A FIERY FACT—That Sands' Pale Cream Ale is the best manufactured in the United States. As it is the best cologne made, liquor manufactured, and wine brewed from a pure elixir is not the rank, bitter, bloat, unpeasing and unwholesome ale, but a pleasant, palatable, slightly invigorating stimulant and tonic beverage, pronounced by chemists and physicians to healthy and nourishing to most people and many invalids. Such is Sands' Pale Cream Ale, which is acknowledged by the physicians and citizens of Memphis to be an invaluable tonic, and beyond rivalry or competition from any other beverage. FLEMING & LOCKHART are the popular agents, No. Depot, Adams street. Call and test the fact. apl7-1m* WOMAN ARRESTED.—A woman of bad character was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing fifty dollars from a man named F. M. Williams. She was put in jail.

CRIMINAL COURT.—At this court, yesterday, James and William Kelly charged with larceny, were acquitted. Wm. Searcy, indicted with assault with intent to kill, is on trial.

THE WEATHER.—We had a cloudy day yesterday with showers falling all around us, in the evening a smart rain fell. The temperature was very warm with a sultry atmosphere.

LADIES' FAIR.—The ladies of the First Baptist (Dr. Drake's) church have made arrangements to hold a fair for the benefit of the church, at Odd Fellows' Hall. Two entertainments will be given, the first on the evening of the 24 May, and the last the following evening.

WHIPPED AND FINED.—Early yesterday morning, J. Jaquin assaulted L. Hollman in North Market house with a cane, on the alleged ground that he had spoken disrespectfully of Mrs. Jaquin. The two were brought up in the recorder's court who fined Hollman $15 and Jaquin $5.

A RARE CHANCE.—Those desirous of securing a convenient residence should not forget to attend the sale by M. S. Cayce & Son, on Saturday, at 10 o'clock on the premises, of the Very desirable and beautiful new two-story dwelling, on the corner of Linden and St. Martin streets. See advertisement in another column.

DESTROYED BY LIGHTNING.—We learned last evening that a valuable dwelling, the residence of Mr. Ward, of Rehoboth, Gibson county, Tennessee, was struck by lightning and destroyed on the 3d inst. We did not learn that there was any loss of human life. The dwelling was valued at $4,000.

REAL ESTATE.—The brick store, No. 7 Howard's Row, and the lot on which it stands, were sold yesterday at $725 per foot front to R. A. Parker. A lot on Front Row below Madison of 24½ feet, with a frame house on it small value, sold at $655 per foot front, to Mr. A. M. Hood. They were the property of Warfield Howard, Esq.

A WAIF.—Officer Thos. O. Smith yesterday took charge of an interesting little boy, who was wandering about the streets, in ignorance of the whereabouts of his parents. The little fellow says his father's name is Tom Harris, his mother's, Annie Nixon, and his own, John Nixon. The officer placed him in charge of Mr. J. H. Healey, at the grocery corner of Poplar and Main streets.

☞ The rain has come at last, the dust is well wet down and we all feel better—even the birds and vegetable creation. As we contemplate our dusty clothes, our prior trip to we too war sound new ones, and so to all our readers we would say, if you wish at any time to see us to-day, just call at the clothing house of Fisher, Robins & Co., 264 Jefferson street, next door to Flatners' hatt—the place where they keep all the good new clothes, sell them cheap—very cheap—and then get all the money.

No. 4 FIRE COMPANY.—The legislature at its late session, passed an act conveying a valuable privilege to the No. 4 Fire Company. Mr. J. D. Danbury has just received a certified copy of the section in question, which is as follows:

Be it Further enacted, That the charter of the Mechanics' Fire Company of Memphis, No. 4, be so amended that the members, after five years active service, shall be exempted from serving as jurors.

VICTIM TO A GAME OF CONFIDENCE.—An unsophisticated young gentleman, named James Henderson, of Bevier county, Ark., fell into the hands of thieves, in this city, yesterday, and was swindled out of the sum of one hundred dollars by them. The villains won his confidence on the steamer H. D. Mears, enticed him up town, and by practicing some art similar to the shell game, succeeded in borrowed his money, or won it, and made their escape.

THE FIRE STEAMER.—We have now had the fire steamer in the city for one or three weeks, and have had her in actual practice; we are therefore able to form some opinion of her merits, and these merits are each so plain public recognition. The appearance of the engine is perfect symmetry of form, and in that style of elegance and beauty for which the work of her builder is so justly celebrated. Comparing her with the celebrated Latta built engine, of Cincinnati, we find some differences that will adapt it for the peculiarities of this city. Here our streets are either not at all, or very imperfectly paved, the heavy, small wheeled Latta engines would, with difficulty, be drawn over them. The Memphis fire steamer is mounted on full sized carriage wheels, with platform springs; she is therefore driven from place to place, even along the unpaved streets, with no more difficulty than an omnibus experiences in performing the same task. As her trial trip of the engine, we found it impossible to get up steam as quickly as is done by the Cincinnati firemen; this is due, in a great measure, at least, to the want of experience, for a considerable interval was already been made, and at the last trip to fire steam was got up and the whistle sounded before passing over four squares. The fires have hitherto been kindled in the usual manner—the Cincinnati firemen use combustible substances for starting the fire instantaneously, when experiments have been made of that kind here, we expect to see steam as rapidly got up as is desired.

Owing to the absence in water from the localities of most of the fires of any consequence that have occurred since the arrival of the fire steamer, we have had but one good opportunity of judging of her powers; that was, at the Mary Ford fire. A frame house was well on fire when the engine reached the ground, and her hold with the glare of the leaping flames. The fire steamer came galloping up, drawn by the noble steeds that have been purchased for the service, and which are second to none in the city. She had the utmost water, and, when she began to pour her deluge upon the roof of the building, the enthusiasm with which the flame was turned to smoke and steam, astonished all who had not been accustomed to such scenes. The duties of the fire steamer, the performance of the "J. D. Danbury" was a triumphant success, and, vociferous cheers from the crowd assembled told of their entire satisfaction. She is at work every day or two on the river, in the particular duty, a labor she performs with ease and dispatch. This work of filling cisterns is a stern test of her powers—it is heavy and continued, but the fire steamer is equal to every call upon it. Its powers are limited only by the strength of the hose, the strongest leather hose in the city bursting under the pressure when the highest powers are brought into play. The machinery is well put together, and stands the wear and tear well. We have reason, therefore, so far, to be well pleased with the success of the fire steamer.

The "J. D. Danbury" was built in Philadelphia by the celebrated John Agnew. It contains improvements and contrivances of that gentleman's own invention, and will add another to the long list of honors he has acquired; we expect to hear of a great demand on Mr. Agnew for such light-built, well-mounted, easy running engines, as the one he has built for Memphis. We cannot close this notice without calling attention to, and bespeaking a proper appreciation of the services of the gentlemen who introduced the fire steamer to the notice of the citizens of Memphis—our public spirited friend, Mr. J. D. Embury. Mr. Danbury called attention to the necessity that existed for the introduction of the fire steamer into this city, he obtained contributions, had the subject brought to the attention of the city authorities, thereby to cities where fire steamers were in use, received their enrollement and detects, and finally assumed the responsibility of ordering from Mr. Agnew such an engine as he knew to be adapted to the wants and condition of Memphis. Without fee or reward, from public spirit alone, Mr. Danbury has labored and is laboring, and his services deserve public recognition and public gratitude.

NEW BOOK.
THE FEMALE SCEPTIC, OR FAITH TRIUMPHANT. This book is a peculiar one, some will say a dangerous one. There are certainly things said which it is not in the order in "good company;" but they are uttered with closed doors and double spread where doubts are least suspected. The advantage of science, and especially the strongest revelations of geology, have made our standard "Christian evidences" almost useless. Infidelity and honest inquiry must be met upon their own ground, and he is a superficial driveler who decries that honest doubts are prevalent. With minds of an inquisitorial, and perhaps, a skeptical turn, we commend "The Female Sceptic" with no read with order. The work before us bears the impress of a female hand, and abounds in lively dialogue and keen investigation; character is strongly marked, and the entire production is graphically narrated.

THE BIBLICAL REASON WHY—A FAMILY GUIDE TO SCRIPTURE READING.
In reading the holy scriptures many difficulties are encountered that a very slight explanation respecting the manners, customs, etc., of the nations among whom it was written, will do away. If a Bible reader should begin at Genesis and read on to Revelation, some many difficulty by the way, and could then put an intelligent friend to explain all he wanted to know that was susceptible of explanation, he would have done for him precisely what "The Reason Why" undertakes to do. The questions are written out and the answers furnished, and when it is necessary the engraver's art comes in to make all plain. The book is got out in good style, the every exposition are announced very handsomely. Published by Dick & Fitzgerald, New York. For sale by Clarken & Vaden, Main street.

THE ART OF DANCING, with Hints on Etiquette. By Edward Ferrero.
Here is a book that will be warmly welcomed by young persons of both sexes, and they will find utility as well as pleasure within its pages, for it contains a serious inquiry into the early history of the art that will be found of immoral merit. The hints on etiquette are adapted to make some not only polite, but good. The elements of dancing are given; then follows a complete list of all the best modern dances, with full instructions for the figures; and not, we have the music of all the dances, with full instructions, complete, quadrilles and other popular dances. Published by Dick & Fitzgerald, New York. For sale by Clarken & Vaden, Main street.

THE SECRETS WORKED BY THINGS, comprising the rare, odd, curious, quaint, eccentric and extraordinary in all ages and nations, in art, nature and science. By J. Ashton.

If a reader was to copy from all the books he perused in a long series of years everything that he found strange and wonderful, he would have accumulated a rare collection. Something like this we have in this book, which is well illustrated by a very large number of engravings, illustrative and explanatory. Everybody will find something to interest and delight in "The Secrets Wonderful Things." Published by Dick & Fitzgerald, New York, and sold by Clarken & Vaden, Main street.

Gheering News to the Afflicted.
CHESTERFIELD of science may speculate and theorize, but facts are worth more to the afflicted than all the theories the world ever produced.
DR. A. G. GOODLETT'S
Improved Houck's Panacea,
is acknowledged by all who have given it a trial, to be one of the best medicines ever used for the cure of all diseases arising from a disordered stomach, or an impure state of the blood. The many testimonials performed by the "Panacea" in the city of Nashville and vicinity, and in every section of this country where it has been introduced, is a sufficient guarantee of its efficacy.
Rev. J. C. Bowden, of McMinnville, Tenn., speaks thus:
Dr. A. G. GOODLET—Dear Sir: It may be gratifying to you to hear that Houck's Panacea, prepared and sold by you, is selling well in this place, and giving satisfactory results. During my recent travels in several counties in Middle Tennessee, I have often met those who have used it. The universal testimony is, "It is the best remedy I have ever used." It has been very useful to me in cases of bowel complaint, brought on by preaching in the open air and laboring to revivals. Please make an agent in this place. Very respectfully,
J. C. BOWDEN.
