A COUNTRY HOME.

O, give me a home in the country wide;
And a seat by the farmer's wood fireside;
Where the live burns bright,
On a frosty night;
Where the pan, the cake, the lamb are free;
O, the farmer's home is the home for me.

O, give me a home in the country wide!
Where the earth opens its ample bosom to hide
With her mine and fleece
The wealth of peace;
Or, give me a home in the country wide!
In the cabin door of a farmer's pride,
When the hours are fled
From the toil he has tilled,
And the sickle and the reaping hook is done,
And smiling at all, Winter he beckons him on.

Letter from Mexico--Progress of the Civil War.

[Special Correspondence of the Picayune.]

MINATITLAN, TEHUANTEPEC, August 4.

The schooner Suffolk, with her very popular master, Smith, leaves to-day for your port. This affords me the opportunity to give you a few items of Mexican news, which we received from New York Good by the overland mail. The latest paper from that place in our possession is the 12th ult.

Gen. Santos Degollado had resumed the chief command of the Liberal army, and had taken up his headquarters in Colima.

Gen. Zuzuna, Commander-in Chief of the Liberal army of the North, had left San Luis Potosi with 5000 men, and was marching toward Guanajuato and Queretaro.

Gens. Rocha, Ogazon, Huebita and Ortega, with be forces of their commands, had commenced operations against Gen. Marquez in Guadalajara.

The Governor of Zacatecas has issued a special message against conspirators in that State. Every one taken in the act, or against whom the charge is sustained, is to be shot down without a trial. Several priests, undoubtedly troubled in their consciences, have taken leave to all brave.

Col. Mender had defeated Gronez and Gutierrez, (colonels in Miramon's service,) near Zina ian, in the Department of Puebla. Col. Mendez took possession of this place on the 12th ultimo, and reports that the enemy lost in killed, wounded, and deserters, about 200 men.

From the city of Mexico there is no news, except that they are as usual trying very hard to raise money. This seems to be the occupation even of every mail any chief in the service of that government. Robles had levied a new contribution from the citizens of Jalapa. The same has been done by the commander of the forces in Orizaba.

The notorious robber chief, Cobos, had left Orizaba for Tehuacan, and it is reported, though very improbable, that he actually intends to operate against Oaxaca.

Private letters from Vera Cruz, state that there is a great scarcity of provisions in that city, and that the United States sloop-of-war Saratoga, stationed in that port, was getting short of stores of all kinds, and likely to suffer seriously.

A new English war steamer arrived at Vera Cruz on the 28th.

The little disturbance in the neighboring village of Minatitlan, of which I wrote in my last, originating in an order of the Prefect of the district to take possession of a portion of the church property, has been satisfactorily settled, the Indians being obliged to submit.

The rainy season has set in here in full rigor, or sequently the heat is excessively great, and bilious fever is very common.

The day-boat yesterday entered this port the English brigantine Ida, Hallatt, bound, consigned to the house of Coverdan. She will take back a load of mahogany.

Important Railroad Decision--How Long is a Ticket Good?

An action of some considerable importance to the traveling community was tried at the Circuit Court in this village last week before the Hon. Justice Mullin, wherein Benjamin Barker, of Ohio, was plaintiff, and Charles Coffin, a conductor on the New York Central Railroad, was defendant.

The facts of the case were briefly as follows: On the 13th day of August last, the plaintiff purchased a ticket in New York for Buffalo, on the Hudson River Railroad office, paying $5 fare. Upon the face of the ticket was printed the following conditions: "To be used within three days—good for a continuous trip only."

The plaintiff proceeded on his journey the same day as far as Albany, where he remained until the 16th, when he took the train for Buffalo. At Syracuse the defendant took charge of the train as conductor, and on calling on the passengers for tickets, refused to receive the one presented by the plaintiff, as the time for which it was issued had expired. Refusing to pay his fare, the plaintiff was carefully removed from the train by the defendant, who immediately returned to the car he had left, and paid his fare to Buffalo, retaining his ticket.

It was also in evidence that the fare paid by the plaintiff when he originally purchased his ticket, was at a reduced rate, while this route was competing with rival routes for through travel, and that the ordinary price of a passage from New York to Buffalo was about $8. Plaintiff brought suit for damages against the conductor for assault and battery.

At the close of plaintiff's proofs, the defendant moved for a non-suit, on a variety of grounds

His Honor Judge Marvin ruled, on the motion, that the ticket with stipulations printed on it was evidence of the contract between the plaintiff and the railroad company, and, binding upon him; that the undertaking on the part of the company was to transport the passenger for the price agreed upon, within the time limited, and was not to carry him wherever he might choose to go; and that having commenced the journey the party could not abandon the train that went through, and insist upon being taken up to a way-passenger at a future time. For these reasons the learned Justice nonsuited the plaintiff.

A Cure for Hydrophobia.

NEW YORK, August 15, 1859.

EDITORS EVENING POST: A few days ago I noticed in your paper reports of cases of hydrophobia, to one of which in Long Island there was a letter of inquiry concerning the means to prevent death following the bite of a mad dog. Recollecting at the time that I had a late number of an extract from the Leipsic Journal in an English paper, I overhauled my files and found it. Whether it has been previously published in this country I know not, but such instructions cannot be too oft repeated or brought to memory.

A Saxon forester named Gastell, now of the respectable age of 82 years, is said to take to the grave with him a secret of so much importance, has made public in the Leipsic Journal the means which he has used for fifty years and upwards, in his office, as has received many human beings.

Take immediately warm vinegar or tepid water, wash the wound clean therewith, and then dry it; place then upon the wound a few drops of muriatic acid, because mineral acids destroy the virtues of the saliva, by which means the evil effects of the latter are first nullified.

This is simple, and upon the principles which are supposed to govern the circulation of the poison, so of effective cure. SOWEL.

AN AMERICAN EAGLE FOR THE EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA.—A Richmond correspondent of the Petersburg Express says:

The Virginia Central brought down on its train of yesterday afternoon a rare bird of the eagle species. At the invitation of a friend I visited his national curiosity to-day. It is of enormous size, measuring the extreme wing tip to tip 7 feet 2 inches. Several priests, undoubtedly troubled in their consciences, have taken leave to all brave.

Miscellaneous.

TO COTTON PLANTERS GENERALLY.

From the York-town Weekly.

THE owners and agents of the various Gins for Cotton Rolls, are making great exertions to inform them to your notice, and bring them into general use—upon the ground that true advantages exists in them, and not less than rope.

No doubt you realize five somewhat paper than rope with bad weather or other, our interests others are not aware of that fact—at any rate, they make no difference in their rates of insurance on either. It may be well to state on this head, that iron rust, coming in contact with cotton, is a state of tension, is apt to produce fire; and some persons of intelligence do really attribute the late fires on board cotton-loaded ships to this cause. It is a well-known fact, however, that iron bound cotton is more liable to damage by exposure to weather than rope-bound cotton, and that it is much more expensive to pick and put in order.

That iron gains the planters less than rope there can be no doubt; and this must be their only reason for using the iron. But that rope is both useful and valuable to the consumer, no one can deny—because you know are worth nothing to any body, and thus the planter must disclaim previous in view of their ownership in these personal advantages.

There is a community of interests between the planter and consumer, that should be cared for by each, in order to insure success in business to both. They should, therefore, deal fairly with one another—to insure dispute and quarrels ensuing, in all conscience, with the intervening speculators, who make all the profit between them.

As fact is a element in dispute, to which your attention is respectfully called. It shows an actual difference in value of $1 50 per bale to the consumer in favor of rope—the cost of the rope is but 50 cents.

This great difference certainly warrants the move that is now being made by our cotton buyers in this place, to induce planters at the South to use the rope in lieu of iron tie. Iron bands are all Iron-hooped cotton received at this port, from the interior.

State Female College,

NEAR MEMPHIS, TENN.

THE third Semi-annual session will commence on the 15th of Sept.

The success of our first year, together with the numerous and strong testimonials received from patrons, justifies the hope that a bright future is in reserve for the Institution.

Our claims to patronage are, chiefly, the following:

I. Location, healthiness, and moral tone of society, entirely exempt from everything injurious or annoying.

II. Superior facilities for the best literary experience.

III. College Buildings spacious, elegant, and admirably adapted to the purpose.

IV. Boarding Department, with large, well ventilated rooms, furnished in a style far superior to that of school boarding-houses generally, and conducted in a manner which cannot fail to give satisfaction.

V. Community noted for its refined and Christian character.

VI. Accessibility by river and by railroad.

Our design is to combine in the State Female College all the advantages of a delightful home and a school of the highest grade.

Catalogues and circulars may be obtained by applying to the undersigned.

Memphis Female College.

THIS INSTITUTION, chartered in 1854, was founded expressly to afford scientific accomodations and rare very best scholastic facilities to a limited number of young ladies. The oldest teachers are secured in all the departments. All the domiciliary arrangements are the best and fourth stories; and as one of the boarding pupils, both for comfort and health, the Institution has been attended by a physician during the last four years.

In order to secure situations, persons designing to patronize the College should make application before the beginning of the ELEVENTH session, on the SECOND MONDAY IN SEPTEMBER.

For full particulars, address

MASONIC MALE ACADEMY,

North Mount Pleasant,

MARSHALL COUNTY, MISS.

THE Trustees of this Institution have succeeded in procuring the services of Mr. J. J. Steger, a native of Germany of the Marshall Female Institute, to be assisted by his son, D. W. Steger, A. B., to take charge of the school during the ensuing scholastic year. As Professor Steger is so generally and favorably known as a thorough educator, comments need be said to him are unnecessary. Suffice it to say, that they are prepared to give as ample facilities for a thorough education and classical education as can be obtained at any institution in the country. The Principal and Assistant Teacher are determined to spare no pains or expense in making this an Academy of the highest grade.

North Mount Pleasant is a very healthy and moral village. The sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited within the village limits. The first session will commence the FIRST MONDAY in September next. For further information address the Principal or Secretary of the Board of Trustees.
