MEMPHIS POST OFFICE.—The post office will hereafter be opened on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, and remain open one hour.

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION—THE LETTER LIST.—The list of uncalled-for letters in the Memphis post office, for the week ending yesterday, will be found in this morning's paper.

☞ Rev. GEORGE PLATTENBURG will preach in the Christian Chapel this morning at 11 o'clock and 7½ o'clock this evening.

☞ For late favors we are under obligations to Mr. M. M. TEMPLE, the efficient clerk of the steamer Ben Franklin.

☞ The weather yesterday was quite warm until the afternoon, when there were unmistakable indications of rain.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION.—Stockholders in the above association should not forget that the annual meeting will be held tomorrow night, when officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

AT COST.—R. M. SNICER & Co., it will be seen by their advertisement, are selling off their fine stock of Groceries at actual cost. Those who wish to purchase the best articles in the grocery line, would do well to call on our old friends and supply themselves at once at prices lower than they can be bought elsewhere.

LITERARY.—Steadman's Salem Magazine is the title of a new monthly periodical lately established at Salem, North Carolina. The first number of this work reached us by yesterday's mail. It is strictly southern, and edited by a very able writer, ANDREW J. STEADMAN. Its pages are devoted exclusively to literature. Subscription price $3 00 in advance.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE FOR MARCH.—This interesting and popular periodical has been received by Messrs. W. R. STRANGE & Co., booksellers, under Odd Fellows' Hall. It is a very interesting and readable number. THACKERAY'S "Virginians" is continued in it, together with other interesting papers, and the usual illustrations, anecdotes, reviews, literary notices, &c.

☞ W. A. GLIDDEN of this city, has the agency for the sale of a new invention, a durable leg, by Mr. OADE of Philadelphia. This news will be hailed with delight, by the collectors in this city, as we often hear them complaining of walking their legs off. They will know where to procure a new pair now, in the event they loose their legs.

EVENING SABBATH SCHOOL.—Elder T. J. DRAKE will preach this evening, at 3 o'clock, in North Memphis, beyond the bayou, in a school house situated on the street next, north of the residence of Mr. PRESCOTT. After preaching, steps will be taken to organize an Evening Sabbath School. Owing to the heavy rains on last Sabbath, Elder DRAKE did not preach at the above named place as announced.

MR. MURDOCH.—This gentleman made his last appearance, during his present engagement, at the Gaiety Theatre, last evening. His engagement has been a most successful one and our drama-loving community part from him with reluctance, and wishing him the highest success professionally and personally. He is a most accomplished and agreeable gentleman in social intercourse, and we trust to see him often visit our city and appear on the Memphis boards. He goes hence to Nashville. Mr. MURDOCH is a most accomplished artist, as well as a man of superior genius and talent.

PAVING EXPERIMENTS.—As argument upon the paving question progresses, it becomes generally conceded that a change must be made in the material used for paving. Graveling will not do. It is folly to contend that it will. Those who advocate the use of a material so inadequate to the wants of a city that is yearly increasing its business, do so upon the same principle that the old lady in the backwoods valued the griddle above the stove. She had become so used to the imperfect implement, that she verily believed it a far superior article for cooking than the stove with its boiler, oven and kettles. "There is nothing like leather," is an old cry—we have frequently heard it before now—so freq ently, that we have become skeptical of its virtues as an object of universal utility.

Gravel being set aside, as fit only for a foundation to roads adapted for business, and constructed in a business-like manner, the question arises—what material ought to take its place? Here it is indisputable, and by those acquainted with their use, undisputed, that the bowlder pavement is superior to any other that we could adopt. The present expense, however, is the great obstruction to their use, though they are known to be more economical in the end than any other material. The limestone is perishable, but it is vastly superior to gravel; many advocate its use. Laying down cedar sticks, like those at the new crossing of Main and Madison streets, has many advocates. We learn that they will be at once experimented upon.

As we suggested the other day, the intersection at the above named locality will be covered with cedar, and, as it is a place of considerable traffic, a fair opportunity will be had of testing it. Beside this experiment, an active member of Council has a project for laying down sticks of this wood, twenty one-feet in length, in the middle of streets, affording sufficient space between the wood and the footwalk with gravel. If this is done, we suggest that the sticks should be laid on sleepers, or the road will become rough "corduroy." Other schemes are suggested, and such as are reasonable, we hope will have a fair trial. Anything but using over and over again a material which long use has shown to be unfit for the purpose. If we were to write a column against the use of gravel, we could not say more than Mr. ROBINSON, the Secretary of the Paving meeting, last Saturday night, expressed when he said: "That graveled streets are unsatisfactory is evident by the fact of this meeting assembling here."

A word about the expense. The city has her burdens, and heavy ones, we know, and it is not desirable to saddle her with new ones; but do we avoid this by refusing to put our streets in order? Suppose we allow them to remain as at present—we then have to pay thirty, forty and fifty cents a bale for hauling from the depot to the river, while the expense of carrying the same bale to New Orleans is only one dollar. This is paying and paying without remedying the evil. For days no hauling can be done, and business is brought to a stand still, because what cotton is sold cannot be delivered at any price. This is paying for nothing and having our business position injured thereby beside. Thousands of bales have gone to Charleston that would have found an outlet by this city, but for the expense and delay consequent upon our miserable, impassable streets. This is paying—not with mere dollars—but with the heart's blood of commercial life. It is sending our business out of our borders, and building up our rivals with the materials of our own ruin. Let the droning opposition of stand still senility be disregarded, and let us have our streets improved with a material which, if not the best, is the best we can procure under the present circumstances.

BRANCH OF THE STATE BANK AT MEMPHIS.—We are indebted to the Hon. W. L. MCCONNICO, the Senator from Williamson, for a printed copy of the bill now before the Legislature, proposing to establish a branch of the Bank of Tennessee at Memphis. It passed the Senate on the 24th inst., by a vote of 13 to 12. In the House, it is believed that the bill will meet with no serious opposition, the members taking the view that, inasmuch as the Legislature have indicated no disposition, under present circumstances, to wind up the State Bank, it is sound policy to sustain it in the effort to inaugurate the new and better banking system provided for to perform its mission as the fiscal agent of the State, while at the same time it may assist in moving off the products of the soil. To perform these important offices, it must occur to all that the location of a branch in the first commercial city in the State, is of the highest necessity.

LAWLER'S BENEFIT—A LADY DEBUTANTE.—Monday night is set apart at the Gaiety Theatre for the benefit of the popular Memphis favorite, Mr. MIKE LAWLER, for which occasion the beneficiare has selected a most attractive bill, one that will be sure to draw his host of friends together to give him a substantial appreciation of his merit, both as actor and gentleman. BULWER LYTTON'S play of the Lady of Lyons will be produced, the part of "Pauline" being assumed by Miss MARY GLENNON, a young lady of this city possessing rare personal beauty and extraordinary intelligence, who makes her debut, with Mr. LAWLER sustaining the part of "Claude Melnotte." In addition to the above, Mr. D. T. ASH (who has kindly volunteered,) will appear in his great character of "Carwin," in PAYNE'S exciting drama of Therese, or the Orphan of Geneva. This is a great bill, and we trust that Mr. LAWLER'S endeavors to instruct and amuse the patrons of the drama in this city, will be rewarded by an overflowing house.

☞ R. J. B. TWYMAN, Esq., of Paducah, Ky., passed down the river a few days ago, to take charge of the office of Consul at Vera Cruz, Mexico. Mr. TWYMAN is an old citizen of Memphis, and will fill this office with credit to himself and advantage to the Government.

MEMPHIS MEDICAL COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—The Commencement of the Memphis Medical College will take place at the College Hall, on Monday night, 1st of March, at 7½ o'clock. The diplomas will then be given, and an address to the graduating class. The public—ladies and gentlemen—are invited to attend.

L. SHANKS, Dean.

☞ T. SCOTT ANDERSON, Esq., late of DeSoto county, Mississippi, has been appointed Secretary of State, of Texas. He is not only a competent man, but the best kind of a Democrat.

River Matters.

Yesterday was a busy day on the levee among the boatmen, and large quantities of freight were received and shipped during the day. The river continues, opposite this point, to recede slowly. There were several arrivals and departures: The Henry Fitzhugh, from Memphis to Cincinnati; the Return, from Memphis to White river; the Joan of Arc, from Memphis to Hatchie river; the Freight, faom New Orleans to Louisville.

Captain Bowman's favorite little packet, St. Francis, will be in port this evening at her regular hour. Tuesday, at 2 P. M., is her regular hour of departure.

The flying steamer Alvin Adams is posted for Louisville and way landings to-morrow evening at 5 o'clock. Those desiring a trip up the Mississippi and Ohio, at railroad speed, should avail themselves of this opportunity, and board the Adams. She connects with the Illinois Central railroad, at Cairo, and all eastern routes.

The favorite packet Boone will be up for Vicksburg to-morrow, at 2 P. M. All aboard in time.

The fine packet Ben. Franklin arrived early yesterday morning from New Orleans, with a large freight. She is receiving for the above port and all way landings. She is a fine boat and her officers of the first class. She will leave to-morrow evening at 5 o'clock.

The elegant and swift packet Ingomar is due this evening from the Crescent city.

The steamer Glendale, from Cincinnati, will be in port this evening, and will receive freight Tuesday and Wednesday, for the above port.

The Missouri Republican, of the 25th inst., says:

The river swelled three inches yesterday, and was still rising slowly last evening. We have not yet heard of a gorge at Widow Watts' Landing, but from the swell in the river, presume one has formed there. The running ice was very thick and heavy yesterday. One of the ferryboats made occasional trips, but suffered much inconvenience from ice. During the day the sun shone quite warm, and the ice and snow melted freely, making the streets sloppy and muddy. The weather moderated very perceptibly, and the prospects for a speedy opening of navigation are brightening. Nothing was done on the levee, there being no arrivals or departures of steamboats.

MARRIED.

On the evening of the 1st of February, by Rev T. L. GRACE, JOHN CANNAVAN to MARY ANNE DOYLE.

[The happy couple left the same evening on the Ben Franklin for New Orleans and returned to this city on the 17th instant.]

DIED.

At Commerce, Mississippi, on the 23d of February, 1858, WM. HENRY, son of R. H. and MARY A. Burns, aged 7 years, 8 months and 4 days.

This was a lovely child, the image of his departed mother, and was, therefore the ideal of a doating father. But he has withered under the blight of death—too pure for earth, he has gone to join his sainted mother. The writer sympathizes with the bereaved father in the loss of such a promising boy.

"Yet who should I lament the dead?
The lost are happy, happy all;
Bears all its bloom and rarest perfume
To spirits in the skies.
A lovely bud, so soon nipped off from art,
Bud of my heart."

On the 18th instant, at Concord, N. C., Miss HARRIET ROBINSON, daughter of Col. T. H. Robinson, of Oxford, Mississippi.

[She was a most lovely and interesting lady and we deeply sympathize with her relatives in their deep affliction.]

Another Pittsburgher

Testifying to the wonderful curative powers of BORHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS.

Mr. Jacob White, Third street, below Market, says: "For a year past I have been afflicted very seriously with dyspepsia, so much so, that my stomach refused to retain anything; I have tried almost every remedy, and the regimen of severe physicians, but without a lasting relief, until I began the use of Boerhave's Holland Bitters and have now found relief almost amounting to a cure. I found it efficacious in removing the extreme debility occasioned by this disease, and generally as a tonic it has few equals and no superior." feb24

Commercial Matters.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE, SATURDAY, February 26, 1858.

COTTON.—The market was rather dull yesterday, as it usual on Saturday. The sales were limited to a few hundred bales, at former rates. We heard of sales at 9, 10¾, 11 and 12 cents. Fair grades continue to command very high prices, but very little good cotton is offered.
