

The Daily Critic

23D YEAR--NO. 6,967.

WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 2, 1890.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

LOCAL WEATHER FORECAST.

For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia, contained only for weather and winds.

Fashion's Decree.
If you make any pretensions to being in society it is absolutely necessary that you should have a FULL-DRESS suit.

There is not another such stock as OURS in the city, as we have full-dress garments of every description in full suits, or each garment separately, made from the finest fabrics, exquisitely trimmed and thoroughly tailored.

It is impossible for you to get a BETTER fit than WE can give you, as we have all sizes and shapes and can fit the tall and slim or short and stout men as easily as those of regular build.

Remember that our AMERICAN method of business is to give purchaser full value for every dollar spent with us.

Robinson, Parker & Co.

AMERICAN CLOTHIERS,
S. E. Corner Seventh and D Sts., N. W.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

LEADING INSTRUMENTS.
DE WELLS BROS.,
WHEELER,
PISCHKE,
STARK,
VIRBIS & POND.

ESTRY ORGANS.
Moderate prices. Easy terms. Old instruments taken in part payment. Tuning and repairing. Tel. No. 1223.

SANDERS & STAYMAN.
FRANK BUTLER, Manager,
911 F Street N. W.

24 North Carolina Street, Baltimore.
17 East Canal Street, Richmond, Va.
107-109 E. 11th St., Philadelphia.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
The time has arrived when persons who owe bills must pay them or lose their credit. Do not take offense when you receive our notices, but if you are unable to pay do make some arrangement with the party you owe towards a settlement.

What we want is protection for our merchants against that class of persons who start bills and will not pay them.

These persons who have failed to make any arrangement for settling their bills after having been properly notified, will be reported to the members of the Merchants' Mutual Protective Union December 1st as unworthy of credit.

This association embraces merchants, druggists, lawyers and all other business, trade and professions.

We hope members will send in lists of names of persons who have failed to settle or make arrangements therefor in time for our report. J. C. BILBREW, Manager, Room 15, Central National Bank Building, 420 14th St.

JOHN BAILEY,
Broker and Contractor,
119 D St. N. W.

Wants to advise the public that brick work of every description will receive prompt attention at his hands. Boiler setting and boiler repairs a specialty. 109-111 E. 11th St.

REMOVAL.
HANSON & BOPP,
Stationers,
Corner Pa. ave. and 13th St.

Have removed to 111 13th St. N. W.

CLARK & DEWANEY.
MERCANTILE BROS.,
Stationers.

Corner of 13th and D streets, northwest. Catalog of prices and samples of goods sent free.

FURNITURE, PAINTS & OILS, STOVES, REAL ESTATE, ETC.
Advance Made and All Sales Settled.
Personal Attention Given Same.

AMERICAN WIVES FOR AMERICAN SOLDIERS.

For Thanksgivings dinner buy the TO SALON WINES.
Reputation Established.
Wholesale Quantities.

214 Fourteenth Street N. W.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

GAS CONSUMERS.

For the convenience of persons living in the eastern and western sections of the city, arrangements have been made by which they can pay their gas bills, either during hours at the

NATIONAL CAPITAL BANK

ON THE WEST END NATIONAL BANK.

Bills paid after the 15th of each month will not be entitled to the discount of 2% per 1000 units paid.

WASHINGTON GASLIGHT COMPANY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having retired from the firm of HEMMONS & BROWN, I take pleasure in informing my friends and the public that I can be found at my office, 601 F Street, N. W., where I am conducting a general

SALE OF REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE BUSINESS.

Prompt and personal attention given to all matters placed in my hands. Respectfully,
JAMES F. BROWN,
601 F Street N. W.,
Tel. No. 473-2.

AMPHIBIOUS THE SPRINGTIME OF THE TIMES.

In these times of the greatest uncertainty of many securities, the prudent and conservative investor in very apt to turn to life insurance as the only safe investment. Here are a few of the best plans and conditions.

YOU PAY IN SMALL INSTALLMENTS.

You run no risk. You get from 4 to 5 per cent. compound interest. You secure protection.

Your heirs receive the amount of your policy should you die and you receive nearly as much more as you pay in should you live until it matures.

You also receive this money when you may want it most—in your declining years.

Why hesitate about making such a safe and profitable investment? You cannot do better with your money. Have your life insured.

BOWES & HALL.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society,
307-309 F Street N. W.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In making contracts for brick work,

JOSEPH W. COLLINS,

382 F Street Northwest, wants to advise the public that he is still contracting for all brickwork.

Prompt attention to work guaranteed.
107-109 E. 11th St., Philadelphia.

HARBER & ROSS.

Announce the Following Bargains for ONE WEEK ONLY:

Boyer's Trampers, 100 per cent. Ordinary Pattern Very Good, $1.25 per set. Star Handle Carvers, fully guaranteed, $1.50 per set. Crown Plating Machine, $1.25 per pair. Ordinary Pattern, $2.50 per pair. Old Reliable Chain Wrench, $1.75 each. Our Balance Scales at 10 Per Cent. Discount.

Coal Hoist, 10 inches, $3.00. Ordinary Pattern, $3.00. Also Full Line of Saw and Oil Stoves, Pelt Weather Strips, Furniture Handles and Mechanical Tools.

BARBER & ROSS.

HARWARE AND CUTLERY,
Opposite Boston Dry Goods House,
107-109 E. 11th St., Philadelphia.

FIGHTING AGAINST DEATH.

Admiral Porter Seriously Ill and His Recovery Very Doubtful.

Admiral David D. Porter has been seriously ill for several months and his condition at the present time gives little hope of his final recovery. He is suffering from fatty degeneration of the heart and general ill health. He is unable to leave his room and his mind appears to be gradually yielding to the attacks of disease. Among the unfavorable symptoms manifested is an irregular action of his heart. His pulse is intermittent, missing one beat in six or seven, and ranging in regular beats from twenty-five to fifty. He also experiences great difficulty in breathing after taking any heavy food.

Admiral Porter is in his 75th year and has withstood many severe attacks of illness. His strong constitution and invincible will may keep him alive for a year or two, but he may pass away at any moment in one of the breathing struggles, caused by his heart trouble, which has been the cause of his illness since this morning. The physicians, however, express no fear of immediate danger.

GONE OFF DUTY.

An Officer Falls Head Foremost from a Second-Story Landing.

New York, Dec. 2.—As the men of the night squad in the Mulberry street police station were about to turn out at 12 o'clock last night Policeman John J. Bates started up the winding stairs that lead to the dormitories. At the second landing he lost his balance and fell over the railing into the hallway.

Sergeant Maloney was at the desk and heard Bates' fall. He looked up just in time to see him fall head foremost to the foot of the stairs.

Dr. H. J. Holcomb was sent for and Father Callahan of the Old Catholic Church in Mulberry street was called. While in the room, while waiting for the doctor, Bates was married and was 36 years old.

THE LONE HIGHWAYMAN.

He Holds Up a Train in Texas and Robs

FELIX, TEXAS, Dec. 2.—Passengers on a mixed train on the Cotton Belt Railroad were robbed last night by highwayman. He unaccompanied the passenger coach from the train, and before the trainmen made the discovery, the robber had ordered the passengers to "hold up their hands," while he pocketed a big sum of money at each as he demanded his money.

J. C. Goshert, a young man from Texas, was shot through the breast by the robber and probably will die. In the scuffle his forehead was grazed and his hand cut. He then turned and GOVERNMENT GOSSIP.

CENSUS OF INDIANS.—Acting Indian Commissioner Belt received today a report from Special Census Agent Lee, who was appointed to take the census of the Sioux Indians.

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED.—H. R. Hopkins has been appointed postmaster at Wye Mills, Md.; W. C. Denny, resigned, at R. D. Qualls postoffice at Wayland, Va.; vice Mattie C. M. Conell, resigned.

THE INDIAN TROUBLE.—But little news concerning the Indian situation could be elicited at the War Department today. Troops are constantly moving to the scene of trouble, but so far as can be learned, there has been no change in the condition of affairs since yesterday.

PATENTS TO WASHINGTONIANS.—Patents were issued today to the following Washingtonians: John H. Moffatt, adjustable sleeve button; H. Woodell, typewriter; Wm. B. Somers, lamp burner; Frank K. Ward, seal stopper for milk preserving jars; and Angus Lamond, design for sewer block.

CALLERS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.—Among the callers at the White House today were Senators Harris, Frye, Stanford, Washburn, Hoar and Everts, Representatives Hopkins, Randall, Morrow, Caldwell, Snyder, Ripston, Silvers, Carter, Henderson, McKinley, Grosvenor, Vandever, and Walker, Colonel Eates G. Rathburn, and Mr. Mathew Sweetman, chief postoffice inspector of Canada, and Mr. R. M. Johnson of the "Century" Magazine.

THANKS FROM ERIEBOEN'S COUNTRYMEN.—The Secretary of the committee of Swedish American citizens of New York, which took part in the ceremonies attending the occasion of sending to his old home the remains of the late Captain John Ericsson. In the committee he gave to express to the Secretary, and through him to the Government of the United States, their heartfelt gratitude for the alacrity and tenderness with which the last wishes of the old hero were carried out. The letter is signed by H. Johansen, chairman, and Charles A. Miller, secretary of the committee.

NAVAL NOTES.—Commander J. R. Bartlett has been notified to hold himself in readiness to take command of the Marlon, and Commander J. J. Reed to be prepared to take command of the Seward.

Pay Inspector J. E. Talfer has been ordered to duty on the receiving-ship Minnesota on the 6th instant.

Assistant Surgeon J. W. Attee has been notified that he will be examined for promotion.

Commander Dennis W. Mullan has been ordered to report to the Eighth light-house district, as assistant inspector of the same, and to take charge of that district on the 1st of January.

Commander Charles J. Barclay, present inspector of the Eighth light-house district, has been ordered to settle his accounts on the 1st of January, and to then await orders.

Paymaster J. R. Stanton has been relieved from duty on the Minnesota Navy Yard as soon as his reports are made and will then settle his accounts and await orders.

Paymaster N. G. Gally will be relieved from duty at the Mare Island Navy Yard as soon as his reports are made and will then settle his accounts and await orders.

The Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic Squadron has notified the Navy Department that the Omaha, flag ship, is at Yokohama, Japan, the Monocacy is at Chemulpo, Korea, the Alliance is on a cruise to the Caroline Islands and is expected to arrive at Nagasaki, Japan, sometime this month. The Palos is at Tientsin, China, where she will winter in company with the French gunboat, Aspie.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.—The President today commuted the sentence of Henry Pyler of New Jersey to three years imprisonment, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment for violation of the pension laws. In the case of Charles M. Amyot of California, sentenced November 2, 1889, to eighteen months imprisonment and a fine of $500 for smuggling opium, sentence has been commuted to fifteen months imprisonment and fine remitted. George E. Colver of Minnesota, who was sentenced to thirteen months imprisonment for using the mails for fraudulent purposes, has been pardoned. A pardon has been granted Henry Sanderson, 1940, sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment for violation of internal revenue law. A pardon has also been granted W. T. Allen of South Carolina, sentenced to one year imprisonment and fine of $500 for illicit distilling. Charles Seabrook of Washington, D. C., sentenced to a year imprisonment and $25 fine for maintaining a gambling establishment, has been pardoned. The recommendation of the District judge and others the President has granted a pardon to Don Smart of Arizona, sentenced to life imprisonment for a conspiracy for robbing the mails and plotting the life of the mail agent. A pardon has also been granted to Andrew McDonald of Michigan, convicted of larceny in respect to T. W. Smith of Minnesota, who has been pardoned. Herman T. Thorn of Utah, convicted of unlawful exaltation, has had his sentence commuted from six to three months imprisonment.

To Dismiss the Indictment.
New York, Dec. 2.—The district attorney today will make application before either Justice Cowing or Marline for the dismissal of the indictment against Mrs. Eva Hamilton charging her with conspiring to defraud the late Robert Hay Hamilton. The district attorney says the case cannot be prosecuted on account of Mr. Hamilton's death. If the motion is granted Mrs. Hamilton can safely attend the proceeding at the city to contact Robert Hay Hamilton's will.

Life Sentence Pardoned.
SING SING, N. Y., Dec. 2.—Edward H. Holland, a life convict, who was sentenced to Sing Sing prison in 1876 for robbing a stage, was pardoned today on a petition from Governor Hill.

Costly Wall Knowing.
The Signal Office has sent out the following special bulletin:
Hills and low signal temperatures will fall to about 15 degrees or lower by 2 a. m. December 3.

In vain did the Speaker endeavor to confine Wheeler's remarks to the bill

AT THE CAPITOL.

QUITE A LIVELY TARIFF TALK IN THE HOUSE.

MR. WHEELER MAKES A POINT OF ORDER.

Claiming That Mistakes in the McKinley Bill Make It Invalid.

THE FORCE BILL IN THE SENATE.

On Mr. Hear's Motion, Taken Up by a Strict Party Vote—Minor Doings in the Big Building.

By "Critic" Special Wire.

"Whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad," quoted Senator Gorman today, when the Republicans in their caucus session yesterday, took up the Federal Election bill.

The caucus was practically unattended as far as taking the bill up was concerned. As the measure now stands it is not the Lodge bill as it passed the House. It has been amended in many respects, and is more conservative than when Mr. Tilden, Howell Lodge and Johnny Davonport turned it upon the House.

It was conceded in caucus that the bill had been amended in such a way that unless the rules of procedure of that body were changed, that the attempt to change the rules would involve a bitter and prolonged struggle was recognized.

It was determined to make the attempt, and to help the Committee on Rules out the following caucus committee was appointed: Senators Platt of Connecticut, Edmunds of Vermont, Hoar of Massachusetts, Spooner of Wisconsin and Pettigrew of South Dakota.

Nothing is more certain than that the rule cannot be changed except by the most arbitrary action of the Presiding Officer. No matter what proposition to effect a change may emanate from the committee, it will be resisted to the uttermost by Democrats.

As the Senate is a continuing body and is governed by the continuing code of rules, which can only be amended in the way and manner prescribed therein, it is difficult to see how these rules can be changed in the face of determined opposition. It will prove just as easy to talk the proposed change to death as it will to delay the passage of a particular bill. That the Democratic Senators will resist the Election bill and a change in the rule to provide for the closure of debate is certain.

It is thought the special committee will bring in its proposed change one day this week.

In the Senate.

A number of petitions for the amendment of the Tariff bill were presented in the Senate and referred. The annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury was also presented and referred.

A petition was also presented from Hilton Rowan Helper, asking that a commission be appointed to ascertain definitely who first proposed the Pan American Railway, and one from Nebraska for the disarmament of the Sioux Indians, and suggesting that they shall be deprived of their horses and furnished with oxen in lieu of them.

Among the bills introduced and referred were two (by Messrs. Blair and Dwyer) as to the Eight-Hour Labor Law; one by Mr. Sherman relating to the treaty of reciprocity with the Hawaiian Islands; one by Mr. Tilden to declare the unit of value in the United States and to provide free coinage for the standard silver dollar; one by Mr. Smith for the free coinage of gold and silver bullion; one by Mr. Daniel to allow a rebate or drawback on tobacco and snuff held in stock on 1st of January, 1890; and one by Mr. Ingalls authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to distribute seed to the citizens of Kansas and Nebraska who have suffered from drought during the present year.

Mr. Manderson offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the Secretary of War for information as to the steps being taken for the disarmament of Indians on reservations in Nebraska, South Dakota and North Dakota.

Mr. Mitchell offered a resolution, which was agreed to, directing the Committee on Foreign Relations to inquire into the advisability of the passage of a law authorizing a survey for a Trans-Pacific submarine cable telegraph from the Hawaiian Islands, and coast to the Hawaiian Islands, and thence by Samoa and New Zealand to Australia, and to encourage the formation of a company for that purpose.

Mr. Hear moved to take up the Federal Election bill. Mr. Gorman demanded the yeas and nays. The yeas and nays were taken and read: Yeas, 101; nays, 87. The bill was then taken up and the clerk began to read it.

In the House.

In the House today Mr. Harner of Philadelphia presented petition of citizens of Philadelphia in favor of an amendment to the McKinley bill allowing a rebate on untaxed measures of smoking and manufactured tobacco and snuff.

The Speaker held before the House the bill referring to the Court of Claims, the claim of the Chesapeake Female College for property destroyed during the war. In the discussion of the bill, Wheeler of Alabama, taking the advantage of recognition, proceeded to state that the omission of section of the Tariff bill from the enrolled copy rendered the entire bill nullity.

In vain did the Speaker endeavor to confine Wheeler's remarks to the bill

TO DEPOSE HIM.

THE IRISH PARLIAMENTARY PARTY IN SORE DISTRESS.

PARNELL'S ATTACK ON GLADSTONE.

The Followers of the Great Commoner Resent the Characterization.

HIS COLLEAGUES URGE HIS SUPPORT.

There Could Be No Deeper Ingratitude, They Say, Than to Desert Him at the Moment of His Distress.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—As the inevitable storm clouds near in which a conclusion must be reached by the anxiously debating Irish Nationalist parliamentarians as to the future leadership of their party the attention of Gladstone's Liberals, Liberal Unionist and Tory members of the House of Commons steadily concentrates itself upon the room wherein the Irish patriots confronted by a great danger as ever threatened their country, are groping about some path which may lead them out of the labyrinthine difficulties of the present crisis back to the highway of success so lately and hopefully traversed by them.

Before the hour appointed for the convening of today's session of conference had arrived the members of the House, English and Irish politicians and an army of newspaper men hovered about the approaches to the Irish Parliamentary headquarters and eagerly discussed the probable effect of the speech of Parnell's blunt speech of yesterday, of the counsel of the delegates to the United States and of the reports of Archbishop Walsh and Cooke.

The opinions were as numerous and diverse as the individuals giving utterance to them. On one point, however, there seemed to be an unmistakable unanimity of opinion among the English leaders. They bitterly resented Mr. Parnell's savage characterization of Mr. Gladstone as a "traitorous old gentleman." The blow delivered on the face of their idol seemed to have touched their hearts as well.

Shortly before the hour of meeting arrived the corridors to the room were cleared, and those persons loitering in the vicinity were kept under a close but unobtrusive surveillance by those directly interested in the proceedings.

Just before the hour of the Nationalists commenced rapidly passing through the various corridors and into the place of conference, and promptly on the hour of noon the doors were closed and the deliberations resumed.

At the moment of closing of the doors it was ordered that all representatives of the press be excluded from conference rooms, and the members of the press who had sought the aid of the Nationalist party with an eye single to their own advantage now thought fit to stand the high ground of the interests of the people of Ireland, which their leader had taken, and because the same selfishness had intruded to compass the downfall of the trusted leader of the Irish nation.

At this point the conference adjourned for luncheon. Immediately after luncheon the conference resumed and a few minutes later Mr. Parnell was called upon to deliver a motion for an adjournment to be taken to enable members to be present in the House of Commons to participate in the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell's position in the House of Commons as a result of the vote on the second reading of the Government's Irish Land Purchase bill.

It was a matter of momentary importance that Mr. Parnell should be left unattended by the partisans of Mr. Gladstone, who were anxious to see Mr. Parnell