$10 Reward.

We will pay the above reward for the apprehension, with sufficient proof to convict, of any boy discovered in stealing the APPEAL from the doors of city subscribers. McCLANAHAN, THOMPSON & DILL.

February 7, 1860.

FALSE ALARM.—There was a false alarm of fire about noon yesterday.

CITY EXPENSES.—At its last meeting council ordered to be paid $4783 for graveling, and $3744.55 for salaries to the police.

☞ Eli Rayner, Esq., was on yesterday elected a director of the branch of the bank of Tennessee in this city, to fill a vacancy.

HAS HIS POCKET PICKED.—A valuable gold watch was stolen from Mr. F. M. Vinson's pocket, while that gentleman was promenading Front Row yesterday.

HEAVILY FINED.—John Williams and J. J. Hughes, charged with misdemeanors before the Recorder yesterday, were each fined $25. The former had a pair of brass knuckles in his possession.

THE EL DORADO.—This beautiful new billiard saloon, corner of Jefferson and Second streets, continues to be the wonder and admiration of strangers, as it is the Headquarters for all who are fond of the ball and cue.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Rufus L. Boggs, charged with complicity in the attempt to kill Mr. D. C. Pancoast, was excited in this tribunal yesterday, and his punishment assessed at three months' imprisonment in the county jail, and to pay a fine of five hundred dollars.

RIVER ITEMS.—In our river column this morning we furnish the particulars of a successful attempt to destroy the levee at Napoleon, and the decision in the long-contested suit for damages against the Memphis and New Orleans packet company.

REFORMED SERVICE.—Rev. Cole will be preaching at the Missionary Cumberland Presbyterian Church, corner Elliott and Rebecca streets, next Saturday at 11 a. m. and at 7 p. m., and on Sabbath at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., by Revs. R. Burrows and W. M. Ewing.

☞ Every family may now have a reliable sewing machine. The introduction of Moore's patent will produce a Monday in many who have heretofore been prevented from purchasing that almost indispensable article on account of the high prices. See advertisement.

ARRIVED.—A. Sewell, Esq., arrived home yesterday from his eastern trip in good health, though not entirely recovered from the effects of the accident by which the car in which he was traveling was thrown from the track. We thank him for late New York papers.

SEARCH HIS RIGHT.—We state yesterday that a man named Chas. Quilliard had been arrested for taking forcible possession of a hat, and running away with the same from a Front Row store. Quilliard was fined ten dollars by the recorder yesterday for the exploit.

CHANGE OF PLACE.—John Denick and Baptiste Mazit, were arrested yesterday on the charge of obtaining four head cattle from Robert I. Fullerton under false and fraudulent pretences. They represented themselves as city butchers, but it appeared that they were impostors. The case will go before the grand jury.

G. W. McCoan.—This gentleman, in another of inquiry concerning whom we published yesterday, calls on us last evening and informed us that he had written to his brother and father, and that the uncertainty of the mails was the cause of their not hearing his whereabouts. He will start to Memphis as soon as business affairs necessary arrangements in connection with his notoriety. K.

FIRST RECEIPT OF ICE.—We have already given the public an idea of the fast manners of Messrs. Carrey & Co., the Memphis ice dealers. We will add to the same, that the gentlemen received yesterday the first Saltwater ice of the season, and one of the most beautiful specimens of the kind we have seen for years. The gentlemen received yesterday the Real Saltwater ice of their annual importation, and are now prepared to furnish their old patrons with ice in any quantity. The large load received yesterday was the first consignment of fifteen thousand tons, the remainder of which will shortly come to hand.

TOBACCO.—Mr. John Erskine, at his sale rooms yesterday, sold sixteen hhds. of tobacco, two lots, bringing $9.85 and $7.50, respectively. This tobacco was raised by Mr. A. J. Booker, of Ballard county, Kentucky. Planters find it convenient to buy their supplies where they dispose of their produce, and Mr. Booker, who has heretofore traded at Paducah, has determined to transfer his trade to this point, and procured a bill of supplies in our city yesterday.

FERRY PRESIDENCY.—The board of mayor and aldermen are keeping a proper look-out for the protection of the city from the injurious consequences of monopoly, by the regulations it has resolved shall guide it in sanctioning the grant of ferry privileges. At its last meeting the board resolved in no equivocal sense an application of the Messrs. Cheek for a ferryboat license, to run from Memphis to Mount City, for a longer period than one year at a time—the city to unencumbered of the landing place. The Messrs. Cheek will be required to withdraw all claims against the city for pretended damages incurred in dealings with the city. Any contract to be made with them for ferry privileges, is to be subject to the approbation of the directors of the Little Rock railway.

THE LATE TRAGEDY IN ARKANSAS.—Absence of the Mountaineers.—We have already furnished the horrible details of the late fearful tragedy in Crittenden county, Arkansas, which resulted in the murder of a Mr. Hopkins, which deed was committed at the instigation of his unnatural wife. The brothers Cheek, who participated in the foul deed, were hung by the populace, but Mrs. Hopkins escaped with her children to this city, and took lodgings at the residence of a Mr. Battle, in this vicinity. The fact of her presence here came to the knowledge of officer Klink yesterday, who immediately took her under arrest. It is unhappy woman is now in jail in this city. She will await the requisition of Governor Conway.

CORPORATION, OR NO CORPORATION.—The voters and citizens of north Memphis (Chelsea) are requested to meet at the market house, near Auction street bridge, this (Friday) evening at 7½ o'clock, to hear the question of corporation, or no corporation properly discussed. All who are in favor of the corporation and all who are opposed to it, are earnestly invited to attend and present their views. Let the subject in all its bearings be thoroughly understood, that there interested may lead know how to act, and let the majority decide.

NEW BOOK.—THE SLAVEHOLDER ABROAD; or, Billy Buck's Visit with his Master to England. A series of letters from Mr. Francis Lister to Miss Jessie Jones. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1860.

Dr. JONES, of Pineville, Georgia, visits England in 1851, to recruit his shattered health, and incidentally to exhibit his improved plow, with the attachment for cutting up roots, at the great exhibition. His health being delicate, he is accompanied by his family servant and old playmate "Buck," who is one of a most intelligent and faithful of his race. "Buck," of course, often finds himself in some novel situations, and dilemmas, with the drolleries of the negro and in his peculiar points, upon men, manners and theories, as he finds them. He is particularly acute and satirical in exposing the hypocrisy and sophistry of the abolitionists he chances to meet, and the Doctor has in his faithful slave, an able, eloquent and convincing vindicator of the peculiar institution, and an ever-ready reproacher and witty rebuker of all who approach him sympathingly, to bewail his happy condition. The Doctor's plow falls to take the premium at the "Exposition," from the want of roots to old England upon which to experiment with his attachment, whereupon he becomes disgusted with the whole question, and desires nothing to be said about it. Meanwhile, turning his attention to Mrs. Stowe, who was at that time receiving the ovations of the Duchess of Sutherland and the noble country women, and bestowing a large share of his consideration upon the criminal statistics, moral condition and degradation among the working classes in England, whereby he most clearly establishes the fact that the abolitionists of England have enough to do at home to reform the oppressions of their own degraded and down-trodden lower classes, which are infinitely more to be commiserated than any other class of servitors and laborers in any other part of the world. There is in these letters a vast amount of useful and wasting information relative to the social condition, criminal annals and moral habits of the people of England, which may be profitably used to offset the hypocritical philanthropy with which they veil their unwarrantable interference with the institutions of America. The subject is treated in the familiar form of letters, and is therefore brought home to the reader's attention more stikingly. Messrs. W. R. Strange & Co. have this work at their bookstore, under Odd-Fellows' Hall.

To our City Fathers.

EDITOR APPEAL: I write simply to learn whether Shelby street, south of Linden, is within the corporate limits of the city, and, as such, entitled to the preservation of the streets and the maintenance in order after night. The use of the streets is open to all. At night the quiet denizens are gone and again annoyed by the firing of guns, the yelling, whooping, and loud songs of negroes, boys, or grown up stamps, and by the raking of sticks or boards rapidly upon our fences, not only injuring and unhezing the fences, but creating great disturbance with the same. Is there no relief from these things? K.

BENEFIT OF MISS RICHINGS.—The entertainment at the new theater this evening will be for the benefit of Miss Caroline Richings, the charming vocalist and admirable actress. The beneficiary is an actress of wonderful powers and great genius, and one of the most successful delineators of her peculiar line of characters in the range of the modern drama. The programs will embrace The Prima Donna and The Maltster of Toledo, in which Mr. Richings will also appear.

ARAB GRATITUDE—THE LIGHT OF THE HAREM.

During a successful medical career of more than twenty years, in the course of which he has visited every quarter of the globe, it may well be supposed that Professor Holloway has been the recipient of many distinguished marks of honor and confidence. As the originator of a system of treatment which has spread over the world with a force and rapidity that, in this enlightened age, are the prerogatives of truth, his fame everywhere preceded. Even in traversing the desert, some years ago, he found that his name and discoveries were well known to the sheiks of the various tribes, and deputations of Arabs meet him at various points of his journey, requesting the visit of "Hakim," (their name for physician,) to visit their tents and administer to the sick. At every encampment he was received with most profound respect, which deepened into absolute reverence as the effect of his wonderful remedies was witnessed by these children of the wilderness. Some of his adventures among them were quite of a romantic cast. One of their chiefs, a majestic, old Bedouin, whose favorite daughter had been for years affected with a scorbutic disease, was so carried away with rapture at her recovery under Professor Holloway's treatment, that in a burst of gratitude, he offered him half his flocks and herds, if he would remain with the tribe and be its guest for life.

While visiting Constantinople, on his return home, he had an audience of the Sultan, and was requested to prescribe for a favorite sultana in the imperial harem, who had been pronounced incurable by the Turkish doctors. The man of Christian skill was filled with surprise at the beauty, and realized in her form and face the description of "Young Nourmahal" as described in Lalla Rooch. Her disease was dyspepsia, a complaint so common to ladies, created by a sequestered and sedentary life. Within a month, however, Professor Holloway's great medicines, with the aid of daily exercise in the gardens of the Seraglio, accomplished a complete cure, and he subsequently received an autograph letter from the Sultan, thanking him in the warmest terms for resoring to health the light of his harem. No sooner was the news of this cure noised through Constantinople, than the lodgings of the "Great Frank Physician" were literally besieged by dyspeptic Pashas and bilious Beys, and from the period of his departure to the present time, the demand for his pills in Constantinople for the remedies that bear his name has continually increased.—Dr. Livingston's "Travels."

Cheering News to the Afflicted

CENTERMEN of science may speculate and theorize, but facts are worth more to the afflicted than all the theories the world ever produced.

DR. A. C. GOODLETS

is acknowledged by all who have given it a trial, to be one of the best medicines ever used for the cure of diseases arising from a disordered stomach, or an impure state of the blood. The great virtues of this compound by the "Panacea" in the city of Nashville and vicinity, and in every section of the country where it has been introduced, is a sufficient guarantee of its efficacy.

Dr. A. G. GOODLET—Dear Sir: It may be worth while to rub to bear that Houck's Panacea, prepared and sold by you, is being paid work in the relief of your fellow men. During my recent travels in several counties in Middle Tennessee, I have then just those who have used it. The universal testimony is, "It is the best remedy I have ever used." It has been very nearly to me in cases of hoarseness, brought on by preaching in the open air and laboring in recitals. Please make an agency in this place. Very respectfully,

RIVER WEATHER AND BUSINESS.—The weather was a good one for our shipping business, and what will be telegraphed down the river concerning the depth of water, will be found in our table of the river depth, which we place in a column by itself, that everybody may see it at a glance.

TELEGRAPHIC.—The Mississippi river was rapidly falling at St. Louis yesterday. The upper Mississippi was rapidly falling, with a good depth of water, and was falling below Keokuk with other feet water in the channel. The Missouri and Illinois rivers were falling. The Ohio river at Louisville was falling, with about 5 feet 6 inches in water in the canal.

ARRIVED AND DEPARTED.—There was an unusually large number of arrivals and departures of our shipping interest, including the Packets and Ferry Boats, from New Orleans to St. Louis, the last, North, from New Orleans for Memphis, the Tennessee and A. D. Taylor, from New Orleans for Cincinnati, the N. W. Thomas, from Cincinnati for New Orleans, the John Warne from Louisville to New Orleans, and the Clara Bell, from St. Louis to Yazoo Tallahatchie. The Fare Ket, from Cincinnati for the Arkansas river, with a big trip, bounding the town for this port, arrived. She will remain over here until 10 o'clock this morning. The Dunleith also arrived from Cincinnati with a heavy cargo of miscellaneous articles for our merchants. She will return from this port with a cargo of cotton, and Capt. Lightner expects to get away to-day. The John Warne had about 800 tons New Orleans freight, consisting of 175 bales cotton, one hogshead tobacco, 30 kegs tobacco, one hundred sacks corn, 300 sacks bran, 30 half sacks corn, 30 half sacks oats, 100 sacks flour, 25 half sacks flour, 100 pigs merchandise, etc. The John Warne left for Nashville, after receiving 20 head of cattle from Memphis, and a lot of produce, etc., at this port. The Dunleith of the K. V. Thomas arrived down to the levee early. Of the regular packets, the Platte Valley from St. Louis, and the Moses McLellan from Louisville, arrived. The Platte Valley boasts a heavy cabinet of furniture, and assorted merchandise. Other than some light freight, she had no freight for Memphis. The Moses McLellan had 100 sacks corn, and this boat, 60 half barrels, 200 pigs iron, and a consignment of coffin. The McLellan was also heavily freighted, and brought over about 200 tons. Capt. Miller, who was formerly on the Ohio, and Capt. Pickering, who was formerly on the Mississippi, left Memphis yesterday, on the Fare Ket, for Arkansas. The Fare Ket was detained here by the Dunleith, and was forced to wait for her to get through the lower end of the bar, before she could get over. The Dunleith, thinking him in the warmest terms for resoring to health the light of his harem. No sooner was the news of this cure noised through Constantinople, than the lodgings of the "Great Frank Physician" were literally besieged by dyspeptic Pashas and bilious Beys, and from the period of his departure to the present time, the demand for his pills in Constantinople for the remedies that bear his name has continually increased.—Dr. Livingston's "Travels."
