Daily Appeal.

POETICAL.

TWILIGHT.

Longfellow thus happily describes the gradual coming on of the shadows:

Slowly, slowly up the wall
Creeps the archalike, creeps the shadow
Evening comes gentle to fall,
Evening shadows are displayed.

Round me, over me, everywhere,
All the air is filled with dreams,
And wherever the evening air,
Where the evening hours in crowds.

Shafts of sunshine from the west,
Paint the dusty windows red;
Darker shadows deepen and
Underneath and overhead.

Deeper, darker, and more wan,
In my room the shadows fall,
Upward creeps the life of man,
As the sunshine from the wall.

From the wall into the sky,
From the roof along the spire;
Ah! the souls of those that die,
Are but sunbeams lifted higher.

Henry Ward Beecher on the Washington Tragedy and the Duty of Newspapers.

Our National Capital stands in our affairs like a great volcano, in which, boiling and seething forever within, every now and then shakes the land with some terrible eruption, and belches forth its furious contents. Bad as the border States are, and worse as they are in the passions of men who herd together there, it can scarcely be said that morals and conduct are so debased and brutal as at Washington.

We do not doubt that the resident population, not connected with the government, present a worthy contrast to the mere sojourners there. But thither flock, every session, thousands of men who, no principle controls, no shame restrains, no fear daunts. They are corrupt, and forever seeking corruption. Nor are there merely the lobbies and floating fellows that abounds in all large cities. Bogues are sent there on public errands. Men are there by official commission who have eludedcourts and cheated jails.

That this Sodom has many more Lots than its prototype we firmly believe; but that old Sodom and Gomorrah had, for their day, as many men as bad, and, compared with their civilized condition of the community, half as bad, we do not believe. Corruption, corruptibility, bribery and venality, brutal passions and audacious violence, in the street, in the halls of legislation, in offices, in every post and passage of government, are known to exist. We do not believe that ever before there so little reluctance to charges of most ruinous wickedness. Not only is there the most depraved wickedness, but there seems very little sensibility to it when exposed. The extremity of the evil, we believe, will work a remedy. We hope that we are near the bottom, and that any change will be for the better.

When jobs are so easy and lucrative, when the treasury is assailable on every side, and being averice mary grow rich by scarcely disguised robbery, when just claims are withheld, and public debts dishonorably deferred for a whole lifetime, but money is poured out like water upon managing rogues and unconvicted political fellows; it can scarcely be but that crowds of evil men will haunt the perfiens of national legislation, and fatten upon plunder. When before did rumor almost without peril, libeals or inveigle, but by open threat, charge some upon the highest members of government the disgrace of personal corruptions and official venality?

Out of this boiling and uneasy crater, just now comes a fiery flash, a rain of soot; and black clouds, full of sound and bolts, hang about it. Pride has reached forth hand of lust, and Vanity has clasped it. Then comes Assassination to destroy the guilty plight. The papers are loaded down with the matter. There is not a hamlet or village or rural settlement in which this sere of depravity is not about to drop its fetter.

Is it to be taken as a thing settled, then, that our great daily journals be filled all our weekly papers, and all moral and religious newspapers, are to report the whole news of the criminal calendar, and all the shame of corrupt society? Want and crime is gazed by a leaf and minute disclosure of the secrets of iniquity? It would seem as if the rivalry of papers was not a sufficient reason for making them the common receptacle of human depravity. The prurient details of divorce cases at disgusting length, repetitious columns of news from the prize fighting ring, the police court reports, the details of salacious scandal, and the baleful histories of dissipated life, in which men that are rich, no one knows how, refer in Bohemian voices, and hence are regarded crimes—most we have this stream of damnation passing through our families morning after morning, or else go without the benefit of papers that have become an important element of civilization? If there is any moral end to be gained, we will submit to the pain and nausea. But we have failed to see any argument that such a course is necessary, or even expedient that it is the province of a newspaper to chronicle all public events which the public wish to avoid. Has a newspaper a right to promote prurient curiosity? to enfleurie a barbarous taste? to ponder to appetites which all men condemn?

Consider how universal are newspapers in America. They penetrate every nook and corner of society. No other element of power has such a sphere. The pulpit, the court, the lecture, compared with this, are a sport to authority in but few places. The newspaper in the United States is universal. It reaches within and without, from surface to core; it travels everywhere, and, by its nature, is read by all classes, and is wholly or nearly the only reading of more than half our population. Its service to good morals and to intelligence and to good taste is incalculable. All the libraries of Europe are not of as much service to the nations of Europe as the newspaper in this American nation. Its power is growing. Who would, twenty years ago, have dreamed of such a growth and power as have been developed? But the next twenty years will outstrip a greater. Who is to be the great Schoolmaster. The best talent will find its highest sphere in the editorial room. Already the Chair is more influential than the Stump or the Platform. No brain can set upon so many as that which speaks by the printing press of the daily paper. Ink beats like blood in the veins of the nation.

It is on this account that we are sure that a change must take place in regard to the almost unregulated diffusion of criminal news and of scandalous histories, which appeal to the worst passions without influencing the good. We do not believe that newspapers are the place for the natural history of crime, or that our parlors should be turned into reading saloons of morbid moral anatomy, or that we should be compelled to choose between two Egyptian plagues—a rain of lice, or a darkness so thick that it might be felt.

And we believe that, in the end, no paper could suffer that should resolutely close its columns to everything that could not be read by a Christian father in the midst of his sons and daughters."

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE ON HENRY WARD BEECHER AND THE COURSE OF NEWSPAPERS.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher gives this week an essay on "A Public Scandal and the Duty of Newspapers," whose general doctrine is that which we have repeatedly combatted—a doctrine which confounds morality with virtue, and implies not only that newspapers are moral evils, but that the Bible is one of the most pernicious and corrupting volumes ever printed. We do not propose to go into this ground, and will simply say that we believe no sermon preached last Sabbath was half so impressive and salutary as the accounts of that horrid tragedy enacted on that day in sight of the President's house at Washington, which the telegraph and the newspapers have carried and are carrying into nearly every American household. Nay; we doubt that any sermon ever preached in Plymouth Church—where many good ones have been uttered—was so eminently calculated to startle the guilty and warn the yet innocent of "the ills that wait on lawless love," as that very Washington tragedy, just as it has been and will be presented in the newspapers. Of course, some things have been said that might well have been omitted; but we take the case as a whole, and maintain that no man, woman or child who can read it as it has been presented in this or any other respectable journal, and not be admonished by it to shun the way that leads "down to the chambers of death," must be in the last stages of moral dissolution.

But we had intended only to suggest another and more obvious reason for our course in treating this tragedy just as we treat all other occurrences which challenge the public attention. The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, we are happy in believing, is a good judge of newspapers, usually takes and reads the best, and is satisfied with these so long as they contain what he wishes to see. But, had we barely published, on Monday, the fact that the Hon. Dan. Sickles had, the day before, shot dead, in the streets of Washington, his intimate personal and political friend, the United States District Attorney, and that a well founded jealousy was the sole incentive to this crime, we apprehend that our Reverend patron would not have been able to finish his breakfast with that deliberation and calmness which is dictated by the laws alike of Hygeine and good breeding, owing to his haste to run around the corner and buy a Herald containing the painfully interesting particulars of this shocking affair. Even though it were necessary to strain a point—which happily it is not—we should feel it incumbent on us to shield our esteemed patron from this ordeal necessity.

Marriage of Prince Napoleon and Princess Clotilda.

A letter of the 30th January, from Turin, published in the New York Times, gives the following description of the marriage of Prince Napoleon and the Princess Clotilda, of the house of Savoy:

The marriage was celebrated this morning at 10½ o'clock. The chaplain of the chapel royal celebrated mass, at which the Archbishop of Vercelli and other prelates were present. The august couple stood before the altar in the center, the King being on the right and the Prince de Carignan on the left; near were the Count de Cavour, the Prince de la Tour d'Auvergne, the Knights of the Order of Annunciada, and the persons attached to the suites of the King and the Imperial Highness. The Princess Clotilda had near her the Countess de Villamarina, her governess, and M'lle Salasco, her sub-governess. At the conclusion of the mass, the Archbishop of Vercelli put the usual questions as to the consent of the parties, and afterward gave his benediction. In a pew on the Gospel side of the Platform, No brain can set upon so many as that which speaks by the printing press of the daily paper. Ink beats like blood in the veins of the nation.

It is on this account that we are sure that a change must take place in regard to the almost unregulated diffusion of criminal news and of scandalous histories, which appeal to the worst passions without influencing the good. We do not believe that newspapers are the place for the natural history of crime, or that our parlors should be turned into reading saloons of morbid moral anatomy, or that we should be compelled to choose between two Egyptian plagues—a rain of lice, or a darkness so thick that it might be felt.

And we believe that, in the end, no paper could suffer that should resolutely close its columns to everything that could not be read by a Christian father in the midst of his sons and daughters."

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE ON HENRY WARD BEECHER AND THE COURSE OF NEWSPAPERS.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher gives this week an essay on "A Public Scandal and the Duty of Newspapers," whose general doctrine is that which we have repeatedly combatted—a doctrine which confounds morality with virtue, and implies not only that newspapers are moral evils, but that the Bible is one of the most pernicious and corrupting volumes ever printed. We do not propose to go into this ground, and will simply say that we believe no sermon preached last Sabbath was half so impressive and salutary as the accounts of that horrid tragedy enacted on that day in sight of the President's house at Washington, which the telegraph and the newspapers have carried and are carrying into nearly every American household. Nay; we doubt that any sermon ever preached in Plymouth Church—where many good ones have been uttered—was so eminently calculated to startle the guilty and warn the yet innocent of "the ills that wait on lawless love," as that very Washington tragedy, just as it has been and will be presented in the newspapers. Of course, some things have been said that might well have been omitted; but we take the case as a whole, and maintain that no man, woman or child who can read it as it has been presented in this or any other respectable journal, and not be admonished by it to shun the way that leads "down to the chambers of death," must be in the last stages of moral dissolution.

But we had intended only to suggest another and more obvious reason for our course in treating this tragedy just as we treat all other occurrences which challenge the public attention. The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, we are happy in believing, is a good judge of newspapers, usually takes and reads the best, and is satisfied with these so long as they contain what he wishes to see. But, had we barely published, on Monday, the fact that the Hon. Dan. Sickles had, the day before, shot dead, in the streets of Washington, his intimate personal and political friend, the United States District Attorney, and that a well founded jealousy was the sole incentive to this crime, we apprehend that our Reverend patron would not have been able to finish his breakfast with that deliberation and calmness which is dictated by the laws alike of Hygeine and good breeding, owing to his haste to run around the corner and buy a Herald containing the painfully interesting particulars of this shocking affair. Even though it were necessary to strain a point—which happily it is not—we should feel it incumbent on us to shield our esteemed patron from this ordeal necessity.

Marriage of Prince Napoleon and Princess Clotilda.

A letter of the 30th January, from Turin, published in the New York Times, gives the following description of the marriage of Prince Napoleon and the Princess Clotilda, of the house of Savoy:

The marriage was celebrated this morning at 10½ o'clock. The chaplain of the chapel royal celebrated mass, at which the Archbishop of Vercelli and other prelates were present. The august couple stood before the altar in the center, the King being on the right and the Prince de Carignan on the left; near were the Count de Cavour, the Prince de la Tour d'Auvergne, the Knights of the Order of Annunciada, and the persons attached to the suites of the King and the Imperial Highness. The Princess Clotilda had near her the Countess de Villamarina, her governess, and M'lle Salasco, her sub-governess. At the conclusion of the mass, the Archbishop of Vercelli put the usual questions as to the consent of the parties, and afterward gave his benediction. In a pew on the Gospel side of the Platform, No brain can set upon so many as that which speaks by the printing press of the daily paper. Ink beats like blood in the veins of the nation.

It is on this account that we are sure that a change must take place in regard to the almost unregulated diffusion of criminal news and of scandalous histories, which appeal to the worst passions without influencing the good. We do not believe that newspapers are the place for the natural history of crime, or that our parlors should be turned into reading saloons of morbid moral anatomy, or that we should be compelled to choose between two Egyptian plagues—a rain of lice, or a darkness so thick that it might be felt.

And we believe that, in the end, no paper could suffer that should resolutely close its columns to everything that could not be read by a Christian father in the midst of his sons and daughters."

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE ON HENRY WARD BEECHER AND THE COURSE OF NEWSPAPERS.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher gives this week an essay on "A Public Scandal and the Duty of Newspapers," whose general doctrine is that which we have repeatedly combatted—a doctrine which confounds morality with virtue, and implies not only that newspapers are moral evils, but that the Bible is one of the most pernicious and corrupting volumes ever printed. We do not propose to go into this ground, and will simply say that we believe no sermon preached last Sabbath was half so impressive and salutary as the accounts of that horrid tragedy enacted on that day in sight of the President's house at Washington, which the telegraph and the newspapers have carried and are carrying into nearly every American household. Nay; we doubt that any sermon ever preached in Plymouth Church—where many good ones have been uttered—was so eminently calculated to startle the guilty and warn the yet innocent of "the ills that wait on lawless love," as that very Washington tragedy, just as it has been and will be presented in the newspapers. Of course, some things have been said that might well have been omitted; but we take the case as a whole, and maintain that no man, woman or child who can read it as it has been presented in this or any other respectable journal, and not be admonished by it to shun the way that leads "down to the chambers of death," must be in the last stages of moral dissolution.

But we had intended only to suggest another and more obvious reason for our course in treating this tragedy just as we treat all other occurrences which challenge the public attention. The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, we are happy in believing, is a good judge of newspapers, usually takes and reads the best, and is satisfied with these so long as they contain what he wishes to see. But, had we barely published, on Monday, the fact that the Hon. Dan. Sickles had, the day before, shot dead, in the streets of Washington, his intimate personal and political friend, the United States District Attorney, and that a well founded jealousy was the sole incentive to this crime, we apprehend that our Reverend patron would not have been able to finish his breakfast with that deliberation and calmness which is dictated by the laws alike of Hygeine and good breeding, owing to his haste to run around the corner and buy a Herald containing the painfully interesting particulars of this shocking affair. Even though it were necessary to strain a point—which happily it is not—we should feel it incumbent on us to shield our esteemed patron from this ordeal necessity.

Hardware.

FIRE, FIRE!

A NOTHER

OF OUR

FIRE - PROOF

SAFES,

Tested!

Certificate from its Owner

A CITIZEN OF MEMPHIS.

The numerous parties with whom we have supplied these universal

FIRE-PROOF SAFES!

Within the last ten years,

Will vouch for the fact that

THE FOLLOWING LETTER FROM A WELL KNOWN

Intelligent Merchant of Memphis,

In reply to a letter from us requesting a statement of facts. And to those who remain

UNSAFE

From the risk of this necessary, and pay premium to their valuables, we feel it our duty to say that

A Large Stock of the same Sort may at all times be found at the store of the Manufacturers' Agents in Memphis.

☞ The best SAFE offered to any to be seen on the sidewalk in front of our store on Front Row.

LOWNES, ORGILL & CO.

13 and 14 Front Row.

Messrs. Lownes, Orgill & Co.:

GENTLEMEN: Two of the 1st inst., asking reply to certain questions touching the fate of my SAFE, No. 4262, made by Messrs. Sherwood & Marvin, and purchased some two years ago from you, is before me, and cheerfully reply, as follows:

The fire you refer to, was the largest that ever occurred in this place, there being some 50 or 60 buildings consumed, and about as many families turned out on the streets—on the morning of the 9th of January last.

My SAFE stood in my office on the second floor of one of the burning buildings, where it remained until the floor was burned from under it, when it fell into the cellar, among the stock of burning molasses, butter and spirits stored there. I had previously taken from the SAFE my books and papers, leaving in it, however, an empty specie bag and a piece of white paper, with some memorandums written on it, hoped up in the SAFE. The fire in this building was very great, having burned everything but the brick walls. The SAFE remained in the same position it fell in, for some days, on account of the fire had so heated and warped the SAFE as to render it impossible to throw the bolts back with the key, from the piece of paper and specie bag were found as perfect as when I left them, and showed as satisfactorily the fire proof qualities of the SAFE at all the papers had been left in it. The inside wood work was also found as sound as it was previous to the fire, the varnish being slightly discolored by the steam, as I understand is usual in such cases.

I take pleasure in thus answering justice to the manufacturers, and think the contents in use in which the public at large are seriously interested. Should I be placed in a similar situation, I would feel perfectly secure with one of the SAFES manufactured by Sherwood & Marvin, for whom you are the Agents.

Very respectfully, etc.,

(Signed) WILLIAM PARK.

Memphis, February 14, 1859. mar4

CHANCERY SALE.

A VALUABLE TRACT OF LAND

NEAR FISHERVILLE, TENNESSEE.

Pursuant to a Decree of the Chancery Court, at Memphis, rendered November Term, 1858, in the case of Lucy W. Stark, administratrix of Henry C. Stark, deceased, vs. The Heirs and Creditors of said H. C. Stark, I will on Wednesday April 6, 1859,

in front of my office, in the City of Memphis, proceed to sell to the highest bidder

A VALUABLE TRACT OF LAND,

lying and being in the 5th Civil District, of Shelby county, Tenn., near the town of Fisherville, containing about together with all the improvements thereon, consisting in part of a large and comfortable Residence and other house thereto attached. The tract of land is in close proximity to the town of Fisherville.

THREE HUNDRED AND TWO ACRES,

TERMS OF SALE—The above mentioned tract of land will be sold in a single or seven, parcels, and a credit of twelve months is given purchasers to execute notes with approved security, with a lien retained on the premises until payment of purchase money. Sale to commence at 11 o'clock A. M.

JOHN C. LANIER,

mar5-dawtd&w6w Clerk and Master.

202 MAIN STREET. 202

REMOVAL.

STRAUSS, LEHMAN & CO.,

Respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have removed to their

New four story Brick Building, No. 202,

East side of Main-st., 2d door North of Jefferson-st.,

where they have fitted up in good style, large and commodious rooms, well adapted to the Wholesale and Retail Trade.

With increased facilities, they flatter themselves that they can offer greater inducements than ever, to purchasers, feeling assured that they can and will please, whether the interests of buyers at wholesale or retail, ladies and gentlemen, is the large and extensive stock of

Staple and Fancy

DRY GOODS,

Embroideries, Plain and Fancy Silks, Dress Goods of every conceivable style, Laces, Edgings, Hosiery and Gloves. Notions in endless variety, together with a large and well selected assortment of

Boots and Shoes

of every description

HOOP-SKIRTS

in great variety, manufactured expressly for their trade, which they can sell cheap.

SHERWOOD & DOUGLASS'

CELEBRATED

Matinee Corsetts!

Stella and Piccolomini Shawls and other styles too numerous to mention. A large and complete assortment of Fancy Willow Ware!

In fact every article in profusion ever called for in their line of trade, which they will sell as cheap if not cheaper, than any establishment in the Southwest.

To buyers at wholesale, we can offer extraordinary inducements. We have fitted up the 2nd and 3rd floors of our large house expressly for the jobbing trade, and have now in store,

300 cases Boots and Shoes
20 " Prunes
15 " Lemons and Raisins
15 " Stenciled Sheetings and Shirtings
50 bales Prints, Shirtings
3000 doz. Hosiery and Gloves.

FANCY NOTIONS

of every name, style and description, to which we invite attention from COUNTRY MERCHANTS, RIVER TRADERS and PEDDLERS before purchasing elsewhere.

mar5-2w

Marshal's Sale.

By virtue of an execution to me directed from the Honorable Circuit Court of the United States for the 8th Circuit in the District of West Tennessee, October Term, 1858, of said Court, in the case of W. G. Lane & Co., against J. L. Sefferans & Co., I will sell to the highest bidder for cash, on the SECOND DAY OF APRIL NEXT, 1859, at the corner of Madison and Main streets, Rank Block, in the city of Memphis, Tenn., and Napoleon, of dark complexion, between 40 and 50 years old, a No. 1 butler and a good mechanic named GEORGE. Levied on as the property of J. L. Sefferans & Co., to satisfy said execution in my hands for satisfaction. Sale to commence at 11 o'clock A. M.

R. McCLANAHAN, U. S. Marshal.

By JAMES H. DAVIS, Deputy U. S. Marshal.

mar5-td West Division of Tennessee.

Queen City

MARBLEIZED IRON MANTLE WORKS.

HAND, INNES & WHITEHOUSE,

Nos. 266, 267, and 268, West Fifth street,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

ENAMELED MANTLE GRATES, Ornamental Iron Castings, &c.

Iron Railing, Verandah, Bank Vaults, Iron shutters, Sash, Water Closet Stands, &c., &c.

TOM R. WHITEHOUSE, Agent,

feb26-6m Rick's Stove Store, 204 Main street.

Miscellaneous.

Negroes for Sale.

ONE YELLOW BOY twenty-two years of age, a first-rate barber, carriage driver and house servant; one black boy, twenty years old, a first-rate blacksmith and engineer; two field hands, one twenty-two years old, and the other thirty years. Also good carpenter and thirty-five years old.

MONTAGUE & CO.

jeb-tf Corner of Madison street and Bank Avenue.

$25 Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on February, 1859, my boy LEWIS, aged about 14 years, dark complexion, short, upright Pennsylvania, and is an active boy. I will give the above reward for his apprehension.

DR. L. P. BLACKBURN, Memphis, Miss.

mar5-dawtw*

$50 Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, about the 1st of February, 1859, my negro boy JACK, black, 18 years old, very active and about thirty years of age.

I will give the above reward for his apprehension, or such information as will lead to his recovery.

mar5-dawtw* A. L. WILSON, Nacogdoches, Miss.

$200 Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, near Kosciusko, Mississippi, on the night of the 20th of February, two negro men, named LEANDER and ROBERT.

Leander is black, intelligent and remarkably well formed, is about 5 feet one or two inches high, has rather a cautious walk, small head and mouth, with decidedly thick lips and high and "knotted" forehead, aged about 22 or 24 years.

Robert is decidedly black, about 5 feet 8 or 10 inches in height, very slender, walks erect, not very intelligent, and with an uneasy expression of countenance; aged about 18 or 17 years.

For Leander, I will give fifty dollars, if caught in the counties of Washington, Shelby, or Desoto, or the railway and the Tallaboosa River, and twenty-five in the above counties; if on a steamboat, or beyond the limits of said counties, I will give one hundred and fifty dollars for Leander, and fifty dollars for Robert, provided they are delivered to me, or lodged in some safe jail where I can get them.

Leander has formerly been employed on the Memphis and New Orleans packets, and will try to reach a free State by steamboat.

O. M. BLANTON

feb26-1m

Saddlery!

FORD, BEGBIE & CO,

Respectfully announce to their customers and the public generally, that they may still be found at their Old Stand opposite Court Square.

We are now manufacturing and receiving our large Spring stock of

SADDLERY

and all other Goods in our line

Saddles, Bridles, Harness Collars,

WHIPS, etc., of every description.

Saddlery and Shoe Materials,

—AND—

LEATHER of all kinds.

Also, warranted India Rubber and Leather, Gin and Mill Belts, Lacing Leather, Deer Skins, etc.

We invite the attention of wholesale purchasers to our stock. We buy for cash and will not be undersold. Orders attended to.

Work made to order and warranted.

FORD, BEGBIE & CO.

mar5-dawtf Corner Court and Main, Up Stairs.

Envelopes.

500,000 ENVELOPES, assorted sizes, shapes and colors, at reduced prices for cash by [16924] CLEAVES & VADEN.

Hair Brushes and Pocketbooks.

A GOOD assortment on hand and for sale by feb24 CLEAVES & VADEN.

Robb & Johnson.

CARPENTERS & JOINERS,

Builders and Manufacturers.

HAVING leased the manufacturing department over Messrs. Lownes, Orgill & Co's. store, on Main-st., we are prepared to execute all orders in our line with promptness and dispatch, including Planing, Weatherboarding, Sash, Blinds, Door Frames, Window Frames, Mouldings, and every article of lumber necessary to the entire finish of buildings. We respectfully solicit a share of the public patronage. Orders received either by Wingate & Montgomery or ourselves.

ROBB & JOHNSON.

ja25d-3tf Over Tucking Mr. Madison street.

REOPENING

OF THE ORIGINAL

ORLEANS STORE

At No. 352 Main Street.

Direct Importation of IRISH LINENS.

THIS Store will be reopened on MONDAY, the 14th February, with a full assortment of

LINEN SHIRTINGS,
" SHEETINGS,
" DAMASKS,
" TOWELS,
" NAPKINS,
" DOYLIES,
" CLOTHS—Bleached and Brown;
" HANDKERCHIEFS,
COTTON SHIRTINGS,
" SHEETINGS.

Marseilles, Lancaster and Alleutale Quilts, Black Silks, Satins, Gros Grains, etc.

HOUSE-KEEPERS AND PLANTERS' GOODS, with a full line of WHITE GOODS generally.

In calling attention to the citizens of Memphis to our card, we take pleasure in saying that we will sell at a small advance on cost for Cash only. feb23-1m

PIANOS.

JUST received from the celebrated manufactories of Hamlin & Boston, and Chickering & Sons, Weber, superior Seven Octave PIANOS, which we will sell at lower prices than can be purchased elsewhere. [m25] GROSVENOR, CAMP & CO.

Physicians' Prescriptions

CAREFULLY compounded by competent and experienced hands, of Pure Medicines, at all hours, day and night, by

G. W. JONES & CO.,

feb27-2w 229 Main street.

D. R. NORRIS. C. FRIZZIS.

MEMPHIS FOUNDRY

AND

Machine Shop.

B. E. NORRIS & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS of Steam Engines, Saw Mills, Grist Mills, Tobacco Presses, Sugar Mill, Cotton and Wool Cards, &c. Steamboat repairing and jobbing work of every description attended to promptly. Persons sending their work to us can rely on getting it at the time promised. We respectfully solicit a share of the patronage of Engineers and Saw Mills on very short notice, and as low as they can be brought home, and warrant satisfaction in the same quality of work.

[jy3-dawly]

Administrator's Notice.

LETTERS of administration on the estate of the late C. M. Hurtel, deceased, with the will annexed, have been issued to the undersigned by the Probate Court of Shelby county, and State of Tennessee, at the December term, 1858, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to said estate to make payment immediately, and those having claims, that the same will be presented within the time prescribed by law, or they will be barred.

Jeffersonian please copy. J. B. SHARPE, Admr.

Evening Drawing and Painting School.

THE following terms of elegant and useful branches to be a practical man—two lessons per week—Tuesday and Saturday afternoons, at Speed, Bonds & Strange's, Main street, near Union.

ARRANGEMENT—COLORS, OIL OR WATER.

Monday—Landscape Drawing; Tuesday — Landscape Drawing; Thursday — Landscape Drawing; Saturday—Ornamental Drawing; Friday—Flower do.

Public and Private Buildings of every description, designed and painted in fresco, in the best style, with water or white or colored SIZE, and for superior Window Shades.

To advertisers, Signs painted on the shortest notice.

For further information, address

ROBERTS,

mar4-1m Box 635, Memphis, Tenn.

The Largest and Finest Assortment of

STATIONERY

EVER BROUGHT TO MEMPHIS.

WE are in receipt of the most complete stock of Stationery ever brought to this market, consisting of paper of all grades and prices; Envelopes of all shapes and sizes; Steel and Gold Pens of every description.

Also, a large stock of Blank Books, of all the Standard Works, to which we particularly call the attention of Country Merchants and the trade generally, as we are satisfied we can offer them greater inducements to purchase of us.

W. R. STRANGE & CO.,

Gayoso House Building, Gayoso street.

Only Gold Medal for Pens.

TO THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

M. SIMON,

MANUFACTURER OF CLOTHING,

And wholesale and retail dealer in

Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes, Gents' Furnishing Goods, etc.,

HAS removed from the retail store with a very large and well selected stock of all articles appertaining to his line, to which he calls the attention of the public.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, RIVER TRADERS AND PEDDLARS

Are respectfully invited to call and examine his stock BEFORE PURCHASING ELSEWHERE.

As an account of his increased facilities, he claims to be enabled to sell at the lowest cash prices.

Corner Jefferson-st., under Commercial Hotel.

mar5-3m

M. S. MEPHAM & BRO.,

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

Fruits, Nuts, Cigars,

FANCY GROCERIES,

CONFECTIONERIES,

&c., &c.,

No. 160 North Second Street,

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI.

HAVE in store and are constantly receiving fresh supplies of the following goods, which they offer at low prices for cash:

10,000 boxes Sicily Oranges;
1,000 half boxes Sicily Oranges;
1,000 half boxes Messina Oranges;
10,000 boxes Sicily Lemons;
6,000 half boxes Sicily Lemons;
1,000 boxes Messina Lemons;
8,000 boxes Malaga Lemons;
10,000 boxes M. R. and Layer Raisins in whole, half and quarter boxes;
500 bbls. prime Zante Currants;
75 cases Genoa Citrons;
1,000 reams Solidon Writing;
600 cases Figs, Figues, French Cordes;
250 cases, 1 lb. Oranges, Free Cross;
400 cases, 1 lb., Lobster, narrowed;
300 cases, 1 lb., Lobster, narrowed;
300 cases, 1 lb., Lobster, Flat;
200 cases, 2 lbs., Green Peas;
200 cases Asparagus;
200 cases, 2 lbs., Pineapple Jellies;
250 cases Pine Apples, in glass;
200 cases assorted Table Fruit, in glass;
300 cases assorted Table Fruit, in glass;
200 cases gr. Sugar Sardines, head brand;
200 cases gr. Sugar Sardines, foot brand;
1,000 cases 2 and 3 lbs., Tomatoes;
300 cases Prime Almonds;
300 cases Tarragona Almonds;
250 cases Languedoc Almonds;
300 cases Jordan Almonds;
275 cases Jordan Hard Shells;
1,000 cases Peach Brandy;
750 cases new Filberts;
800 cases English Walnuts;
500 cases Brazil Nuts;
10,000 fresh Cocoa Nuts;
1,000 cases Pea Nuts;
300 cases ground Ginger;
500 cases Cayenne Pepper;
250 cases Pickled Pickles in half pint cans, pints, quarts, half gallons and one gallon glass bottles;
200,000 segars Cuba, various brands;
200,000 segars Havana, various brands;
100,000 segars Manilla, various brands;
6,000 boxes assorted Fancy Confectionery, various styles and qualities;
150 cases Candy (oil, pons and gaspes);
50 cases Pearl Sago;
100 cases Cocoa Sago;
50 cases French Capers;
75 cases Sardines;
1,000 lbs. assorted Flavoring Extracts;
5 cases Fin. Pepper Sauce, pints and quarts;
5 cases Fin. Mustard, pints and quarts;
500 lbs. English Sauces;
200 lbs. Pickled Onions;
300 lbs. Pickled Mushrooms, in glass;
300 kegs French Prunes;
50 cases French Prunes, in fancy boxes;
100 cases Brandy Cherries;
100 cases Brandy Peaches;
125 cases Brandy Pudding;
500 barrels Cranberries, four brands;
500 cases Claret Wine;
300 cases Grape Strawberries, in cans;
100 cases Grape Blackberries, in cans;
75 cases Lemon Mustard, in 4 and 8 lbs. cans;
300 cases Lemon Syrup, in cans, 1 mile to 10 miles from Court Square.

Land for Sale.

I HAVE for sale two tracts of Land, a portion of same mile from Center to White river, adjoining a plantation I have just sold by Jos. Upshaw; the other tract is one mile from Center, on Mt. Pleasant Land, and twenty-feet above overflow. The other, two miles from Center, on the stage road to Lake Nelle, has 100 acres of land in cultivation, 300 in all—improvements good, with 1 dwelling, some other A. Jno. R. Upshaw, of Memphis, or A. J. Turner, near Carrow, will give any information desired.

R. H. WELLBORN

mar5-dawtf Hernando, Miss.

Money! Money!

ALL persons indebted to WASH & BAKER, in new or account, will find their bills in the hands of Jones until the 15th March, after which, if not paid, they will be put in the hands of an officer for collection.

feb12-dawtm.

Fresh Norfolk Oysters.

J. S. Mitchell & Co.

HAVING this day received a fresh supply of Oysters, will offer inducements to the trade or to families, to retailing them low for cash. No. 4 Phenix & Jennett's Row.

feb26-tf

FORTY

FORT PICKERING LOTS

AT AUCTION.

On FRIDAY, March 25th, 1859.

TERMS OF SALE—One-fourth Cash, Balance in 9, 18, 12, 19 and 24 months; notes payable at Union Bank, with one good indorser.

THE LOTS ARE:

Block A—Lot 1;
Block B—Lots 10, 11, 18;
Block D—Lots 19, 22;
Block 10—Lots 19, 20;
Block 11—Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5;
Block 12—Lots 11, 12, 13, 14, 21, 22;
Block 13—Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8;
Block 14—Lots 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22;
Block 25—Lots 1, 4, 5, 8, 10, 11, 14.

The sale will take place at the Lots. Title undisputed.

HENRY C. SMITH,

mar5-td Agent for John Overall and others

W. H. Weller

BUILDER!

Memphis, Tenn.

SHOP on Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth. All kinds of jobbing and repairing of buildings promptly attended to. [jy8-dw

Carpets.

TAPESTRY, Brussels, Ingrains, Stripes and Ingrain Carpeting for sale by

GROSVENOR, CAMP & CO.

JUST RECEIVED!

By Block, Grossmuer & Co.,

50 BBLS. Finest Whisky, 30 bbls. Premium Whisky, 10 bbls. Old Rye, 10 bbls. Monongahela Rye, 10 kegs Pure French Cognac. Also in store an assortment of Brandies and Rye Whisky. Port and Sherry Wines, Gin in Cordial, Raspberry Brandy, Claret, Ale. Also a large assortment of Leaguer of all sorts and qualities, which we offer at the lowest market price.

BLOCK, GROSSMUER & CO.,

feb26-dtf No. 7 Howard's Row.

Real Estate.

Notice to Cotton Growers.

A Valuable Tract of Cotton Lands for Sale, Containing 1400 Acres.

I HAVE for sale a tract of land, containing fourteen hundred acres, situated in St. Francois county, Arkansas, in extremely dense cane, of all ranges four east, in sections three, four, five and seven. This land lies in a compact body, fronting the west bank of St. Francis river, two miles below Lindsey, and adjoining Bolton Mathews, the point at which the Memphis and Little Rock Railroad crosses said river. Upon this tract of land there are eighty acres in cultivation, and one hundred and sixty acres well deadened; said deadening is two years old. This land is unexpanded in point of fertility and convenience of location. For terms of sale, apply to G. S. Caldwell, near the premises, or to Wm. Park, or John Cameron, Memphis, or to J. T. Moore, at Helena, or to me, at Lewisville, Kansas.

JAMES GARVIN.

feb23-dawtm or GARVIN, BELL & CO.

Long Credit.

WE offer our Twenty-Thousand Acres of Land, on long credit, in small parcels, or in one, two and three years credit, about two miles from Court Square, near Dr. Thomas'. Apply soon to feb6-2dm No. 38 Madison street, up-stairs.

G. N. ROBINSON & CO.,

Small Farm for Sale

SITUATED near the Randolph road, six miles north of Memphis, containing one hundred acres of land, some twenty acres cleared. There is upon the place a good dwelling, stable, and other out-houses, and a good orchard, &c. Apply to the subscriber on the premises.

L. P. MENDIRE.

[27-dtf

For Sale.

A MOST desirable SUGAR PLANTATION on the coast, 22 miles above Brazoria, containing 1313 acres of land, 1000 in cultivation, 300 in cane, some twenty acres cleared. There is upon the place a good dwelling, 2 cane mills, 2 sugar houses, 2 engines and boilers, 2 Jackson presses, 2 Jackson mills, 2 sugar kettles, and a large quantity of other utensils. Also, 100 head of cattle, 20 mules, 20 head of horses, 1 yoke of oxen, 1 cart and harness, 1 buggy and harness, 1 hand cart, 1 plantation bell, 1 Jackson press, 1 Jackson mill, 1 sugar kettle, 1 cane mill, 1 engine and boiler