THE DAILY APPEAL.

Beautiful Suburban Property FOR SALE.

We have for sale eleven and one-half acres beautiful suburban property, situated on the corner of the new State line road and McLean avenue, two miles east of the city. This property is all under fence, and susceptible of being divided into three beautiful building sites. We desire to sell it in one body to a purchaser, at private sale, but if not disposed of in this way, it will be divided and sold at public auction on THURSDAY, the 16th day of December.

TERMS—One-third cash, one-third in six months, and the balance at two years, without interest.

Persons desiring to inspect the property will please call on Col. C. D. McLean, Tilman Bettis, Mr. Myers, Mr. Littlejohn, or Mr. Lynch, on the premises.

For terms, at private sale, apply to Col. G. B. Lock, or to

McCLANAHAN, TROUSDALE & DILL,
Appeal Office.

☞ Hon. Jno. Hugh Smith, formerly Mayor of Nashville, and Representative of Davidson county in the Legislature, is passing a few days in our city.

☞ Messrs. Geo. Pattison & Co., have laid upon our table Brother Jonathan, for Christmas and New Year. It is both gorgeously and handsomely illustrated with engravings, and otherwise filled with interesting reading matter.

New Paper.—Messrs. Hooper & Everitt have issued a prospectus for a new paper, to be published in Madison, Arkansas, the first number to be issued about the first day of January next, to be called The Madison Journal. The Journal will be Democratic in politics The proprietors have our best wishes for the success of their paper.

☞ We are requested to call attention to the sale of Dr. B. Bagby's residence, to be made on the premises, this day, by G. B. Locke & Co.—The sale is made under a deed of trust and will positively take place. This is very desirable property and ought to command the attention of all in want of such.

☞ The young ladies of the Memphis Female College propose giving a fair on Friday evening next, for the purpose of augmenting the "Young Ladies' Literary Society." The object is a most praiseworthy one, and we hope the young ladies may meet with the success their efforts merit.

Recorder's Court.—Esquire East had but few applicants for his services yesterday morning—in other words, but few wanted justice, and even those few would doubtless have preferred to go without it. Only four individuals were introduced to his professional notice, and of that number the cash proceeds were only a single dollar.

☞ We have received from Messrs. Cleaves & Vaden, a copy of "Heart Whispers; or, a Peep behind the Family Curtain," interspersed with Melodies, by a tour through nine Southern States, contained in a series of letters to his wife, by William Avens, formerly of Memphis, Tennessee. Memphis, Cleaves & Vaden, 1859. As this is a Memphis book, we shall take pleasure in bestowing upon it a critical examination.

The Weather.—Yesterday was most decidedly a portion of the "rainy season." Before daylight in the morning flashing lightning and rolling thunder proclaimed the presence of bad weather. The day was warm, the rain frequent, the sun absent, the clouds lowering, daylight scarce and of inferior quality, and the mud dilute and agile, doing coloring gratis, with great celerity.

Criminal Court.—At this court yesterday, T. J. Griffith, for stealing a coat from the store of Mr. Simon, on Front Row, was condemned to hard labor in the penitentiary for five years. Moses Kaye was tried for buying stolen metal from a negro; the jury found him not guilty. Several cases were held over until the next term of the court.

An Unsuccessful Forgery.—As R. A. Parker, Esq., cotton merchant on Howard's Row, was at 2 o'clock yesterday engaged in writing to a correspondent, Mr. Austin Parsley, of Como, Mississippi, a middle aged man of some thirty-five years of age, who introduced himself as L. Betts, entered, and presented an order for three hundred and fifty dollars upon his firm, purporting to be drawn by the very correspondent Mr. Parker was addressing. For reasons unnecessary to explain, Mr. Parker was certain that the document was a forgery, and he closely questioned the presenter upon the subject. Without embarrassment Betts replied that the matter was perfectly correct; he had sold Mr. Parsley a pair of carriage horses, and that gentleman had given him the order he bore for the cash. Mr. Parker then professed to be anxious on the subject of the bearer being the party named in the note, when Betts named a respectable merchant in the city as being acquainted with him. Mr. Parker proposed that they should call upon the gentleman together, expecting to meet a policeman on the way, to whom he could give the man into custody. They set out, but before a policeman came in sight the rogue was off with a foot as nimble as his tongue, and escaped. The police have his description, and are looking out for him.

The Memphis Gas Monopoly.—It is not pleasant to be subjected to a monopoly, even when the monopolist's powers are decently managed, but when they are made a means of oppression and extortion, they become a fruitful source of irritation and unpleasant feeling. The movement for the appointment of a Gas Inspector in this city, has arisen in the belief that the company are taking advantage of the power their situation, as monopolists, gives them, to deal with our citizens differently to what they would if they were subjected to the competition to which business men have usually to submit. It is a common thing for monopolists thus to misuse their power, and to become oppressors and extortioners. That the Gas Company of this city have in this way made their powers injurious in their operation, though frequently asserted has not, so far as we are aware, been brought to direct proof, and the appointment of a Gas Inspector, as contemplated by Council, will if the skirts of the Company are clear, be doing them service by making their integrity and uprightness known. If, on the contrary, we are made to pay for gas we do not burn, and to submit to acts of injustice and wrong, we ought to know it, that we may apply the remedy by lighting our stores with tallow candles, and plodding through the streets in darkness until the wrongdoers are compelled to do right

In this connection, we will mention a charge against the company, which, if correct, ought to be clearly understood by the gas consumers of Memphis, that they may take such steps as justice and their own interests may require. The charge is, that the company, in case a person leaves any premises in which he has been a gas consumer without paying his gas bill, charge the amount to the succeeding tenant. If this accusation is correct, there is barefaced injustice and fraud. What should we say to a grocer, a shoemaker, or a milkman, if he should thus make out his bill and present it to one man for the debts of another, after whom it did not suit the creditors to go to collect the amount owing to him? There would be our consolation to the new tenant, while thinking what he would do about the character of tradesmen who would be so void of conscientiousness as to try to make him pay one of their customer's bills—he would not deal with him, would not spend a cent in the stores of men who would thus try to victimize him. Here, just here, however, comes in the odiousness of a monopoly—in the case of the gas company, he would have no other store or office to go to. He must deal with the parties who tried to collect another man's debt from him, or with none. Bad as this is, it is not the worst, if the charge we are discussing is true; it is also asserted that if the party refuse to pay a debt he has never contracted, and for an object he never was benefited by, the company refuse to let him have the use of their gas in his house during the time he refuses compliance with their unjust demands. He is thus deprived of a species of light which is become indispensable to him, because the money which might have been invested in oil or other dull lamps, and candlesticks, has been paid for expensive gas fixtures, which must stand idle unless he has a supply of gas. This shamefully oppressive and extortional act, whether perpetrated by the Memphis company or not, has been performed in other cities by gas companies, but when the law has been appealed to upon the point, it has always, as it should, declared the act, like other dishonest deeds, unlawful. There can be no doubt, we think, that Council would do well to appoint a Gas Inspector for a year, as an experiment, and we should in that time discover whether it would be necessary to make the office a permanent one.

Port of Memphis.

River News.

The river is still rising; the day was rainy throughout and the levee in a condition easily ascertained by those who compelled to pass along it but impossible to describe to the inexperienced.

The magnificent packet Simonds is in port and will leave for New Orleans this evening after the arrival of the cars. Capt. Smith is the commander of this boat and a more generous man or a more skillful officer is not to be found. We are perfectly certain that all who place themselves in his care will be amply satisfied.

The great Ohio river packet Glendale leaves this port at 3 o'clock this afternoon The boat is an excellent one, of fine mould, elegantly finished, and her machinery is of the first quality. Capt. Jas. Bugher, and Mr. Pesper the gentlemanly clerk are not only accomplished and careful officers, but gentlemen with whom it is a pleasure to associate. Travelers bound for Cairo, Paducah, Evansville, Louisville, Cincinnati, and other parts of the Ohio, should go up by the Glendale.

It is rumored that the Daniel Boone will come to the banner again.

Age and Debility.—As old age comes creeping on, it brings many attendant infirmities. Loss of appetite and weakness impair the health, and want of activity makes the mind discontented and unhappy. In cases where old age adds its influence, it is almost impossible to add vigor and health; and although many remedies have been tried, all have failed, until Eschbaugh's Holland Bitters were known and used. In every case where they have been employed, they have invariably given strength and restored the appetite. They have become a great agent for this alone, and are used by many people who are suffering from loss of appetite and general debility. In cases of long standing chronic diseases, they act as a charm, invigorating the system, and thus giving nature another opportunity to repair physical injuries.

Suburban Property.—The time never will come again when suburban property near Memphis can be bought at as low figures as at the present time. This fact must be evident to every one who is paying the least attention to the giant strides which our growing city is now making in her onward progress. A few years more, and real estate in her vicinity will have advanced at least 50 per cent. upon what it now commands.

We make these remarks preliminary to asking attention to the sale advertised by G. B. Locke & Co., to come off to-morrow. The property advertised lies in one body, embracing eleven and one half acres, and is the most eligible and beautiful for building purposes in the vicinity of the city We ask attention to advertisement in another column, and would advise all who desire to purchase to attend the sale.

The Gaiety.—Since Miss Avonia Jones, by her splendid personations of "Pauline," "Katharine," "Lucy Ashton," "Blanche" and "Evadne," has gained so profound a hold on the attention of the frequenters of the Gaiety, there has been an increasing desire that—for the benefit of many who could not find a seat in the house on the former occasion when it was acted—she would for the second time appear in the character of "Sybil," in the drama of that name, a character with which she is peculiarly connected, not only by the play being her own property and expressly written for her, but also from the recent extraordinary proceedings at Louisville, when the family of parties, with whom the play is connected, so strangely interfered to prevent its performance. She will comply with this desire by repeating the piece this evening. Mr. Crisp will appear in the attractive piece of Don Cæsar de Bazan, as "Don Cæsar." He is the original performer of the character in this country, and has performed it in all the principle theatres in the United States.

TO THE LADIES EXCLUSIVELY.

M. GOLDBERG begs leave to call their attention to his Fashionable Millinery Retail element. Having obtained the services of a fashionable French lady from Paris with a knowledge of all the present styles of Dress Bonnets, he can with confidence assure them that under her immediate direction and his double experience in the business he is prepared to offer his assortment consists of every article in taste and fashion, a large portion being direct from France. Having only three weeks more to remain, he can afford to sell at very small advance, and as low as any reliable dealer in the city. In no one present can he say part to say some of the most rare and noble fabrics of this city, having purchased Bonnets from N. w York and New Orleans, have not scruples in offering them for sale, and can assure them in beauty and economy superior to those from New York and New Orleans. He solicits a call to favor him by their visits, and examine for themselves, themselves, being assured they will not fail to be up to expectations.

I have also on hand a fine stock of Fancy and Fancy Dry Goods, which will be sold at cost to make room for a more extended millinery business. dec9-2w

Monetary and Financial.

MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL OFFICE,
WEDNESDAY, December 15, 1858.

New York.—From the News, December 10: The supply of money this week is much more abundant, and there are easy at 3@4 P cent, for call notes, 4@5 c for the 6 second prime second class, and 5@6 for that of single names. Commercial paper finds no negotiation at any the business on the Jersey City Bank. Exchange on London is firm at 109 c for sterling, the business for the week being quiet. Sterling bills on London are quoted at 108 c@108½, and Francs at 5 17½@5 12½

The Herald, of December 11, reports: There has been no movement in the money market to-day. We hear of some rare loans on State or Federal securities at 3 P ct., but all loans cannot be quoted under 4 P ct. At bank, the best indorsed p per, not over 60 or 91 days, is done at 4 @ 4½ cents paper, 5 and civilized good mercantile notes, 6 and 8 months, are done at bank and at the discount houses at 5@6 P ct. Exchange on Europe for the 10 days' to-morrow is but nominally well quoted, sterling, at 109 @ 109½ c, impossible paper at 108 c @ 108½; francs at 5 14@5 16, some checks bankers' bills on long bond at 5 12½. A small shipment of bars will probably be made to-morrow.

The N O Picayune, of December 8, reports: There was but much movement in the market to-day. Business affairs are settled, and daily remittals for some time to come. First-class negotiated paper can be passed at 3 @ 4 per cent, but there is very much other paper offered bearing a little more than the bank rates. There is rather more accumulation of money, but it is all absorbed in bank. The exchange market was rather feeble to-morrow, sterling Prime sterling would hardly bring over 109½, though drawers were bold to ask more. Directly with bill of lading rose from 109 @ 109½. France was selling at 5 20@5 22½, and occasionally for 5 22½ for A 1 names. The rates in gold are 5 17½@5 22½. Short day bills on New York 1½@¾ c. dis. Sight ¼ P c. dis.

ONE HUNDRED acres of land three and a half miles South of Memphis, on the Hernando Road. Flank Road, 85 acres in cultivation, and 45 in good timber; on the land is two tenements, one of which is a beautiful new brick cottage with six rooms and the other a good building with six rooms and out-building complete in both dwellings. An orchard of fine fruit attached to both places, with a large garden well set with straw and raspberries—a cool spring, a fine pasture, and Cane Creek, a never failing stream, very near the premises. This is a healthy location, and within 20 minutes ride of Court Square, and 1½ miles from the Baptist State Female Academy, and one of the best and good male school. MERCHANTS' FLOUR MILL

FOR SALE.

WE have for sale upon good terms a FLOUR MILL capable of running two large pair of stones, or a Plow Mill, the year round. The mill is situated within one and a half miles of Memphis, on the Switch and three and a half miles of Atlanta's, depot. Twenty-five acres of land will be sold with the mill, and a lease of the privilege of cutting timber off of land adjoining can be obtained. The mill is situated in a rich and healthy neighborhood, and as much business can be had as can be manufactured. There is no other mill near enough to interfere with it.

For further information apply to R. H. Sheppard on the premises or to G. B. LOCKE & CO.,
