Local Matters.

Sunday Morning, April 8, 1860.

☞ NOTICE. ☜

The Appeal Counting Room has been removed to No. 3 Howard's Row, up stairs, where all persons having business with the office are hereafter requested to call.

ARRIVAL.—The Hon. Albert Pike is at the Worsham House.

THE RACES.—At the races yesterday Sealy won the first race and Singleton the second.

☞ RECORDER'S COURT.—Eleven cases, $34 fine and four additions to the chain-gang were the product of this court's labors yesterday.

PAID DEPARTMENT.—Messrs. Douglass, Street and Worrell have been appointed by Council a committee to inquire what has cost of a paid fire department of the city would be.

THAT WINE.—Heckle & Co. are having a great run for their splendid Central Ginger and Blackberry wine. Their liquors are excellent and dealers will consult their interest by examining their stock.

NO JOKE.—We asked yesterday a jocose question about our next saucer, the printer made it read, "will the next saucer be a sub or a woman?" We can stand an abortion, we feel confident we give up being funny.

EASTER SUNDAY.—To-day is Easter Sunday on which the church joyously celebrates the event of the resurrection of Christ. At Grace church, corner of Union and Main streets, appropriate services will be held. Rev. E. McHarg, rector. Seats free.

IMPROVEMENTS.—A resolution was adopted at the last meeting of council to have the logs and other obstructions moved from the bayou, near the new bridge on the Raleigh road, so as to straighten the bayou, and prevent further caving in of the bank.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.—Rev. Mr. Nye will preach in Odd-Fellows' Hall Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, on "Christ's Resurrection from the Dead." and Sunday night at half-past seven, on the following topic, "If Universalism is true, what is the use of preaching it." The public are cordially invited.

THE BIBLE PANORAMA.—We particularly commend to our readers this celebrated panorama, by J. Theo Williams, which is to be opened to the public at Odd-Fellows' Hall on to-morrow night. In beauty of conception and artistic excellence it is said to surpass any panoramic painting which has ever been exhibited in this country.

A HIGH DAY.—The wind yet high yesterday and so most lines ships about generally. The Mississippi got high, and showed a larger stock of white caps than is usual on a few baby's mother. The thermometer got as high as eighty-six; and several fatigued citizens got as high as the shadows. The APPEAL being about the highest, said there.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED.—We stated a few days ago that G. W. Clouse and D. W. Barnes, of Napoleon, Arkansas, had been arrested, charged with mail robbery and forgery. Mr. Clouse was tried yesterday, when his entire innocence was made manifest and he was honorably acquitted. Barnes will be taken to Pontotoc, Miss., for trial at the federal courts.

EXCURSION.—The day of the great Charleston convention is drawing nigh, and how to get there cheaply and expeditiously is becoming an important question. An advertisement on our second page this morning contains advantageous terms for the trip offered by the Memphis and Charleston railroad company. Persons intending to make the trip will do well to notice it.

ANOTHER THOUSAND.—The three thousand dollars voted a short time before the last municipal election to build a fire engine house in Dekalb street between Beal and Linden, having been exhausted, council have before them a proposition to appropriate another thousand toward rescuing the work. As the three thousand almost bad, one answer, we are afraid the one thousand will hardly finish the job.

INQUEST.—Dog. Horse held an inquest yesterday over the body of a little boy of five or six years of age, the only son of a widow, Mrs. Lanthan. The little fellow had been riding on a dray and continued to sit on it, as the driver commenced taking off the harness for dinner, on Desoto street, near the Bayou. The mule impatient to reach the stable started before the harness was entirely removed. The motion threw the boy from the vehicle, the wheel passed over his head killing him instantly.

THE FIRE STEAMER.—This splendid engine was put to actual work yesterday, filling cisterns. She did her business in a way that gave the liveliest satisfaction. Two cisterns, containing 1600 barrels, were filled—one of them, through 2,350 feet of hose, at the crossing of Main and Jefferson streets, in Union, and the other at the corner of Court and Main in two and a half hours, through 1,800 feet of hose. This is a fine proof of the power of the engine, and we may expect to hear something of her doings at the first fire that occurs.

DIRECT TRADE.—At length direct trade has commenced; yesterday one of our most enterprising cotton factors, through Harris & Hunt, shipped 300 bales of cotton, compressed in Memphis, on the steamboat Robinson (it will go to Pittsburg by water, from where the Pennsylvania Central railroad will take it to New York, where it will be shipped to Liverpool, there to be sold on account of the owners. The whole cost of shipping to Liverpool from this place, is precisely the same as at the present time paid from New Orleans to Liverpool. This is a move in the right direction. Memphis is throwing off her swaddling clothes, and step by step, taking rank not as a tributary to another city, but as an independent commercial center. This is one of the good results of Davright, Gill & Co.'s cotton press. Push along the improvements.

GRAND DRESS SOIREE.—We have had a perfect dearth of social gatherings in Memphis this season, but the home of Mars — who always come to the relief of distress — have created a deliverance from ennui, and a night's brilliant enjoyment, by getting up a dress soiree, which takes place on the evening of to-morrow week, the 16th. The Dotes lodge are the parties up for the soiree, and they are taking steps to make the occasion not only an enjoyable but also a memorable one. The committee of arrangements is headed by Wm. E. Neal, Esq., chief of invitation to Jas. Barbour Esq., and J. H. Robinson, Esq., is Master of the Ceremonies. In order that every facility may be offered for enjoyment and pleasure, the Theater on Jefferson street has been engaged and there the soiree will take place, the pit being boarded over to a level with the stage. We learn that applications for tickets are already so numerous there is some expectation that by the night the happy occasion arrives there will be no room.

A MEMPHIS INVENTION.—Since coal oil came into use, it has been a great object with manufacturers to obtain a lamp which should consume it without the use of the glass chimney. From the readiness with which the slightest breath of air affects the unprotected flame of a coal oil lamp, it seemed impossible to accomplish the object, and endless experiments were made without success. After many efforts Mr Andrews, of the coal oil and lamp store on Monroe street in this city, has at last succeeded in producing a burner which requires no chimney, produces no smoke, and that secures a bright, fine light, which will continue burning when exposed to wind, and even when the lamp is violently assailed—it fully answers the requirements sought for, and is not easily extinguished by external means. By a slight modification parafine is burned as easily as coal oil, giving a very brilliant light. The invention cannot remember than highly remunerative, and Mr. Andrews by his skill and industry well merits the fortune we expect to see him make from his excellent invention.

NEW BOOKS.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, from the formation of the continent to the close of the first Session of the Thirty-Fifth Congress. By Jos. H. Patton, A. M. New York. D. Appleton & Co.

We have read of a history of our country that shall not be long enough to require a short cut, nor so short as to be abstract and barren of interest. Mr. Patton's book meets the want, it gives in a handsome octavo volume of over 800 pages an interesting narrative of historical events with dates and index to make the whole easily of reference. It is printed and bound in Appleton's usual good style.

RAY AND BEAL, by the author of the "Wide, Wide World." 2 vols.

The "Wide, Wide World!" What teacher has not enlisted in behalf, so rich with delicious descriptions, and delicious characters? "Ray and Beal" is from the same writer—an outpouring of the same teeming mind. We have had time but for a glance into its pages, but we find the soil, genuine, gentle earnestness and sweetness in it, with little thoughts that make a smile, and little words that start a tear, that make this writer so winning and pleasing. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, and for sale by Cleaves & Yeden.

WOOING AND WEDDING IN THE WILDERNESS, by Chas. E. Kirk. A story of Kentucky.

We have here a volume of the western stamp, the emigration of a family from their old homestead in Virginia to the fertile wilds of Kentucky; a narration of their adventures on the "dark and bloody ground" are the materials of the story. Published by Derby & Jackson, Louisville, Ky. For sale by Cleaves & Yeden.

JULIAN HOME, sale at College Life, by F. W. Farrar, M. A.

This is a book every one who has been a student at a public institution will be strengthened with. The love, the sorrows, the glorious ambition for improvement, the humbling sentiments of literary vicissitudes, and the sweet and the bitter sensibilities of friends and foes among fellow-students is here charmingly laid before the reader in glowing narrative. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, and for sale by Cleaves & Yeden, of this city.

THE HAUNTED HOUSEHOLD, by Mrs. Southworth, with the lady's life, written by herself.

Mrs. Southworth has become a great favorite in this country, from the fascinating interest she throws into her narratives. On we read from page to page, both to lay down the thrilling story until the mysteries are all cleared up, the lovers married, and universal happiness shed around. The book also contains The Provincial, The Spectre Bridegroom, and the Widow's Son. The volume is handsomely bound and printed. It is published by Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. Mr. Wm. Merrill is their agent in this city.

EDITORS APPEAL: At this time is at hand when the most suitable man for the Mayoralty of our city should be selected, we would suggest the name of R. G. MANY OF VOTERS.

COAL OIL LAMP STORE.—Ambrose & Co. have fitted out their old lamp store, on Monroe street, to Messrs. J. E. Port of Memphis.

River and Steamboat Matters.

THE RIVER opposite this point remains tolerably low, the officers of the Ben Lewis report seven feet rocks between Cairo and St. Louis, and the water about at a stand. The Ohio is falling from Louisville to the mouth, with eight feet water on the shoulder bars. The Athens, on her trips from the others of the Lady Walton, is still falling slowly, with on a twenty-eight inches water to Little Rock and fifteen inches thence to Fort Smith. We have nothing for her from White river.

Yesterday the weather was warm and very dusty, with an intermittent breeze, the worst of which is now being succeeded by cloudy weather and coolness. Business along the levee was tolerably active for the season.

The receipts of cotton by river show our last report embrace only 29 bales, and the shipments 1488 bales—the bulk of which was for the Ohio river. The shipments of the past week have been as follows:

To New Orleans.....bales 2014
To Ohio river.....bales 1488
To St. Louis.....bales 82

Total.....bales 3584

The receipts during the same period aggregate 481 bales.

The Ben Lewis arrived from St. Louis yesterday with a full cargo, including 2000 sacks corn, 300 bales hay, 100 sacks oats, 100 barrels potatoes, and 300 cases dry goods, and returned in the evening with a fair up-trip, 50 bales of the staple.

The Southerner from Louisville, had a good paying trip, and returned in the evening, trying light.

All the other regular packets—the Victoria, for Vicksburg, the Admiral, for White river, the W. H. Langley, for St. Francis river, and the Red Wing, for Arkansas river—departed for their respective destinations with excellent trips of freight and passengers. The Victoria was compelled to refuse freight long before her hour of departure, and left with quards literally dragging the decks.

The Lady Walton came in from the Arkansas with a goodly number of people, and eight bales of cotton and a lot of pelties on freight. From a memorandum furnished us by her attentive officer, we learn that the Henry Fitzhugh is at Pulaski's Landing, twelve miles below Pine Bluff, and the Little Rock and Pine Bluff at Carson's, six miles above the landing, unable to proceed on account of low water. The Jennie Wilgoby and Cadine are still at Vann's Bar, forty miles above Little rock, heavily laden, and unable to get up or down the river. On Wednesday last the Lake City, South Bend and Delta were at Little Rock, awaiting the adjournment of the Democratic conventions.

The Lady Walton will return to the Arkansas on Tuesday next—her regular day.

The Messenger cleared for Cincinnati yesterday with 379 bales, and the Dunbar, for Louisburg, with 283 bales, 400 of which was from the compressing establishment of Messrs. Dwight, Gill & Co.

Capt. Newbold, of the Lady Walton, reports the Pawpaw at the wreck of the Arkansas Traveler, taking off the freight, which will all be saved in a damaged condition.

The Gem Anderson was at Island 30, Friday night, relaying the Kennett of the remainder of her freight.

Since our last report, the Planet, from St. Louis, and Pioneer, from Louisville, have passed down, heavily laden, and the Pacific and Pacific No. 2, from Louisville, have passed up—the former with an excellent trip.

Capt. J. K. Hosly, late of the Kate Frisbee, returned to the city yesterday by rail. As heretofore announced, he will have charge of the other of the Kate Frisbee, and her introduction into the Vicksburg trade, assisted by Messrs. Byron Quinn and Lou. Dolge.

Capt. Henry Smith is in command of the Southerner the present trip, Captain Gondall having been detained in Louisville on business. Capt. J. W. Gosler, of the southern fleet, together with his family, left for Louisville yesterday, by the Southerner.

The Linda Rose can leave New Orleans for this port on Wednesday, and will arrive to-day.

One of Capt. James Bugher's new Memphis packets will be launched at Cincinnati on Wednesday.

THE TIPPAH RIVER.—Office New Orleans Crescent learns that the steamer Tiger, from Brownsville, took at Colliers, forty miles above Alexander, on Wednesday morning, at 8 o'clock, she had on board 975 bales of cotton, most of which will be stained in good condition. The Texas landed by the wreck and took off some thirty-five passengers, but no cotton. She was towed in Wednesday, and lightered for $64 000. Cost $41,000.

For Louisville.—The Nashville packet Kentucky, Capt. John M. Martin in command, is posted for Louisville and we place to narrow evening at 5 o'clock. She is a good boat and will put passengers through with comfort and dispatch. Burt, Bogers & Co. agents.
