Local Matters

Saturday Morning, December 3, '59.

☞ The present term of the criminal court will adjourn to-day.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Three were twelve delinquents before the recorder yesterday, all of whom were sent to the chain gang.

Dr. Jeptha Fowlkes, of this city, was in Nashville Wednesday evening, on business connected with the Southern Pacific railroad company.

DRAY COMING.—Capt. Rogers, of the Hayes-ville (Ark.) coal mines, reached this city yesterday, in advance of a fleet of coal boats, which will arrive to-day. Two of the boats will be offered for sale here.

THE SUNDAY APPEAL.—The Sunday edition of the APPEAL will contain, in addition to the usual list, a sad amount of interesting matter, prepared expressly for Sunday reading.

THE WEATHER.—We had a realization yesterday of Cold winter, which will be a visitation from the cold weather of this and future winters. The thermometer stood twelve degrees below zero, which continued throughout the day and evening, and is still cold during the night.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.—A man named Cornelius Coley was arrested, charged with an Esquire Richards while in the act of robbing the Apparel and Office Bureau. Coley was taken before the Recorder yesterday and fined.

CRIMINAL COURT.—In this tribunal yesterday two additional persons were convicted in the case of R. B. Rose, and sent to the penitentiary.

The grand jury returned an indictment against Bennie Carney, charged with larceny.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.—Dispatches have been sent from Philadelphia to various places stating that a new counterfeit, for sale, on the Philadelphia bank had lately been obtained in that city. The denomination of the bills are tens, twenties and fifties, and in imitation of those denominations had been in circulation.

FOUND DROWNED.—The body of a respectable looking man was found floating in the river at the foot of Beale street yesterday morning, which the Coroner held an inquest. The deceased was well dressed, but nothing was found upon the body which indicated name or residence. These were such as to the men which warranted the belief that the deceased had been drowned.

EXECUTION OF "OSAWATTOMIE BROWN."—We received the following announcement by telegraph last evening of the execution of John Brown at Charlestown, Va. The despatch contained no particulars of the execution beyond the fact that it took place at quarter past eleven o'clock, and that there was no unusual excitement on the occasion.

☞ B. Whitesides & Co., open their new auction rooms, No. 332 Main street, opposite the Worthington house this evening at 8 o'clock, with a sale of a variety of a large stock of hardware, books, stationery, table and pocket cutlery, and a variety of other goods, and tomorrow morning, at 10 o'clock, they will open a large stock of boots, shoes, hats, and other goods. These goods are entirely new, and will be sold regardless of price.

MISS J. M. DAVENPORT.—This great actress will commence an engagement at the new theater on Monday evening, of which fact we have reminded the public by the subject of her appearance, A. M. McKean, the McKean will be remembered by the reader as editor of the Sunday Courier, one of the ablest readers and popular papers of the day.

ARREST.—A young man from the country named Wm. R. Hunter was arrested by officers Gibbs and Speight last evening, on the charge of attempting to pass a bogus medical license Lewis Collins, agent, on Front Row, representing the same to be sold. There was some suspicion that the license was a forgery, but upon a trial, and the subject being brought to a trial, and the subject being brought to a trial, and the subject being brought to
