THE DAILY APPEAL.

WEDNESDAY.....NOVEMBER 10, 1858.

☞ We learn, upon what we cannot doubt is good authority, that the members of the APPEAL on the Memphis and Charleston road are in the habit of cutting ten cents per copy for our paper, instead of five cents, the universal price. This is a gross imposition, and we ask the attention of those who have the means of correction in their hands, Messrs. SMITH & HITZ, to the fact. We are further informed that old papers, several days out of date, have been sold as fresh copies. This too, is an imposition, against which we guard the traveling public.

COAL.—Those in want of Pittsburgh coal can be supplied by reading PAYNE's advertisement, in another column.

☞ We had the pleasure yesterday of a visit from D. W. DAVIS, Esq., a prominent and influential Democrat of Tishomingo county, Mississippi.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The Commandant's House at the Navy Yard, no longer stands "in solitary grandeur;" new houses are rapidly being completed around it.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was gloomy, cold and wintry—shawls and overcoats were necessary for comfort out of doors. A few particles of snow fell in the course of the day.

RECORDER'S COURT.—This court has not been very prosperous during the last few days. Yesterday only fourteen cases, and they of no uncommon interest, were examined.

MESSRS. C. M. HOOTON & CO.—We are requested to state that notwithstanding the decease of one of the partners, the house continues the transaction of business as usual.

HAILED OUT.—ELIZA MILLINER, the courtesan, who stabbed "French Lou," was liberated from jail yesterday on two thousand dollars bail to appear and stand another trial.

THANKS.—For late and valuable exchanges we thank BORDEN, of Adams & Co.'s Express, ARCHER, of the steamboat Southern, and JAS. TUCKER, of the W. Burton.

SUICIDE.—Mr. R. H. CHILTON, a ship broker and well known citizen of New Orleans, committed suicide by cutting his throat in his office, 177 Gravier street, on the night of the 3d inst.

☞ The large sale of liquors, groceries, &c., is continued to-day at 10 o'clock at G. B. LOCKE & Co.'s auction house. There is also eight hundred pairs heavy negro blankets to be sold at the same time and place.

A MAMMOTH SWEET POTATO.—Mrs. GEO. R. POWELL of this city, has been obliging enough to present the APPEAL office with perhaps the largest sweet potato ever grown in this or any other latitude. It weighs ten pounds nine ounces.

☞ WALLACE's sale of Mr. A. WHEELE's house, joining Capt. A. B. SHAW's residence, comes off this morning, on Madison street, opposite the Sheriff's office, rain or shine. This is one of the prettiest lots in the city, and near the centre of business.

AERIAL NAVIGATION.—Mr. SIDNEY WALKER will deliver two lectures on the subject of aerial navigation, in Exchange Hall, the first on Thursday evening, and the second on Saturday evening, at early gas light. The lectures will be free, and the public are respectfully invited to attend.

CRIMINAL COURT.—At this court yesterday a jury was obtained in the case of WM. R. HUNT, charged with killing MILES. The remainder of the day was occupied in examining testimony. It was just one year yesterday since the circumstance occurred which led to the trial.

RECKLESS DRIVING.—Persons riding or driving in the public streets should remember that to pass along at a rapid speed, by which the lives and limbs of pedestrians is endangered, is an offense against our city ordinances. For transgressing this law ISAAC SCHLOSS was yesterday fined five dollars and costs by the Recorder.

THE UNION STREET SALE.—At 10 o'clock, this morning, Mr. CATCH offers for sale the beautiful residence of DR. LONG, on the premises, on Union street. He invites not merely bidders, but all citizens who have an interest in real estate matters to be present, that they may see what Memphis property is doing.

A FINE CROP.—Yesterday JONES & BROWN sold a bale of cotton, comprising a hundred and seventy-seven bales. It was all one crop grown on a plantation of L. P. BURGER, Esq., (DeSoto county, Mississippi.) It was of superior quality, and obtained the top price in the market, eleven and a quarter cents.

THE SOUTHERNER.—This favorite boat got in last evening; she has still her popular officers. TRIPLETT is in command and bound to make more speeches in one night than any other man in America, when required; ANCHER is in the office, attentive, courteous and whole hearted as in the days of yore.

LIGHTING HOUSE WITHOUT JOINTS.—We invite attention to the advertisement of E. F. BROOK, agent of the Southern Lightning Rod Manufactory at New Orleans. This manufactory takes out rods on a new and improved principle, which is believed to be far preferable to the old rod, which is going into disuse. It has many advantages, which will be explained by application to the agent, at the house of L. S. BURR & Co., of this city.

CHARITABLE FUND.—Some intelligent individual walked into the Criminal Court yesterday, while the trial of HUNT was going on, comfortably puffing a cigar. The Judge, considering the presence of burning tobacco a nuisance, promptly inflicted a fine of two dollars and a half, not on the offending individual, but upon the Sheriff. We hope the Sheriff has no remissions, if he has they will assuredly go to the court room and take a quiet smoke, for the pleasure of seeing the Sheriff pay the damages.

CONCERT.—At the Odd Fellows' Hall last night, COLLINS had a good audience, whose loud and frequent applause testified to the gratification his exhibition of the fine powers he possesses gave them. It is unnecessary for us to speak of the high position MR. COLLINS occupies as a performer and a vocalist. His merit is universally recognized. MR. BARTON, who is traveling with him, is a worthy compeer; he has a splendid voice and great powers of giving amusement, and as a performer on the piano he deserves high praise. To-morrow COLLINS gives his second entertainment.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Last night our vigilant police observed two men making rather familiar with a stranger, whom they enticed out on Union street, near the Bayou, when he was knocked down and his pockets rifled of their contents. So close were the police after them that they were in sight when the man was felled, and ere they had time to get many yards, were in the hands of justice. The man recovered while the police were engaged with the thieves, and strayed off, and at a late hour last night had not been found. We are requested to say that the money taken from the two thieves is at the Station House, where the man, who was knocked down, is requested to call and identify the same. We should not neglect to state that officers ROSE and MILLER made the arrests.

AMATEUR CONCERT TO-NIGHT AT ODD-FELLOWS' HALL.—Our readers are doubtless aware, or this, that the Concert that has been so long in preparation, and which is to be given by the talented amateurs of our city, assisted by the world-renowned COLLINS, and led by our enterprising citizen, FLAVIO, comes off to-night. The programme of the evening will be of the most varied character, and will suit the most fastidious. Independent of the "quid pro quo," that every one will receive by the Concert, it should be borne in mind that the object is a charitable one that should enlist the sympathies of all. Tickets may be procured at FLAVIO's Music Store, of Mr. SHULL, Mr. LAMOTHE, or at the door, this evening. For particulars, see programme in another column.

POEM LIE GENS DE BON GOUT.—We had the extreme pleasure yesterday of receiving a practical proof of the excellency of the productions of the skill of SPECHT, the confectioner on Madison street, just below Main. We experimented on a couple of his mince pies by aid of one bouteille de vin sec, and like every thing else that SPECHT makes, we can conscientiously pronounce them "very good." We have a hint to give the ladies about these pies that they will thank us for. In the summer when they come up town they would drop in at SPECHT's and take an ice cream, but now the ice cream season is over, they have lost the agreeable enjoyment of that visit. This loss is needless—every morning at lunch time pies are ready and hot, and the ladies can enjoy with their friends their customary visit to SPECHT's splendid suit of rooms, and take a luxurious lunch from his fine mince pies at the same time. SPECHT is a splendid fellow and ought to be well patronized.

FALLEN!—FALLEN!—A' the Recorder's court yesterday, three men were brought up and sent to the chain-gang as vagrants. They "lost about" from day to day and night to night, ragged and wretched, and are drunk as often as possible. On Monday night they were found sleeping in the streets, as the hogs do. For warmth, they had sought a spot near to the smouldering remains of the late fire, in the rear of the Barnett House. Two of them were of the common order of idle, drinking, shiftless vagabonds. They were put on the gang for thirteen days each. The third had served out one sentence on the gang already, and as the medicine administered proved entirely incompetent, to affect his moral complaints, he was ordered—as is the wise custom in our law courts—a double dose of it; in other words, he was put on the gang for twenty-three days. This man was once a gentleman—a youth of good appearance and polite manners. He was well educated and became a physician, and was and is known as Dr. PEARCY. He wooed and won the daughter of a highly respectable gentlemen of his own profession in Mississippi, and a happy future appeared opening before him. But one of the demons that people hell with lost souls, haunted young PEARCY, and won from him all love of domestic life; won him from the cultivation of virtue, and from a discharge of the duties of a good citizen. The demon that thus betrayed him, made him cast away his wife's love, disregard his moral obligations, and finally transple his own good name into the mire, was strong drink. The undone man this morning entered upon his second term on the chain-gang—we need not say more by way of moral to this sad story. If the demon that caused this and ten thousand such instances of moral and social destruction, was a man, he would long ago have been driven from society with loathing and execration; but because it is a bottle, it goes on unchecked, destroying reputations, blasting prospects, and damning souls.

THE PENNSYLVANIA.—The following interesting particulars we cut from the St. Louis Republican:

"Capt. BOFINGER, of the W. M. Morrison, brought up some interesting news concerning the wreck of the Pennsylvania. On her way up the Morrison stopped at the head of Burdeau's chute, near the wreck of the Pennsylvania, at Rose's wood yard. Mr. Ross informed Capt. BOFINGER that the body of a man had been found upon the wreck, which might be identified by a gold watch and chain that were found upon it. Capt. Ross had the watch in his possession. It was a fine one, double cased, and worth, probably, $125. A name was engraved inside of it which Mr. Ross did not remember, but he promised to have the watch ready to deliver to Capt. BOFINGER on the next down trip of the Morrison. It is hoped that this body may prove to be that of Mr. BLACK, the missing clerk. Several other bodies had been found at the same place; also a trunk, supposed to have belonged to the chambermaid, in which were $300 in gold. A boiler of the boat was found in front of Mr. HARRISON's house, and a large earthen water jar of the capacity of sixty gallons, which had been blown far ashore, was found uninjured. Mr. Ross's wood yard is the first above the head of the chute."

THE GAIETY.—The Marsh Troupe had a good audience at the Theater last night, and the beautiful exhibition made by the young people was greatly admired, and warmly applauded. "Toodles," of course, "took the crowd." The unconquerable gravity, important solemnity, and apothegmatic oracularity with which the young performer represented that creation of modern genius, was amusing to an indescribable degree. The ladies present were evidently most thoroughly gratified by the accuracy and interesting sweetness with which the characters were rendered by the children. Our readers will find a visit at the Gaiety, while the Marsh Troupe are playing, a gratifying enjoyment.

DENTISTICAL.—Dr. HOWCOTT, whose establishment is on Main street opposite the Worsham House, is a gentlemen of no ordinary skill in his profession—for anatomical and physiological information upon the parts of the human frame that require his attention, for delicacy of manipulation, quickness in operation, and uniform success in his results, Dr. HOWCOTT stands deservedly high. Persons suffering from defective or deceased teeth should apply to him.

ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH AND INDIGESTION.—"I can cut anything after taking your Holland Bitters," is a remark frequently made to us.

To persons troubled with acidity of the stomach, indigestion, or any disorder of the stomach, we would only say, try it. Its world-wide reputation has been established alone by the many wonderful cures it has effected. When used for dyspepsia, jaundice, liver complaint, weakness of any kind, costiveness and piles, it should be taken in small doses—say half a teaspoonful regularly three times a day, before meals.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The public of Memphis must be amused at the silly attempts of rivalry with Tyler & Co. made by the little one-horse artists of Memphis. The secret of all this display of bile is this: Tyler & Co. opened one month since, opposite Odd Fellows' Hall, a first-class gallery, introducing a plan by which the public could obtain first-class likenesses for 75 cents, better than they had been in the habit heretofore of paying $2 for. The result is, the rooms of Tyler & Co. are daily crowded to excess, and the one horse concerns left in the lurch. Their envy is excited to such a pitch that they offer to bet all their old boats that they (themselves) are the smartest and greatest living men. Meanwhile, Tyler & Co. pay no attention to their fogyism, but pursue the even tenor of their way, making lots of money and friends by good work at low prices, and minding their own business.

Rev. A. M. Bryan, and many other prominent citizens, had their likenesses taken at Tyler & Co.'s gallery yesterday.

Citizens of Memphis, one and all, pronounce Tyler & Co. the best artists who ever visited them.

Tyler & Co.'s extensive depot of art, opposite Odd Fellows' Hall.

Dr. Carr's gallery asks why all the "best and cheapest galleries" in Memphis is like the most wind-shaken leaves of the South? Answer, because they are as(s)pens.

GOOD DAYS WORK.—Carr's gallery took 350 pictures yesterday, while the fool-killer was slaying all the "best and cheapest" fools on Main street.

MEMPHIS AGAINST THE WORLD.—Thomas, at DeShong's, will compare malangotypes and ambrotypes, for superiority, with any body in the world, for $500—more or less. The pictures are his own productions, and mostly citizens of Memphis. Call and see them. They cost less than elsewhere.

Let the people of Memphis recollect that Thomas will make 50 per cent. better pictures than the great humbug establishment, or no pay required. I will do what I say. Rooms 180 Main street.

The Star Gallery, 262 Main street, has just received 33½—50 horse power steam engine, and one of a two mule power, which will be disposed of to the steam picture concern up town.

The public are respectfully solicited to call at the Star Gallery, No. 262 Main street, and examine some portraits painted in oil, among which will be found some of our own citizens. They are executed by the celebrated artist, J. J. Bisbee, from New York. All kinds of pictures taken there at living rates. Call and see.

A CARD.—I have several hundred cords of hickory, ash, oak, and poplar fire wood, four and a half miles south of Memphis, on the Horn Lake road, which I am delivering, by actual measurement, to the holders of the proprietor's wood tickets.

Wagons and drays may be engaged to haul it to the city, while the roads are good, so as to insure a great saving in the price of fire wood, and consumers may rely upon getting a superior article of fuel.

No wood will be delivered without a ticket, which may be purchased of M. C. Cayce & Son and of Robinson & Young.

2t E. M. BETTS, Agent.

☞ M. D. COVLE, late of Memphis, Tenn., will hear of something to his interest by addressing J. VADEN, Box 238, Memphis, stating where he can be seen. 2t

Port of Memphis.

River News.

The river is still rising, but news from above gives reason to fear an early decline unless more rain should come. The landing was busy, and the weather, though dull and cold, favored business.

The Southerner, the favorite Louisville boat, that has been for some time detained above by low water, is once more at our landing. Triplett is still in command, and the favorite clerk, Archer, has returned to his first love, and is ready, as formerly, to pay every possible attention to his passengers. To pass any encomium on the Southerner is superfluous. All travelers up the Ohio know her and her sterling qualities. We need only say that she leaves for Louisville this afternoon at three o'clock. Passengers who consult their comfort will not let the opportunity pass unimproved.

The St. Louis Republican, of November 8, says, in Saturday's report:

The river here commenced falling on Friday night, and up to dark on Saturday had receded about ten inches. The last arrivals from the upper streams report them all rising, and the weather still wet and unfavorable. The Illinois river is nearly bank full. There is 5 feet water on the Lower Rapids in the Upper Mississippi. The Missouri is high from Kansas City down. The blue above Kansas City has not been very great.

Sunday's report says:

The river continues falling slowly. It receded six inches in the twenty-four hours ending at dark last evening, and the whole fall has been about sixteen inches. The river was very nearly stationary last evening, the constant rain having checked the fall.

The Keokuk packet reports the water stationary at Keokuk. Arrivals from the Missouri report that stream falling rapidly, it having receded eighteen inches in one night at Leavenworth City. The officers of the Alonzo Child and Florence reported the whole fall, when they came out of the river, two feet. Arrivals from the Illinois river report no change in that stream.

Monetary and Financial.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE,
WEDNESDAY, November 10, 1858.

ST. LOUIS.—From the Republican, November 8: The money market is without change. Bankable funds continue scarce and in demand. Eastern sight exchange varies at ¼ premium for specie, and ¼ for bankable funds, and continue a plentiful. New Orleans sight is very scarce, and free sold on both sides at ½ per cent. in bankable funds, though the bank takes and does not represent of us having undergone any alteration from those prevailing heretofore, is ¼@¾ premium, according to the funds used in the transaction.

DRY GOODS.—The Independent, in its dry goods report, notes the following: It is noticeable that those houses who confined themselves to the best customers, who buy at short credit, and for whom buyers they offer large and choice stocks, have done by far the heaviest in the city this season. The spring season will set in under more favorable circumstances, for the stocks of past seasons will be less heavy; but there is reason to believe that the importations of new goods will be large. An improved demand is to be had, for next year in the community, and the best will be prepared to provide for it.

REMOVAL.

WILLIAM POOLEY

WOULD respectfully inform his friends and patrons of Memphis, and the public at large, that he has moved from his old stand, 287, to the house lately occupied by the Bank of Memphis,

No. 260 Main Street,

Betw en Court and Madison streets, one door south of Benson's Music Store, which he has fitted up at great expense, to continue his former business of

in all its branches.

Having entered upon the fifth year of his sojourn in this city, he would respectfully return his sincere thanks to his many friends for the very liberal patronage most received, trusting that a continuance of faithful attention to business, and putting forth every effort to please, he may receive a just share and liberal increase of patronage. Having a large stock of the finest importations on hand, he retires hence that he will be able to meet the wants of the most fastidious.

Those in want of the best articles of Kid Gloves and other articles of Gents Furnishing Goods, would do well to give him a call.

Having suffered many heavy losses from the credit system, he would inform his friends that hereafter he will adopt the Cash Principle of doing business—no goods delivered until paid for.

Persons having orders who are strangers, it will be expected that a deposit be made of one-third of the amount of the order, or satisfactory reference. Business hours—8 A. M. to 6 P. M. oc27-tf

Commercial Matters.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE,
WEDNESDAY, November 10, 1858.

COTTON.—The market was animated yesterday, was very active, and buyers operated freely at yesterday's quotations. The activity of the demand slightly stiffened rates, and the sales figures of our quotations were prevalent. The sales were the largest of any day of the present season, amounting to 2,835 bales, as follows: 18 bales at 9 cents, 8 at 10, 61 at 10¼, 6 at 10½, 49 at 10¾, 6 at 10¾, 492 at 10¾, 850 at 10¾, 1264 at 11, 404 at 11¼, 35 at 11 3-16, 317 at 11¼, 15 at 11¾. It will be observed that the ruling price is unchanged, 11 cents, and the quantities sold above and below that figure very nearly balanced each other. Above there is 1363 bales, below 1471 bales, only 92 bales difference. Nearly all the cotton sold was at 10¾, 10¾, 11, 11¼, and 11¼. The whole quantity sold at the other prices amounted to only 101 bales.

Interior	7 @ 7¾	Good Middling	10¾@11
