THE APPEAL.

A BURLESQUE ON MONKEYED MEN.—One of the amusing letters purporting to come from MOHAMED PASHA, published in the Evening Post, ties the following hit at the "Merchant Princes" of New York:

"He was born in Huddleton, Connecticut, in the year 1802. By the time he was ten years old, (and very old, indeed, he was at this time of life,) he had made one hundred and sixty-five bargains, barters and dickers in shoe-strings, peg-tops and jack-knives, and had amassed the sum of five dollars and fifty-three cents. At the age of eleven, he entered the store of Grab & Ketchum, in his native town, and continued therein as a clerk until he had reached the age of fifteen years, and accumulated the sum of two hundred and five dollars and thirty-two cents. Investing this amount in potatoes and dried pumpkins, he set sail in a Stonington sloop for New York, and with his entire possessions, landed at Fulton Market in the year 1817. Since that time he has passed through the several professions of vegetable purveyor, fish-vender, general merchant, bank president and solid man, and is now considered a magnate and millionaire. He was never indicted for stealing, nor accused of infidelity. He was never troubled with an ultra idea, never had an unselfish aspiration, never went out of his way to do a charitable act, never bothered himself with romance, sentiment or art, never spoke two consecutive sentences in a grammatical manner, never looked at the stars over his head or the flowers under his feet. He is some fifty-six years of age, bald, bilious, and not especially amiable. He has just built himself a large brick house, veneered with brown stone, and furnished it with satin wood and brocatelle, and hung the walls with paintings, evidently by very old, and, indeed, quite decrepit masters, and set up a carriage. He has achieved a fine social position, and is now considered a most desirable match for any virgin in New York."

A SPLENDID CITY.—A correspondent of the London Times gives the following description of the capital of the empire of Japan:

"Jeddo, without exception, is one of the finest cities in the world; streets broad and good, and the Castle, which includes nearly the whole centre of the town, built on a slight eminence. There are three walls or inclosures round this quarter. Within the inner the Tycoon Emperor and his apparent live.

The houses of the princes and nobles are palaces, and you may imagine the size when some contain 10,000 followers. They are built in regular order, forming wide streets, some forty yards broad, kept in perfect order; an immense court-yard, with trees and gardens, forms the centre of each inclosure, in the midst of which is the house of the owner; the houses containing the followers, servants, &c., form this large inclosure. They are built of one uniform shape. The gateways leading to the court-yard are exceedingly handsome, of massive wood work, ornamented with lacquer and other devices.

From the road that leads by the most to the second wall is one of the finest views I ever recollect seeing—on one side of the Gulf of Jeddo, with its trees and gardens, picturesque temples and densely crowded streets, extending as far as the eye can reach toward the interior. Then there is a view of the trees and green fields in the distance, far away beyond a thickly built suburb. But the most striking view of all is that close by, the well-kept green banks of the second defense, rising some seventy feet from the broad moat below, with grand old cedars over a hundred years of age growing out from its sides.

The fine timber, the lay of the ground, the water lilies in the moat, the granite, good order and completeness of everything, equal, and in some ways far surpass, anything I have seen in Europe, or any part of the world.

We made an expedition into the country. The cottages were surrounded with neatly clipped hedges, the private residences are a well railed and kept as any place in England. The same completeness and finish exist in everything.

The botanical gardens are very good, and well cared for; good nurseries of young pines, cedars, &c.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S IMPRESSIONS OF AMERICA.—The Rt. Hon. Edward Ellice, M. P., who is on a visit to the United States and Canada, partly for pleasure and partly on the business of the Hudson's Bay Company, writes as follows of his impressions:

"After my first visit, I went to Boston. The journey gave me the opportunity of seeing New England—with which I was more than gratified in every sense. The prosperity of the towns, the general appearance of ease and wealth, the magnificence of the houses, a general appearance of aristocracy—in whatever sense one interprets that word—the absence of poor and poverty. I should say it was the most perfect state of society for the whole community. The prevailing moral and religious feeling and influence banishes their bad subjects to the West, and prevents their infliction by the same worthies vomited by the emigration of the old world. This is only a picture of New England, not of America, for you have to only to go to New York to see the contrast. Their sea places, and the bays of Boston, are beautiful.

I went on to Newport in Rhode Island—the great resort of all the wealthy throughout the Union, in search of sea air and bathing; thence to Saratoga—the Rhine, the spa, and Carlsbad for those in search of mineral waters. The congregation of what I think good society at these places, new hotel palaces, one hotel at Saratoga containing 1,200 guests—all provided for, as I can personally witness from having been one of them, with abundance, order, and cleanliness. I found many old friends—made some new ones; but, of course, had not much time to spend at any of these Babylons of American society. Of course, if one was so disposed, one could find subjects for sarcasm and criticism in all our sway, but where can one not do this? But on the whole, I never saw—certainly not at home—so many people enjoying what I should call the social advantages, as well as every one enjoying the good manners and habits of civilized society.

I returned here in the beginning of this week, and I set off for the far West on the 21 of next month. I intend to go to the utmost end of American settlements, to Chicago, St. Louis, &c., that can be reached by rail or steam; to return by Cincinnati and Pittsburg, across the Alleghanies to Philadelphia, Washington, and New York, on my way back to Canada, from whence I purpose to re-embark about the end of October. Ever and always yours,

EDWARD ELLICE."

HOW THE PEOPLE IN KANSAS FEEL.—The Republican editors and letter-writers who are speculating upon the trouble which they imagine Kansas will give Congress this winter, by applying for admission into the Union, will be interested in reading the following Kansas letter, of the date of October 23d, which we clip from the Detroit Tribune and Advertiser paper, the New York Tribune. It says:

"Our friends at the East are urging that we now take prompt action for the future—form a constitution and demand immediate admission into the Union. We think them for their interest and their advice, but we think the policy a bad one for the present. Had we not better leave the question of assuming the responsibilities of a State until the people are ready for it? I know what I tell you when I tell you that the people are not ready for this step. Why? First, they are not prepared to sustain the burdens of the government. Second, they are tired of politics, political quacks, hacks and mountebanks. They desire rest and opportunity to improve their homes, cultivate their farms, and get in a state of independency. Our hope and prayer now are that grace will be given to the President to send us as good a Governor as the last, and one that will follow his policy, and that our enemies will allow us to act for ourselves."

If it had not been for "our friends at the East," to whom this correspondent alludes, there would never have been any trouble in Kansas. "Our friends at the East" had better mind their own business and let Kansas alone.

A GALLOWS SCENE.—The execution of the boy murderer, Rodgers, in New York, announced by telegraph, is reported in the New York papers with all the embellishments for which the reporters there are distinguished. The "Death Struggles," the "Grief of the Parents," &c., are made to furnish the startling headings of the account. Rodgers, says the Tribune, looked boyish and innocent, his brown hair, parted in the middle like a girl's, hung in graceful ringlets over his neck and shoulders, and he walked with a pleasant smile on his lips to his station beneath the beam. He never flinched or faltered. As he approached the gallows he cast one look upward, and comprehending the nature of the preparation at a glance, he smiled serenely and addressed himself to his devotions. He stood under the gallows but a moment after every thing was prepared. The black cap was then drawn over his face, the signal was given, the dull sound of the ax, the rattle of the ropes and of the weight fell on the ear, and the writhing body dangled in the air. The grief of his family upon the delivery of the body was excessive. His mother, it is said, repeatedly leaning over the coffin, kissing the corpse, moaning piteously, and shedding tears copiously for some minutes. Her two daughters and sons also cried and sobbed, and kissed the lips of the corpse. Rodgers' father walked up and down the apartment, wringing his hands and crying "Oh dear! oh, dear!" at intervals stopping at the coffin and looking into it with an expression of heart-broken misery, and kissing the face of deceased, while tears rapidly ran down his cheeks.

ORIENTAL WIT.—A young man, going on a journey, intrusted a hundred dollars to an old man; when he came back, the old man denied having had any money deposited with him, and he was had up before the Kazhee. "Where were you, young man, when you delivered this money?" "Under a tree." "Take my seal and summon that tree," said the judge. "Go, young man, and tell the tree to come hither; and the tree will obey when you show it my seal." The young man went in wonder. After he had been gone some time, the Khazee said to the old man, "He is long—do you think he has got there yet?" "No, said the old man; "it is at some distance; he has not got there yet." "How knowest thou, old man," cried the Khazee, "where that tree is?" The young man returned, and said the tree would not come. "He has been here, young man, and given his evidence—the money is thine."

GETTING MARRIED.—A loafer, who had been noisy, was up before the Mayor's Court. His Honor told him to pay over five dollars for his fine.

"C-c-c-can't do it," muttered he; "a-a-ain't got the pp-p-owder."

"Are you a married man?" inquired the Mayor.

"N-n-n-not exactly so f-f-far gone yet sir."

"Well, I will have to send you to the workhouse," said the Mayor.

"T-t-t-ain't nothin' to g-g-go there," said Alick; "b-b-but when you t-t-talk about m-m-marriage, old fellow, you f-f-frightened me!"

MATERNAL WEAKNESS.—Ba-a-a-a, ba-a-a-a, shrieked a half-naked infant, of about eighteen months old. "What's the matter wit mamma's thweet little duckey?" says its affectionate mother, while she presses it to her bosom, and the young serpent, in return, digs its talons into her face. "Dadem, Missis, I know what little master Sim wants," exclaimed the chorub's negro nurse. "You black hussy! why didn't you tell me then?" and the infuriated mother gives Dinah a pour in the chops with her shoe. "Why, he wants to put his foot in dat pan ob grahy wats on de hob!" whispered the unfortunate darkey. "Well, why don't you bring it here, you aggravating nigger?" replied the mother of the bawling little one. Dinah brings the gravy, and little Sim puts his bare feet in the pan, and dashes the milk-warm grease about his sweet little shanks, to the infinite gratification of his mamma, who tenderly exclaims: "Did mamma's little Simmy want to put his teeny weeny toesies in the gravy? It shall paddle in the pan as it soysey voosey, and then it shall have its pocey red frock on, and go and see its papy-nappy."

CLERK'S SALE OF TOWN LOTS,

The Union Inn in Raleigh!

BY virtue of a decretal order made by the Circuit Court of Shelby county, at its September Term, 1858, in the case of Jos. R. Hamilton and wife, and others vs. R. L. Smith and others I will sell to the highest bidder, at public outcry, in front of the court house door, in Raleigh, on MONDAY, the 6th day of December next, three lots known and designated on the plan of the town of Raleigh as lots Nos 1 and 2, in block "M," and No. 1 in block "N" heretofore occupied by Mrs Annie Smith, Gossnell and Barrow as the Union Inn.

Terms—One-fifth cash, the residue on a credit of one and two years in equal installments. Bond with approved security required for the deferred payments and a lien retained until the entire purchase money is paid.

October 19, 1858. M. D. L. STEWART, Clerk.

ALSO—At the same time and place, the administrator will sell a negro man, three mules and horses, hogs and cattle, farming utensils, household and kitchen furniture belonging to the estate of Ann Smith, dec'd. Terms made known on the day of sale.

In the above is offered the best stand and opportunity for a person wishing to engage in the hotel business. The lots are spacious, with all the necessary stables, houses, &c. ROBT. L. SMITH, Adm'r.

Cheap Plantation for Sale.

I OFFER my plantation for sale, lying three miles northwest of LaGrange, Tenn., containing Eight Hundred and Nineteen Acres, (819.) This place was purchased by Capt. Thos. J. Rootes, of Polk, and at present is rented by Mr. N. H. Cottard. It is now in a high state of cultivation, well adapted to the production of cotton and all kind of grain usually grown, and could easily be converted into one of the most valuable stock farms in the west, being ditched to four large fields. The improvements are comfortable the dwelling house is of log, and has four large rooms; cabins (comfortable) for twenty or thirty negroes, corn cribs, stables, and all other necessary buildings; a good well of water, and one of the best selections of fruit in the country. This is one of the most commanding and beautiful sites to build a fine house in the county, being high and elevated and surrounded by a beautiful grove. The purchaser will be convenient to both the male and female colleges in LaGrange, and can save the expense of sending his children as well as have the pleasure of their company at home. I have more land than I can cultivate which is the only inducement to sell. Any one wishing a bargain in land can not do better in West Tennessee. Call and examine the land as I am determined to sell. I can be found at my residence three miles north of LaGrange, and will take pleasure in showing it to any one wishing to purchase.

SALE OF

LAND AND NEGROES,

IN SOUTH ARKANSAS.

BY virtue of authority given in a deed of trust executed by G. M. Watson, on the day of 1856, and recorded in Columbia county, Arkansas, I offer for sale about lying in Columbia county, on the waters of the Bradley river Creek, about thirty miles from Camden, upon which of this land contains some two thousand acres—three or four hundred of which are opened. The other, of some five hundred acres, is a fine, well drained cypress. On the latter is a Water-gin, and other buildings for the accommodation of a small force; but the overseer and others living upon the larger tract, have heretofore cultivated both together. There are

Forty-Five or Fifty Slaves,

About twenty of them first hands. None are very old. They have been well treated, and are likely than common, and are increasing rapidly.

I will also sell the Crops (except Cotton) made this year, the Stock Plantation Tools and all other perishable property on the Estate.

I would prefer selling Land and Negroes to one purchaser; and if arrangements satisfactory to me are made, such a purchaser can get a reasonable credit on a portion of the money. But having determined to sell, I offer the Negroes—in families—for cash; and the Land one third cash, the balance in two equal installments on a credit of two and three years, bearing eight per cent. interest—the interest on the deferred payments to be paid annually.

A portion of the land and slaves are under mortgage to secure a debt of about eight thousand dollars to J. W. Moon, of New Orleans.

J. H. Apperson is manager upon the place, and to him, and to C. L. Mclar, of Mount Holly, Union county, I refer persons who wish to examine the property.

I expect to be on the place or in that neighborhood, by the middle of December next.

My post office is "Trevillian's Depot, Louisa, Va." When in Arkansas my post office will be, "Lisbondale, Columbia county, Ark." THOS. S. WATSON.

$150 Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will apprehend, and secure in jail so that I can get them, three Negro Men, that ran away from me on the night of the 24th inst. It taken up out of the State, one-half; if taken in the State, one-third for either of them. One of the two that left first is named ADAM—about 5 feet 6 inches high, light complected and tolerably gray, and a scar on his nose and has been apparently engaged by a rat, and about 25 years of age. The other one is named FRED, is about 6 feet high, very black, weighs about 185 pounds, and is about 25 years of age. I think they are together, and are aiming to get to a free State.

The one who left the first night last, is named CHARLES, very black, about 30 years of age, and 5 feet 6 inches high, heavy built and very stout, has rather a down look when spoken to, nearly blind in one eye and small.
