SUNDAY APPEAL.—Copies of this morning's issue may be purchased, as usual, at our business desk on Madison street, until 10 o'clock, A. M.

☞ We noticed yesterday in the city, Elder McCALL, of Texas, one of the most distinguished ministers of the Christian Church.

THE WEATHER.—The clouds threatened rain during all of yesterday, but the water did not come. The weather was warm and sultry.

☞ The Second Presbyterian Church was lighted up for the first time last night with gas. The numerous brilliant burners presented a most beautiful appearance.

SENIOR DEPARTMENT.—Prof. MARSHALL will resume the exercises of his school at or near the corner of Shelby and Union streets, on Monday next.

☞ Col. COCKRILL, of the Commercial, arrived on the Charleston train last night, having made all the necessary arrangements to furnish the new Gayoso in the most magnificent style.

SACRAMENTAL MEETING.—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be, as previously announced, administered in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church this day, after the conclusion of the morning service, the Rev. Dr. BRYAN officiating.

☞ We call attention to the announcement of our friend BARNES as a candidate for Constable. We think the people will find out between this and March, as we have done, that Mr. BARNES is a "clever fellow."

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.—On Thursday next there will be an election in this city for Directors of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad. It is understood that stockholders going to and returning from the election will be passed without charge over the road.

☞ We yesterday saw at the depot of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, a poor woman, sick and helpless, and with three small children. She had been just widowed, and was hunting for a house to go into until she could get well enough to travel. We trust, before this, that she has found a shelter.

COTTON RECEIPTS OF MISSISSIPPI AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD.—We are indebted to Mr. J. W. GRICE for a statement from which it appears that the receipts of cotton at this place, shipped on this road from 1st of September last up to the 3d inst., amount to twelve hundred and sixty-five bales.

R. M. SPICER & SON.—We yesterday made a visit to the new house recently established by this firm on Shelby street, and had the pleasure of seeing one of the most complete establishments of the kind in this or any other city. Every luxury for the table, such as sweetmeats, jellies, syrups, preserved vegetables, pickles, sauces, &c., may be found here, and from the best houses, both at home and abroad. No one, who is caterer, either for himself or for the public, should fail to call and look through this establishment. Everything is of the best quality and the utmost politeness is exhibited in attending to customers. Our ladies ought to visit this establishment, when they wish to furnish an extra table.

HOW TO GET A NEWSPAPER FOR NOTHING. The proprietors of "Bragg's Arctic Liniment" present each purchaser of a dollar bottle of the Arctic Liniment with a year's subscription to the New York "United States Journal." We have a copy of the Journal before us. It is a handsome newspaper of sixteen pages, printed on fine paper, fine clear type, and each number is beautifully illustrated. The Journal is published by the proprietors of Emerson and Putnam's Magazine, and is a first-class newspaper. The paper itself, for one year, is worth to any one at least a dollar. MANSFIELD & CO., E. S. LANPHIER, and all the other druggists, sell the Arctic Liniment and furnish purchasers with certificates entitling the holder to the United States Journal for one year.

THE STORM ALMOST PASSED.—There is a prevailing opinion among the most intelligent of our merchants that the money panic has now done its worst—exhausted its power for mischief, and that our financial affairs will soon come "right side up" again. The position taken by the Nashville (mother) Banks and the confidence they express in their capacity to move off our agricultural products, have already calmed down the public mind, and given us an improved condition of things. The panic-makers to the contrary, notwithstanding, we have an abiding faith that the products of the earth, the only true sources of wealth, when exchanged or converted, will make times easy again at least to such as have been prudent and sagacious in their dealings.

President JOHNSON intimates that the Bank of Tennessee has as much capacity as ever to furnish the necessary aid for moving forward the agricultural and other products of the State. Let this aid be judiciously extended in conjunction with that to be furnished by the other solvent banks of Tennessee, and the money pressure and the money-panic will soon disappear.

THE EVENING LEDGER.—This paper, as previously announced, made its appearance yesterday afternoon. It is a handsome little sheet and gives evidence of experience and excellent taste. The proprietors define their position in the following paragraph:

"The Ledger will be independent in all things; devoted to no party or sect. The grand platform on which we intend to battle has but a single word in it, and that word is money. Cash! which is a condensation of all the political platforms of the day, and which we have often heard suggested as the only thing which will make the pot boil. At any rate it is this for which we will strive, and those who avail themselves of the advantages which our advertising columns offer, will no doubt make it as profitable to themselves as us. We hope so, and shall do all in our power to help them through."

The desire above expressed by this new candidate for the public favor, is not only legitimate, but praiseworthy, particularly when the proprietors offer a fair equivalent for whatsoever they receive from their patrons. The enterprise which they have exhibited in starting the fifth daily newspaper in Memphis, is worthy of support, which we trust they will receive.

TENNESSEE MONEY.—The Louisville Courier of Wednesday, says:

"Our brokers have not been buying Tennessee money this week, for sale and shipment, for the reason that they have no Kentucky money with which to buy it. Many persons not aware of the real cause, have supposed the money was not good, and in consequence, it was almost impossible to pass it in any ordinary business transaction yesterday. There is no doubt but Tennessee money is perfectly good, and our people are standing greatly in their own light, to forcing it out of circulation here. Let it be taken in all ordinary transactions as usual, and there will be no trouble. The brokers' offices were besieged yesterday by poor women and men, freightened almost out of their wits, who were foolishly offering their Tennessee money at a heavy discount for gold or silver."

The proprietors of the Courier say on their own part:

"Believing that the panic in regard to Tennessee money is groundless, and having every reason to believe that the banks of that State are as solvent and in as good condition as the banks of any State in the South or West, we will still continue to take the notes of the Tennessee State, and such of the free banks as are not discredited."

GEN. WM. T. HASKELL.—We have already mentioned the fact that this distinguished and eloquent Tennesseean had become hopelessly insane. He passed through this city on Friday last, in charge of friends, on his way to the Lunatic Asylum at Lexington. While in the Frankfort cars he arose and in the most eloquent and pathetic terms appealed to the gallant Kentuckians, among whom he was, to protect him from the relentless enemies he imagines were pursuing him. He became so excited and violent that his friends were forced to confine him.—Louisville Courier.

Port of Memphis.

River Matters.

Since our last report, we have not noticed any material change in the stage of water at this point. The river continues to recede very slowly, and navigation is becoming daily more uncertain and but few boats reach our wharf at their regular hours. Arrivals and departures were more numerous yesterday than common, and notwithstanding this there was but little done in the way of shipments, and business transactions for the day at the levee were light.

THE NEBRASKA FOR NEW ORLEANS.—This elegant and popular craft, officered by the clever crew of men, A. R. Lewis, master, and Charley Schol'z at the desk, is receiving freight for the South, leaving to-morrow evening. Shippers will remember to send down their freights early to-morrow and passengers promise state-rooms in time. Her capacity as a freight and passenger packet has no superior on the river, and her table is furnished by the best the market affords.

The steamers J. H. Lucas and Hazel Dell were the only departures during the day. The former for St. Louis, and the latter for Cincinnati, with light trips.

The fine steamer Northerner, after having undergone thorough repairs at St. Louis, is posted to leave our wharf to-morrow evening for Cairo, to run as a semi-weekly packet. It is with pleasure we hail the Northerner to this trade, as she is not surpassed in speed and accommodations by any boat on the river.

The fleet packet Rodolph will be at the levee to-day from St. Louis, and leave Monday at 3 o'clock, P. M., for that port. She is a fine boat to travel on in these low water times, as she is light and can go through without any detention.

The steamer John Simonds, due last evening from New Orleans, had not arrived at a late hour. She will be at the wharf to-day.

The steamer Henry Fitzhugh and Resolute have been expected here for the last two days, but they had not arrived up to a late hour last night. They will, probably be at the wharf to-day.

The fine steamer Woodford will be at the wharf early this morning, en route for the South.

The elegant and fleet steamer Rainbow, ever punctual to the hour, will be at the wharf this morning from the South, bound for Cairo and St. Louis.

The fleet steamers City of Memphis and Flying Cloud were due last evening from St. Louis, bound down, but had not arrived up to the hour of going to press.

The fine U. S. mail and passenger packet Virginia, Chas. F. Reynolds, master, will leave here on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, en route for New Orleans. Passengers going South cannot do better than to be ready for the Virginia. She is perfect in all her accommodations and goes through with dispatch.

☞ The Charleston cars did not arrive until about 10 o'clock last night, owing to some detention of the train going east.

MURDER.—A gentleman informs us that some six weeks ago a Mr. Edmondson, from Fayetteville, Tennessee, passed through here with two loads of bacon, on his way to Mississippi. After selling his bacon, he returned as far as Courtland, where one of his mules left him. He returned to hunt his mule, and his wagons proceeded on home to Tennessee. Nothing was heard of him for some time, when search was made and he has been found about twelve miles beyond Spanglers mills on the mountain, some twenty odd miles from Courtland, under circumstances that leave no doubt that he was murdered. No discovery has been made of his horse or mule, but the whole transaction is enveloped in mystery. Where will these murders cease?—Athens (Ala.) Herald.

MORTUARY REPORT.—The following is the list of interments for the week ending Saturday, October 3, 1857:

September 29th—Andrew F. N. aple, aged 1 year, bowel affection. Colored child, Ellis, aged 14 months, bowel affection....19th—Infant of T. Rankford, aged 1 month. Michael Favey, aged 30 years, chronic diarrhoea....October 2d—Mrs. Sarah Jones, aged, 29 years, consumption.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE, SUNDAY, October 4, 1857.

COTTON.—The market was very quiet yesterday, and buyers held off. Transactions for the day were light, and we heard of a few small lots changing hands at the nominal figures of from 13½ to 13¾ cents for Middling to Good Middling. Receipts for the week ending last night amounted to about 1,900 bales; shipments 7,00.

WHEAT.—There is but little doing in this market, and we note no change in quotations from our last report.

The Provision and Produce market continues firm. We notice no change during the past week. Supplies are light and holders firm. Our quotations may be found below.

BAGGING AND ROPE.—The demand is good and the store firm. We quote: Bella Bagging 16 to 17½; Kentucky and Lion Long Bagging, 14@17; Kentucky Power Loom 16@20; Rope, Hand Spun, 9@10c.; City Machine, 11@13½c. McComb's Iron Tie 8½ cents ⅌ lb.

WHEAT.....The receipts for the week have been very light and prices have sold further declined under the influence of advices from abroad. We now quote 60 to 70c. per bush. for fair to prime, and choice lots dry bright Wheat would bring 80 cents.

FLOUR.....The demand is good and is fully equal to the supply, but prices are rapidly declining. Superfine $5 50@5 60; Extra, $7 50@$8.

BRAN.....Sacks light, with good demand. Fair 62½; Prime 65@65½; Choice 70c in lots; barrels 5 to 10c. higher.

LARD AND CURRED HAMS.....15½@16½c.

MONETARY MATTERS.

The St. Louis Republican, of Thursday, announces the failures of the Bank of Belleville, Illinois. It had a deposit account of $79,000 or $80,000, but how far the deposits will be paid is not known. The Bank was based on State stocks.

The same paper states: The banking house of MOORE, HOLLINGSWORTH & CO., at Ky. Rock, suspended last Monday. There was a run on the house, being agents of Finch & Savage, at Quincy, on Monday, but they met everything.

The New York Express, of Saturday, has the following respecting the Ohio Life and Trust Company:

The capital of the Company is $2,000,000, which was subscribed in notes and mortgages, and did not come into the banking operations at all, but was employed in loaning. The banking operations have been based upon original issues of twenty dollar bank notes or certificates of deposit, to the extent of $700 000 of which the investigation shows that $300 000 have been issued, leaving $300,000, up to which its large operations have been based. Upon so small a sum it would not be supposed that a large business could be done. But it was done, it is every great, and the Company have used it to a degree rarely if ever surpassed.

The St. Louis Leader, of Thursday, has the following:

Money affairs were in a more quiet condition yesterday than we have seen for several days. There were no suspensions, no failures, no runs on banks. The people seem to have more confidence in each other's stability, and have resolved to await the result patiently. The friends of credit have strengthened themselves, and the people have expressed their confidence in the power of the houses to meet all the liabilities in a short time.

The Louisville Courier, of Wednesday, says:

Our brokers have rather easier than the day before though the brokers were refusing to buy any of Tennessee, owing to the scarcity of the funds requisite to realize. Business was dull in all departments.
