THE APPEAL.

Extraordinary Counterfeiting on the Turkish Bank.

From the New York Herald, Oct. 9.]

One of the most extensive counterfeiting operations that ever ever known came to light yesterday, nearly half a million of the spurious money being recovered by the police, together with the dies, plates, &c., used for manufacturing the bogus stuff. The money is all Turkish bills, and a large amount of it has been successfully passed in Constantinople by a woman, who, from all the particulars that we have been enabled to learn, was the prime mover in the operation, and the principal or chief of a gang who aided in its circulation.

It appears that the woman, whose name is Mrs. Sevesti, a Moldavian, came to this country about a year ago, and put up at the St. Nicholas Hotel, under the assumed name of Madame Gerfiret. It is not known if she was accompanied here by any person, but after a short stay at the above hotel, she changed her quarters to a private boarding house in the upper part of the city, where she lived, and called upon Mr. Wm. L. S. Harrison, a printer, doing business at No. 82 Duane street, and desired to know what he would print a certain amount of labels for, and obtain the plates, &c., necessary for the printing.

Mr. Harrison informed her of his price, when she left; but in a few days after she again called, and ordered four dozen of electrotype plates to be made, representing a very curious looking label, which appears to have been a copy of a Turkish bill, with various Arabic letters in the centre and around the edges. Mr. Harrison thought them to be a label for some Chinese tea, and did not for one moment hesitate to accept the job. He accordingly agreed to have the plates manufactured at the earliest moment. An arrangement was then made that Mr. Harrison should print 5,000 copies at one dollar a thousand, and that they should be done within a certain given time. The work was accordingly finished and all delivered, with the exception of about one-quarter of the bills, which, together with the plates, were by her left in Mr. Harrison's care, until they should be called for by Mrs. Sevesti. Nothing further was heard of this woman by Mr. Harrison until yesterday, when, about two o'clock in the afternoon, he was surprised by the entrance of a body of men, who were no less than Sergeant Berney, Acting Sergeant Thomas Sampson, and officers Rusteed, Blackwell, Hillard, Horrigan, Neale, Fowler, Armstrong and Freeman, of the Mayor's squad, with a warrant to seize all found in the place.

Madame Sevesti, it appears, as soon as she procured the bills, had three large trunks manufactured with false bottoms, and in a short time embarked in a steamer for Europe. There she procured a passage in the steamer Egia Sofia which runs between Liverpool and Constantinople, and landed at Syra. On leaving the steamer she appeared very anxious about her luggage, and requested an Englishman, who was attached to the Steam Company's office, to accompany her to the custom-house, hoping that by his assistance she might have the examination go through more quickly and with less rigor. She also appeared anxiety lest her dresses and other articles of toilet should be rumpled. The director of the custom-house, Abdellah Hiffet Bey, assured her, with the greatest courtesy, that it would be done, adding, lest that her trunks must be opened. This was done, and the very first locked at was found to have a false bottom. On this the director had all the rest of the baggage removed into the inner room, and requested the lady to follow him there. A further search was then made, and two other trunks were found to be made in the manner, and to have carefully packed in them forged notes of twenty piasters, to the total amount of 1,250,000 piasters, made up in packets of 1,000 each. The lady herself was afterwards searched, and there were found, carefully sewed in her under garments, 20,000 piasters more of the same notes.

The lady and her baggage were immediately sent off to the Ministry of Police, and on her way thither she betrayed the utmost alarm and agitation. On being interrogated by the Minister she gave her name as Madame Gerfiret, one of the families in the East. She stated that she was a native of Moldavia, and was a married woman. She was afterward removed to the prison for women and carefully watched, and on the following day was taken to the Porte and examined by the Grand Vizier himself. It is believed that she is only the agent of a band of forgers who have made Syra their headquarters.

The fact of her arrival caused a great sensation for a time in Syra, and steps were immediately taken by the minister of police and the Ottoman government to ferret out, if possible, where the bills were obtained and printed. The Ottoman government accordingly wrote to the Turkish minister at Paris, giving the arrest of Mrs. Sevesti, with a large quantity of "calmes," or paper money; and that she had, during a judicial proceeding made before the Minister of Police, stated that she had caused the "calmes" to be printed by the above-named printer in this city. The Turkish minister at London accordingly wrote to the consul for the Ottoman Porte in this city, J. Horatio Sears, Esq., which letter arrived on Wednesday by the Arago, giving his suspicion that there was yet a large quantity of the counterfeit money to be found on Harrison's premises.

Mr. Smith proceeded at once before the Mayor, where he made an affidavit, upon which a warrant was issued and placed in the above officer's hand. On searching Harrison's place, they succeeded about $430,000 of the counterfeit money, which had been found upon the premises in the office. All the plates were recovered, and, together with the prisoners, conveyed before the Mayor.

Mr. Harrison, when arrested, seemed very much surprised, especially when he was told he had been arrested for counterfeiting. There can be no doubt but that Mr. Harrison was entirely ignorant of what use the material was to have been put to, and, as stated by him before the Mayor, he had supposed them to be labels for some Chinese articles. The other parties arrested were John Sonney, Richard Tweed, J. W. Rumsey, M. J. Stilwell, Fred. Stiner, Morris Roach, James Connolly, and F. W. Griffith, all printers.

The Mayor, after a short conversation with Mr. Smith, decided to hold Mr. Harrison to bail in the sum of $2,000 to answer, if any evidence required. His wife and clerks were also held as witnesses. Mr. Harrison soon gave the required bail, and was discharged.

He describes Mrs. Sevesti as a woman apparently about forty years of age, and was at all times elegantly attired and very lady-like in her manners.

Sacramento City.

We find the following glowing description of Sacramento City in our California exchanges:

In point of convenient location, of accessibility from the rest of the State, it never did have a rival. In public spirit, in refined society, in thriftiness, in beauty, in taste, it will be many years before it has an equal. It was fitting that the town which gave upon the site of Sutter's old fort, the pioneer spot of western civilization, should have been thus honored. It was but justice that the city which built the first fork on the Pacific Railroad should be selected as the Capitol. No better spot could have been designated than that which is par excellence the garden of the State; which blooms with the sweetest flowers, rejoices in the most genial climate, and is the storehouse of the most luxurious fruits, and the most valuable products. Four-fifths of the gold which semi-monthly leaves in millions for the Atlantic States, passes through Sacramento; more than one-half the grain, seeds and melons, the vegetables and fruits, which find a market in the metropolis, are grown upon the banks of the Sacramento and its tributaries; whilst at least two-thirds of the entire population of the State have made their homes upon that stream and its various branches. We love Sacramento; its beautiful situation embraces the grandeur and binds the citizen strongly to his home. The swift flowing river that sweeps by it, bearing upon its bosom argosies richer than the galleons of Venice or the navies of old Tyre over the sunny waters, which lift their cloud-crowned summits half way to the skies, in the blue distance, and the flower-carpeted plains, that stretch far away in all directions, covered with cattle, and farm houses, and orchards—all offer to the eye and the imagination, a succession of natural beauties of landscape seldom equalled and never surpassed.

THE ENGLISH MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS.—The Manchester correspondent of the Providence Journal furnishes the following intelligence, under date of September 17:—

"The news from India this week is again extremely favorable, both the Calcutta and Bombay markets being reported strong and healthy, and without any symptom of a glut, notwithstanding the heavy shipments from hence in the early part of the year. A large business would assuredly have resulted in this department but for the stiffness of the sellers, who held firmly for a decided advance on last week's prices, and have thereby greatly limited the transactions. The Greeks are operating to a fair extent for the Levant, although here too the advance in prices had checked the demand, which otherwise appears to be very animated. The German trade, which characteristic waviness, have been inactive for a fortnight past, and still to a large extent keep aloof from the markets, and confine themselves with the direction of small and pressing orders. The Russian buyers are still in a position to operate, but their purchases have been drawing to a close, and accordingly very full prices have been paid this week for Russia, more especially for suitable qualities of yarns.

"I do not hear of much doing for America this week, and no doubt the heavy advance in prices has restricted operations in this department also; but the improved tone is maintained, and the feeling as to the future is cheerful and confident.

"The home trade is steady and moderately active, but the business doing is not extensive, owing to sudden advance in prices."

A SEAM OF GOLD.—There is a project on foot in New York to establish a bullion bank, which shall use nothing but gold in its transactions. It is said that it has the approval of many prominent men, among whom are Martin Van Buren, Robert J. Walker, Jno. A. Dix and John J. Cisco. The capital is to be $1,000,000, and the revenues are to be derived from loaning this amount, and charging a very small commission from the two hundredth to the one tenth of one per cent on the sums deposited with the bank, which will always be payable in coin.

WALKING UP AGAINST WATER.—At Amsterdam there is to be a regatta of young men who will walk against the stream, in shoes called pedoschas, made of them. Mr. Ochsner, who gained the prize accompanied the feat of walking up the Rhine from Rotterdam to Cologne, where he arrived on the 2nd of June, having starts off for Rotterdam on the 16th.

We find the above paragraph in the papers. If true, it presents quite a new feature in aquatics. According to the statement the winner of the prize walked 150 miles in 8 days, or 25 miles each day, upon the surface of the water.
