CORRESPONDENCE.

Traveling from Roseburg.

The Roseburg Christmas tree was a very enjoyable affair. It was beautifully decorated with presents. About four hundred persons are supposed to have been crowded into the church. Wm. McIntyre, up to the times, laid in a large and well selected stock of Xmas presents which were nearly all taken by some one as expressions of good will towards their friends. It is strange that at such a time of general good feeling, any person will stoop so low in gratifying their depraved disposition, as to try to put a public stir upon individuals who are well inclined, by placing on the tree a rag or toy doll, or a bottle of castor oil, or any such reminder. It may be fun for the giver but not for the receiver. Such public expressions are wholly uncalled for at such a time.

Chips from Capax.

C. S. Wain, of Port Huron, visited in town last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durt, of Marquette, visited relatives in this vicinity last Sunday.

Justice White, of Lapeer, visited relatives in this vicinity the past week.

S. F. Aldrich and family spent Christmas with relatives near Romeo.

The dance at the Northern Hotel last Thursday evening was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Webster, of Leonard, visited relatives in town the past week.

Mrs. Ruth Scott received $1,000 from the Macabees, that being the amount of insurance carried by her late husband.

There is a project on foot to have a roller process mill established here in the near future.

Rev. J. W. Wallace, of Capax, Tent K. O. T. M., was the recipient of a ten dollar bill from that order.

LEX.

Vapor from Valley Centre.

"Happy New Year!"
Last week's storm improved the sleighing immensely.

The weather is cold, and to-day we heard a wagon complaining because its owner did not use sleighs.

One of the questions which seem to agitate the minds of some of our thinking people, in this vicinity, is: Why do Americans eat turkeys instead of geese or other birds on Thanksgiving day?

Will some one explain?

We never fully realized, until this winter, the debt of gratitude we owe the good old St. Nicholas. But owing to an enormous increase of business and the uncertainty of the weather during Xmas week it was not convenient for the good old Saint to send out his numerous customers in this burg. So he concluded to deputize some philanthropic person to carry out his plans. The person selected was our big hearted merchant. Any time during Xmas he might be seen entering houses on Commercial Street, not by way of the chimney but through the door way—laden with numerous parcels to gladden the hearts of those within. We were not forgotten, Oh, No! We were presented with a couple of turkeys and the remembrance of the motive which prompted the gift will continue one bright gem in Memory's casket.

KIT KANSON.

Bits from Brown City.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox, of Goodland, visited in town Xmas.

A. G. Cochran is in town at present.

Norman Herbert, of Old Brockway, spent Xmas in Brown City.

Mrs. J. Windsor is visiting friends in Ontario.

The land serenaded the principal streets on Xmas.

H. Windsor our cabinet maker and undertaker received a car load of goods last Friday.

The village continues to grow steadily; two new enterprises having started this week, namely a barber shop and jewelry store. E. DeLong proprietor of the former and A. Smart, of Mayville, the latter.

The erection of a foundry here by Mr. McKnight, of Grant Centre, is now an assured fact. Work will commence on the building March 1st.

The Xmas tree held in R. G. Brown's hall in connection with the Literary Society proved a splendid success. The regular program was interspersed with selections from Snyder's orchestra and songs by Miss Purdy and others, including Ben Powell and Noble Grace who fairly brought the house down by their first appearance before an audience. Santa Claus appeared at this stage of the proceedings and at once proceeded to divest the tree of its valuable presents after which followed music, speaking, &c. Much credit is due R. G. Brown and family for their untiring efforts to make everybody happy and the tree a success.

The St. Clair River Tunnel.

The work now in progress is the sinking of a shaft six feet in diameter by one hundred feet deep. From such a shaft on each side of the river the preliminary tunnel six feet in diameter will proceed and join under the center of the river. The men will be divided into three gangs, working eight hours each. It is calculated that it will take about eight months to finish this preliminary tunnel. This six-foot tunnel will occupy the exact center of the proposed main tunnel and will be used for driving in materials and for the work is proceeding in the larger tunnel.

The workmen engaged in the tunnel will be supplied with fresh air by means of powerful blowers. Light will be supplied by means of incandescent electric light. The contractors have a complete Edison plant for furnishing these lights, which will soon be in position in the building on the river bank.

The railroad tunnel will emerge from the ground about a mile back from the river somewhere in the neighborhood of the Upton Works. It will run about the same distance on the Canada side. The distance from one shaft to the other across the river is 2,500 feet, which would make the complete tunnel about two and one-half miles long. It is estimated that it will cost about $2,000,000 for a single track tunnel. Then if business demands another similar tunnel can be constructed.

The Greatest Pain Killer.

Yet found for cramps, colic, stitch in the side or back, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sprains, Bruises, &c., is Hamilton's Jamaica Ginger and Pain Cure. Banned on hot wet cloths, it cures all pains. For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sick headache, flatulence, diarrhoea, dysentery, heartburn, sour stomach, &c., it is unequalled. Retained urine relieved. Used internally and externally. Warranted to cure. Try it. Price 25c and 50c. Sold by C. A. Wells & Co.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Sheppard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by C. A. Wells & Co.

Blood will Tell.
Dr. Jackson's blood and humor syrup will positively cure all eruptions, ulcers and bad sores upon the body, face or limbs. Will thoroughly cleanse the system and blood of every trace of diseases that have their origin therein. Cures the rheumatism, salt rheum and cancer and is well recommended by the medical profession all over the country. Price $1 per bottle. Sold by W. N. McKenna, Brockway Centre.

LITERARY LEAVES.

Ballou's Magazine—We have received the January number of this well known magazine. With this issue, it commences its Sixty-Fifth Volume.

Now a third of a century before the public and a general favorite with all, it must number its readers by legions.

The following are some of its features: Serial Stories by the best authors. A choice variety of Complete Stories, Romances, Sketches of adventure, Biographies, anecdotes, poetry, our Young Folk's Story Teller, Ruthven's Puzzle Page, The Housekeeper, Curious Matters. Things pleasant and otherwise, Humorous Matter, etc., all forming a most complete publication for Family Reading, Clean, Bright and Sparkling. What promises to be a most interesting Serial, by Mrs. Jane G. Austin, commences in this number, entitled "The Outcast; or The Master of Fate's Pyrie." Also, another series of those entertaining sketches by Mr. W. H. Macy (author of "Up North in the Gorge"), under the title of "Beyond Desolation." If you want an interesting assortment of entertaining, instructive and amusing reading, try this popular monthly. Now is the time to subscribe. Price $1.50 per year, post paid. We see four subscriptions are sent for $5.00. It is published by G. W. Studley, 53 Hawley St., Boston Mass.

The January number of LIPPINCOTT'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE presents a splendid array of names: Julian Hawthorne, Sidney Lusk, Austin Dobson, Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, Walt Whitman, Edgar Fawcett, and Barrett Wendell.

Julian Hawthorne contributes the complete novel Sinire, which is as weird and strange as its title. Sidney Lusk has a novelette called The Story of Angela, whose tender poetical pathos reminds one of some of the best and purest of Quaker's shorter stories.

Austin Dobson has a brilliant little satirical poem, The Water of Gold. Miss Cleveland's contribution also is a satirical poem, The Dilemma of the Nineteenth Century, and it is especially interesting as the first presentation she has ever made of her views upon the woman question. The poem is cast in narrative form. Walt Whitman, under the title of My Book and I, discusses his own poetical theories and gives some valuable and entertaining bits of self-criticism. Edgar Fawcett asks, Should Critics be Gentlemen? and in the course of his affirmative answer to this question he manages to deliver some hard raps at his own critics.

Julian Hawthorne contributes the novel Life at Harvard, which is not only full of interesting details in regard to undergraduate society, but presents much matter for serious thought. A short criticism of The George Movement, by Wm. H. Babcock, gives some plain common-sense views upon the land question, and there is a report of an entertaining conversation between Senator Ingalls and Mr. Howells, in which the former discusses Cleveland and his policy, and the latter gives some views upon literature. The Monthly Gossip is unusually bright and entertaining. Altogether this is the most brilliant number of Lippincott's Magazine in the history of the periodical.

WHITE BRONZE

MONUMENTS

They are practically indestructible. Age will not impair their beauty. All letters are raised and cannot be broken or chipped off.

The work is artistic. The designs are far more elaborate than can be produced in stone at double the cost.

They will never rust, or become moss grown.

Thousands of purchasers corroborate our statements.

There is but one grade—THE BEST. These goods can be seen at the office of the Genl. and Agt. for the Detroit Bronze Co., located with W. R. Mulford & Son, Military-st., opposite Opera House, Port Huron Mich.
