Rev. Jefferson Hamilton, D. D., will preach at the First Methodist Church, this morning at 11 o'clock.

Sunday.—Sunday to-day—"churches open and sitting room plenty." Throw aside thoughts of business with all its vexations and "think of the river of the water of life."

Recorder's Court.—At this court yesterday, twelve or thirteen persons were sentenced to fines and imprisonment for various offenses against the city ordinances.

Found.—An advertisement, under this title, in another place, gives useful information respecting a box of clothing marked "F. Pierce, Savannah, Ga."

Letter List.—The Appeal having the largest circulation within the delivery of the Memphis Post Office, the list of uncalled for letters appear regularly in it. See the list in another column.

☞ Schwob's Oyster Saloon is now in full blast. As good oysters may be had there, and done up in as good style as in any city in the Union, off the seacoast. We speak from accurate observation and some experience.

☞ Dr. Creighton has returned to the city from Nashville, where we learn he has had a "gay and festive" time. He will hereafter hold his levees for the afflicted at his office on Court street.

Ash's Theatre.—The popular moral play The Drunkard; or, Fallen Saved, followed by the farce of The Artful Dodger, will be performed at Ash's to-morrow night. Monsieur Martenia has been re-engaged, and will perform his astounding feats.

Siamese Twins.—Their exhibition closed yesterday. Large crowds attended daily to see this eighth wonder of the world. They leave to-day for St. Louis, and will take passage for Europe very soon. We commend them to the patronage of "Little Van," and all the royal houses of Europe. They are sovereigns themselves and "dual executives" at that.

New Law Partnership.—It will be seen by an advertisement in another place, that Col. Wm. H. Polk and Smith P. Bancroad, Esq., have formed a partnership for the practice of the law in this city. Col. Polk, we learn, designs locating permanently in Memphis, as soon as his labors as a member of the Tennessee Legislature shall terminate. He will be a valuable acquisition to our community.

Criminal Court.—This court was still employed yesterday in obtaining a jury in the case of Joe Asle. The whole panel was exhausted and only one additional juror was obtained, making eight now selected. They are Messrs. S. Garner, P. C. Kay, W. E. Epps, P. M. Dickerson, J. Groves, D. F. Goodyear, Jno. Snoody, and W. McKoon.

The case of Norfleet, charged with murdering Harver, is set for to-morrow two weeks.

The Gaiety.—The farewell of the O. era Troupe on Saturday night was worthy of their merits—a crowded house—enthusiastic plaudits—showers of bouquets and enwrapt attention proved the estimation in which these talented artists are held in Memphis. To-morrow night the dramatic troupe will offer their claims to public favor. The pieces are "The Rival Merchants, or Love's Sacrifice," and the farce of "The Kiss in the Dark" A pas de deux by the Misses Ernestine and Hernade will be introduced between the pieces.

Thief Caught.—The Police on Friday night arrested a man named W. D. Clark, charged with stealing four boxes of candles from the store of Patterson, Marshall & Co. Clark had been an officer on the Police force for a few months, and was discharged last June. Suspicions of his want of honesty had existed for sometime, it now appears on good foundation.

The arrest was made by the vigilant officer Garrett, captain of the night watch, assisted by officers Thomas and Aiken. Clark drove up to the store in a buggy, and, during the temporary absence of the clerk, placed the candles in his box and drove off home with them, where they were found in his wardrobe.

Jail Delivery.—The Brownsville jail was broken open on Friday night last by E. B. Endings, charged with murdering Mr. Pynam in Trenton, and Endings made his escape, leaving in haste for parts unknown. The manner of his escape was quite ingenious. He extracted a piece of steel from the jaws of his carpet bag and picked out the brick work of his cell, which was built up between a double wall of scantling about three inches thick. He then slipped the scantling horizontally, sufficiently to admit of his escape to the wall which surrounded this cage of cell. With the same instrument he then picked an aperture in the outer wall and escaped. Endings had on when he left, a dark colored coat and light pants. He left a note for the jailor returning his thanks for kindnesses extended and expressing his regrets at the necessity of his leaving in the manner he did. Endings was charged with a high and enormous offense—taking the life of a fellow being deliberately, without offering an opportunity to his antagonist to defend himself, and with no sufficient provocation. We doubt not that a suitable reward will be offered by the Sheriff of Haywood for the arrest of the murderer. He is about five feet six inches in height, and is about twenty five years old.

Recommend.—A few days ago we mentioned that a young girl had been committed to the workhouse for fifty-six days, for having been found in the house of a respectable citizen, where she had spent the night with his son. That the unfortunate woman should have to bear the sole punishment, while the man who invited her to criminality escaped, excited feelings of compassion and indignation in the breasts of many generous citizens, who accused the Recorder to his face of having failed to fulfill the requirements of justice. The Recorder, however, was as anxious as they to have justice done, and gave directions to the Police, as we have already mentioned, to keep a strict watch for him. He has hitherto kept concealed. In the breast of one kind-hearted family, living a short distance from the city, the compassionate feeling took a tangible shape, that of the genuine good Samaritan stamp of practical benevolence. The head of this family visited the imprisoned girl. He offered to employ her in his own family, to give her an opportunity of retrieving her past errors and henceforward living a life of virtue. Gladly the weeping child of misfortune embraced the offer. The fine imposed upon her was paid, and she was taken away from the scene of her guilt and her shame. This is the second experiment the same family have tried with this class of females. In the former instance entire success rewarded their efforts, and "a brand was plucked from the burning."

Coal.—Large quantities of coal intended for this port and below are detained at Louisville. The Cincinnati Times of Monday says:

The mail boat, this morning, brought up from Louisville about 150 men belonging to coal boats. The boats were principally destined for New Orleans, but there was not water sufficient to let them over the falls, so their hands concluded to return to Pittsburgh."

The Louisville Courier says, we learn that five pair of coal boats have gone South on the rise, loaded with coal. Of this number but one pair is destined for New Orleans. The others are for Memphis and way places. In Louisville coal is selling at eight cents a bushel by the boat load and 12½ to 14 cents by the earl load.

River Matters.

Since our last report the following boats have landed here: From Louisville, the Baltic, for New Orleans; from Cincinnati, the Beaver and the J. K. Bell, both for New Orleans; from St. Louis, the Philadelphia and the St. Nicholas, for New Orleans; from New Orleans, the J. E. Woodruff, for St. Louis.

The river was slowly rising. Business on the levee very dull.

The "Hill" went out last night for New Orleans.

The Ben Franklin, Nebraska, St. Francis and Winchester are lying at the landing.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, of Wednesday last says, that from the fact that the money market is so stringent in St. Louis, our river men are not disposed to put up their shingles for that port, for the reason, that, on paying the discount upon the money they would receive for their bills, they would have no margin left for profit, and their trips would amount to nothing.

At the present time there is in the channel here to Louisville between eight and nine feet. The weather yesterday was hazy and cool, indicating Indian Summer. The packets appear to be doing pretty well, particularly those running to Portsmouth and Louisville; but, aside from them, we cannot brag much in the way of business.

The rate of freight from Cincinnati to Memphis is at present, heavy freights, 35c; light freights 40c; whisky, 90c., and ale, 85c.

The Louisville Courier of Tuesday says:

The fall of wages was the cause of considerable excitement yesterday, resulting in one case, in a desperate street encounter between two engineers. One of them was cut in two or three places, and the other was very badly bruised.

At Wheeling, on the 26th, there was seven and a half feet water in the Ohio at that point, and falling. Business was improving a little, and the weather was cool.

At Pittsburg, on the 26th, there was five and a half feet water in the channel, and falling slowly. Rain had been falling steadily within the previous twenty-four hours, and a further rise was looked for.

The Louisville Courier of Wednesday states that the Household Chief in her passage over the falls, struck the wreck of the hay boat that sunk in the head of the chute, tearing away a portion of her guard. In the Courier yesterday, we published the loss of the boat laden with hay on the falls. It lies in the head of the chute on the left hand reef, and in such a position boats descending the falls will have much difficulty in passing through without striking the sunken boat.

The Harrison Bridges for Green river, was at Evansville on Saturday, laid up to await the filling of the pools, and the removal of the sand around the entrance to the locks.

Wages of officers and crews are tending downward. Several of the Missouri river pilots are hiring for $200 a month. At Cincinnati last week, the boats in port were hiring crews at $15 per month, a reduction of one-half from the price paid two months since.

The Gen. Pike has gone on the ways at Madison. It is the intention to lengthen the Pike aft of the wheels. This will make her a first class passenger packet, and one of the fast nags.

The St. Louis Republican, of Wednesday, says:

The river at this point is not far from stationary, gauging from Chouteau up to six feet in the channel. The Missouri river is still reported falling, with three feet on the principal bars. The Upper Mississippi is falling, with twenty-six inches on the lower Rapids. The Illinois river is rising, and there is four feet in the channel from Peru out. Arrivals were scarce, as usual, yesterday, and receipts of produce light. Business on the levee was dull, and things looked blue enough.

The St. Louis Democrat says:

"From one to two weeks is about the time required now to load a boat for Sioux City, and about a week to load for Council Bluffs. New Orleans boats are reducing wages of pilots and engineers, or rather, these officers are volunteering to accept a reduction, in order to assist in keeping the boats moving. In the other trades, the boats are under the necessity of reducing their expenses by every justifiable means. Upon the whole, things are in a bad way—bad for the merchant and the clerk, the mechanic and the employer, steamboat owners and those depending on the river for a living, and every body."

Memphis Spreading.—Among the bills before the Missouri Legislature is one "to incorporate the town of Memphis."

Going Back Again.—It is stated that goods to the amount of many millions of dollars, now warehoused in the United States, will be reshipped to Europe.

☞ Of six hundred and twelve young ladies who fainted last year, more than half of them fell into the arms of gentlemen. Only three had the misfortune to fall on the floor.

☞ So necessary is fun to the mind that a late philosopher says that if you should build school houses without play grounds nobody would get beyond "short division" in a life time.

The Cholera.—This fatal scourge continues to commit ravages at Stockholm. Among its recent victims was the chief of the navy office. The day before his death he was in perfect health and did business as usual. At Christiansand three hundred persons had been carried off, and in Norway it has also been committing terrible ravages. So, too, at Konigsberg, where the victims are attacked without any premonitory symptoms.

Mortuary Report.—The following is the list of interments for the week ending Saturday, October 31, 1857:

October 24, Cecilia B. Morris, aged 24 years, congestive chill—26, Frances F. Calary, 2 years, chronic Dysentery—27, Jacob Cohen, 4 months—28, Jane Gill, 50 years, women's pain—29 years, typhoid fever—28, Mary Murphy, 7 mos. disease not rep. rted.

October 26, Mrs. Rodgers, 45 years, dropsy—28, child of M. Cohen, 16 months, teething.

October 27, daughter of Major, 1 year, diarrhea—28, Mr. W. S. Keith, 24 years, intemperance.

October 28, W. H. Holt, 3 years, Dr. Jone.

W. J. Tuck, Sec'y Board of Health.

DIED,

Suddenly in Jackson, Tenn., on February evening last, Mrs. Louisa McLanahan, wife of Samuel McLanahan, Esq., in the — year of her age.

The deceased was a native of Abbeville District, South Carolina, and had been from early womanhood an exemplary member of the Presbyterian Church, and lived and died in full confidence of a blissful immortality beyond the grave. In all the relations of life, mother, friend and neighbor, she fully exemplified all those traits of character which adorn the true christian. In the maternity of life she has gone home after having raised a large family who now to mourn and cherish sources her affectionate care, and follow her memory.

On the 29th inst., Zoe Treezevant, infant daughter of N. M. and A. Treezevant, aged 11 months.
