THE DAILY APPEAL.

FRIDAY..... .....OCTOBER 15, 1858

☞ Full and accurate daily reports of the progress of the Fair will be found in the APPEAL. To supply the increased demand, an extra number of our paper will be worked off each day. Price five cents per copy.

TO BE SPRINKLED.—We take pleasure in announcing that the Directors of the Shelby County Agricultural Society, yesterday made an arrangement with MR. TUCKER to sprinkle the main carriage road, leading from the city to the Fair Grounds. Everybody may attend the Fair to-day without fear of being suffocated by the dust on the way.

WHARF IMPROVEMENT.—A number of stout posts are being put down on the levee, for the purpose of tying boats to. They were much wanted.

SITUATION WANTED—By a young man who can give the best references as to business qualifications as clerk or book-keeper, in a commission or grocery house. Apply at this office.

CRIMINAL COURT.—After a short and unimportant session, yesterday this Court adjourned on account of the knocking made by men engaged in tinning the dome.

BANKS.—We thank for late papers Messrs. HARMSTAD & GORE, Agents; McCREIGHT, of the steamboat Lacon, and to the obliging BORDEN, of Adams & Co's Express.

VEHICLES.—There is an ordinance requiring vehicles to pass each other to the right, this law is systematically disobeyed. The City Marshal is about to enforce it before accidents arise from its infraction.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The Recorder had but a small attendance yesterday. Only seven cases of the most ordinary character came before him. The amount of fines was thirty dollars. Ten dollars was paid, and the rest will be worked out on the chain-gang at fifty cents a day.

☞ Mr. CROWELL, at the house of Mr. FLAGG, on Madison street, is in receipt of a large supply of new music, among which is the "Atlantic Telegraph Polka," dedicated to CYRUS W. FIELD, Esq. Besides this, he has many other choice pieces which will be found enumerated in advertisement in another column.

WOOD AND WILL W WARE.—INGRAHAM & LEES, at their depot at No. 6, Monroe street, have received large additions to their stock of house furnishing articles. They advertise this morning a lot of India Rubber Goods—both useful and ornamental. We would recommend our housekeeping readers to call and look through their stock.

☞ The gentleman who was relieved of his pocket-book at the Circus, on Wednesday night, containing some $60 in money; also, several hundred dollars worth of notes, makes a request of the thief, in an advertisement in another column, this morning, which, if the thief is honest, he will certainly comply with. His attention is directed to the notice.

COUNCIL MEETING.—Council met yesterday, the object of the meeting was to appoint a gentleman to cast the city's vote for Directors of the Mississippi Railroad. The Mayor was appointed. A resolution was passed to stop the sale of the boilers at the Navy Yard as they may be wanted for the contemplated water works.

THE COMET.—This object is shorn of his glory, the tail in the light of the moon—which is increasing every night, presents a dim—gauzy appearance, far below the imposing show of last week. "Ichabod, thy glory is departed." If the comet could declare the cause of its loss of brilliancy, in dolorous tones it would proclaim, "It's all moonshine."

NOT SHOT.—We published a paragraph from a Pennsylvania paper a week ago, stating that Dr. NAGLE of this place had been engaged in a duel, in which he killed his opponent, and was himself fatally wounded. The whole thing was that mean thing "a sell." We had the pleasure of shaking the Doctor by the hand yesterday, and found him safe and sound to the very glasses of his spectacles.

NOT SO.—Some of the papers at a distance state that they are informed by telegraph, that Capt. B. L. ELLIOTT died in Memphis of yellow fever. We wish to inform these papers that we have had no yellow fever in this city, and consequently Capt. ELLIOTT did not die of that disease in this place; he died on board the New Uncle Sam, when that boat was on its way up the river.

IMPROVED.—Owing to the efforts of the active Officer MILLER, ten or twelve of the loafers who are habitually infesting Howard's Row, have been put to work on the chain-gang, and the place has undergone a comparative improvement. There are a set of rogues who hang about that Row who live by making deck hands and firemen of boats helplessly drunk, and stealing from them their wages when they are paid off.

MEMPHIS RACES.—The New Orleans Picayune says: "It should not be forgotten that the fall meeting over the Memphis Course is advertised to commence on Tuesday, 19th inst., and to continue five days. From the numerous facilities by steamboat and railroad for reaching Memphis, and from its being the occasion of opening the new course, we expect that a very large attendance will be chronicled, as well as some excellent sport, judging by the list of entries."

DUST ON A "HIGH BEST."—The Marion Commonwealth says:—A Memphis correspondent of the Independent, published at Huntsville, in this State, says the dust in that city is "not more than two feet deep." This being the case, says the Independent, we presume the great cry among the Memphians is, "down with the dust." If our cotemporary would visit Marion about this time, he would see dust that not two feet deep, is at least fifty feet high.

THE ABDUCTION.—The girl BARRETT, who, it is charged, was abducted from her home by CONNOLLY and others, was found in the house of MRS. MCKNIGHT, living on Brown's Avenue. It had been inferred that that lady was cognizant of the peculiar circumstances surrounding the girl, but such was not the case. MRS. MCKNIGHT is a highly respectable lady, to whom the girl applied for a situation. She was in want of a girl and hired her on her application, believing from her manner and appearance that she would suit her.

A YOUTHFUL CRIMINAL.—A youth of fifteen named MICHAEL THWOAL was put in jail yesterday on the charge of committing a deadly assault upon a woman. He was hired to work with a German living half a mile above the corporation line at the head of Poplar street. On Wednesday he asked his employer's wife, MRS. MARY WEINRICH, for his pay. She said her husband was the proper person to apply to, and he was then absent. The boy flew into a rage and MRS. WEINRICH took refuge in the house, locking the door. THWOAL took an axe and broke open the door, and then struck the woman with it several times over the shoulders and breast. The physicians attending her does not fear serious consequence, but the bruises are very severe.

TENNESSEE TIME PIECE.—Messrs. D. L. WELLS & Co., Bolivar, Tenn., sent to the Fair a beautiful gold lever watch, every piece of which was made by their own hands. It is a beautiful specimen of the art and handicraft of watchmaking, and does the highest credit to them as workmen who thoroughly understand their business. It was ruled out by the Judges because it was not made in Shelby county. We do not approve the ruling, and would suggest to our friends to send it to the Division Fair at Jackson, where it will undoubtedly take the premium. It may be seen at the store of J. E. MERRIMAN & Co., and we would advise our readers to call and see this beautiful specimen of Tennessee watch work.

JOHN DREW'S COMPLIMENTARY BENEFIT.—This grand affair comes off to-night at Crisple Gallery, and as the matter is in competent hands, we expect to see a most brilliant house. A look at the loveliness of the dress circle will alone be an irresistible attraction. MR. DREW is one of the most finished and versatile actors that has ever appeared on the Memphis boards, and it gives us pleasure to chronicle his success. The pieces selected for the occasion are all new to us here; first is the petite comedy of an Irish Engagement, in which JOHN DREW appears as "The Rafferty." The domestic drama of Terrence O'Cowzer follows, with JOHN DREW as "Terrence," and the charming MRS. HENRY as "Margaret." The performance concludes with the amusing farce of the Irish Tutor, "Teddy O'Rourke," JOHN DREW, in order to avoid the crowd, those taking tickets should secure seats during the day. The box office will be open from nine in the morning until four in the afternoon, where the polite Mr. CANNING will be happy to accommodate all applicants for the dramatic festival of the season.

Port of Memphis.

River News.

We are now, in common with places higher up the stream, reduced to low water with all its losses, delays, accidents and vexations. The bluff is covered with cotton, which the holders are anxious to ship, boats are laid up in fleetons at different parts of the river, and little improvement in this state of things is to be expected until the Mississippi once more shows a respectable channel.

The regular packet arrangements are in several instances deranged, and travel, in some directions, is reduced to dependence on transient boats. The St. Louis line, the Napoleon line, and the Boone to Vicksburg are all, we believe, at present running at their regular periods.

The St. Louis boat for to-morrow is the Dickey, Capt. Able. This boat is a short time has reached a high degree of popularity. Capt. Dickey is a most obliging gentleman and officer.

The Return is up for White river for to-morrow evening.

The Messenger is advertised for St. Louis at six o'clock this evening.

The St. Louis Republican, of October 12, says: The river here is falling, falling, falling. Low water is at hand. The last arrival from below reports 21 feet scant in the channel on to Cairo. Several boats have been aground between this port and Cairo, but at last accounts all were afloat and doing well. New Orleans packets are beginning to be very careful not to overload the water. The Upper Mississippi is falling, with five feet in the channel to Keokuk, 4 feet on the Upper and 33 inches on the Lower Rapids; 30 inches is the report on Beef Slough. The Illinois is in good boating stage, with 4½ feet in the channel and falling. The same old report comes from the Missouri—3½ feet on the bars and falling.

The Cairo correspondent of the same paper writes: The rivers have at last commenced to rise, but the only rise appears to come from the Ohio, and that is very slight. We do not hear of any of the upper streams beginning to run out, nor of any improvement in the upper Ohio.

RUNAWAY.—As a lady and gentleman were riding in a buggy along Beal and Second streets, on Wednesday evening, the driver made the turn of the corner too sharply, when the vehicle was overturned and the parties thrown out. The lady, Miss STAPLES, had her face considerably bruised, the gentleman was but slightly hurt.

ARRESTED.—A man named JAMES MORAN was yesterday placed in jail. He had been in the chain-gang for drunkenness and our officers suspecting that he was an individual who had escaped from St. Louis, where he stands charged with stabbing another man, they telegraphed to the Marshal there and received a reply that led to the man's incarceration. His name is JAMES MORAN.

LITTLE ROCK RAILROAD.—During the spell of fine weather we have been favored with the the track laying and grading on the Little Rock Railroad has progressed rapidly, and by the 1st of December there will be through trips made to St. Francis river. We learn the people of Arkansas are waking up to the importance of this road. The Governor, at the next session, will recommend it to the consideration of the Legislature.

THE CAMPBELLS.—To-night we shall have at Old Fellows' Hall a rich, rare and racy entertainment—Brother Bones, known by his two story and a half shirt collar, sometimes called HARRY LEHR, takes a benefit—three fourths of which will sink into the souls of those who go to the Hall, and the balance into HARRY'S pocket. The programme which is before us is rich and varied beyond any that yet has been given to the citizens of Memphis. Time and space will not permit to give a synopsis, suffice it to say, that every one who visit Odd Fellows' Hall to-night, will not regret the time and money spent.

MEMPHIS JOCKEY CLUB.—According to previous announcement there was a meeting of the Members of the Memphis Jockey Club, held last evening at the Worsham House. There was a very full attendance. J. KNOX WALKER was appointed President, and JOHN F. SALE, Secretary pro tem. The President pro tem having explained the objects of the meeting, the following gentlemen were unanimously elected permanent officers of the Club President, Gen. THOS. H. BRADLEY, of Arkansas; Vice Presidents, J. J. WORSHAM, J. KNOX WALKER, FRANK W. ROFFNER, JAMES ROGERS and JOHN L. SAFFARANS; Secretary and Treasurer, CHAS. STONE.

On motion, the President appointed Col. W. H. CARROLL, A. B. BALLARD and JOHN TAYLOR a committee to select twelve suitable gentlemen, all citizens of Shelby, to be appointed stewards.

Rules for the government of the Club were adopted, similar in most respects to those of the New Orleans Metairie Jockey Club.

The Club having completed the business for which it was convened, partook of an elegant repast prepared by the agreeable and accomplished host of the Worsham, and separated in fine spirits and excellent humor.

THE BUCKLEYS.—We last evening attended the performance of the BUCKLEYS, at Ash's Theatre. The place was crowded to the utmost, and we saw many sent back, unable to find even a standing place. The audience was a highly respectable one, and included many fashionably attired ladies, who manifested the highest delight with the performances. The troupe, in all they undertake, at once rivet attention by the spirit with which they render their parts. There is an energy in every movement that gives a finish to all they do, and rivets the attention and gratifies the taste of the audience. The laughing and crying songs are great additions to Ethiopian minstrelsy. The witticisms were well received and in good taste. SWAINE BUCKLEY'S "Dare's Somebody in the House wid Dinah," was a gem excellently rendered.

The great attraction of the evening was the Lucrezia Borgia. The selections from the original music, both vocal and instrumental, were finely executed; the burlesque is of the most mirth provoking character. There is not only exquisite humor in the droll manner in which the most touching and lofty portions of the original opera are reduced to the extreme of fun and absurdity, but there is an ingenuity in the turns given to the plot that excites surprise and provokes laughter. It is to the delay in getting to New Orleans that we are indebted for the present visit of these accomplished artists, and all should avail themselves of the opportunity of witnessing performances rarely given except in the metropolitan cities of New York and New Orleans.

Monetary and Financial

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE, FRIDAY, October 15, 1858.

NEW YORK.—From the Herald, Oct. 11: The week which has just ended, has not been distinguished by any striking feature, or revival in business. The extraordinary monetary crisis has not lessened in intensity, the same rule as for several weeks past, in money, there is no material change to note. Stocks and cotton day per diem, sales at about 4 P.M. at hour, not of sufficiently important to call for the insertion of any of the accompanying tables. Loans on government or State stocks, at call, are readily obtained at 5@6 per cent; railway or other securities at 7@8 per cent. Short borrowers rarely needing to extend the lower rate. Foreign exchange opened early last week at high rates—125 on England and 5 12½ on Paris, but it fell off after the sailing of the Baltic steamer, and closed for yesterday's market at 109@ 109½ for the first, and 5 11@5 11½ for francs.

Specie, first class, sells at about 4 9ct. at hour, inferior, and secondary paper, or at any rate, at rates of 1@2 according to quality of shadow. Loans on government or State stocks, at call, are readily obtained at 5@6; on good railway or other securities at 7@8. Short borrowers rarely needing to extend the lower rate. Foreign exchange opened early last week at high rates—125 on England and 5 12½ on Paris, but it fell off after the sailing of the Baltic steamer, and closed for yesterday's market at 109@ 109½ for the first, and 5 11@5 11½ for francs.

ST. LOUIS.—The Republican, of Oct. 12, says: The immense accumulation of idle funds at the great money centres, in doubtless one of the chief causes of the enterprises, engendered by the bitter experience of the last year. This distrust must, however, grade off gradually. For it is literally true that capitalists are actually embarrassed with riches for which they have no use, and for which they must soon be seeking some safe investment. A London correspondent of an eastern paper, remarking upon the present state of things, says: "A few months ago the question asked by the kingdom commercial and financial classes, was, "What shall we do for money?" At present the question asked by those very important portions of the community is, "What shall we do with our money?" And this last question is certainly of very important one, and demands an immediate answer, for the unemployed funds of the country are increasing with a most embarrassing decree of rapidity.

"His command of language was immense. With him clothed the secret of the old medical division of England—the art of producing the rich effects by familiar words. The toughest and most knotty parts of language became tractable at his touch. His versification in the same manner, while it gave the first model of that musical prose style, into which the following generation extended so highly, exhibited at the same time the last examples of noble lines, formed on the ancient model of English verse."

"He was, perhaps, the greatest of those whom we have designated as the critical poets."—Edinburgh Review.

REV. H. J. ROSE'S NEW GENERAL BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY; 12 vols. 8vo., calf, 48,00, cost in advance $6,000. Edinbr. London.

This has been most carefully edited and compiled by able and extensive writers in every department of Biography, and is intended to supply a deficiency in the literature which has not existed since the completion of "Chalmers," which, after a lapse of forty years, has become obsolete. This work, from the great variety and extensive range of its contents, must be acknowledged as an important addition to the stock of public and private library, both as a book of reference and a repository of information and amusement for all classes of readers.

Commercial Matters.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE, FRIDAY, October 15, 1858.

COTTON.—A slowly falling pressure the market yesterday, and many holders held back from selling, not anticipating a revival in business. The cotton market continues of the past week, and the same rule as for several weeks past, in money, there is no material change to note. Stocks and cotton day per diem, sales at about 4 P.M. at hour, not of sufficiently important to call for the insertion of any of the accompanying tables. Loans on government or State stocks, at call, are readily obtained at 5@6; on good railway or other securities at 7@8. Short borrowers rarely needing to extend the lower rate. Foreign exchange opened early last week at high rates—125 on England and 5 12½ on Paris, but it fell off after the sailing of the Baltic steamer, and closed for yesterday's market at 109@ 109½ for the first, and 5 11@5 11½ for francs.

Specie, first class, sells at about 4 9ct. at hour, inferior, and secondary paper, or at any rate, at rates of 1@2 according to quality of shadow. Loans on government or State stocks, at call, are readily obtained at 5@6; on good railway or other securities at 7@8. Short borrowers rarely needing to extend the lower rate. Foreign exchange opened early last week at high rates—125 on England and 5 12½ on Paris, but it fell off after the sailing of the
