stand for the lady. POLLOCK then drew upon him, but the interference of by-standers prevented a collision.

The parties did not meet again until last night, when POLLOCK escorted a lady home from church who lived on Shelby street, SLIDER and a friend being in advance of them. Just past the house where the lady resided, SLIDER halted, and when the lady entered he called to POLLOCK that he wished to speak with him, advancing towards him at the time. POLLOCK told him to stand back, and he stopped, when P. fired upon him. After the shooting POLLOCK entered the house and remained a few minutes, when he left and has not since been heard from. The wounded man is expected to die hourly.

POLLOCK was in the employ of Dr. Y. A. CARR, learning the daguerreotyping business. He came from Washington county, Ark. SLIDER was a blacksmith, in the employ of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad Company. He was a German.

Up to the very latest hour of going to press POLLOCK had not been arrested. The wounded man now lies in a hopeless condition at a house on Trezevant street, near the river. Dr. KELLER is his attending physician. The wounds are in the abdomen and under the left arm.

☞ We direct attention to the card of Messrs. CARSON, SEARNOCK & JONES, who have added to their former business that of Cotton Factors and Commission Merchants. The members of this firm are all citizens, active and capable business men and merit public confidence. dk w1w.

River Matters.

We have nothing of interest to report as regards the condition of the river at this point. Yesterday there was more than usual animation at the wharf, caused by the arrival of several packets, and the discharging and receiving of their freight.

The Ben Franklin arrived late on Sunday night, and after discharging a good freight passed on to Cairo.

The Belfast will be in port this morning for New Orleans.

The Kate Frisbee, as usual and punctual, left last evening for Napoleon, with a good freight and numerous passengers.

The new Uncle Sam which passed down yesterday, furnished us with late dates from St. Louis, for which the clerk will accept our thanks.

We are not advised of the boats that may be down-to-day, or up, but passengers here awaiting transhipment, may rest assured of a good boat.

The St. Louis Republican, of the 28th ult., gives the following as the condition of the rivers in that quarter:

THE RIVERS, &c.—The river at this point is about stationary, with a little over seven feet in the channel hence to Cairo. The upper rivers are about in the same condition as last reported. The Upper Mississippi is stationary with thirty inches water on the Lower Rapids. The Missouri is at a stand with four feet in the channel. The Illinois is reported at five feet scant on Bellefontaine Bar. Arrivals were scarce yesterday and business dull. The weather is fine and cool.

From the Louisville Courier, of the 27th ult., we take the following:

"The river was still rising a little yesterday, with thirty-two inches water on the Falls in the evening. In the Canal there were five feet seven inches water, a rise of about an inch only in twenty-four hours. The weather yesterday was sultry, rainy and cloudy all day, with every prospect of continued rains last night.

"The river hence to Cincinnati continues at a good stage—we fully eight feet water in the channel, enough for all useful purposes."

The Cumberland was falling Tuesday with only twenty-two inches water at Nashville.

THE DAVID WHITE.—This famous packet is advertised to resume her trips in the New Orleans trade next Monday week, the 7th of September. She is now laid up at Portland, where she has thoroughly refitted.

The fleet-flyer Alexis Adams, as we learn from Captain Stirley, leaves Paducah on Sunday, and will be here in time to start to St. Louis on the following Friday, her regular day. She has been overhauled, refitted and repaired at Paducah.

The Fashion, in full repair, leaves St. Louis on Monday next for this port. She will then go to Memphis as a regular Louisville and Memphis packet.

The river trade this week has been excessively dull, with far less arrivals and departures of boats than we have yet had this season.

The Pittsburgh Post says:

There is but little change to notice in the river, it being still falling very slowly, with nearly four feet in the channel. The weather yesterday was quite warm. Business on the wharf was slightly improved.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, of the 28th ult., has the following:

The continued showers of yesterday tended to infuse with business on the river, and consequently but little excitement prevailed there. The packets arrived and departed with fair loads, of both freight and passengers, but the transient boats did but little. The river continues to fall, yet there is plenty of water for all boats offering.

☞ The fire which occurred on Saturday night, destroyed the stable of Mr. MICHAEL MAGUVNEY, on Market street. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

MARRIED.

On the 30th inst., at Somerville, Tennessee, by Bishop NEEND, J. W. BONDURANT to REBECCA R., second daughter of Reuben Owen, Esq.

DIED.

On the 20th inst., Mr JONAS RAMOUR, in the 64th year of his age.

For many years he had been a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church. The greater part of his life was spent in Lincoln county, North Carolina, where he sustained an unblemished reputation as a Christian and as a citizen. In the year 1845 he emigrated to the neighborhood of Lexington, Marshall county, Mississippi, where he continued till his death. Mr. RAMOUR was a man of unusually amiable character. He was "an Israel in deed," and none dare tell the sincerity of his profession as a Christian. He was an honored member of the Church. So deep would he sunk, to but few trouble if composed of such men as JONAS RAMOUR. He has left behind him a family who know how to appreciate his virtues, and sensibly feel the loss of his counsels, example and society. Such was the gentleness of the divine spirit which permeated his life, that he did not to much extent express his feelings, yet satisfied his friends that death was not an enemy to him. The Christian religion made him confident in life, and qualified him for the enjoyment in time or eternity. A life of piety furnished solid evidence of his preparation for death. A. H. C.

Commercial Matters.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, TUESDAY, September 1, 1857.

We have to report a continued decrease of market interest in our last statement, and very little has transpired of more than momentary interest. In some departments a more than usual activity has been manifested, but no thing extraordinary. The foreign arrivals for the week cause all further decline in breadstuffs. This news coupled with increasing receipts and the renewal of all doubts as to the injurious effects of the late rains upon the crops, has had a great chill upon the Wheat market, and all grades have rapidly declined. Flour is less in demand, but now sales transpiring, and those at a decline.

It cannot be denied but that the late rains and cool nights have had a very deteriorating effect upon the Cotton crop, and unless we have several months of clear, warm weather before frost, a very diminished yield may be expected. The weather yesterday would seem to indicate a realization of the hope, and planters are encouraging in their anticipations.

Many of our merchants are returning from making their Eastern purchases, and the day sounds trade with much spirit. Dealers anticipate a large and satisfactory business. Payments will soon commence and be much better as soon as farmers begin to realize fully upon their crops.

The Money market continues to exhibit great stringency. This great stringency is but relieved by our partiality for trying of accommodation on the part of the banks. Money is scarce at ten (10) per cent, and many have been somewhat checked by the late disasters in the principal lines of the East. The suspension of the Agricultural Bank at Brownsville, was announced last week. The Bulletin, of this city, says it promises to be a complete failure, owing to the stupidity of A. J. STEVENS, of Dr. S. Moore, Iowa, who was a large stockholder, and entrusted with a large amount of the assets, which he has been presented by him at Des Moines and Chicago. The loss here will be trifling, as the Machine and Directors, unanimately on learning the failure of STEVENS took steps to have the business transferred to for reorganization, and to pay off their depositors. The loss will fall mainly upon the people of Iowa, who will share in the misfortune, or the fraud, of one of their most eminent, Mr. STEVENS.

The pressure on borrowers in the New York market was increasing at the end of last week, and probably continues up to the present time. The banks had begun to draw in their call loans, under the influence of apprehension caused by large outgoes of specie, increased arrivals of gold from California, and the apparently undue expansion of the credit system. The Boston Post says it is a fact, the Courier remarked that prime paper was quoted at 10 to 12 per cent, while the paper of some of the leading houses sold in the street at from 1½ to 1¾ per cent. a month.

As regards the Ohio Life and Trust Company, whose principal business was in New York, we are informed that it is not now retaining the important institution in its name. It has been the depository for many of the West-ern banks in Ohio and Indiana, and other Western states, but not to the same extent now as formerly.

The affairs of the Bank and of the private bankers mentioned is probably connected with losses in stock operations, though it has been suggested that we may soon hear of some ominous derelection and breach of trust in the bank as the cause of the disaster.

The announcement of the closing of so many of the New England factories on account of the high price of Cotton, is being followed by other so. The Directors of the Mendon (Mass.) Cotton Mill, as a late meeting, decided to close as soon as the supply of yarn on hand is exhausted, which will be in a few or three weeks. The great increase in the cost of Cotton makes it impossible to keep the mill in operation except at a loss. The Company employs about three hundred operatives, who will of course be thrown out of work by the stoppage of the mills.

Eastern exchange continues to be scarce and great difficulty is experienced in meeting the demand. Buyers of exchange have to submit to outside rates, and even then business are slow to sell. We quote sight bills on New York ¾ to 1¼ prem., and New Orleans par to ¼ prem.

We have carefully corrected from the most reliable sources the following quotations, which may be relied upon as fairly representing the prices for the articles enumerated. In the Cotton market nothing worthy of note has transpired, and we do not deem it necessary to give the figures; 12 to 15c. per pound for the qualities in request is about as near correct as the figures can be attained.

HIDE AND LEATHER MARKET, reported and corrected weekly by A. H. RISK

Receive Hides continuing to market, the rate the demand for all qualities is brisk. We quote Dry Flint at 16@17c.; Dry Salted 14@15c; Green 7c; Green Salted 8½@9c. There has been within the week past, a decline of from 1½ to 2½c. ⅌ ℔ on Hides in the Eastern markets, but this decline has not materially affect the Western and Southern market.

Leather is quotable at the following quotations: Oak Sole 38@42c; Harness 34@38c; Skirting 41@42c; Hem. Sole 34@38c; Calf Skins $28@36 ⅌ dozen.

DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York papers of 31 ult. contain very full reports of transactions in dry goods for the week ending at that date. Trade is represented as irregular, but active. The Express says:

Messrs. Hagerty & Co. offer a catalogue of on sale to-day, consisting principally of linens. The sale was well attended and quite animated, and the buyers on some of the goods quite brisk.

There was more demand for the trade, and the enterprise was more largely now than the previous one. The prices throughout also show a slight improvement on the previous sales.

The goods were principally of the manufacture of John Graham and the Washington Mills. We noticed among the company many of the largest buyers in the trade.

The goods sold as follows: The 3-4 Cotton Damasks Vesting at high 28¾; the 8 plain Venetians, 13½@15c. The superfine cotton, as we have received, of the manufacture of the Washington Mills, 5@6½c.

The extra super linganet, of another make, brought 6½, and some few pieces of the same kind of goods—only different style and quality—sold at 5½@6c.

The extra fine linganet, of John Graham's manufacture, was in good demand, and quite sought from the trade, and some extra fine linganet, well finished, 5½@5¾c.

We could perceive no material change in the market for the week past, and the business done, considered with the previous week, quantity both consumed and distributed at New York, will probably be found equal to the previous week as ever before, but perhaps has not increased in the state that the progress in other departments of business indicated.

FOREIGN GOODS.

The Importations continue full, a little over two and a half millions of the whole week, being heavier by half than the preceding week, and about as much below the corresponding week of 1856. The epidemic fever rages. Should it proportionate a similar decline for a very short time only, prices would be enhanced materially. In view of this large store now before us, we refer, briefly, to the very high price of all raw material; but on the other hand, if the importer are unexpectedly kept up to a large stock, prices will inevitably decline. If imports should continue at the present rate, the impolicy of the importation was not checked or a bounty set for the season.

Choice dress fabrics, especially new styles of printed goods, have been taken freely, and in the hands the assortments are now broken. Woolen goods German all wool, worsteds and mixed all sold well. There appears to be a large stock of worsted and cotton goods, in a great variety of styles, such as cloc-cloths or bayadeas and others; also in mixed fabrics, wool and silk, at hand and on the way. Silk goods, plain and fancy, are in some sources at holding back, expecting a decline, but the largest holders are most sanguine that prices will be sustained, as there is scarcely anything that can be produced at a less than the cost of what is now in hand.

French and German Merinoes, solid colors, are freely offered at prices which seem to have set the auction prices, and now, with few buyers, the percentage with printed figures, and embroidered and worked flounc-ing, have gone higher. There is inquiry for the latter at a rise of 25 per cent, for cotton jobbing; none have been forced on the market.

The high cost of fibres has prevented much being done in them.

The lower grades of plain black silks remain inactive, though offered below the present cost.

Fine velvet Ventinas continue in good demand, but with scanty pay a profit on their very high cost. The inferior qualities of Fancy Velvets of German manufacture are not wanted. Grenadine and a few of Ventinas are in demand, but we have small stocks. Important for Christmas trade, the prominent patterns will bring cost, except in small quantities.

The assortments of cashmeres on the market are large. Some very low priced and most all plain goods are quotable a nominal in jobbing price. Fine Blue Black continue in request.

Italian Cloths, Satin and mode colors for linings, all well, and high colors continue scarce.

ENGLISH MARKETS.

PER ARABIA.] HALIFAX, August 29

LONDON MONEY MARKET.—Rating's Act is expected to be 10th, reports the money market as being actively without change. The Bank no loans was considered favorable, and the East India company had raised the rates of bills, owing to the reported loss of its tea ship.

The London Times reports more buoyancy in the Stock Exchange during the past week. Consols for money closed at 93¾@93¾, for the account, and 93¾@93¾ for account.

American securities were inactive.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—The circulars report the cotton market as 1-16d. higher than last quotations. Sales during the week have been nearly 41,000 bales, for using 7000 bales taken by speculators and exporters. The estimated value of Friday the 14th, were 8000 bales, of which almost one-fourth and speculators of 1000 bales. The following are the estimated quotations: Orleans Fair 6¾; Middling 6¼; Middling Fair 6¾; Middling 5-8-ths; Upland Fair 6¼; Middling 6¼. The crop in part is estimated at 472,000 bales of which 250,000 bales are American.

BREADSTUFFS.—The wheat has been unfavorable for cropping in spite of an adverse report on wheat and flour continued to be sold at 1½d.

Richardson, Spence & Co's circular reports breadstuffs closed with an advancing tendency, owing to early rains, which had injured the crop. Flour is 6d higher, and wheat has advanced 2d to 3d, with a firm market. The advance in wheat was chiefly on the fine qualities.

Corn is 1-2d higher, with a fair demand.

Flour—Western Canal 29s; Ohio 32s. 6d; Southern 33s. 6d; to 34s. 6d.

Wheat—Red 8s. 1d. to 8s. 9d.; white 9s. 3d. to 10s.

Corn—Mixed 36s. 6d. to 37s.; White 40s. 6d.; yellow 39s. 6d. to 40s.

The breadstuff market continued buoyant on Saturday.

PROVISION MARKET.—Circulars report the market closed with a steady and quiet demand. The pork trade quiet. Lard firm, but quiet at 7s. Tallow—There was a big speculative inquiry at 47s. 6d. for prime P. M. C. Sales of American at 47s. 6d.

PRODUCE MARKET.—Sugar dull and 6d lower. Rice brought 4s. 6d@5s. 6d. for common, and 16s for fine. Coffee quiet. Linseed oil 1s. 6d. lower, and sales of N. W. the last prices are unofficial. Rosin, sales of Philadelphia at 4s. 6d. No Rosin Tar offered. Turpentine quiet heavy and lower at 27s. 6d@28s.

LONDON MARKETS.—Wheat closed with an advancing tendency, owing to the unfavorable weather. Flour dull. Sugar heavy and 6d lower. Rice firm, but closed at 6d@1s. 3d lower. Coffee quiet. Tea steady and advanced in price. Tallow and Linseed oil lower.

MANCHESTER MARKETS.—Advices were favorable; markets were firm of sale, but prices were unchanged.

EUROPEAN SILK CROP.

The subjoined authentic information in regard to the Silk Crop, is extracted from the private correspondence of eminent parties:

LYONS, July 15.

We take this early opportunity to inform you of the results of the European Silk crop, which is now completely known.

The general result is better than last year, and the Silk prices are below of such quality.

As you will notice by the annexed statement, Cocoons have been paid from 15 to 20 ⅌ cent. cheaper than last year in Italy and Piedmont, large contracts have been made in our silk districts on account of the Italian silk expected at the Lyons market, and the approximate cost of the present price of raw Silk is about 10 ⅌ cent higher than two or three months ago.

Nature's throwing silk are active among every day: the English, German, Russian and Paris Houses having large orders, and we do not think they could meet with any difficulty.

Our manufacturers having exhausted their old stocks are now obliged to pay the full advance on the raw material, and, consequently to ask higher prices for their orders.

A decline may take place, but certainly not before the end of the year.

RESULT OF THE EUROPEAN SILK CROP, 1857.—In France, over 1st to 1st August in Spain, better than last year; in Piedmont, very bad; in Lombardy, very bad; in Naples, better than last year; in Tuscany, very bad; in the Levant, very fine.

Comparative prices of Cocoons in 1856 and 1857:

	1856. Per kilo.	1857. Per kilo.
In France, fr.	8	to 8 25
In Piedmont	6 30 to 7	9 50 to 10
In Lombardy	6	to 6 50	9	to 10
In Tuscany	6	to 7	9 25	to 10
In Naples	6	to 7	8	to 8
In the Levant	6	to 6 50	8	to 8

Stock of Raw Silk in Lyons:

Notice to Heirs.

A. Dowell, Administrator of W. Bell's, deceased, vs. Petition to Sell Land, &c.

The Heirs of said W. W. Bell, deceased.

IT appearing that the above cause was pending in the Circuit Court of Shelby County at the last term of said Court, in the years 1856 and 1857; and further that it appears from the record that an error of omission was made by the Clerk of said Court for the same being in making the said record: This is therefore to NOTIFY the heirs of said Wright W. Bell to be—by their Guardian Mr. Benjamin Neville and J. W. Neville—to be and appear before the judge of said Circuit Court of Shelby County at its September term, 1857, to wit, on MONDAY, the 28th of September, one of the days of said term, to show cause, if any they have, why an order should not then be made "Nunc pro tunc" to correct said error in the said record and particularly in supply an omission in the same in regard to the appointment of John Elliott as the guardian and attorney of said Wright W. Bell, which said omissions and corrections will then be prayed to be granted and supplied by and from the Court.
