Local Matters.

Tuesday Morning, ::: March 8, 1859.

☞ All persons are requested not to purchase papers from our regular carriers. The papers do not belong to them; they have no authority to sell, and every sale by them is a fraud upon us, and a cheat upon our subscribers.

THANKS.—Our thanks are due for late papers to W. C. Pelzer, of the John Simonds, and T. M. Erwin, of the McLellan.

A DUEL.—It was rumored yesterday that a doctor and an office clerk having a difficulty, crossed the river, fired two shots at each other, felt satisfied and came back.

SALE OF TICKETS.—The sale of Tickets for the concert next week, will commence on Friday, at Flavio's music store. Secured seats will be $1.50; tickets for the hall, $3.

SONS OF MALTA.—This order met last night at 7½ o'clock in their room, at the corner of Shelby and Union streets, for the election of officers and the transaction of special business.

THE GREAT CURIOSITY.—The horse with a snake in its eye is still on exhibition on Main street, above Jefferson. It is admitted by all who have seen it, as one of the greatest curiosities in the world.

THE MISSISSIPPI BELLE.—Capt. McKay informs us that from the position in which the Mississippi Belle is lying, she must go to pieces when the water leaves her as the river falls, and he a total loss.

FEMALE THIEF.—A Mrs. Wilson entered the dry goods store of Mr. Lehman, at the corner of Main and Jefferson streets, on Saturday evening, and while examining some goods, was detected in secreting various articles, to the amount of four or five dollars, in a carpet-sack She was arrested and placed in jail.

SPIRITUALISM.—Mr. Thos. Gales Foster, editor of the Banner of Light and trance medium, will lecture at Odd Fellows' Hall tonight. Subject—Man, a religious being, in contra-distinction to the doctrine of total depravity. The public are respectfully invited to attend. Doors open at 7 o'clock v. m.

CRIMINAL COURT.—At the Criminal Court yesterday, Brown, Gallagher and Stevens, charged with gaming and robbery, had their trials postponed. Samuel Young, charged with enticing to induce a slave to escape was brought up for trial, when the court adjourned.

A MONEY SNATCHER.—Soon after dinner yesterday, a fellow named John Williams entered the grocery store of Mr. Matthews, at the corner of DeSoto and Elliott streets, and in the absence of the storekeeper, he seized the money drawer, and was about decamping with it, when somebody entering, he seized a handful of the money and ran off. He was overtaken and placed in prison.

CHLOROFORM.—The Louisville Courier of last Saturday relates that W. Henry and J. S. Jackson, of Clarksville, Tenn., were robbed on board the Southerner, on her last upward trip, of between three and four hundred dollars. While they were asleep chloroform was administered to them, and they were relieved of their funds while under its influence.

☞ We invite attention to the advertisement of Mr. M. Simon, who does a very extensive business, both wholesale and retail, at the corner of Front Row and Jefferson street. He has just returned from the eastern cities with a large and well assorted stock of dry goods, ready-made clothing, boots and shoes, etc., etc., which he will sell at reasonable prices. Country merchants should give him a call and examine his stock.

☞ We are requested to state that the books, papers, etc., of Messrs. Saffarrans & Stratton may be found for the present at the house of Hawks, Smith & Co. Persons indebted to them are requested to call and settle, as they desire to lay in a new supply of books immediately in order to recommence business, which they hope to do in the course of a few days. Now is the time to give them assistance, as they are heavy sufferers by the late fire. They will take such orders for guttering, roofing, etc., as their friends may see proper to offer them.

BURGLARY.—On Sunday afternoon some rogue passed up Bank alley to the rear of the store of Mr. Behr, No 26 Front Row, below Madison street. With chisels he pried open the rear door, and also two inside doors that led to the store. Here he lighted a candle and helped himself to a gold patent lever watch, two double and two single case composition watches, and also some jewelry. What has been missed amounts in value to about a hundred and twenty dollars. The noise some noise alarmed the burglar, for other valuables were left, and also a large and a small chisel, and the piece of candle he had used. The clerk was absent from the place only between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and it was at that time, in open daylight, that the burglary was effected.

LABORDE AND FORMES CONCERT.—Under the auspices of Mr. Ullman, the two celebrated opera singers, Madame Laborde and Carl Formes, assisted by Gustave Satter, the celebrated pianist, and Theodore Thomas and Carl Anschutz, will give two concerts in this city on Monday and Tuesday of next week. Mad. Laborde ranks high in her profession, and the musical amateurs may count, without fear of disappointment, on hearing from her music that will satisfy the critical judgment, while it pleases the taste. The fame of Carl Formes is everywhere, the world of art, both in Europe and America, has recognised his lofty position as a vocalist. We conversed with a gentleman yesterday who was in Berlin some years ago, when Formes was singing in that city, and he stood among the first artists in that great musical capital.

FIRE PREVENTED.—As our neighbor, J. B. Cook, Esq., Civil Engineer, was returning home with his lady from the concert on Saturday night, his attention was attracted when going down Shelby street, between Linden and Pontotoc streets, by a bright light in one of the upstair windows of the house of Col. Jno. Dougherty; a glance showed that the window curtains were in a blaze. Mr. Cook came rung the bell, and fearing that would not awaken attention soon enough, he smashed in a window. The door was soon opened when he sprang within, rushed up stairs, and before the inmates could well understand what was the matter, he had the curtain torn down and fire extinguished. To this energetic and generous conduct we probably owe our deliverance from another calamitous fire. The hands of Mr. Cook suffered on the occasion, but not seriously.

LENT.—Sunday last was Shrove Sunday, to-day is Shrove Tuesday, or Mardi Gras, which is kept in several countries as a day of mirth and fun. To-morrow is Ash Wednesday, the first day of lent, from which time a fast is kept by the Catholic, Episcopalian, Lutheran, and some other denominations until Easter, which this year commences on the 24th of April. The fast is in commemoration of the fast of Christ in the wilderness. The Catholic (Roman) Telegraph gives the following good advice upon the subject of the fast: "We advise all who are addicted to excess in drinking liquor to abstain from it altogether during Lent, to make a good communion at Easter, and firmly resolve from this moment to sin no more. Thus shall they spend a good Lent, and ascend from the resurrection of grace to the resurrection of glory, from newness of life here to endless life in Heaven."

THE FLOOD.—We have again a veritable flood around us; the Mississippi sweeps majestically past, swollen and rapid. The size of the stumps shows us its greatly abridged. The bank of the Arkansas shore opposite us is no longer steep and towering, the water is flush with it, and in many places above it. A large portion of the shore below Wolf river, and opposite the jail, is now a portion of the river, and is thickly tenanted by fat boats. The raised street on the east of Titus' cotton shed which was entirely covered last summer, had last night a strip of dry ground only in the center of it. The space from the steamboats to the bluff, between Monroe and Court streets, is very considerable, and the wharf boat is but a little distance from the backhouse on the landing. The engine for raising water for watering the streets in dusty weather, is once more submerged.

INQUEST.—Coroner Horne, on Saturday evening, held an inquest in the house of Mr. R. R. Waller, three miles beyond the head of Poplar street, on the Stale line road, near the residence of Col. McLean, on the body of a negro woman of about thirty years of age, slave of Mr. Waller, who settled in this State from Virginia some two weeks ago. Dr. Williams had made a post mortem examination of the body; he found the scalp out on the head, and some old wounds and bruises near it; one ear was cut through, apparently by a sharp instrument; there were contusions on the neck and others on the breast. As the woman had evidently been suffering from disease, the Doctor did not feel warranted in stating that the wounds had caused her death. She had been confined two or three days before she died. There was no evidence to show how the wounds had been inflicted. The jury's verdict was that she came to her death from abuse and want of proper attention.

RIVER NEWS.

The river yesterday was still rising, and was last night not more than ten inches below high water mark. The weather was cloudy and cool.

The Dashing Admiral, Capt. Fleming, T. J. Woods clerk, is the regular packet to-day for White river, starting at 6 o'clock in the evening. Harnstad & Hayman agents.

The Kate Frisbee, on old an esteemed favorite, Capt. McManus, Pelley clerk, starts as usual at 4 o'clock for Vicksburg, for which place she is the regular Tuesday packet. Williams & Co. agents.

Capt. Bowman's popular boat, St. Francis No. 3, is the St. Francis river boat to-day. She is a fine roomy craft, and is extremely popular with travelers. Her hour of starting is three o'clock. Harnstad & Hayman agents.

The brisk packet boat Cline, is advertised for Nashville to-day, having at 12 o'clock. Capt. Elliott, commander, Elliott clerk. Williams & Co. agents.

The St. Louis Republican, of Saturday, reports:

The river at this point swelled three inches in the twenty-fours ending at dark last evening, and has become about stationary. We have no change of importance to report in any of the upper rivers. The Illinois is about stationary, with plenty of water to Lasalle down. The Mississippi is falling from Keokuk down, with seven feet in the channel. The Missouri is in good stage from St. Joseph to the mouth.

The mail lately pending between the steamers John H. Dickey and New Uncle Sam, growing out of the collision of those boats, has, we learn, been compromised and amicably settled by the parties themselves.

The Louisville Courier, of Saturday, says:

The river was falling very fast yesterday—fifty three feet in twenty-four hours—with fifteen or sixteen feet water on the falls last evening. The entire wharf, from end to end, was sufficiently clear of water for the passage of drays and the reception of freight. By accurate measurement, we have ascertained that the river has fallen altogether fifteen feet since it commenced.

The Alvin Adams, the mail packet due yesterday, failed to arrive in time. Owing to the muddy condition of the river, she had burned a boiler. She was at Evansville yesterday, and was due last night.

The Southron, an up country boat, plying in the low country trade, along the breeches of Red river, went ashore on Boff river during the rise on Red river. Starting for a bale of cotton about two miles from the river, she reached her destination and got aground. Before the officers cut the boat off, the water had fallen, leaving her high and dry about two miles from the river.

TO THE SUBSCRIBERS AND FRIENDS OF THE APPEAL.—You have learned from the columns of the APPEAL and Bulletin that our office, as well as four others, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 2d inst. Our issue was prepared—the outside having been struck off and the inside ready for the press. One day later, and the Bluecole would have been mailed to all of our subscribers. We have delayed saying anything, hoping we might soon be able to decide when we might be again in operation. New type being daily expected for the Sentinel, we shall give them an opportunity of extending to us that generosity we so cheerfully extended to them, in granting the use of type and printing material, until we can fit a new office. As soon as we can complete arrangements for as speedy an issue as possible, we shall go East, and purchase everything necessary for a printing office, of the very best material.

Not more than one or two papers will fail besides the one that was ready to be issued. May we not appeal with confidence to the numerous friends of the Bluecole in our conferences, to rally to our support—not in the way of loans or donations, but in extending our circulation? Cannot every subscriber send us an additional one? Will not every preacher send us list? We expect to have, as soon as practicable, a more attractive sheet in mechanical execution, and we will use our endeavors to make it a better paper in every respect than it has ever been. S. WATSON.

THE WEEKLY APPEAL.—Our weekly of this week will be found a most interesting paper. It contains an unprecedented amount of valuable matter, and if printed in book form, would make a large volume. The politician will find excellent articles upon the European war, Mexican affairs, the Paraguay expeditions, Washington and Congressional news, the canvas of 1860, etc. The general reader will be satisfied with a vast variety of reading, among which the account of the great fire in this city, the horrible explosion of the Princess, the Key and Sickles tragedy at Washington, the mobbing and murders at Hawesville, Ky., are of special interest. The merchant, planter, mechanic and business man will find the latest and most valuable quotations, with excellent articles upon the cotton trade at home and abroad; the review of our home market is extensive and complete, with full information respecting receipts, sales, shipments and prices. Families will find an interesting variety of choice and interesting stories, anecdotes and selections. We can point to this paper with just pride; it is not excelled by any other weekly of the State, or of the entire South. It is sound in politics, temperate in argument, firm in principle, and kindly disposed toward all mankind.

ANECDOTES OF LOVE,

Being a true account of the

MOST REMARKABLE EVENTS

Connected with the History of Love in all Ages and among all Nations.

BY MADAME LOLA MONTEZ,

COUNTESS OF LANDSFELDT.

Embraced in several Hundreds of Pungent Chapters in which the celebrated Author of History, Poets, Painters, Law-Givers, Reformation, Generals, Philosophers, etc., are exhibited in that intimate light in which shows us the Political Influence of the Affections upon their Actions and characters.

There can be no doubt but the ANECDOTES OF LOVE will be found, perhaps, as pungent, and the most piquant book of the age, and one well calculated to interest all who have not wholly out-lived the remembrances of their youth, and still derive both pleasure and pain from the heart-felt emotions which the heart took a more silver part than the head, and the influence of which has been felt throughout the history of the human-kind passion. This book presents, however, no romantic Love-Chase Pictures of Love, in all its variegated colors and contrasts; the truly sensation hide of Life, as the portion of our existence may be truly called, in which we have to mingle with the joyous part of the tenderness of human emotions, as have depicted with a Purity of Expression, as well as a Rigid Chastity of Selection, which deprives it of all indecency whatever, and leaves it with only the purity of the nature ordinated into the morality of Constitutional History. The subject, in short, is thus depicted of all the prominent characteristics, and being delicately treated by a Female Hand, and filtered through the purifying medium of a female taste, has been rendered in every respect, fit for Family Reading, as well as for perusal in the closet, and to be included on that Shelf which is dedicated to the Sacred Volume.

Price only One Dollar.
