THE DAILY APPEAL.

TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 12, 1858.

TO COMMISSION MERCHANTS AND COTTON DEALERS.

At the solicitation of a number of our merchants, we will to-morrow issue from the APPEAL office, a General Price Current and Commercial Letter Sheet. If properly encouraged, we will continue to issue this sheet every Wednesday morning during the business season. It is a mere experiment with us, and we enter upon it, not with the view of benefiting ourselves pecuniarily, but solely for the accommodation of our merchants. If it will pay the cost of publication we are satisfied. We will supply customers at 40 cents per dozen. All orders must be handed in during to-day (Tuesday) as no extra copies will be printed.

THE WEEKLY APPEAL.

Our Weekly of to-morrow will be a capital number, and is specially adapted to our country readers, making it suitable for the mails. It furthermore contains our usual variety of news, &c.

Weekly subscription $3. Single copies 10 cents.

☞ Hons. W. K. SEBASTIAN and E. H. WARREN, of Arkansas, are entitled to our thanks for copies of the Patent Office Reports for 1856.

☞ We tender our thanks to the Adams Express Company, and to W. W. Hodge & Co. for late papers in advance of the mails, also N. Gibson of the John Simonds.

AT WORK.—The new Coroner, Esq. HORNE, has not performed his functions over the dead yet, but on Saturday night he showed his usual attention to the wants of the living, by joining a couple in marriage at his office.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a beautiful day overhead, mild, resplendent and balmy. Had the condition of the earth responded to that of the Heavens above, no more delightful day could have been experienced at this season of the year.

MR. MITCHELL'S LECTURE.—We are authorized to announce that JOHN MITCHELL, the Irish Exile, will certainly lecture at Odd-Fellows' Hall, on Thursday night next, 14th inst Subject.—"The British in India." The mere announcement of this fact, alone, will insure a full house.

☞ We invite the attention of our community to the professional card of Dr. W. T. BAILEY, who has chosen our growing and thriving city for his future home. The Doctor comes among us from old South Carolina, with a high reputation as a skillful and experienced physician, and hence we feel no hesitancy in commending him favorably to the public.

THE TRUE POLICY.—The columns of the APPEAL this morning bear undisputable testimony that our advertising friends appreciate the importance, especially in these hard times, of making known their claims to public attention and patronage. The harder the times, the greater the necessity of using the best instrumentalities of appealing to the public. The APPEAL, having the largest circulation, is, of course, the most valuable medium. Let this be borne in mind.

FIRE.—At 3 o'clock yesterday morning, a one-story frame house on Union street, over the Bayou, owned by Captain JUNKINS, and tenanted by Mrs. SIMONS, was discovered to be on fire, and before the firemen could get effectually to work upon the structure it was burned to the ground, with most of its contents. It was supposed that it was set on fire, for the reason that no fire had been in the room where the flames broke out since the previous day.

NO PERFORMANCE.—The audience assembled at Ashe's Theatre last night, to witness the attractive representations of Miss MAGGIE MITCHELL, were disappointed and sorry to learn that there would be no performance, as the young lady was suffering from sickness; it was expected, however, that the attack would be but temporary, and that she would appear to-night. Much sympathy was felt for the charming artiste, who has made herself a host of warm friends in Memphis.

A COMET.—A young friend declares that he distinctly saw a comet in the West, about 15 deg. above the horizon, yesterday morning at 3½ o'clock, when the bells rang for fire. His companion also reports that he saw the phenomenon, and they both asseverate that their vision was clear and their minds unobfuscated. The astronomers have made no prediction of this new visitor to our solar system, but it is suggested that this gentleman rounder may be a new interloper from the far-off fields of space.

☞ We ask the particular attention of the public to the advertisement of the Paraffine Cannel Coal Oil, to be found in our special notice column. This oil is manufactured from the Cannel Coal of Western Virginia, and, as will appear from the certificates appended, is believed to be superior to any other oil now in use. We have a personal acquaintance with one of the company engaged in its manufacture, and are well satisfied that he would offer nothing to the public not equal to what it purports to be. The certificates speak for themselves.

LECTURE ON GEOLOGY.—This evening Dr. BOWDON gives the first of his course of lectures on Geology, at Odd Fellows' Hall. If all we have heard of these lectures—of the instruction and entertainment they afford be true—they should attract the largest audiences ever assembled in Memphis. Rev. Dr. PATTON, of New York, says of him: "I have heard him deliver two courses in the Metropolitan Hall, to an audience of some four thousand persons, and I am now attending the third course, and feel as deep an interest in them as at the first."

The Doctor gives his course in Memphis upon the following card of invitation:

MEMPHIS, January 8, 1858.

From the distinguished reputation of Doctor Bowdon as a Lecturer on Geology and kindred subjects, and the instructive interest with which he is able to invest them by the exhibition of many large and beautiful paintings, illustrations, and Philosophical Experiments, the subscribers respectfully invite him to give his usual course in this city, at such time and place as may suit his convenience. The Sale of Lots at "Grand Junction" To-Morrow.

FREE PASSAGE ON THE CARS FOR ALL WHO WISH TO GO.

For the Memphis Daily Appeal.]

MESSRS. EDITORS: I trust none of your readers will overlook the fact that a great sale of lots at "Grand Junction," 51 miles east of Memphis, on the Charleston Railroad, will take place to-morrow, the 13th inst., without fail. Nor should they forget that all who may wish to attend are offered a free passage on an extra train that leaves the depot here at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Grand Junction is certainly one of the most promising sites for building up a large town, that can be pointed out anywhere in our great and growing country. Besides being at the crossing of two great railroads, one running east and west, from Charleston to Memphis, the other north and south, from New Orleans to Cairo and Louisville, it is in the heart of a fine agricultural region, blessed with every adjunct of good society, flourishing schools and colleges, and last of all, gospel privileges without zint and "without price."

The public also should bear in mind that the terms of the sales of lots to-morrow are fixed to suit the stringency of the times. No cash is required until after the 1st of October—after the next crop comes in—the balance, in one and two years.

I learn from the proprietor of "Grand Junction," that the place is soon to be incorporated by the present Legislature of Tennessee, under a new name. I take the liberty of suggesting to him the name of in honor of that noble captain, whose dauntless and self-sacrificing heroism at the wreck of the "Central America," has rendered his name immortal, and will be worth more to his country, as an example for future emulation, than a whole crop of cotton.

I also learn that an independent weekly newspaper is soon to be started at the "Grand Junction," under the auspices of an experienced journalist.

On the whole, we may take it for granted, that the high and healthy location, the superior neighborhood, and the great advantages to be derived from the two great railroads, render the Grand Junction a most eligible point for investments for use or speculation. It holds out superior inducements to mechanics, merchants, and all others desiring a country residence in one of the immediate "faubergs" of Memphis. It already has a considerable population, and is in a growing condition. Let every one go and see for himself. It will cost nothing to go to the sale, and refreshments will be furnished free to all, after you get there.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 12, 1858. A WELL WISHER.

GAIETY THEATRE.—MRS. BATEMAN'S GREAT AMERICAN COMEDY, "SELF."—This popular piece of amusement was crowded, last night, with as fine and appreciative an audience as ever assembled there, to witness this American comedy, which has been played in all the principal cities in the North, and several Southern cities. It has been criticised by the very best critics in America, and all agree that it is well cotten up, and is well conceived. It is true, it is founded on every day transactions, and shows up that miserly disposition of persons when they give themselves over to the love of money, and don't care what others think of them. Yet it is presented in such a way as to afford amusement to the lookers on. The stock company acquitted themselves in very creditable way, and the whole passed off to the utmost satisfaction of the audience.

The same comedy will be reproduced tonight, and we doubt not it will "pay" to continue it the balance of the week.

MAGGIE MITCHELL.—The last week of this young lady's engagement has arrived, and no time is to be lost by those who would be bewitched by her fascinating performances. To-night will be performed the interesting drama of the "Wandering Boys," with Miss MITCHELL, LAWLER and BEVIDE in the cast. Miss CONWAY will give one of her pretty dances, and the performance conclude with "A Husband at Sight," with Miss MITCHELL as "Catharine," in which character she will dance and sing, and the inimitable DUSTAGE as "Gundersnoff.

MISSISSIPPI COMMISSIONER.—HUME F. HILL, Esq., has been re-appointed Commissioner for the State of Mississippi by Gov. MCWILLIE. This is the fourth time that our friend and neighbor has been entrusted with the broad seal of that gallant Commonwealth. He also holds similar commissions from the various States and Territories, and is fully supplied with all the necessary blanks for executing his duties promptly and properly.

AFFRAY.—There was an affray on Saturday night among the dock hands of the Nebraska and some other "river characters." Knives were drawn and one man named GEO. FLETCHER, was severely cut. Capt. GARRETT made a close investigation into the affair on the boat and landing, but the actors in the brawl were too much stupified with liquor to give any coherent account of the proceedings. He arrested one man, but on examination before Esq. EAST yesterday, nothing respecting the cutting could be proved against him.

DEATH OF W. H. CLOWES.—Mr. W. H. CLOWES, formerly an assistant editor of the Bulletin, committed suicide by taking laudanum, at Richmond, Va., on the 6th inst. He was driven to despair and suicide by indiscretions and follies working upon a supersensitive mind and determining him to put an end to his career. Mr. CLOWES possessed a brilliant talent, the refinement and gentleness of the old school in all his intercourse with men, and a warm and trusting heart. Peace to his ashes!

LARGE HOGS.—Those large hogs that were on exhibition at the Somerville Fair, last fall, belonging to Mr. JOHN HUNTER, near Macon, and Mr. H. DEGRAFFENREID, near Somerville, were killed a few days ago. The weight of Mr. HUNTER's hog was 703 pounds gross, and 633 net, and Mr. DEGRAFFENREID's 593 nett. They were very large specimens of the Macon stock. Some heavy bets were decided by this result.

☞ We tender our thanks to Messrs. W. D. DAVIS and HENRY MANEY, of the Legislature, for copies of the Reports of the Trustees, Treasurer, Architect, Physician and Superintendent of the Tennessee Hospital for the Insane.

REMOVING OBSTRUCTIONS.—The active City Marshal, Mr. UNDERWOOD, was yesterday busily engaged on Second street, opposite Court Square, in having removed the various steps that obstruct the sidewalk there. A good work.

EMIGRANTS.—A large number of emigrants, with numerous negroes, reached this city by the Charleston railroad last evening. They were generally "Arkansas travelers," being bound for that flourishing State.

River Matters.

The river was rising last evening, and some little business gave the levee a rather active appearance.

The arrivals since Saturday are, from Nashville, the Joshaphine Savage for New Orleans; from New Orleans, the Cumberland for Nashville; the Fairchild and Woodford for Louisville; the Simonds for Memphis; the David Gibson for Pittsburgh; from Cincinnati, the Memphis for Memphis; the Gibson for New Orleans; from Louisville, the McLellan for Memphis; the New Uncle Sam and the Antelope for New Orleans; from Napoleon, the Kate Frisbee for Memphis.

The handsome steamer Memphis came in on Sunday from Cincinnati. She leaves for the same port to-morrow evening.

The Glendale is a beautiful boat to travel on. She is elegantly furnished, and is noted for the excellence of the table. Capt. Mann, with Capt. Pepper and the immortal "Larry" Harmstead as clerks, are excellent officers. A good opportunity for travelers bound to ports on the Ohio.

The St. Francis leaves for Helena and the Francis river at two o'clock this afternoon.

The Simonds leaves for New Orleans to-morrow evening. She brought up with her 1,314 bars of railroad iron.

The Nebraska left for New Orleans last night with 1,000 bales of cotton on board.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride in Hardeman county, Tenn., January 8th, 1858, by Rev. A. S. Dorris, Col. R. D. CARNEY to Miss MARTHA, daughter of Maj. ANDERSON, all of Hardeman county, Ark., to Mrs. CYNTHIA G. JOYNER, of the former place.

Commercial Matters.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE, TUESDAY, January 12 1858.

COTTON.—Since our last report the Cotton market has been in a dropping condition. Prices have receded low, and even the account by the Atlantic of a rise in Europe, failed to have its usual stimulating effect, quotations being little, if at all, change d. This was probably the consequence of the tightness of the money market. The late depression of prices has been disastrous to many purchasers of Cotton, and some of them evince a disposition to buy at present prices, under the hope that a favorable change will enable them to retrieve their losses; but they cannot procure the necessary facilities for accomplishing their wishes. There was more activity in the market yesterday, and rather larger purchases were made at about former rates. News from Europe was due last night, but bodies did not, on that account, show any disposition to decline any offer that came at all within their views. The stock now on hand in this city is estimated at 40,000 bales.

The quotations for the past week have about as followed: Middling 4¼ for prime Cotton; fair, for a nice bright article, with but moderate sales. Tuesday, receipts 630c., buyers showed no disposition to operate. Wednesday, a more active market, over 800 bales sold; Middling, 4 3-16c; Good Mid ling 4¼c; none fine, nice Cotton brought 4¾ cents. Thursday, news from Europe of a rise and a tendency to improvement in the market, which was sampled downwards during evening by unfavorable news from New Orleans, and prices became unsettled. Common kinds were sold at 4, 4¼ and 7-8; a better quality in order 4¼c, at which rates but little was done. Friday, slight sales without change in price. Saturday, sales limited at former rates.

Yesterday a more active feeling was exhibited and large sales made, the bulk on the two or three previous days at 4¼c. Sales of 300 bales at 4, 4¼ and 8 cents; the largest lot sold was of 3 cents; some 75 bales brought 3 cents.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

From the Price Current, January 6:

The week opened with rainy and gloomy weather and a market depressed for most articles. This has been particularly the case with our leading staple Cotton, which has further been unfavorably affected to a marked extent by the adverse European advices.

On Saturday, at the Niagara's advices from Liverpool to the 19th ult., the sales of Cotton, more than those previously to hand, were received, reporting a decline in the Liverpool Market within the week of ¼d ⅌ lb and upwards on all descriptions, the sales of Friday and Saturday were 28,000 bales, of which 2,000 bales were taken on speculation and 1,200 for export. The money market was easier and Consols for account closed at 99¼, but the advices from Manchester were still unfavorable.

Our own market yesterday opened with a small supply in the Cotton market. Friday being a holiday and later European news being fully due. On Saturday some few buyers came forward in the early part of the day and a few lots were taken, at irregular prices, when the Niagara's advice, reporting a 1-4d close within the week at Liverpool, put a stop to business for the day and wholly unsettled our market. The day's sales were about 1,500 bales. Yesterday rain fell throughout the day and only some 60 bales were disposed of, in several small lots; of course not enough to constitute a market or to test the effect of the Niagara's news. Yesterday there was a return of fair weather, and some buyers came forward, but mostly with lower offers than holders felt disposed to accede to, while at the same time there was a disposition to be in possession of later European advices, before the attempt. Under these circumstances the sales were about 5,000 bales, of which 2,000 were on speculation, mostly indicating a decline of about 1 cent ⅌ lb from last week's quotations. The sales of the three days sum up 7,600 bales, leaving a stock of 180,000 in port, including Texas, Spain and the North, and our quotations are reduced to conform to the decline above indicated.

The receipts at this port since 1st September, (exclusive of the arrivals from Mobile, Florida and Texas) are 893,042 bales, against 871,298 bales to same date last year; and the decrease at all the ports on the same dates as compared with last year is 460,231 bales. In the exports there is a falling off of 100,000 bales, as compared with the same dates last year, there is an increase of 36,116 bales to Great Britain, and a decrease of 32,128 to France, and of 8,874, to all of foreign ports.
