Daily Appeal.

MEMPHIS.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1859.

Reading Matter on Every Page.

Largest Circulation in the City.

FIRST AND FOURTH PAGES.

FIRST PAGE.—Direct Trade Just in the Nick of Time; The Executive at Charlestown; Scandal and Crime; Another Letter from John Brown; Anti-Abolition Pledge; Arrest for Sedition, etc.

FOURTH PAGE.—A Story—Beauty at Billiards.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING AT RALEIGH.

In accordance with a resolution passed by a meeting of the Democracy at Raleigh on the 5th December, we announce that a meeting of the Democracy of the county is requested at Raleigh, on Monday, the 2nd day of January. The object of the meeting is to appoint delegates to the State Convention at Nashville, which assembles on the 18th January, and which will appoint delegates to represent the State in the Charleston Convention. A full attendance is desired.

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

The telegraph informs us that there has been a regular stampede of southern students from the medical colleges of Philadelphia. The immediate cause of this movement is not stated, though there is no doubt but that it has grown out of the excited state of feeling produced by the Harper's Ferry foray and the HALPEN book. It is, at anyrate, a practical issue to the North, and one which we hope to see initiated until that section of the Union be brought to a proper sense of what is not only due to the South but to themselves, and their own best interests. We characterize it "a move in the right direction," because we believe that in such practical demonstrations alone can the northern people be made to stop and think of the folly and madness into which their wild fanaticism is fast hurrying them. They have learned how to deride and despise our resolves and protests; they heed not the tufts of grass which we daily hurl at them in the shape of long preambles and high sounding resolutions, and the time has come when the South should try what virtue there is in stones. The medical students at Philadelphia have hit off the first, which we hope may prove the beginning of a new era in southern policy—a policy that must result in building up educational establishments in our own midst, and in the retention at home of thousands and millions of dollars that annually flow into the coffers of those in the North, who, in return, make war upon our institutions, disturb our peace and quiet, and who delight to deride and reproach us as unmerciful tyrants and outside barbarians. We shall wait with interest for further particulars.

DEATH OF HON. LYNN BOYD.

We are pained to record the death of Hon. LYNN BOYD, of Paducah, Kentucky. He expired at his residence, at Paducah, on Saturday last.

Mr. Boyd has filled a prominent place in the history of Kentucky for the last fifteen years, having been for about that period a Representative in Congress from the south-western district of that State, and, for one term, Speaker of the House of Representatives. His politics were Democratic, and he was a leader of his party while in Congress, always adhering strictly to its organization. He was a man of sterling character and decided ability. He was spoken of as a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, and even for the Presidency at one time. His health has been declining for some months. His death will be received with regret throughout the Union.

POSITION OF THE DOUGLAS MEMBERS IN THE HOUSE.

On Senator, Mr. IVERSON, has taken occasion already, in the discussion of Mr. Mason's resolution, to renew his attacks upon the distinguished Senator from Illinois, and doubtless there are many in this State, in the Democratic party and outside of it, who will applaud his conduct and accept it as an evidence of his devotion to the section he represents. For one, we are compelled to regard it, under all circumstances, as "wickedly foolish." There is no reason and no excuse for the further continuance of the war which has been made upon Mr. DOUGLAS, by members of his own party for the last two years. He is now as the cordially identified in feeling with the Democracy as he ever has been, and ready to give his time, his talent, and his influence, to secure the success of its next nominee for the Presidency. While a Democratic Senator at one end of the capitol is denouncing him as unsound, the DOUGLAS members of the House, at the other end, are practically disproving the assertion, by voting and acting cordially with the Democratic party, with the full concurrence of Mr. DOUGLAS, and denouncing Black-Republicanism as roundly as Mr. IVERSON ever did.

Thus, Mr. McCLERNAND, the successor of the lamented HARRIS, in a debate in the House, on the 7th inst., said:

The Democracy of Illinois are for the Union, and the Union they will defend, "by the rights of the North and by the rights of the South; and, impelled by a sense of duty and of honor, they would as quick defend the rights of the South as those of the North. They know no difference between the North and the South. Standing upon a national platform of principles, we have met with a favorable response from our fellow-citizens of the South. We will have a contest with the Democrats in the North and South I hope. And the northern people had begin (better is clearly counsel) to practice killing he dem southern sons of bitches; for they are the descendants of the old Union stock, and are able to kill them off before we can have a powerful government. Write me soon and give me all the news—do not let the Democratic southern scamps take the advantage of you, but take care of yourself and friends. Yours respectfully,

E. C. PALMER.

[Written on the margin of said letter:] You must let your friends read this letter, for what I full to write to one, I will write to another. You must keep in with one another.

Here follow three of the series of resolutions unanimously passed:

5. That the longer residence in our midst of E. C. Palmer, commonly known in this section as a land lubber, and professed abolitionist, from the foregoing letter, is repulsive to our feelings, and dangerous to our interests, and that we no longer permit him to remain in our midst; and he do so otherwise than at his peril.

6. That we admonish the people of the South, and of Northern Texas repeal by, to keep a vigilant eye upon the aforesaid Palmer, and his associates, and if found tampering or engaging in a plot, however diabolical, for the purpose of destroying the peace of our southern community.

7. That the chairman of this meeting appoint a committee of five persons to wait upon E. C. Palmer, with the foregoing resolutions, and request him to depart from our midst within six hours and inform him, in the event of his failure to do so, he will be rode on a rail.

Palmer left without much ceremony. It was thought he would direct his course toward Marshall, as he had relatives and friends there.

OHIO DELEGATION.

The following is the list of delegates to the Charleston convention, as we find it in the Cleveland Plaindealer:

J. Henry B. Bowman, Charles Rate, Douglas.
2. Wesley M. Cameron, Wm. T. Forrest, Douglas.
3. Hon. A. P. Miller, Hon. G. W. Houck, Douglas.
4. M. Metcalf, Joshua Townsend, Douglas.
5. James B. Siedman, Wm. Mungen, Douglas.
6. Reported for Douglas
7. J. Durbin Ward, Matthew Clark, Douglas.
8. George Sonner, R. E. Kunkle, Douglas.
9. Edward F. Dickinson, Abner M. Jackson, Douglas.
10. Thomas McNally, Wells A. Hutchins, Douglas.
11. Carl M. Smith, E. T. Bonham Douglas.
12. Wayne Griswold, George B. Smythe, Douglas.
13. Hon. Thos. W. Bartley, Dr. John Tift, Douglas.
14. J. R. Young, J. P. Jeffreys, Douglas.
15. J. G. Stuart, Col. Nugent, Douglas.
16. S. R. Hosmer, R. Eaton, Douglas.
17. J. S. Way, Hon. Jas. Taylor, Douglas.
18. S. Lahrs, S. D. Harris, Douglas.
19. Hon. H. B. Payne, J. W. Gray, Douglas.
20. Hon. Dave Todd, Dr. D. S. Woods, Douglas.
21. Thomas Woods, R. F. Potts, Douglas.

Judge Barlier, says his district is very decidedly for Douglas, and so instructed the delegates. We think the State is unanimous. On the 5th of January last, the state sentiment for Douglas was for the State at large, and will undoubtedly instruct the Ohio delegation to vote as a unit. It would be waste their influence by a divided delegation to win a score.

THE WEATHER.—The St. Louis Democrat of the 17th inst. says:

From all accounts the effects of winter were earlier observable in the West than in the East. None of the eastern papers report very severe cold weather in that section, and no sleighing has thus far been indulged in. In Albany the snow laid only a few hours and then melted away. In Springfield, Massachusetts, there was a sleigh, but no snow, and the same in New York and Boston. But in St. Louis we have had already fine sleighing and fortunately fine weather. Further west and north of us, the season has opened still more severe. In Keokuk, last week, the mercury was only two degrees above zero, the Mississippi was full of floating masses, and boats were laid up for the season. In Chicago, it is reported, just the reverse of what virtue there is in stones. The medical students at Philadelphia have hit off the first, which we hope may prove the beginning of a new era in southern policy—a policy that must result in building up educational establishments in our own midst, and in the retention at home of thousands and millions of dollars that annually flow into the coffers of those in the North, who, in return, make war upon our institutions, disturb our peace and quiet, and who delight to deride and reproach us as unmerciful tyrants and outside barbarians. We shall wait with interest for further particulars.

DEATH OF HON. LYNN BOYD.

We are pained to record the death of Hon. LYNN BOYD, of Paducah, Kentucky. He expired at his residence, at Paducah, on Saturday last.

Mr. Boyd has filled a prominent place in the history of Kentucky for the last fifteen years, having been for about that period a Representative in Congress from the south-western district of that State, and, for one term, Speaker of the House of Representatives. His politics were Democratic, and he was a leader of his party while in Congress, always adhering strictly to its organization. He was a man of sterling character and decided ability. He was spoken of as a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, and even for the Presidency at one time. His health has been declining for some months. His death will be received with regret throughout the Union.

POSITION OF THE DOUGLAS MEMBERS IN THE HOUSE.

On Senator, Mr. IVERSON, has taken occasion already, in the discussion of Mr. Mason's resolution, to renew his attacks upon the distinguished Senator from Illinois, and doubtless there are many in this State, in the Democratic party and outside of it, who will applaud his conduct and accept it as an evidence of his devotion to the section he represents. For one, we are compelled to regard it, under all circumstances, as "wickedly foolish." There is no reason and no excuse for the further continuance of the war which has been made upon Mr. DOUGLAS, by members of his own party for the last two years. He is now as the cordially identified in feeling with the Democracy as he ever has been, and ready to give his time, his talent, and his influence, to secure the success of its next nominee for the Presidency. While a Democratic Senator at one end of the capitol is denouncing him as unsound, the DOUGLAS members of the House, at the other end, are practically disproving the assertion, by voting and acting cordially with the Democratic party, with the full concurrence of Mr. DOUGLAS, and denouncing Black-Republicanism as roundly as Mr. IVERSON ever did.

Thus, Mr. McCLERNAND, the successor of the lamented HARRIS, in a debate in the House, on the 7th inst., said:

The Democracy of Illinois are for the Union, and the Union they will defend, "by the rights of the North and by the rights of the South; and, impelled by a sense of duty and of honor, they would as quick defend the rights of the South as those of the North. They know no difference between the North and the South. Standing upon a national platform of principles, we have met with a favorable response from our fellow-citizens of the South. We will have a contest with the Democrats in the North and South I hope. And the northern people had begin (better is clearly counsel) to practice killing he dem southern sons of bitches; for they are the descendants of the old Union stock, and are able to kill them off before we can have a powerful government. Write me soon and give me all the news—do not let the Democratic southern scamps take the advantage of you, but take care of yourself and friends. Yours respectfully,

E. C. PALMER.

[Written on the margin of said letter:] You must let your friends read this letter, for what I full to write to one, I will write to another. You must keep in with one another.

Here follow three of the series of resolutions unanimously passed:

5. That the longer residence in our midst of E. C. Palmer, commonly known in this section as a land lubber, and professed abolitionist, from the foregoing letter, is repulsive to our feelings, and dangerous to our interests, and that we no longer permit him to remain in our midst; and he do so otherwise than at his peril.

6. That we admonish the people of the South, and of Northern Texas repeal by, to keep a vigilant eye upon the aforesaid Palmer, and his associates, and if found tampering or engaging in a plot, however diabol, for the purpose of destroying the peace of our southern community.

7. That the chairman of this meeting appoint a committee of five persons to wait upon E. C. Palmer, with the foregoing resolutions, and request him to depart from our midst within six hours and inform him, in the event of his failure to do so, he will be rode on a rail.

Palmer left without much ceremony. It was thought he would direct his course toward Marshall, as he had relatives and friends there.

OHIO DELEGATION.

The following is the list of delegates to the Charleston convention, as we find it in the Cleveland Plaindealer:

J. Henry B. Bowman, Charles Rate, Douglas.
2. Wesley M. Cameron, Wm. T. Forrest, Douglas.
3. Hon. A. P. Miller, Hon. G. W. Houck, Douglas.
4. M. Metcalf, Joshua Townsend, Douglas.
5. James B. Siedman, Wm. Mungen, Douglas.
6. Reported for Douglas
7. J. Durbin Ward, Matthew Clark, Douglas.
8. George Sonner, R. E. Kunkle, Douglas.
9. Edward F. Dickinson, Abner M. Jackson, Douglas.
10. Thomas McNally, Wells A. Hutchins, Douglas.
11. Carl M. Smith, E. T. Bonham Douglas.
12. Wayne Griswold, George B. Smythe, Douglas.
13. Hon. Thos. W. Bartley, Dr. John Tift, Douglas.
14. J. R. Young, J. P. Jeffreys, Douglas.
15. J. G. Stuart, Col. Nugent, Douglas.
16. S. R. Hosmer, R. Eaton, Douglas.
17. J. S. Way, Hon. Jas. Taylor, Douglas.
18. S. Lahrs, S. D. Harris, Douglas.
19. Hon. H. B. Payne, J. W. Gray, Douglas.
20. Hon. Dave Todd, Dr. D. S. Woods, Douglas.
21. Thomas Woods, R. F. Potts, Douglas.

Judge Barlier, says his district is very decidedly for Douglas, and so instructed the delegates. We think the State is unanimous. On the 5th of January last, the state sentiment for Douglas was for the State at large, and will undoubtedly instruct the Ohio delegation to vote as a unit. It would be waste their influence by a divided delegation to win a score.

THE WEATHER.—The St. Louis Democrat of the 17th inst. says:

From all accounts the effects of winter were earlier observable in the West than in the East. None of the eastern papers report very severe cold weather in that section, and no sleighing has thus far been indulged in. In Albany the snow laid only a few hours and then melted away. In Springfield, Massachusetts, there was a sleigh, but no snow, and the same in New York and Boston. But in St. Louis we have had already fine sleighing and fortunate