THE APPEAL.

The Result in Illinois.

From the Warrenton (Va.) Flag.]

The Democracy have achieved a glorious victory in Illinois. They have elected their State ticket by about 6,000 majority; have elected a majority of the members of Congress, and secured a majority in each branch of the Legislature, thereby rendering certain the re-election of Judge Douglas to the United States Senate. We congratulate the country on this result. Amid the general wreck of the Northern Democracy, it is consoling to be assured of the steadfast fidelity of even a single State. It is an advantage for the South that the onset of Black Republicanism has been repelled at an important point. It is a victory for the Union (says the Mobile) when the secondary of the Republican party in the Senate is postponed by the re-election of a statesman who has rarely faltered in support of slavery.

From the Louisiana Courier.]

The Democrats of Illinois have won a victory, and, as a necessary consequence, Douglas will go back to the Senate. It is not necessary to express our gratification at this result—words could scarcely convey it. In speculating upon the results of a possible Democratic defeat in that State we have pointed out the momentous consequences of a triumph. After the Democracy of the Northwest breasted the onslaught of Black Republicanism, we can breathe more freely. There is a future for Northern Democracy, and hope for the continuance of the Federal Union beyond March, 1861. Had the Democrats of Illinois, under the leadership of Douglas, been defeated, the people of this Republic would have had the sad prospect of a Black Republican sectional President, or once at all, to succeed the present Democratic incumbent.

We shall not attempt to philosophize upon the elements which entered into the contest. Praise is due to the Democrats of Illinois for their State pride in rebuking and resisting outside dictation from parties interested in the defeat of Douglas. The greater praise has been earned by their untrivalled leader and champion for the boldness, energy, perseverance, constancy and skill, with which he has fought the Fireesoil fanatics for months together. He has done duty a Spartan's day's work with the assiduity of a day-laborer. He has gone through the whole canvass consistently with the issues made in its outset, so that you those who dissent from some of the constructions put by him upon recent action of Democratic faith must still admire him for tenacity with which he has maintained and vindicated the general Democratic platform.

The Illinois campaign shows the efficiency of hard work. Others, who consoling themselves for defeats in other States, may rejoice over the reaction which they suppose will restore them; but the active, energetic, manly, determined action that wins a present victory is worth more than all the reaction ever achieved of by political philosophers. One victory "in hand" is worth more than two victories "in the bush."

MR. LONGFELLOW IN ENGLAND.—The London Critic, in a favorable review of Mr. Longfellow's new poem, "The Courtship of Miles Standish," which has a great sale in England, thus accounts for what it terms the American poet's "most easily definable but most emphatic and peculiar success, embodied in the expression popularity:"

He has long been the idol of our average "young people," cultivated, though not in the highest degree, for whom Tennyson is too enigmatic, and the 'spasmodists' too irregular, turbulent and mystical. He owes his success to his grace, polish and melodiy; to his ready intelligibility; to the innocent purity of his sentiment; to his skill in illustrating human action and passion by the introduction of a natural element; and to the expression of a vague religious and ethical feeling in a secular and poetic phraseology wedded to harmonious numbers. It is in this last respect that he has distanced the British poem, which in other things he most perhaps resembles, the author of the "Pleasures of Hope." Inferior to Campbell in the gifts common to both—feebler, less impassioned, and less concise—Longfellow has surpassed his rival in the qualities in which he is deemed with the new generation. Moralists may condemn the overstained ascetism of "Excelsior," and critics may laugh at the broken metaphors of "The Psalm of Life;" but the popularity of Longfellow will be known how to strike a chord ever ready to vibrate in our modern breasts, and to which the Campbells of the past age did not, and indeed could not, appeal.

A REVOLTING CASE.—A widow woman, about thirty two years of age, named Mary Liverman, residing at Rochester, preferred a complaint against William Liverman, her step son, a young man of twenty-one, for assault and battery. The latter was arrested and arraigned, but when the matter came to be investigated it appeared that she was the aggressor, and assaulted him first. Finding that she could effect nothing against the interest by the assault and battery charge, the stepmother preferred against her husband's son another—that of bastardy! To the astonishment of all who were present, the accused admitted the fact with perfect readiness, and did not appear to have the slightest idea that there was anything unnatural, shameful in the circumstance that he was about to become the father of a child by the widow of his own parent. The story of the hopeful twain is, that Mr Liverman, the father of the young man and the husband of the widow, died on the second day of last May, and since then his son has taken his place in all respects—living with the widow as his wife, and providing for the family, which includes several young children, upon which the example of their father and their brother must be remarkably edifying. This debased pair appeared to have some idea of getting married, but the police justice objected to performing the ceremony, and hinted strongly at the enormity of a man marrying his own step-mother.—Rochester Democrat, 5th.

GRAND ROBINSON VULGAR LANGUAGE.—There is as much connexion between the words and thoughts as there is between the thoughts and the words; the latter are not only the expression of the former, but they have a power to reflect back the character of the thoughts of their corruption there. A young man who allows himself to use one vulgar and profane word, has not only shown that there is a foul spot on his mind, but by the utterance of that word, he extends that spot and infamous it, till, by indulgence it will pollute and ruin the whole soul. Be careful of you words as well as your thoughts. If you can control the tongue, that an impure word never escapes it, by it, you will soon be able also to control the mind and save that from corruption. You extinguish the fire by smothering it, or by preventing bad thoughts bursting out in language. Never utter a word you would be ashamed of your mother to speak in presence of the most refined female, or the most religious man. Try this practice a little while, and you will soon have command of yourself.

Arkansas Cotton Lands.

THE subscriber offers our sale 3,000 acres of Choice Land, within two miles of the Arkansas river, and 200 miles above Napoleon. A portion of this land was entered in 1836, and is subject to overflow; all of it will be reclaimed by levees now being built.

To any one wanting a homestead in the richest portion of the cotton-growing country, this is a most desirable tract, fronting nearly one mile on River Lake (a deep, clear body of water)—with a choice Cypress Brake convenient for building purposes, six hundred acres Deadened land, several Old Barns or Indian Villages, with no growth on them but cane. The purchaser could make a good crop the first year.

I will sell this tract of land at a great bargain, for one-third cash, balance one and two years' credit, or I will exchange for unimproved. I also have several other tracts of land that wish to sell.

Thomas H. Allen, Esq., of Memphis, has a plat of this tract and will cheerfully give any information to those applying in person.

Cheap Plantation for Sale.

I OFFER my plantation for sale, lying three miles northwest of LaGrange, Tenn., containing Twelve Hundred and Nineteen Acres, (819.) This place was formerly owned by Capt. Thos J Polk, and at present is rented by Mr. N. M. Cottard. It is now in a high state of cultivation, well adapted to the production of cotton and all kind of grain usually raised, and could easily be converted into one of the most valuable stock farms in the west, being divided into four large fields. The improvements are comfortable; the dwelling house is of log, and has four large rooms; cabins (comfortable) for twenty or thirty negroes, corn cribs, stables, and all other necessary buildings; a good well of water, and one of the best selections of fruit in the country. This is one of the most commodious and beautiful sites to build a fine house in the county, being high and elevated and surrounded by a beautiful grove. The purchaser will be convenient to both the male and female colleges in LaGrange, and can save the expense of boarding his children as well as have the pleasure of their company at home. I have more land than I can cultivate which is the only inducement to sell. Any one wishing a bargain in land can not do better in West Tennessee. Call and examine the land as I am determined to sell. It can be reached any evening from this north of LaGrange, and will take pleasure in showing it to any one wishing to purchase.
