Business Notices.

A FINE FACT—That Sands' Pale Cream Ale is the best beverage now in use for invalids, as its nourishing and liquid qualities are not in the slightest degree affected by its being made so light, bitter, clear, sparkling and wholesomely called Ale, but a pleasant, palatable, slightly stimulating drink to and with meals, composed of the purest malt and hops, and pronounced by chemists and physicians as healthy and free from alcohol by most people and more invaluable. Such is Sands' Pale Cream Ale, which is acknowledged by the physicians and citizens of Memphis to be an invaluable stimulant, and beyond rivalry or competition from any other beverage. PLEASANT & LOCKHART are the popular agents, No. Clarke, Adams street. Call and test the fact. apl25-1m*

TO CARRIAGE AND WAGON MAKERS

$50,000 Worth of Carriage Hardware, Trimmings & Wagon Materials.

WE would call the attention of Carriage and Wagon makers and dealers generally from Louisville and other cities, who wish to save freight, a saving of time, and a saving of money, to our stock, which we now offer to the trade at lower figures than ever offered in this market before—being but a very small advance on manufactory prices.

We are practical Carriage builders, and we flatter ourselves that our long experience in the business enables us to furnish the trade with better selected goods than can be had elsewhere. Our goods are purchased for cash, and under the personal supervision of one of our firm, and customers can rely upon getting the best articles and upon the most advantageous terms. Our stock is full and complete, and consists of everything used by Carriage and Wagon makers, so that we are at all times prepared to fill orders at short notice.

We are also agents for the south-west for the sale of Mizell & Co.'s patented N. P. Fork Varnishes, which we are now selling at the manufacturer's prices; and we are also agents for Chapman's Anti-Rattling Shaft Fastners, which we sell at the inventor's prices.

We think that we can make it greatly to the advantage of manufacturers and dealers generally to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere, and we trust that by strict attention to business, we may continue to be favored with the liberal patronage which we have hitherto received. N. S. DUCK & CO.

Home Manufacture.

WE would also call the attention of those interested to our extensive home manufactures that we are building and offering to Carriage, Buggy, Rockaway, Coach and Hearse Builders, of the latest styles of patterns, and we keep constantly on hand a large stock, all of our own manufacture. We are also prepared to do all kinds of repairing on the shortest notice, and with dealings and dispatch. All new work warranted for one year.

THE WEATHER.—The weather was very fine yesterday, and cool for the season.

PERSONAL.—Mr. G. C. Wisewell, of this city, was in Louisville Monday.

THEATRICAL.—Mrs. Hettie Bernard, of this city, arrived in Louisville Monday, and commenced an engagement at the Louisville Theatre Monday evening.

THE RECORDER.—We regret to learn that the city recorder, Major Hunt, is making rapidly and not expected to survive long.

MR. HOUSE.—The wounds of Mr. House, assistant editor, have taken an unfavorable turn and the worst results now feared.

MR. MYERS.—The situation of this gentleman was less favorable than on the preceding evening, but on the whole an improvement on what it had been for some days.

☞ N. B. Collins, candidate for Attorney General, will address the citizens of Memphis on Saturday night next, at Richmond Buildings. His opponents are respectfully invited to meet him. apl24-4t

INSULTING LADIES.—An intoxicated gentleman, from the neighborhood of Hope Lake, on Tuesday struck a lady in the street with a bouquet. The man or the lady first "punished him, of" with a whipping, and rendered the rowdy fined his ten dollars.

FEMININE FIGHT.—Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Murphy had a pugilistic session in Bolton street on Tuesday. Mrs. Kennedy, the principal in the proceedings that led to the affray, was fined five dollars for the amusement.

☞ Mr. C. Cayce & Son sell at auction, this morning, at 10 o'clock, a lot of trunks, yellow boxes, and a little of everything, that has been accumulating and warehoused at Adams' express and Charleston railroad passenger depot.

☞ We are requested to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. J. B. Lewis & Co., who close out the fine stock of engravings that have been so rapidly and deservedly disposed of the last few days, this morning, at 10 o'clock.

SENTENCED.—Yesterday morning G. W. Gash, the young man charged with forging the name of Lyons & Co., was tried in the Criminal Court and sentenced to five years' confinement in the Penitentiary.

INTERESTING SALE.—Adams & Co.'s express this morning offer for sale—Cayce & Son, auctioneers—a large quantity of baggage that has remained at their office unclaimed for. Three fine unopened trunks that may contain untold treasures, dress-dresses, brocaded satins, many articles of value, and a great deal of miscellaneous value. The sale commences at 10 o'clock.

ANOTHER BURGLARY.—The company of burglars in this city being terrificated by the police, continue their depredations without redressal. On Tuesday night the house of Mrs. Orbellian, who resides on Main street between second and Winchester streets was taken from her room, opened and robbed of fifteen hundred dollars.

ENCITEMENT ON MAIN STREET.—An exciting question came up yesterday on Main street about who had the cheapest and finest wall paper, but without intending the question was decided in favor of the country, who made his purchase from W. E. Smith on the corner of Main and Monroe street, who has still more on hand.

☞ Citizens and strangers that desire to obtain likenesses, executed in the highest perfection of the art, should proceed to have taken the celebrated artists, Vassalle & Co., at No. 281 Main street. The life-like pictures obtained there, combined with the low prices charged for the same, are rending a great rush at that popular establishment.

CONCERT.—Tuesday evening, the first of May, the young ladies of Hernando will give a grand, vocal, operatic concert with the laudable and patriotic object of raising funds to purchase a flag for the Hernando Independent volunteer rifle company. All who are willing to aid and encourage the military, who have pretty ladies, and who love to see them, are requested to be present with fifty cents in their clothes.

NEW THEATRE.—Miss Maggie Mitchell continues to be the attractive star at the theater, and her entertainments are always lighted with her efforts to please. She possesses no remarkable talent or power as an actress, but certainly possesses the art of charming the multitude. The entertainment this evening will embrace The Female Hero of Ivanhoe and Katy O'Houl.

☞ Men who would have cheap residence lots and gardens should attend the sale of Mr. Jones this morning. Take an omnibus from the office of Somervill, Dupree & Co., and in twenty-five minutes, without a cent to pay railroad, you will be upon the premises, to be sold. The sale is positive, the place convenient to the city, heavily timbered and in a rich and populous neighborhood. The lots contain from one and a half to one acre, and will be sold on easy terms.

LOST.—A month ago a barrel, which was stained with ink, the head open, and covered with a piece of canvas, was taken away from the wharf at the St. Louis packet landing. It was filled with honest molds, the stock in trade of a working man who is reduced to distresses for loss. Any person knowing where the barrel and contents have been placed, will confer a favor by informing Mr. Rosselle of the Appeal office, of the fact.

DUNLAP SPRINGS.—Mr. J. C. Eadleman, the energetic proprietor of this popular watering place, is now in the city and is proposing to sell to city citizens eligible lots on his grounds for summer cottages. Dunlap Springs are within about five hours' ride by railroad of this city and four one of the most robust visitables in West Tennessee. Mr. Jno. M. Shaw is his agent for the sale of these lots. Mr. Eadleman proposes to open the Springs about the last of June with improved accommodations, and after a thorough renovation of the premises.

HOOK AND LADDER FIRE COMPANY.—The anniversary meeting of the Pioneer Hook and Ladder fire company took place last evening, and were held. Mr. J. E. Chadwick presided on the occasion, and called the object of the meeting, which was to inaugurate the beautiful new hall of the company.

On motion, a committee of three persons was appointed to make arrangements for the reception of ladies at the new hall, on Friday next, or the first fair day thereafter; which committee of the following gentlemen: A. C. Wormsley, J. S. Leech, W. J. P. Doty, J. W. Harris, J. H. Rhoades, J. T. Titus, John Kirk, J. W. McKinney, J. Hill, J. R. Chadwick.

Subsequently, the company adjourned to Schwoch's restaurant, where they partook of a sumptuous banquet.

PERSONAL.—We noticed yesterday the arrival of Dr. Mastmore, who is stopping a few days at the Worldsen House in our city. He informs us that he resides twenty miles west of Memphis, and that he proposed call on his return home to Louisville, Kentucky, was so much the pleasure of seeing his friends and former patients, so that of collecting any new cases. He finds that those who were recently his patients have been benefited under treatment a few months ago, now completely restored. For years, in his extensive practice, he has made it a rule not to interfere in the least with the practice of any regular physician; but has refused hundreds who have applied, on ascertaining that they were under treatment of their physician. He simply seeks as patients those who have been given up by others, and still suffer; thousands of such he has cured and many of them now walk the streets of our own city. His practice embraces nearly every form of chronic disease. He charges no consultation fee, nor for interview, and, on examination or interview, is careful in stating the opinion as to whether he can cure or relief. He has some prepares and compounds all his own medicines, at his Infirmary Hotels, for each separate case, and is constantly treating large numbers by correspondence, and sending the medicines. Those who have long suffered will doubtless find it due to themselves to have a personal view. This being had, and they desire it, he can, on arrival at home, prepare and send the remedies, with full instructions, and thus carry on the treatment by correspondence.

GARDENING IN WEST SUBURBS.—It is a matter of astonishment to many persons how rapidly gardens and nursery men accumulate wealth in the vicinity of this city. We might name more than one horticulturist who came in back in "A No. 1," which was whether few years ago, and who now drives a fine carriage, and last year on his crop of onions, and the whole of his crop of vegetables paid him a profit of more than one hundred per cent. on his time, labor and land. There is a lady who resides three miles from Memphis who, with a single gardener, made $2,500 last year. The super-cilered physicians of a full date some who drives a note and market wagon through our streets is familiar to most of our city readers—she was worth $1800 last year by her market gardening.

Attend at our market houses and learn the cost of vegetables, and then you will begin to comprehend the profitableness of gardening in the vicinity of Memphis. Celery, strawberries, early potatoes and peas all sell at fabulous prices.

It is very strange that Swiss and German gardeners do not congregate here from all quarters of the country. They would rapidly grow rich, and become the benefactors of our people. Nursery men have ever been prominently successful. Two or three in the vicinity of the city are regarded as capitalists, and are still accumulating their fortunes by the prosecution of their business. We would therefore, commend to all those who would embark in the species of business designated, the sale of Dr. Young's strawberry area in front two and half to ten area lots, two miles from the city, to be made by Somervill, Dupree & Co. this morning, at ten o'clock.

THE RECORDERSHIP.

MR. B. J. TARCUT: A large number of your personal friends together with many who believe you would make a first-rate Recorder and discharge the duties of the office punctually and faithfully, desire you should consent to submit your name to the suffrage of the voters of Memphis for that office at the next election.
MANY VOTERS.

☞ The New York Express hears that Senator Wigfall has written a letter to Lord Lyons expressing regret for being his name in debate during the presence of that gentleman in the Senate chamber. He attributes the considerable remarks to the plain, off-hand style that prevails in the South-west. Lord Lyons treated a very friendly note in reply.

MEMPHIS WATERWORKS.

The people of Memphis have voted to expend a half million of dollars in erecting waterworks in their city. A grave responsibility rests upon council to the disposal of this money, and it is hoped that a sense of their responsibility will weigh upon their minds, and impart gravity and consistency to their action. At present there are two schemes before council, one proposed by Alderman Douglass, the other by Alderman Lofland. That of Alderman Douglass, as adopted, or so much of it as has been adopted by council, is to advertise in various papers for thirty days for bids to do the work, to have plans and specifications prepared upon which the bids will be founded, and to have the bids submitted to the board for the selection. To these were added a resolution to appoint a committee of five to obtain information upon the subject, and a resolution, offered by Alderman Parkins, appropriating $500 for the expenses of the committee. The committee are Messrs. Douglass, Street, Elder, Farris, and Perkins. Under these resolutions council takes upon itself the work of deciding upon the particular plan upon which the waterworks shall be built, and this must necessarily include the determination of the locality where they shall be placed. The decision as to which bid of all that may be offered shall be selected, is also reserved to council. To carry out these resolutions it becomes almost a necessity that the present council should perform the duties it has assigned, for to let any part of them remain to another board would, as Alderman Douglass observed, necessitate the delay entirely over again all that the present board has done or may do.

Alderman Lofland proposed to the board that a very different plan from the above should be accepted. He moved to constitute a board of five commissioners, to be chosen by the board; to them should be appointed the duty of drawing up the plans, determining upon the bids, overseeing the works to their completion, and afterward superintending the carrying on of the works. This plan would commit the work to a body less liable to divide councils than is the board of mayor and aldermen, and relieved from the fluctuations that must occur in a body composed of sixteen men elected annually. This project has great merits, and it is worthy of more attention than it has received. It is not too late yet, if council should so disposed, to constitute the board of commissioners, and delegate to them the oversight of the work.

The location of the works is a matter of serious importance. The reservoir should be placed on as high a point as possible, as the greater the hight of the ground on which it is placed the less the hight the reservoir will require to be built—which will be a saving of money. There is another consideration connected with this point of the subject that must be attended to. The Mississippi water, containing, as it does, a large amount of mud held in solution, it will probably be desirable to have two reservoirs—one on a level with the river, and one elevated to the hight required to supply the city. The reader will keep in view the fact that, to supply a city with water, it is necessary to pump up the water into a reservoir somewhat higher than the highest point at which it is wanted—in Memphis to the hight of a three or four story house. The water being at this hight of itself passes through the pipes underground and rises to the point required. To raise the water to the elevated reservoir directly from the river, would include the labor of raising with it the mud it contains. This mud would subside in the reservoir, which would require frequent cleaning out and the mud hauled away. If a reservoir were constructed near the river—so as to allow the water to enter it by seeping, or percolating the soil—the fluid would be received comparatively free from mud, and would, after the lapse of a short time, be clear and in a proper state for pumping into the upper reservoir, from whence the consumer would receive it in good condition for drinking and culinary purposes.

This primitive reservoir appears to us to be a necessity, but to have two reservoirs would require a considerable amount of ground, and that ground so situated as to have a spot at the foot of the bluff for one reservoir, and upon the bluff, at the highest point attainable, for the second reservoir. Our city in this respect offers natural facilities denied to very many localities. The city yard, with the eminence over which Promenade street passes, being the property of the city, offers an eligible spot, but a former city council, not having the foresight to perceive the approach of the present contingency, ordered the navy yard to be leased for thirty years; that spot is therefore not available. To build the reservoir on any part of the bluff more immediately within the city, is out of the question. The necessary space could not be obtained. Even if one reservoir only were built, it must be placed where there is sufficient ground available for extending it as the future wants of the city require.

We are informed that the highest spot on the bluff within the city, is that occupied by the Gayoso house, but a still loftier one is found at Fort Pickering, and at a point admirably situated for a tower as well as an upper reservoir. To place the works at that distance from the city, would of course make it necessary to lay down a large amount of main pipe, but the whole Overton tract will, before a very long time elapses, become an integral portion of the city, and will consume a large quantity of water, and ultimately pipe would have to be laid in that direction.

We hope that a careful selection of locality and plan will be made, that Memphis may have waterworks adapted to her present and future wants.
