Commercial Matters.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE, SATURDAY, April 24, 1858.

COTTON.—The market yesterday was rather dull. The demand was good and every bale offered was readily taken at full prices, but the amount on the market was small. Among the sales we notice one lot of 118 bales at 10¾ cents per lb; 112 bales of Stirling at 10¾; 8 bales Low Middling at 10; 14 bales Ordinary at 9¾; 6 bales Low Middling at 10¼. Primeness very firm and factors are anxious to hold on to their stock.

COTTON.—From the New Orleans Crescent of April 19, the demand was more general on Saturday and resulted in sales of about 8000 bales at prices within the range of our quotations:

Inferior	8@7	Middling	10 3-16@10¼
Ordinary	9@8	Good Middling	10 5-16@10¾
Low Middling	10¼@10¾	Fair	11¼@—

The general run of sales for the week show a decline. This conforms to expectations in some respects, yet with the heavy stock of cotton the movements have been much less than in other heavy consumption years. The causes which have occasioned depression in the great staple are well-nigh to be a temporary nature. Factors feel confident that they have the abundant and reliable supplies at command. The large stock held here will have its influence as long as the other stills, under certain contingencies, and Mobile and Western cotton will be offered well for a further decline. We do not provoke on what strikes us as the proper view, which has been hitherto regarded as not at fashion. Possibly they may be in possession of intelligence from various sections of the country or foreign markets which we do not, and yet we think that the receipts will exceed any estimates heretofore made. Yesterday after the factors got desirous of information where all this vast cotton is to be offered, or whether it is to be had at other disengaged planters.

The last advices from Liverpool, brought by the Africa, have had no effect whatever on our market. Neither was any feature a close to-day in the sale than on any day of the week. Still we do not feel disposed to confirm the statements which had started the course of factors since the receipt of the accounts of the 5th of March. Freights and exchange have ruled all the week in favor of cotton, and with daily arrivals of vessels on return voyages from Northern ports we believe there will be no decrease in freight sailing shipments.

An important element attending the market and particularly operating in cotton, appears to be lost in the consideration by large buyers in foreign exchanges. At the last quotations there is a margin of 1-16 in favor of cotton. It is estimated that the sales of this now will not for Huppe will reach five million bales. These are the views of some weighing reductions and conclusions, but we think the amount is over-estimated, and that they will not record from three to four millions. The future of the European market will be regarded with more than ordinary interest. For the sake of the shipments so made, we hope there may be a favorable reaction. The course adopted by the Bank of England in discounting the system of re-shipments for bill holders and others, has caused the Indian manufacturer to quotation used, here, discomfited, and with large stocks piled into weak hands, the market has been forced. Our cotton friends, planters and factors, will remember the fact that the Bank of England and Manchester spinners are yet present and mighty.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE, SATURDAY, April 24, 1858.

NEW ORLEANS.—From the Crescent April 19, the weekly statement of the banks shows some variations for the week. There is a decrease in each item. The main one of specie has been needed for the season, and though the Africa from Liverpool at New York brought $100,000 in gold, there will be none received here. The Southern Bank of Alabama, at Mobile, has imported $100,000—though it will not pay the usual banking. The balances of exchange held by other banks has decreased. To a branch has also paid the maximum for the April, and though there is a large basis, say several millions of dollars for exchange the season for liquidation North has arrived which will in all probability prevent any large accumulation. The eleven banks are in line $1,523,000, which is $100,000 less than last week.

The Exchange market continued dull to-day. We hear sold checks on New York at ¼ discount. Towards three o'clock the general asking rate was par. On the street the rates were at ¼@¼ discount; thirty days interest ¼ discount; six days sight 1¼@1¾ and 1¼@2 for Western on sight at 1¼@1¾ discount. Sterling advanced to 108¾@109 though the market may still be quoted at 108@108¾. Bills with shipping documents were scarce to-day. The stock transactions in cotton for the week in the course of this. Bank drafts are 1@1¼ premium. Sterling 108¾@109. Bank drafts $3 20@3 18¾.

Specie was very little done to report to-day. About $50,000 of long dats was placed at the rate of 1½@2 per cent, and a few short loans effected at 1¼ per month. The rates for Eastern exchange are nominally at par. Specie steady and quiet. Pork heavy. Bacon steady. Lard firm at 11@12c. Sugar quiet and unchanged. Rice declined 6d. Coffee quiet and unchanged. Rice declined 6d.

LONDON.—Money abundant. Bullion in the Bank of England has decreased £1,173,000 during the week. American railroad securities have slightly declined. Stocks dull.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday, 4 P. M.—Cotton dull. Estimated sales to-day 7,000 bales. Flour firm. Wheat steady. Corn dull. Provisions quiet.

Notice!
DURING my absence from the city, I learn that JOHN J. WENNIE, a clerk in his my employment, but now discharged, represented himself as being the "head and tail" of my house. I have also been informed that since his discharge, he has made demands and attempted to collect accounts from my customers. Also, that he has represented himself as Mr. Harris, and allowed himself to pass for Mr. H., and has been so introduced in society. I therefore take this method of cautioning my customers from paying him any accounts due me, and to correct the misrepresentations which he may have made before the public. I can be found at my old stand and will attend to my business as usual.
