On or about the first of April next, we shall have arrangements made for the delivery of our paper, which we hope will prove satisfactory to all parties interested.

☞ The reader will find on our first page an article the attest railroads, which we publish at the request of "W. M. P."

RECORDER'S COURT.—There were fifteen drill squads before the recorder yesterday, and five additions were made to the chain gang.

CARRYING WEAPONS.—Thos. Carroll was fined twenty-five dollars by the recorder yesterday for carrying and drawing deadly weapons.

SUICIDE.—A man named Thomas Sims, who took passage at this city on board the steamer Argyle, a few days since, jumped overboard in Dead Man's Bend recently, and was drowned.

☞ We call the attention of our patrons to the sale of that choice property advertised in another column, to be sold at the Arcade to-day at ten o'clock, by M. C. Cayce & Son.

☞ To-day at ten o'clock the furniture of T. L. Ayers, Esq., will be sold at his residence, on the east side of Jones Square. The terms of the sale are upon six months' credit. We hope to see a large attendance of ladies.

COMMON LAW COURT.—This tribunal, which convened Monday, adjourned over until Monday next. In the meantime his honor Judge Dixon will dispose of a vast amount of important business that has accumulated upon the Chancery docket.

LIFE OF CLAY.—A. H. Carvier's life of Henry Clay is a very neatly printed book, on good paper and in every way well and handsomely get up. It is for sale by the agent of the publisher, Mrs. Bugbis, who will wait upon our citizens and show them the work.

TO THE LADIES.—Madame Park, of No. 331 Main street, whose judgment is deemed final in all matters pertaining to the toilette, has just returned from the northern cities with her seasonable assortment of millinery and dress goods. Of course no lady will pretend to elegance until she has consulted the Madame, who is recognized as the queen of dress in this latitude.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATRE.—No attraction of the season has exceeded in point of real interest the above celebrated favorites, the Richfiegos. They have drawn crowded houses each night of their engagement, and still continue to grow in the public favor. They will both appear this evening in the comedy entitled Extremes.

CRIMINAL COURT.—In this tribunal yesterday Louisa Jackson, who had been indicted in conjunction with Robert L. Boggs for assaulting D. C. Pancoast with an attempt to kill, was found guilty of the assault, and her punishment assessed at twenty-four hours imprisonment in the county jail, together with a fine of one hundred dollars.

REBELLY IN THE CALABOOSE.—Two convicts to the chain-gang, Jas. Cornelius, alias Buffalo Jack, and J. C. Clack, were taken into custody yesterday on the charge of having committed a felony, the specification being that they had robbed a fellow prisoner of the sum of twenty dollars. The money had been secreted in the cravat of the man who was robbed, and was taken while the victim was asleep. The case will go before the grand jury.

TAX COLLECTOR.—Mr. John H. Bowen announces himself this morning as a candidate for re-election to the office of city tax collector. During the year that Mr. Bowen has held this office, we believe he has given general satisfaction in the manner in which he has discharged his duties. He has made a most excellent officer, and we shall not be surprised if the people determine to retain his services for at least another year.

A LADY'S IRE.—Our lady readers will bear in mind that this morning Mad. Park, at her establishment on Main street, between Union and Gayoso, opens her new spring stock of millinery. Such a display of lovely bonnets, charming artificial flowers, fascinating mantillas, beautiful head dresses, and a hundred other things the most enchanting in the world, and all in the latest style of fashion, never was displayed in Memphis. You must call and see, ladies, and you will be delighted.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVALS.—The following gentlemen arrived at the Gayoso House yesterday: Hon. Walter S. Gurnee and Hon. Thos. Dyer, ex-mayors of Chicago, Hon. A. M. Clayton, of Miss., Col. J. H. Mosby, of Fayette county, Capt. Gosline, president of the Memphis and New Orleans packet company, Capt. Dan'l Ross, general agent of the New York and Erie railroad, Hon. A. M. Stuart, late proprietor of the Girard House, Philadelphia, Mr. J. C. Booth, of the Illinois Central railroad, Mr. W. R. Barr, of the Lake Shore railroad, and Mr. P. S. Phelps, of the Michigan Southern railroad.

ROBBERY AND ATTEMPTED MURDER.—A correspondent at Metcalfe's Landing, on the Mississippi river, has furnished us the particulars of a rambling occurrence at that place. It appears that a gentleman named G. N. Barbour left this city several months ago with a storehoat, having in company his wife, two children, and an assistant, who acted in the capacity of clerk, named James Gilmore. Barbour's two children died soon after they had embarked, and it appears that an intimacy sprung up between Gilmore and Mr. Barbour's wife, of which the unsuspecting husband remained totally ignorant, until he was attacked by Gilmore, who boarded the boat Sunday night, the 4th inst., at Metcalfe's Landing. Barbour was terribly beaten on the head with some heavy missile in the hands of Gilmore, and only escaped with his life by jumping overboard, and making his way to the nearest house. During the same night Gilmore and his paramour plundered the boat and fled, carrying with them all the valuables on the boat, and about eleven hundred dollars. Mr. Barbour is still in that vicinity, and is thought to be in a critical condition from the wounds which he received. The guilty pair put on board a boat bound upward, and may now be in this city.

ANOTHER EXTENSIVE WHOLESALE HOUSE.—We have been paying some attention of late to Memphis manufacturing and business houses. It affords us extreme gratification to see the increase of purely wholesale establishments—places where not a single retail transaction take place—for the success of these stores proves that the store-keepers of the surrounding country are coming to Memphis to buy their goods; and that proves that Memphis is growing into a first-class city, and becoming a "commercial emporium." Yesterday we looked over some of the immense variety of articles that make up the stock of Mr. George McFadden, of 299 Main street, below Monroe. The assortment comprises the class articles usually found in variety stores and gentlemen's furnishing stores. There is hosiery of all descriptions, comprising stockings, gloves, and undergarments of cotton and silk, merino and other fine wools; trimmings of every kind, many of them of brilliant richness. In gentlemen's shirts and bosoms the assortment is superb. There are handkerchiefs of a thousand patterns; jewelry of dazzling beauty; hair-brushes, toys, suspenders—the variety and elegance of many of these is wonderful—fancy soaps, buttons of almost infinite variety, and fans of such charming patterns and colors as would fascinate the most insensible. Space will not permit us to give more than a glance at this store and its contents. Retailers should not fail to visit it. It is just such an establishment as was wanted in this city. We admire the spirit of enterprise and the business tact shown by Mr. McFadden, and feel certain that a brilliant success awaits him. Ainsi-soit-il.

An Indian and a white man recently skated sixty miles, on a wager, in Wisconsin. The Indian came in a few minutes less than two hours, and did not seem to suffer from the exertion. The white man was over eleven hours in making the distance, and in a few hours after he had pulled off his skates his limbs swelled to a monstrous size, and he was disabled for several days.

A Methodist and a Quaker having stopped at a public house, agreed to sleep in the same bed. The Methodist knelt down and prayed fervently and confessed a long catalogue of sins. After he arose, the Quaker observed, "Really friend, if thou art a—bad as thou says't thou art, I think I dare not sleep with thee."

"Is it not curious," said an old gentleman, a few days since, to his friend, "a watch should be perfectly dry when it has a running spring inside?"

CLIPPINGS.

We do not know the extent of the chain-gang at Grenada, Miss., but we observe that an ordinance was passed at the last meeting of the city council, that city fining any negro who refuses to work on the streets.

Bulwer says that "death often changes livery into love." Certainly it does. We may have an antipathy to swine, and yet love pork and sausages.

Traveler on the Mississippi.—"What makes you have the bar in the center—why don't you have it on the side out of the way?" Bartender.—"Well, we would, but you won't even do to have so many passengers on one side of the boat."

The ladies of America, having purchased Mount Vernon, have now resolved to raise a sum of $140,000 for the purpose of keeping the house and the grounds in repair.

When we read the almost interminable articles of some writers, we cannot help thinking that their readers are in danger of being sentenced to death.

"They say that smoking cures hams, and herrings, and haddocks, and many other things," said I, I know is, that I have tried it on my wife's temper for the last dozen years, and it hasn't had the smallest effect in curing that."

A farmer in Venango county, Pa., profited from the oil excitement by boring a hole in his land, pouring in a barrel of oil purchased elsewhere, and selling out for $20,000 cash on the spot. He sloped immediately.

In a recent sermon upon the training of children Henry Ward Beecher gave the following stern advice to parents: "Never strike a child upon the head. Providence has supplied other and more appropriate places for punishment."

An Eloquent Extract.

We make the following eloquent extract from a late speech of Senator Hunter, of Virginia. In speaking of the possibility of the efforts of the Republicans to overthrow the government proving successful, he said:

Sir, in that event, the accusing voice of human history will ring through all the ages to impeach them at the bar of posterity for having destroyed the noblest scheme of constitutional liberty which the wisdom of man has ever devised; and upon that fearful issue each of the succeeding generations of man will record its verdict against them. Their own accomplices will heap reproaches upon the names of those who disappoint them of the destiny which would have been the richest inheritance that one generation could bequeath another. But when it is asked upon what view of the Constitution; upon what consideration of religion or philanthropy; upon what calculation of political, general or sectional, the fatal deed was done, where will the satisfactory answer be found, and shall arise in that day to defend their name from the foul reproach?

Mr. President, when I think of what it is that may be destroyed by this narrow spirit of sectional hate and bigotry, I turn away from the contemplation with a feeling of almost indignant despair, but I will not, as yet, despair of my country. I will yet hope that the great army of northern Democrats and conservatives will arise in the might of a noble cause, and expel the intruders from the seat of power. I will trust in the influence of truth, whose empire is felt in every human heart when once it has touched it. I will put my faith higher yet—in providence, for it cannot be that God will permit such a scheme of government as this, freighted, as it might have been, with the highest hopes of humanity, to be wrecked in the wild orgies of madness and fanatics."

Notice.

THE partnership heretofore existing between undersigned under the firm of Bohl & Gilman, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business hereafter to be carried on at the old stand by James H. Bohl, who is authorized to settle up the firm business. J. H. BOHL.

Memphis, March 9, 1860. W. H. GILMAN.

Having sold all my interest in the above firm to James H. Bohl, I take pleasure in recommending him to all my friends and old patrons in his business. W. H. GILMAN.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

STEAMERS LEAVING TO-DAY

Admiral, Cap. Bailey.....WHITE RIVER.
John Wesley, Capt. Hill.....ARK RIVER.
Ben Lomond, No. 2, Capt. Dunbar.....YAZOO RIVER.
Lyon Vinod, Capt. Pegram.....ARKANSAS.
Sultana, Capt. Kelly.....ST. FRANCIS.

RIVER, WEATHER AND BUSINESS.—The river at this writing is a mixed Monday rated, and if there had been any earthquake to lend assistance, there was a night rise. As anticipated we reported yesterday. Water rises in Tennessee all the way down in the middle. The Arkansas river is also falling, with 3 feet water in Little Rock, and 2½ feet in Dardanelle. The weather was clear and dry yesterday, but cloudy and warm to-day, indicative of the freshet.

TELEGRAPHED.—The Mississippi river was reported slightly at St. Louis and rising, in the upper steamers were reported as being in good looking order. At Lacrosse the ice was moving, with nine feet three inches water in the canal.....Despatches from New Orleans last evening reported the burning of the steamer Judge Porter, bound from Montgomery, Ala., to New Orleans. She took fire while passing through the Pontchartrain, one mile from the New Orleans wharf, and burned to the water's edge. Two passengers were reported missing. The boat, with her barge of sight hundred bales of cotton, was a total loss. The load was partially insured. The officers and crew were saved.

ARRIVED AND DEPARTED.—The South Boat, from the Arkansas river, left for St. Louis, from St. Louis, and the Admiral, from White river, were the regular packets that arrived yesterday. The Admiral had a large number of passengers, but a light freight list, inclusive of bale cotton. The Lone Star signed trip, inclusive 25,000 feet lumber, 200 bales hay, 5,000 sacks corn, and a large consignment of dry goods, boots, pork, etc. The St. Francis No. 2, for St. Francisville, the Julius W. Lloyd, for St. Louis, and the Red Wing, for Arkansas river, departed last evening, with rather light trips. There were numerous transient arrivals and departures yesterday, including the J. C. Pechuel, from New Orleans for Nashville, the Windsor, from New Orleans for Louisville, the Hannibal, from New Orleans for St. Louis, the R. F. Sale, from New Orleans for Cincinnati, the Baltic, from Louisville for New Orleans, the Bostonia, from Cincinnati for New Orleans, and the Belle of Sons, from Nashville for New Orleans. The Sam had 400 tons freight, including 442 bales cotton. The Belle delivered about 100 bale cotton, 25 bales cotton seed, etc. The Bell was an accident to her engine, and had to come back for repairs. The Bostonia had a good freight, consisting of 1,000 bales cotton, 4000 sacks corn, and 2000 bbls. flour. Of the corn 1000 sacks were for General Gaines' plantation, below Helena. The Pioneer was also very heavily freighted, to Cairo. Yellow fever goes with, and he has all he needs being one of the oldest, most popular and most successful boats on the river.

INCIDENTS.—The little steamer T. S., which belongs to her namesake, Capt. Bell, joined down yesterday with a detachment of troops for the Texas.....From the South Bend, which arrived yesterday, passed the wreck of the Rickman, the lower Shelby was still engaged in the attempt to recover the cotton and other valuables. It is believed that a large sum of money was in the safe at the time of the disaster, and the impression is that Gaines, the clerk, got ashore with as much gold as he could carry under the circumstances, and left the remainder locked in the safe. Capt. Ross would remain with the wreck a day or two longer.....Capt. Dunbar, an old river captain, but of present general agent for the New York and Erie railroad, is in the city at present.....The Mary for about 200 bale cotton passed down yesterday, with about 300 bales for the city. There will be several new boats built for the Memphis trade during the approaching season. For example, in all probability the Memphis and New Orleans packet company will build four new steamers, Capt. Jones, of the St. Louis, and Capt. Gosline, of the Argyle, will build two, Capt. Coles, of the White River trade, will build one or two, the Arkansas river mail company will build four, Capt. Gray, of the same trade, will build one, Capt. Hill will build a passenger packet, with great capacity, will be constructed for the Memphis and Cairo packet and Gaines' Landing (or Bowie Point.) Thus it will be seen that the boating interest of Memphis keeps pace with the advancement in mercantile and manufacturing pursuits.

STEAMER MARTIN WALT.—Yesterday morning the steamer Martin Walt, owned by her commander, Capt. Stewart, and Martin Walt, of this city, was snagged and sunk on the 6th inst., in Clear Lake, Red river, a short distance below Shreveport. She had 800 bales of cotton on board at the time, which has been recovered, but subsequently condemned. The boat was raised without difficulty, and Capt. Stewart has her on the ways at New Orleans repairing. We are pleased to hear that the Walt has been a good investment, having made four round trips in Red river, each of which has yielded her a good return.....The Diamond is due from New Orleans for Cincinnati, and is a candidate for a cargo of cotton.....The Silver Moon will depart today with about 1000 bales cotton for Cincinnati.....Freight for New Orleans are plentiful everywhere. The Planet, which passed down yesterday, refused to take 1000 sacks corn, offered her at Cairo at her own rates.....In the collision now between the Victoria and J. G. Clinton, near this city, in December last, the St. Louis boat lost a barge-load of Memphis flour, etc., of the Victoria, in the fault, and suspended her business for two months.....The new Sen. J. Adams Capt. J. R. Pool's New Orleans and Louisville packet, was launched at New Albany Saturday.....The Louisville Courier of Monday says that New Orleans parties at that port have advanced to the following rates: Pork 85 cents per barrel, flour 50 cents, whisky 90 cents, bacon per hhd 45, pound rate, including hogs, 40 cents, hay $20 per ton, cattle from $3 to $5 per head, mules $75, sheep 75 cents per head.....The little Bonanza, with two or three horses in tow, passed the locks at Louisville Sunday, and had not got off at last accounts. The new Lafayette and New Orleans packet Mary T. was launched at Jeffersonville Saturday.....We learn from the Commercial that Capt. Charlie Coles was in Cincinnati Sunday.....In our local column this morning we furnish the particulars of a robbery and attempted murder on board of Memphis's Landing, on the Mississippi river.

Boats Leaving To-Day.

FOR NEW ORLEANS.—The elegant steamer Belfast, Captain Wren, is a popular mail and passenger packet for New Orleans direct, and will leave at the usual hour this afternoon. Captain Wren is an accomplished boatman and the Belfast is otherwise well offered and appointed.

FOR CINCINNATI.—The splendid new steamer Silver Moon, Captain Hughes, will leave for Louisville and Cincinnati at five o'clock this afternoon. She is a great favorite with passengers, having elegant accommodations and popular officers, Capt. L. Dunn has charge of the office.

FOR THE ARKANSAS RIVER.—The fleet and popular Jenny Whipple, Captain C. C. Gray, leaving been unavoidably detained will leave for all points on the Arkansas river at 5 o'clock this afternoon. She is of the participated and standard class, the pioneer in the trade, and she and her officers never fail to give satisfaction either to passengers and shippers.

FOR VICKSBURG.—Not having arrived in time to depart last evening, the steamer St. Francis No. 1, Capt. Hill, will leave for Vicksburg at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Passengers will find her old and tried M. C. Hill's Mission in the city.

FOR WHITE RIVER.—The splendid steamer Admiral, Capt. Albert Baird, having been detained, will leave for White and Little Red rivers at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Her accommodations are unexcelled in the trade, and her officers are clever and attentive. Capt. Thompson has charge of the office.
