Garvin, with her boats, tackle, furniture, &c. A. VALLE, Trustee. n26-tf

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS in the Southern Pacific Railroad.

POWERFUL per the Loan of fifty cents on each share, or surrender one-half of the fully paid stock in lieu thereof, and your due calls, as recommended by the Louisville Convention, into the office of I. R. Kirtland, at Memphis, Tenn. R. Y. RICHARDSON, Agent. dec2-1f Southern Pacific Railroad.

New Orleans Convention

AN Adjourned Stockholders' Meeting will be held at New Orleans on the 20th December, and decisions largely attended. I trust every stockholder will pay up all unpaid installments, and forward, of whatever kind—time, forfeiture or sale. We desire every stockholder may be represented who will evidence himself. The door is thrown wide open, but stockholders who pay installments and surrender stock, or loan 50 cents per share, are newer and more entitled to be represented or refer to do so. No doubt is now entertained of paying off the $237,000 on 15th January, 1859, of obtaining possession of the Company's property, and the dismissal of the State's proceedings. All who work will be protected; those who do not comply can be cut off.

I propose a resolution at the Board of Directors, examinatory adjourned 15th November, 19 8:

"Resolved, That the President is hereby instructed to adopt under the advice of counsel, the measures best calculated, by the laws of Texas, to protect those who have pay up all unpaid installments of stock—who shall make the loan of 50-100 dollars per share, or surrender one-half of their 5 per cent stock, as recommended by the stockholders at their last meeting."

All should pay money or surrender stock to the agents appointed by the stockholders. They will, respectively, represent them, at Memphis, Tennessee, twice a week, and assemble at New Orleans a day or so before our meeting on the 20th. Thus we have perfect unanimity of feeling and purpose, and the enterprise preserved, I trust, from all danger hitherto encountered.

THE DAILY APPEAL.

WEDNESDAY.....DECEMBER 15, 1858.

Southern Pacific Railroad Meeting Last Night —$175,000 Subscribed.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

The meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Pacific Railroad, held at the Merchants' Exchange last evening, was quite largely attended, and unanimous in expressing their approbation of the late Louisville Convention. The session was organized by calling upon the Secretary to read an abstract from the Gazette of yesterday, in regard to the recent award of the road, copied from the Texas Flag of last November, and also a reply that appeared in the Marshall (Texas) Union of the day following. The article was discussed at length, greater than we have space to present; but its tenor discountenanced by all its attendance.

It was resolved, by the meeting, that the committee, having in charge the funds paid by the stockholders, hold on instalments and as loans, be and are hereby instructed not to pay over or in any way use said funds, unless they are fully satisfied that the terms of the late compromise with the new company will be complied with by the 15th of January, 1859, and the old company thereby restored to all her property, rights and franchises, and that we deem it inexpedient and unsafe to pay any part of the debt, owing to the new company on the 15th of January, unless the whole amount ($327,000) be paid at that time.

It was also resolved, that the stockholders present request J. M. Connell to proceed from New Orleans to Marshall, Texas, the Eastern terminus of the road, provided he believes their interests will require him to do so.

Mr. M. F. Cogler, chairman of the committee appointed at Louisville to collect the assessment of fifty cents per share from Cincinnati stockholders, reported that there had been paid to him six thousand dollars, which, added to that already known to be collected and in readiness, would make a total of one hundred and seventy-four dollars, as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Louisville | $140,000 |
| St. Louis | 28,000 |
| Cincinnati | 6,000 |
| Total | $174,000 |

Leaving but a balance of one hundred and fifty-three thousand dollars yet to be raised, which can be easily done, as proposed at Louisville, by disposing of a portion of the surrendered stock, at two dollars per share, or even less.

Upon motion, it was further resolved, that this meeting ratify a former expression of preference for Mr. J. M. Connell, as their choice for Director in the ensuing election, to be held at New Orleans—after which, the meeting adjourned.

The Nicaragua Filibusters.

MOBILE, December 9, 1858.

The schooner Susan escaped on Tuesday afternoon. The cutter McClelland got aground in Navy Cove, and when she got off the schooner was about four hundred miles away. The filibusters have are greatly elated.

WASHINGTON, December 9, 1858.

It is said the Nicaragua filibusters have their rendezvous somewhere in the Florida Keys. There is little if any doubt that the steamer Fashion, which left Mobile on the 1st of December, professedly for Texas, carried out a large number of them, together with ammunition. Our government is not kept fully advised of their plans and movements.

MOBILE, December 3, 1858.

Gen. Walker "turned up" again on last Tuesday, in about as sudden and mysterious a manner as he disappeared on the 20th ult. The Grand Jury occupied the whole of Tuesday and a portion of Wednesday in his examination. What was elicited from him is, of course, unknown to outsiders; but it has leaked out that he answered fully as much as was expected, bearing severely upon the "misstatements of facts" in the proclamation of the President, and also in the recent charge of Judge Campbell to the jury.

Col. Bruno Von Natzmer, who was at the head of the Commissary Department of the Walker Nicaraguan army, and who has been in this city among emigrants during the past month, was required to "declare his intentions" on Wednesday.

Col. Frank Anderson passed safely through the legal furnace, at New Orleans, and is now here—immediate and all—"filibustering" terribly among the fair Mobilians. Majors Ellis, Hoofl, Doubleday, Colonels Swingle, Tucker and Henry are all here, watching and praying—

For every minute is expediency
Of more avail than an hour.

J. Hesse & Co., agents of the bark Alice Painter, advertise in the papers of yesterday that the trip of that vessel to Greytown is abandoned on account of the refusal of the government to grant a clearance, and further notify all persons holding tickets for the passage to call and receive back the money paid for the same. The bark is now in an undoubtly "legitimate trade," as she is very briskly taking injection for Hrnburg.

Some of the emigrants have given up all hopes of getting off to Nicaragua, and have gone to their homes. Nearly two hundred, however, remain "strong in the faith," confident that some means may yet be discovered by which they may reach their destination.

Meanwhile, the indefatigable individual who, like unto Matthews of old, patiently "sits at the receipt of customs," keeps a sharp look-out. Visions of bloodless "skull and bones" emblazoned in black dancing seem to be his only mental pabulum, like some romantic youngster in his dreams, after devouring the "Pirate's Own," and a large supper before retiring.

HON. T. J. HUDSON, of MARSHALL COUNTY. This gentleman who has distinguished himself by his advocacy of the agricultural interests of Mississippi, has been extensively mentioned in connection with the next canvass for Governor. He is both an able and true Democrat, whom the people of his State should delight to honor. The Jackson correspondent of the Paulding Clarion thus speaks of his pretensions:

"The Gubernatorial question is beginning to be agitated. The attention of the public has been directed, through the Mississippian, to the fitness and claims of Hon. T. J. Hudson, member of the House from Marshall county. He is a true State Rights Democrat, extensively known throughout North and Central Mississippi, and a more universally popular man, of his age, never lived in the State. He possesses superior literary attainments, fine legal acquirements, is an experienced and wise legislator, possessing in an eminent measure a clear, forcible and practical mind—is a practical farmer, and withal one of the most amiable and winning men in his department I ever knew; and if he will permit his name to be mentioned in connection with that high office, my word for it, he will be hard to beat. Col. Drane, the present popular President of the Senate, has also been spoken of. He, too, is unexceptionable as a gentleman, a Democrat, and judgmental business man."

[Fort Leavenworth Correspondence New York Herald.]

LEAVENWORTH, K. T., Nov. 27, 1858.

The bleak winds from the prairies and occasional flurries of snow, remind us that winter is upon us, and admonish us that we should prepare for its inhospitable embrace. There is no part of our country, probably, that has a more unpleasant and disagreeable winter climate than that portion lying along the borders of the great prairies. There is nothing to impede or retard the cold biting winds which sweep across these prairies, and though the severity may not denote so great a degree of cold as one would suppose, still the effect upon men and animals is very severe. The character of the buildings is such that they do not afford much protection from cold; still the people are well clad. They are hardy, industrious, and understand how to make the most of everything.

The recent reports that the governorship of Kansas been tendered to Sam Medary have created no little excitement in the Territory. The people were in hopes that some one residing in and identified with the interests of Kansas would have been appointed; and if the truth were known, there are several ambitious men here who stand ready to serve their country in that or any other capacity. No Governor need come here with the hope that his position will be a stepping-stone to any higher office, or any office at all within the gift of the people of Kansas. The day has gone by when any political capital can be made here.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—Colin Campbell & Son's Liverpool circular of November 19 says:

"Yesterday. That the President is hereby instructed to adopt under the advice of counsel, the measures best calculated, by the laws of Texas, to protect those who have pay up all unpaid installments of stock—who shall make the loan of 50-100 dollars per share, or surrender one-half of their 5 per cent stock, as recommended by the stockholders at their last meeting."

All should pay money or surrender stock to the agents appointed by the stockholders. They will, respectively represent them, at Memphis, Tennessee, twice a week, and assemble at New Orleans a day or so before our meeting on the 20th. Thus we have perfect unanimity of feeling and purpose, and the enterprise preserved, I trust, from all danger hitherto encountered.
