A WORD ABOUT WRINGERS

There are cheap wringers and there are good wringers. We can buy the cheapest if we want to, and sell them as cheaply as anyone; but does it pay you to buy such goods or pay me in the long run to sell such? No.

FOR INSTANCE

We can sell you a wringer for $1.50 (we have seen the same sold for $2.00 and used up in six months) but we can and do sell wringers for $5.00 guaranteed for Five Years, and should either roll wear out in that time it will be replaced free of cost. This is the class of goods that we sell and challenge anyone to find such goods in any other store in this city.

Would it pay you to trade with such a concern?
