Monday night about 12:20 o'clock a fire was discovered in the store of M. Magner at this place and the citizens were at once aroused and on arriving at the seene of action did all in their power to save the goods in that and adjoining buildings. But very little of Mr. Magner's stock was saved. This building together with J. W. Gustin's two buildings adjoining occupied as a saloon and drug store were consumed in the flames. This is the second time that fire has destroyed the property on this corner. The buildings and stock were insured to the amount of $3,500;

LITERARY LEAVES. Ballou's Magazine for Juor.—We have just received Ballou's for June. It opens with an interesting illustrated article on the Island Bornee, by Capt. Howard Helburt; followed by a continuing chapter of Mr. Thomes's story "Lewey and I; or, Satior Boys' Wanderings," which still kneps up its thrilling interest of the boys' adventures. It also contains a large amount of entermining stories, instructive and amusing reading, house-keeper's and fancy work departments' etc., making it well worth the price. For sale by all newsdenlers.
