Local Matters.

Thursday Morning, March 17, '59.

☞ All persons are requested not to purchase papers from our regular carriers. The papers do not belong to them; they have no authority to sell, and every sale by them is a fraud upon us, and a cheat upon our subscribers.

NOTICE THUS.—Desiring to purchase a lot in the city upon which to erect a printing establishment, we will give a bargain in our suburban property, if application be made during the present week.

McCLANAHAN, TROUSDALE & DILL.

THE WEATHER.—The weather was pleasant yesterday; toward night it turned cold. The streets are now becoming quite dusty.

RIDING ON THE PAVEMENT.—For riding on the pavement, H. M. Grosvenor was yesterday fined seven dollars by the Recorder.

INDICTED.—The grand jury yesterday found a true bill against John Murphy, charged with committing an assault with intent to kill.

THANKS.—We once more return our thanks to Hy. Bordon, Esq., of Adams' Express, for acceptable exchanges.

☞ The lovers of choice beef will do well to call on Mr. H. Sneed, at the market house, on Friday next, when he will be supplied with the best article offered this season, either for roast, steak, or stew.

LECTURE ON SPIRITUALISM.—Prof. Britton, the popular writer and lecturer on the modern philosophy, or spiritualism, will give a complimentary lecture on that subject this evening, at half past 7 o'clock, at Odd Fellows' Hall.

THE USEFUL MAN.—Spicer, who keeps the Useful Place on Madison street, below Main, has some excellent country butter. We tried it yesterday, and pronounce it very good. He is receiving some fine meat.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—We are indebted to Senators Johnson and Sebastian of Arkansas, and also to the Hons. A. G. Brown, W. T. Avery and L. Q. C. Lamar for public documents forwarded to this office.

CRIMINAL COURT.—At this court yesterday Catherine Connor, the blind girl at Mrs. Hirshfield, was tried for stealing a quantity of property from the house of her employer. At the adjournment of court the jury had not agreed upon their verdict.

☞ Our thanks are due to Mr. G. P. Richardson, of Bluff Springs, for a club of ten new subscribers to the weekly. For these repeated favors at the hands of our friends, we cherish a deep sense of gratitude, and it shall be our constant aim to make the APPEAL worthy the generous support it is receiving from the public.

THE CROSS CITY.—We had the pleasure of a visit, yesterday afternoon, from Mr. J. Y. Keith, of the Cross City, published at Corinth, Miss. He will remain in Memphis several days, when our merchants will have an opportunity to contract for advertisements in the columns of his paper.

ELMWOOD CEMETERY.—At the annual election of managers of Elmwood Cemetery the following gentlemen were elected managers for the current year: Joseph Leonw, W. B. Miller, Thomas H. Allen, James M. Williamson, and William B. Hamlin. The Board organized by appointing Joseph Leonw president and Jurgen Jessen superintendent and secretary.

DISCHARGED.—David Turner, who was arrested on suspicion of being the accomplice of the girl Catharine Connor, in her theft on the premises of Mrs. Hirshfield, was discharged, yesterday, there being no evidence against him. The portion of the jewelry that had not been recovered, was found yesterday, hidden away in a barrel on the premises.

FIRE ON MONROE STREET.—At three o'clock yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in a house on Monroe street, below De Soto. The building was consumed, and with it two or three drays and carts, and a considerable quantity of hay and feed. The whole loss was about six hundred dollars, on which there was no insurance. The place was undoubtedly set on fire.

THE NORTH MARKET HOUSE.—There is another "hitch" in the mooted question of the North Market House; the residents in Saffarran's house, adjoining, object to a market house being placed within twenty yards of their windows. A number of the Aldermen visited the spot last night to consider the point. We should not be surprised to see the late arrangements upset and all Pinch in a passion.

RECORDER'S COURT.—At this court, yesterday, the following parties were before Esq. Ease: For disorderly conduct, J. C. Jenkinson was sent to the chain gang, and James Taff was fined; drunk and disorderly, Jas. Starton, Charley Wilson, sent to chain gang; drunk, Robert Donnelly, P. R. Woods, Wm. Stuart, put on chain gang; Wm. Porter, fighting, fined; misdemeanor, Calvin Smith, H. M. Grosvenor, fined.

GAYOSO DEBATING CLUB.—The young gentlemen forming this excellent society have been making efforts to secure a library for the use of the club; a very handsome selection of books has been obtained by the assistance of a number of citizens, and they have desired us to return their warm thanks to the kind friends who have afforded them such welcome and liberal assistance.

THE GAIETY.—Miss Eliza Logan will make her last appearance this evening as "Juliet" in the fine Shakspearian play of Romeo and Juliet, which will be succeeded by the fine farce of Cousin Joe—the part of "Cousin Joe" by Mr. Benson, "Margery" by Mrs. C. Henri.

We are authorized to say that the bill for Friday evening will be one of the best of the season. We have already announced that Mr. Wood Benson's benefit will take place on that evening. Mr. Benson has contributed so largely to the success of the drama in Memphis, that we confidently look for a bumper on that evening. We learn that the sale of tickets is already progressing briskly.

WHERE IS HE?—We stated, on Tuesday morning, that A. B. Williams, of Augusta, Ga., had attempted to take the life of Lizzie White by firing a pistol at her near her door, at Belton's old negro mart, on the landing below Howard's row. Since then we have been unable to learn anything of him. He is not in jail, nor in the station house; he has not been admitted, so far as we can learn, to bail. A man named A. B. Williams was fined ten dollars in the Recorder's court on Tuesday. If that was the person, shooting at women can be done cheap in Memphis.

ST. PATRICK'S SUPPER.—This day is the thirteen hundred and ninety-fifth anniversary of the Irish saint, St. Patrick, and our Irish fellow-citizens will celebrate the occasion in a manner most creditable to the kindness of their hearts and the Christianity of their characters. A supper will be prepared at Exchange Buildings, under the care of that prince of caterers, our friend Specht. The tickets of admission for a lady and gentleman are two and a half dollars, and the entire proceeds will be devoted to the benefit of the St. Peter's Catholic Orphan Asylum. In the morning the Catholic Benevolent Society will parade the principal streets of the city; they will then attend Mass, when the Rev. T. L. Grace, after Mass, will deliver, by request, a lecture; this will be at 10 o'clock. The supper at night will be a most attractive affair; an excellent band of music will be present.

THE FRONT ROW STABBING CASE.—On calling at Franzioli's yesterday, we found that the wound of Gasper Franzioli, inflicted on Friday before by Calvin Smith, was more serious than was at first apprehended. The stiff-pointed blade of the hunter's knife, with which he had been stabbed, passed in at the back above the hip, inflicting a wound four or five inches deep by two wide. The sufferer was something better last evening. Smith was taken before Esq. East yesterday, and fined twenty-six dollars, after paying which he was arrested by the Sheriff, and the case will go before the Grand Jury. It was testified that Smith entered the store and demanded a carpet-bag, which he said he had left there; he took three drinks, and refused to pay for them. These things led to the difficulty which resulted in the stabbing of Felix Franzioli, the brother of the wounded man was also brought before the Recorder. He was charged with attempting to pull Smith back into the drinking saloon, kept by himself and brother, which, it appeared, he did for the purpose of making him pay for the liquor he had drank. For this assault the accused was fined six dollars, which he paid.

DAILY EVENING LEDGER.—A few days since we announced that the Ledger would make its appearance on the evening of the 16th instant, and our calculations were based upon an arrangement made with the Bulletin Company to do our press work. In this we have been disappointed. Our paper was ready for press at the stated time, but the aforesaid arrangement failed us. We will necessarily be compelled, therefore, to ask the indulgence of our friends until our own press, which is in course of repair, is out of the workman's hands, when we will again be independent of those whom circumstances have favored with the monopoly of the business.

River News.

The river yesterday evening was standing half an inch lower than on the preceding evening, being 7½ inches below high water mark. From intelligence received from above we presume the river is now as high as it is likely to be, and that we shall soon have to announce a rapid decline.

The splendid swift passenger packet J. H. Lucas, Captain O'Neil, will leave this evening, at 4 o'clock, on her regular Thursday's trip to St. Louis. The Lucas is a great favorite, and is doing a large share of business. She was the first boat to start the Memphis and St. Louis line. Williams & Co., agents.

The Alvin Adams, which has for the present changed days with the McLellan, is the regular packet for Louisville, leaving at 4 o'clock this afternoon. A trip up the beautiful Ohio on board the beautiful Adams, with such officers as Captain Lamb and Ed. Halliday, will be a treat to travelers taking the boat. Priest, agent.

The St. Francis No. 2, A. T. Wood in command, W. M. Wood clerk, is the regular packet boat for Vicksburg to-day, leaving at 5 o'clock in the evening. The boat and officers will both be found excellent. Harnsted & Hayman, agents.

The favorite boat Return, Captain Riley Jones, will leave as usual on Thursday for White river. A better boat or a more experienced officer cannot be found.

The steamer Oakland, now running in place of the Admiral, leaves this evening at six o'clock r. m., for a through trip on White river, as far up as Forsyth, in Missouri. The extended section of a new and rapidly improving country between Memphis and that point; and the range of the Ozark Mountains, through which the traveler will pass during this trip, is described as affording scenery of the most majestic and imposing character, such as bluffs of perpendicular rock, six miles in length, ranging from six to seven hundred feet in height, with mountain scenery in the distance as far as the eye can see, of a most beautiful and magnificent description. The stream is famed as being one of the most pure, limpid, and romantic in the world. To shippers who can divide their investments up where steamboats scarcely ever go, and to travelers who love magnificent scenery, this is a rare opportunity. P. J. Kennett is in command, and our clever and esteemed friend, Dr. Y. A. Carr is in the office. This is one of the trips we should like exceedingly well to make.

THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLICAN reports that on Saturday last the river was stationary. The Keokuk packets report it falling at Keokuk. Boats from above Keokuk report it rising in the neighborhood of Lyons, and from there down.

The Missouri river was stationary at Leavenworth when the last boat came down. The Missouri is in excellent stage. In the Mississippi there is a depth of six feet on the Lower Rapids. The Illinois river continues to rise slowly from LaSalle down. We expect to see the river falling here to-day.

On Monday, the same paper says:

The river here has fallen three inches since last report, and is still falling very slowly at dark. The weather is showery, and in the evening a steady rain set in. The upper Mississippi is rising from Dubuque down to Quincy. It had commenced falling at Keokuk when the Warsaw left, and, from indications, we will have more water here.

The St. Louis Republican, of March 15, reports:

The river was falling very slowly yesterday. It probably receded two inches in the twenty-four hours ending at dark last evening. We have no news of importance from any of the upper rivers. The Upper Mississippi and Illinois rivers are still rising, and the Missouri is falling.

The Cairo correspondent of the same paper says:

The Dickey went up last night, having run down her sack and neck with the Southerner from Memphis.

Cumberland and Tennessee rivers are still falling, and the Ohio is receding very rapidly at Paducah.

The St. Louis Democrat, of March 15, says:

During yesterday a boisterous wind kept whisking the dust into one's eyes. It was from the southwest, and raised huge waves on the river. The steamboats moored to the levee, and the river was so agitated all day it was impossible to tell whether it rose or declined any. The pilots seem to have been guiding by the experience they had a few days ago, displayed a good deal of cunning in the management of their crafts; but notwithstanding all that, they could not make the crossings in this side without having the waves, which swelled higher than their railing, and even as high as their texas, dodge their decks, fill and wet everything on their main decks. The water poured on the decks, and escaped again with perfect freedom. There is no doubt but that these pilots experienced a little chilliness many boats to lay by, and prevented several from getting to our wharf yesterday.

The same paper also says:

The Dickey went up at 7 o'clock p. m. On her trip down, during the gale, she was driven against the bank, tearing away part of her larboard wheel-house. She passed the John J. Roe ten miles this side of Memphis, so that we will look for her some time to-day.

PICCOLOMINI HOOPS, SKIRTS AND CRINOLINE.—In another column we have several testimonials to the Messrs. Thomson's skirts and hoops, as being a striking improvement upon those of ordinary manufacture, both as regards comfort of wear, adaptation to the object intended, and durability. This house employs a thousand girls in New York, in their manufactory, so large is the demand for their excellent skirts, which are known as the "Piccolomini Gossamer Extension Skirt." These skirts are declared to be absolutely indestructible by wear, having eyelet fastenings, a wedge slide and watch spring bustle.

Dr. Grundy--Dr. Barber--Prof. Britton.

EDITORS APPEAL: It is a matter of some moment to the lady to learn the truth, when the doctors disagree upon points which involve the temporal good and future salvation of the human family. To learn this truth, there is a disposition on the part of many good Christians to hear a discussion of doctrinal points from the two eloquent and learned divines, Drs. Grundy and Barber. I, also, as a devoted searcher after truth, am desirous of hearing this discussion; but while we are waiting for these gentlemen to get ready for the combat, I think it behooves one or both of them to meet, and explain a new "phase of religion," that is growing rank and strong in our midst, and casting its roots deep into the hearts of many of our best and highly educated citizens. I refer to the "spiritualistic theology," as taught almost every Sunday, at Odd Fellows' Hall, by such eloquent and learned gentlemen as Thos. Gayles Foster and Prof. Brittain, each of whom, I learn, throws out a world-wide challenge to learned divines of any orthodox church, to meet them either at Odd Fellows' Hall or any church, and there divide time in a friendly and brotherly discussion of this "new theology."

When we see the hundreds of good and wise men and women who are daily leaving our churches and giving credence to something which we consider out of the pale of sound Christianity, is it not a duty that our teachers owe the world and themselves to step forward, and in brotherly logic refute the "philosophic teachings" which are probably destined, unless they are proven erroneous, to make more serious inroads upon the "faith of our fathers" than any dogma, or species of "infidelity" the world has ever known?

Then, as a lover of truth, and as one who desires falsehood to be unmasked, (in case his doctrines are false,) I wish to know whether we can expect either Dr. Grundy or Dr. Barber to be present, at Odd Fellows' Hall, on Tuesday night, or any subsequent night this week or next Sunday, to divide time with Prof. Brittain, which I understand the Professor is perfectly willing to do in a fraternal spirit.

BIBLE READER.

EXCITING APPEAL.—The following extract from your report of the proceedings of our City Council on the 15th instant, we think is entitled to the attention of the citizens and tax payers of the city:

"Alderman Eisler offered an application for the room in the navy yard in which the schools are held for manufacturing purposes—pressing cotton oil.

"Alderman Morgan asked where the schools were to go.

"Alderman Copeland said if they were no better than those in South Memphis, they might as well be abolished."

We wish to inquire of the Superintendent and Board of Visitors of the City Schools, if the above statement of Alderman Copeland is correct, and warranted by the condition of the schools. If he is right, the fact should be published to the public, and our City Council should endeavor to be released from the obligation of appropriating money out of the city treasury to sustain an institution that is doing no good. If he is wrong, the duty is incumbent on the Superintendent and Board of Visitors to correct the error, which may become widely diffused and serious injury to the schools and those who control them.

Candor compels us to say that we have no knowledge on the subject that will lead us to any definite conclusions; and we therefore particularly desire information from the Superintendent and Visitors, that our Board of Mayor and Aldermen may be apprised of the appropriations of city revenue to the support of the schools, unless their prosperity and efficiency warrant such appropriations.

The taxes of the city are very heavy, and the condition of the treasury is such as to forbid appropriations of money to any purposes other than those of indispensable necessity; and if it cannot be made to appear that our city schools are accomplishing the objects of their institution, and affording education to the children of the city, so as to entitle them fully to the assistance and support which they receive from the city, let them be abolished.

Business Notices.

REDUCED BY DISPEPSIA TO A MERE SKELETON.—Cured by "Berhave's Holland Bitters." Mr. A. Matchett, a trader, probably as well known as any man in Western Pennsylvania, states as follows: "I met with a farmer in Armstrong county who was reduced by Dyspepsia to a mere skeleton. I persuaded him to buy a bottle of Berhave's Holland Bitters, believing it would cure him. Meeting him some months after, what was my astonishment at finding him a hale, hearty man; he told me he now weighed 200 pounds, and that this wonderful change had been produced by Berhave's Holland Bitters, to which he attributed solely his restoration."

Our office will be located on the south side of Court Square, at Wallace's auction mart, where we will be pleased to see our old friends and as many new ones as may feel disposed to patronize us. S. Washington News.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The Washington Union says that there is no reason to believe that the French and English Governments meditate any interference in the political concerns of Mexico.
