What is earth, christian? The gateway to Heaven.

Reception of Gen. Quitman at Columbia, S. C.

Gen. J. A. QUITMAN met with a most enthusiastic reception, at Columbia., S. C., on the 31 instant, on the occasion of his visit to that city, to participate in the anniversary of the Palmetto Association.

Every nook and corner about the depot (says the South Carolinian) was crowded with men and boys, frequently thrust together by the pressure, without the power to extricate themselves. The Columbia artillery took position about two hundred yards below the depot of the South Carolina Railroad, and as the train approached salutes were fired. When the train reached the depot, Gen. QUITMAN was met by the committee of the Palmetto Association. Capt. STANLEY then, as chairman, gave him a most cordial and appropriate welcome. It was one that bespoke the enthusiastic admiration of one who had seen the distinguished old veteran amid the stern and trying realities of the battle-field.

The address was as follows:

"After the lapse of many years we meet again, yourself the illustrious guest, and I the humble representative of the survivors of the Palmetto regiment, organized into the Palmetto Association. On behalf of that Association I thank you for the privilege which now crowns them of extending to you the hand of a joyful welcome to the capital of this State, and of assuring you that you are received alike in the arms and hearts of her people. The language of truth cannot be confounded with the language of adulation, nor can just panegyric be offensive either to modesty or virtue. Let me, sir, then, with the frankness of the soldier, and as the organ of soldiers, declare to you that the presence of no living man could enkindle nobler sentiments or awaken prouder recollections in the minds of South Carolinians than your own. We hail you as our comrade in arms, and as our brave General; and although the terrible conflicts of the valley of Mexico belong to history, we still hail you as our brave and chivalrous chieftain, whose voice rang loud amidst the bloody clamors of musketry and artillery stimulating the Palmettoes in their struggle to plant the first standard of victory on the walls of the fallen capital of Mexico. South Carolina loves you in peace, because you first loved her sons in war, ministering to them in sickness and privation, kind and cordial to them in their hours of repose, sharing their perils, and imparting to their bosoms the fiery courage of your own in the stormy hour of battle and blood.

"Our Butler, our Dickinson, and many other illustrious sons, are curtained by the rayless night of death; with them the brilliant battle of life is indeed forever over. Sir, their dust mingling with the soil of their beloved State, as it does, breaks forth with our living voices to-day, in sweet, but mournful acclamation of welcome to you. The brave, the beautiful, the sage, and the young, all hands, all voices, all hearts join to make you welcome to the capital of South Carolina. Her emblematic eagle, twin sister of Mississippi's own proud bird, displays her wings to greet you; and her emblematic tree freshens in its foliage at your approach. Smiles and tears, prayers and flowery wreathes, all that the beauty and chivalry and hospitality of South Carolina's capital can present you with, I place upon your brow.

"Again, I say welcome, welcome, thrice welcome, be the General of our pride, affection, and veneration.

"The response that this elicited was one that revealed the generous and grateful emotions awakened by the enthusiastic demonstration of the assembly, and the fervently expressed greeting of the chairman of the committee.

"Gen. Quitman was then escorted by Capt. Stanley to an open carriage, drawn by four horses, which the committee had provided, and was drawn through Richardson street, around to the house of Col. Allen J. Green—who has the honor of entertaining the distinguished warrior during his sojourn in our city. Among those who came upon the cars, we observed the Hon. L. M. Keitt, who could not deny himself the pleasure of witnessing the tribute which the capital is paying to so gallant and vesserable a colleague in the halls of our Federal Congress."

Lane's Men in Kansas.

Extract from a letter to a merchant in St. Louis, dated

FORT SCOTT, April 24.

The difficulties here are far worse than they have been. On the 21st, a party of Lane's men commenced robbing the citizens on the Marmiton river, only eight miles above our town, taking their horses and guns, and plundering their houses of everything of value, in daylight. One of them came to town, and, upon affidavit, a writ was obtained from Judge Williams, against the thieves. This was placed in the hands of U. S. Deputy Marshal Little, who with Capt. Anderson and twenty men of his company as a posse, proceeded to arrest them. They came in sight of them about eight miles from this place, on the high prairie, and pursued them about one and a half miles to timber. They then took their position in a place which it was dangerous to approach. They waited until the Marshal's party reached within about forty yards, when, without a word being said, they fired upon the advancing party, and kept up firing, wounding Capt. Anderson slightly, and shooting his horse in three places—killing one of the soldiers and one horse dead, and wounding a third horse. The troops were only armed with pistols and sabres, but they wounded three of the banditti. A charge could not be made upon them, as there was a creek with high banks between the parties. The Marshal's party then fell back, and sent a messenger after more men and guns, but before they arrived the robbers had fled through the bush. The Marshal captured about $1,000 worth of property that had been stolen from the citizens, in horses, buggies, &c. Eight men have been shot before this.

In consequence of these difficulties, business is at a stand-still in this county, most of the good men have been run out by this party, and our lives are threatened. Two companies U. S. cavalry are here, but they say they do not fire these troops, as they can whip them out. An appeal has been made to the Governor to declare martial law in this part of the Territory.

TO MR. HUNG.—Geo. Flaugher and Wm. Meriwether, are to be hung in the vicinity of Covington, Tipton county, Tennessee, on the 1st Saturday in July next. They were tried for murder, in the first degree, sometime since, in the Tipton court and convicted and appealed to the Supreme Court at Jackson; and on Monday last were brought up for trial and the judgement of the lower court was affirmed, and sentence passed upon them. They seemed to manifest but little concern about their fate. When they returned to the jail, after their conviction, some one inquired of them the result. One of them replied, in a very indifferent tone, "By God, the jig is up with us now."—Jackson Whig

A Valuable Plantation for Sale In Panola County, Miss.

BEING desirous to concentrate my pecuniary interests in the Mississippi bottom, and also to pay all my debts, I will sell my plantation in Panola county, which I now reside, consisting of 800 acres, more than 200 in woods and thirty timbered. All the cleared land is in fine condition, well fenced, ploughed and cultivated. The planter is within 400 yards of Como Depot. The main road from Coffeeville to Memphis runs on the east line, and the road running west to Sharon, on the south side of the place. The neighborhood is one of the best in the State for churches and society. Coffee is very low. If the purchaser desired it, I would sell some stock with the place.

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The Numbers from 1 to 60,000, corresponding with these Numbers on the Tickets printed on separate slips of paper, are enrolled with small tin tubes and placed in one wheel.

The first 497 Prizes, similarly printed and enclosed, are placed in another wheel.

The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of numbers, and at the same time a Prize is drawn from the other wheel. The Numbers and Prizes thus drawn are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered by the Commissioners; the Prize being placed against the Number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the Prizes are drawn out.

ARRANGEMENT OF PRIZES.—The two preceding and the two succeeding Numbers to those drawing the first 7 Prizes will be entitled to the 28 Approximation Prizes; for example, if the Ticket No. 10,000 draws the $20,000 Prize, Tickets numbered 10,998, 10,999, 11,001, 11,002, will each be entitled to $400. If Ticket No. 50 draws the $20,000 Prize, Tickets numbered 48, 49, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, will each be entitled to $300, and so on according to the above scheme.

☞ The 5,000 Prizes of $20 will be determined by the last figure of the number that draws the $70,000 Prize. For example, if the Number drawing the $70,000 Prize ends with No. 1, then all the Tickets where the number ends in 1 will be entitled to $20. If the Number ends with No. 2, then all the Tickets where the number ends in 2 will be entitled to $20, and so on to 0.

Certificates of Package will be sold at the following rates, which is the law:

Certificate of Package of 10 Whole Tickets			$90 00

Land Warrant Stolen.

ON the 24 day of April instant, there was stolen from me in the city of Memphis, a certain Land Warrant for 80 acres of land, issued to the United States to Jacob Rutsman under the act of 1855, for services in the War of 1812, number of said Warrant not recollected. All persons are hereby forbidden and warned trading for said Warrant as a caveat has been entered in the General Land office, and is working to my use as heirs to the person owning. The Land Warrant was stolen by the said Rutsman to me.

Labor-Saving Machines.

Important to Planters & Millers.

FELTON'S IMPROVED

Self-Sharpening Portable Grist Mill.

An Improvement on all Other Patents.

THIS is one of the most valuable inventions of the day, possessing all the qualifications requisite to make it valuable to the farmer. It is destinated to supply a want that has long been felt by that portion of community. It is so simple in construction, that any person of ordinary skill can run it and keep it in order. The grinding surfaces are of the most durable character, harder than any tempered steel, and not liable to get out of order. It will grind wheat, corn, oats buckwheat, drugs and spices, crush and grind corn and cob admirably, or shelled oats and corn, and cob may be well ground together. The small size frame mill, with two-horse power, will grind from five to eight bushels of superior corn meal per hour, and from eight to ten bushels of good feed for stock, and requires but little attention, and may be run by gin-belt without increase of expense. The large size frame mill will grind over twice that amount per hour. The mill is not heated in grinding—a valuable feature. Prices are, for small size $125; large size $200. We have the right to sell the States of Tennessee, Kentucky, and a portion of Texas. A rare chance is here offered for competent and responsible men to engage in the sale of Mills.

County and State rights sold on accommodating terms. All orders, communications, and applications for Rights and Mills addressed to us will be promptly responded to.

Premium Cotton Gin

THE attention of Cotton Planters is respectfully called to the above superior Gins, manufactured by R. Carver, Hartford, Connecticut, Mass. Under a recent improvement, the Carver Gins are regarded as the best now in general use; their superiority needs no comments from us, as thousands are now in successful operation in the Southern country.

We have on hand fifty Gins, embracing all the different sizes and numbers of saws.

Also 10 and 12 foot segment bolts, washers, &c., complete, all of which we offer to our friends upon the usual terms and time.

FELTON'S

SELF-SHARPENING

Portable Grist Mill.

EVERY PLANTER HIS OWN MILLER.

THIS is one of the most valuable inventions of the day, possessing all the qualities necessary to make it of the greatest service to every planter, and is destined soon to supply every other mill and to supply a great want long felt in every part of the country. It occupies only 2 feet by 3, and weighs 300 pounds

The great distinguishing characteristics are, its simplicity, durability, utility and small cost, requiring no skill to keep it in order.

IT IS THE ONLY MILL IN THE UNION THAT WILL GRIND CORN AND COB IN THE EAR, WHICH MAKES AN INVALUABLE FEED FOR STOCK.

It is adapted to steam, water or horse power, grinding to perfection wheat, corn, oats, buckwheat, drugs and spices, and will grind and crush corn and cob admirably, or shelled oats and corn, and cob may be well ground together. The small size frame mill, with two-horse power, will grind from five to eight bushels of superior corn meal per hour, and from eight to ten bushels of good feed for stock, and requires but little attention, and may be run by gin-belt without increase of expense.
