CATARRH

IT WAS JIM'S FAULT. He Made a Bad Break When He Set His

Dog To Work. "Durn him, he don't look to be wurth his weight in pumpkins!" said the Taylor Township farmer, as he pointed to a faded and dejected-looking dog which he had just tied to the hind axle of his wagon with a piece of clothes-line.

"Going to take him home?"

"Yes. 'He doesn't look much like a farm

dog. 'No, but he'll have to do till I get somethin' better. Durn my son Jim, but he ought to be made to play dog fur the hull winter! It's his fault that to be occupied as he finds necessary. we lost the best dog in Wayne County last week." · How did it happen?" I asked.

.Wall, me an' Jim was huskin' corn long-side the road fence one afternoon. an' our dog was nosin' about after mice. Talk about dogs! Why, we'd raised him from a pup, and no man's $50 could a-bought him! That dog knowed mor'n lots of people I've met, includin' my son, Jim. We was a-huskin' away when one o' them blamed foreigners came along with one o' them performin' bears. The minit Jim sot eyes on them he got up and says. ... Dad do you want mor'n a bar'l o' fun in less'n three minits?' .. What d've mean?' says I.

"We'll put Towser on to that b'ar and run him seven miles,' says he.

" But mebbe the b'ar won't run." "He's sartin to. Them sort of b'ars haint got no sand. He'll do some of the all-firedest runnin' you ever saw in old Wayne county.'"

"And so you set the dog on?" I asked as he paused to kick at the cur under the wagon.

'Yes. That is, that infernal doughhead of a Jim did! He didn't give me time to think it over. The man and man is like a gun, which makes the the b'ar bad got past us when Jim lifted the dog over the fence and told him to go in. It just makes me seasick to think of it.'

"The dog went in?" Of course. That dog would have tackled a Bengal tiger nineteen feet high if we told him to. He got sight Lungs when other remedies failed. of that b'ar amblin' along and he laid I am a married man and, thirty-six out to surprise him. I got up on the years of age, and live with my wife fence jest as he overtook the b'ar and and two little girls at Durham, Mo.

I have stated this brief and plain so that all may understand. My case hollered so you could hear him a mile. rolled him plum over and over about was a bad one, and I shall be glad and I was so tickled I couldn't laff."

"Wall, I wish I hadn't started in to O. Box 45, April 25, 1890. No man could ask a more honorable, busiand about that time I got over bein' tickled. Towser had a good grip on him, but that old b'ar riz up like a side hill, shook him off and then grabbed him to wipe out the insult. How long d'ye s'pose that dog lasted?"

"Three minutes?" "Three turnips! You couldn't hev counted fifty after he got up afore he cass into the ditch. Jim and I both beard the bones crack.'

"And what was the man doing all this time?

'Oh, he was sittin' down to light his pipe and when we got up to him he wanted to know if we didn't want to turn the rest of the dogs loose." "And that was all?"

Purty nigh all. I run Jim over a mile through the woods, but he got away and hasn't dast come home since. Look at that cantakerous cur I'm a takin' home in place of a $50 bulldog! Git along, thar! Stand over and shet up or I'll be the death of you in less'n two minits!"-Detroit Free Press.

Frightened by Ghosts. Two Indians from the La Point reservation arrived at Bayfield, Wis., a few days ago paralyzed with fear. They told a wonderful story of adventure. They had started on a hunt in Madeline island, and intended to visit some friends. They camped on a spot about four miles from the village. At midnight the Indians were aroused by a fearful struggle. Before them were two men and a woman battling, the contestants being covered with blood. The Indians say the forms disappeared afterward, but the sounds and groans were kept up all night. People in the vicinity claim there was a terrible murder committed on the Island some time in the past, and that the 'ghosts" of the parties were seen by the Indians.-Chicago Press.

Japanese and Chrysanthemums.

The Japanese consider it especially difficult to arrange the chrysanthemums, and seven faults are noted which must carefully be guarded against in disposing of large blossoms of this plant. A blossom must not present its back in a composition, nor yet turn its full face to view. The different flowers must not have stems of the same length; three must not be arranged in a triangular form, nor may any number be placed in a regular steplike way; the flowers should not be hidden by leaves, nor should a large open blossom be put near the

Capt. L. K. Morse, of Rockport, Me., has invented a course indicator which is expected to prove of great value to navigators. He believes his device will show the actual course steered for any length of time, as it records every movement of the compass and registers the difference between the direction of the vessel's head and points of the compass intended to be followed. Any deviation from the course ordered, either from carelessness or otherwise, will be shown.
